

Annual Vacation Very Necessary For Mental, Physical Well-Being

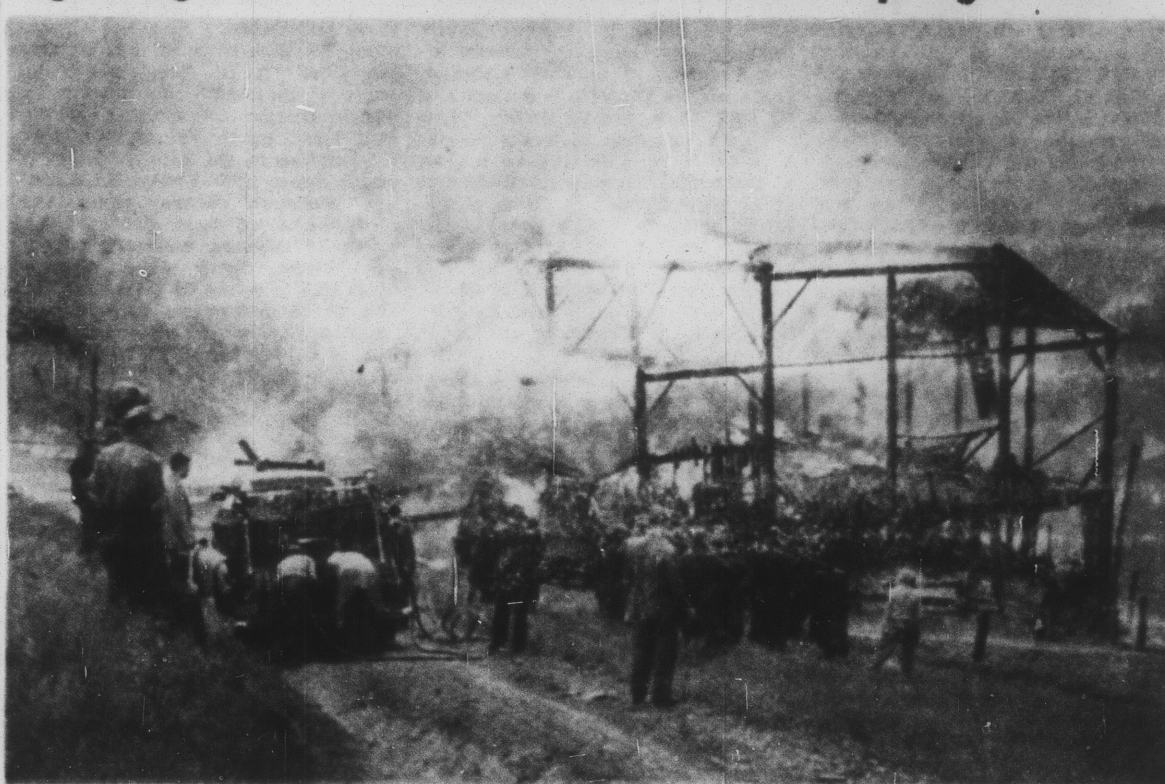

"What's the matter with me, doctor? Can you help me?" "I think so, Fred. I'm going to prescribe a vacation for you." Vacations are important in more ways than one—they give us mental as well as physical relaxation from work which occupies us the year round. The tired housewife, as well as the businessman or the industrial worker, needs time out. Industry is now moving toward universal acceptance of vacations with pay for all workers. Vacations provide the means of forgetting our work, our cares, and our scramble for money by offering a complete change of environment away from our usual activities. Many who most need vacations complain they either cannot afford one or that their work does not permit their absence. Inexpensive vacations can be planned with careful determination. The man who feels he can never leave his work should remember that there is no indispensable man. Doctors are aware of the average man's need for vacations. They see many cases of headaches, faulty digestions, backaches and dizzy spells, as the direct result of the daily stress and strain of life with associated worries and anxieties. For maximum health benefits, a vacation should consist of two consecutive weeks rather than one week at a time or a day or two now and again. Whether we go to the mountains, the seashore, the city or farm makes little difference so long as we enjoy the vacation and get into a different atmosphere. "Come on, Martha, we're going away for a couple weeks!"

$500 Fine Levied On Altoona Man In Gambling Count

Establishment Raided Morning Of April 2 When an Altoona man pleaded guilty in Ebensburg court on Monday the gambling fines in Cambria County reached a new high. Joseph W. Harney was directed to pay costs of prosecution and a fine of $500 when he appeared before Judges Ivan J. McKenrick and George W. Griffith. Harney admitted to being the operator of a gambling establishment located near Buckhorn in Dean Township, just a few feet from the Blair County line. The place was raided by Chief County Detective Joseph Roberts and Sgt. Elmer Schroyer of the state police early on the morning of Apr. 2. Dice and card tables were confiscated. Harney was charged with establishing and maintaining gambling devices. The $500 fine was the highest imposed on gamblers in this county in many years. The tops in recent years has been around $300 but the average has been considerable lower. District Attorney Samuel R. DiFrancesco has expressed the opinion that fines assessed by the court in gambling cases were too low. Once last summer the court was asked directly to impose stiffer penalties in these cases.

Population Count To Be Ready Soon

With the 1950 census population count now over 95 percent complete, the Census Bureau at Washington has announced that it will release tentative figures soon for cities and towns with a population of 1,000 or more. Original plans had called for local announcements only for counties and for cities having more than 10,000 population.
