Rose M. Behe Wins Reader's Digest Award

Rose M. Behe, valedictorian of the graduating class at the Carrolltown High School, has been given the Annual Award of The Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community. It was announced last week by J. V. Maucher Jr., principal of the local high school.

Miss Behe will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the Editors, "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come."

The Reader's Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout the United States and Canada to the highest honor students of the graduating class. The awards are part of the educational program sponsored by the Association and were a logical outgrowth of the wide use of The Reader's Digest in school work. With the collaboration of leading educators supplements to the magazine, containing guides for reading improvement and aids of effective speech and composition, are made available to schools and colleges.

The award to Miss Behe, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Behe of this place, was made possible through the cooperation of Mr. Maucher and his teaching staff.

Red Cross Asking Donor Enrollment In Blood Campaign

"Blood saves lives. Make a date to save a life. Call your Red Cross."

This is the slogan on the official posters being used in conjunction with the recruitment of donors for the Johnstown Regional Blood Center to be opened soon at the headquarters of the Cambria Co. Red Cross Chapter, 244 Walnut St., Johnstown.

City and county residents are being urged to register now.

It has been estimated that 26,000 pints of blood will be needed each year in the area served by the Johnstown Center. Of this amount the Cambria Co. Chapter of the American Red Cross will be responsible for 6,000 pints. This amount will include the donations received from both city and county residents.

The remaining 20,000 pints will be secured from the other chapters cooperating in the program. The Johnstown Center will supply without charge blood needed by hospitals within an approximate radius of 70 miles of the city.

The program is the joint effort of the Cambria Co. Chapter and a number of other chapters within the 70-mile radius.

State Police Say:

Don't walk to your death. The months just ahead are the most dangerous for pedestrians who use streets and highways after dark. Four out of five are killed at night! Walk facing traffic which will enable you to see the oncoming car in advance and thereby afford you a greater opportunity of meeting any emergency. At night wear something white and carry a light.

God And Country Medal Given Scouts Of Bakerton Troop

The first God and Country Medals to be presented simultaneously to Boy Scouts in Admiral Peary Council were awarded Sunday in Bakerton Methodist Church, to James Blose and Dixon Fattison Jr., members of Troop 72, sponsored by Bakerton citizens. Rev. Warren Swank, pastor of the church, made the presentations.

In his remarks the minister told of the significance of God and Country Medals. They are made only to Boy Scouts who have satisfied rigid requirements in service to the church. The medals are the highest awards given scouts by the National Protestant Committee on Scouting.

Rev. Swank told his audience that scouting is one of the world's greatest character building institutions. To achieve the scouting goal, troops and the church must co-operate, he said.

The Bakerton scouts received their awards during the morning worship service. Fattison, a life scout, led the congregation in prayer. The assembly repeated the scout oath after young Blose, an Eagle Scout.

Requirements for the award were read by William Wiseman, troop committeeman. William Muir, Troop 72 scoutmaster, introduced the medal candidates. Rev. Swank was assisted in the presentations by E. A. Powell and Thomas F. Lehmer, field executives of Admiral Peary Council. Mr. Lehmer is former scoutmaster of the Bakerton troop.

Companion to An American

A future President? Maybe! A business tycoon? Perhaps! A good American? You bet! That's if Father has anything to say about it. He generally does, since most fathers know youth is the strength of America's future. They're always on hand to help you solve problems, to give advice and administer discipline. Give this boon companion and guide your thanks—you will someday—by remembering him on FATHER'S DAY, Sunday, June 19th.
