More Gasoline Tax May Be Levied On State Motorists

Question Will Be Put Before Next Legislature

By Pennsylvania News Service

The average motorist in Pennsylvania can groan and shudder all he cares to but the fact remains that the 1949 session of the Legislature will be asked to hike the already high State gasoline tax from four to five cents a gallon.

This has been learned from reliable sources who are in a position to know what action will be asked of the Legislature next year. They pointed to several factors to substantiate their prediction.

In the first place, recent talks by Secretary of Highways Ray F. Smock and other department officials have stressed the need of additional income if highway construction and maintenance are to continue on the present level.

At the same time these officials have been cautious to bring out the point that they themselves are not urging such a move—merely giving the picture on conditions as they are today—and what is needed to keep this picture in focus.

Secondly, the Governor has begun to mention more frequently lately the need for additional revenue—if the present highway program is to be continued. In fact at a press conference last week, he told reporters that the current program would either have to be reduced or revenue increased.

Officials realize only too well that an increase in the gas tax will arouse the ire of Pennsylvania's motorists—who already are paying a record-high four-cent tax, part of which is supposedly a "temporary" tax.

It is estimated that the tax now in force will turn into state coffers approximately $75,000,000 a year, with such income now about two million dollars above estimates.

PEPPERMINT TEST

Steam boilers can be tested by use of oil of peppermint. A leak is indicated by the escape of the mint's pungent odor, while a boiler which can confine the smell of the oil is said to be capable of withstanding any ordinary degree of pressure.

How to Fall in Love in one easy lesson

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflo* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silky you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects. Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it. That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't! I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.
