Carrolltown Legion To Name Officers By Australian Ballot

At a meeting on Wednesday evening of last week of the Fox-Peale Post 506, American Legion, Carrolltown, nomination of candidates was held for the election to take place on June 1.

Nominees are as follows:

Commander—Hugh Malloy and William E. Bearer; senior vice commander—Robert Hannigan; junior vice commander—John Cunningham and John Switzer; adjutant—Ed Lipnic Jr.; chaplain—Oscar VanKokelberg, N. A. Weakland and Andrew Ceschini.

Historian—James D. Mohler; service officer—R. J. Bearer; finance officer—Albert Sharbaugh and Donald C. Farabaugh; and sergeant-at-arms—Albert Sharbaugh, John Blum and Herman Glasser.

Three trustees are to be named.

Kathleen Eck Head Of G.O.P. Women

Miss Kathleen Eck of Carrolltown was elected president of the Cambria County Council of Republican Women, Inc. at its 15th annual spring convention last Wednesday afternoon in the Capital Hotel in Johnstown.

Miss Eck, assistant cashier at the First National Bank in Carrolltown, succeeds Mrs. Mary Cavanaugh of Hornerstown, the council president for the past three years.

Active in the county group for a number of years, the new president served as third vice president last year. She also is a committee woman. The retiring leader was named second vice president.

Carrolltown Fire Co. To Name Delegates

Delegates to the Convention to be held in early August in Patton were nominated by the Carrolltown Fire Co. at its meeting in its clubrooms last Thursday evening. Three delegates will be elected at the June 2 meeting.

Nominees were Eugene Sharbaugh, Frank J. Buck, James Stevens, Monroe Bearer, George Bender, Edward Kane, Sam Zimmerman, Grover Barnicle and Robert Bearer.

The firemen also voted to sponsor the Carrolltown High School Band at a parade in Hastings on Thursday of next week. It will send its equipment to a similar event in Ebensburg.

Trustees of the club will meet with a theatre committee of the town to study a proposal for constructing a theatre in the town. The proposed location is on Main St. The firemen also announced plans to purchase a television set.

Full Staff Next Year At Carrolltown High

For the first time since the war Carrolltown High School probably will have a full staff of teachers when school opens next fall. The school board has elected Miss Mary Semelsberger to teach home economics next year.

The position was vacant this year when school directors were unable to secure a replacement for Miss Johanna Turenski, who resigned.

The industrial arts course was taught this year for the first time in five years when Ray Searle was employed as teacher. The post was vacated in 1943 when the instructor left for the service. He is now Dr. Donald G. Sharbaugh of Carrolltown. Directors were unable to find a replacement in the meantime.

Outdoor Exercises Scheduled At CHS

Carrolltown High School will hold its 36th annual commencement exercises on Wednesday, June 1. Fifty seniors will receive their diplomas at the program which will be held on the school lawn at 8 p. m.

Orlo M. Brees of Endicott, N. J., a former member of the New York General Assembly, will deliver the commencement address. His subject has not been announced.

SAYS DON'T BURN GRASS

Burning grass is just like sending money up in smoke, according to A. B. Beaumont of the Massachusetts soil conservation service. He estimates that $4 worth of valuable nitrogen is destroyed every time a ton of grass or of leaves is burned.

—Missouri ranks highest in the making of corn-cob pipes.
