EX-MATHEMATICIAN ADDS BY TWOS

TWO PLUS TWO PLUS TWO adds up to quite a family, as former mathematics teacher John D. Guiley has good reason to know. Now a civilian employee at Kelley Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas, Guiley is father of three sets of twins. Mathematically, this makes his family one in a million or more. Held by Mrs. Guiley are David and Paul, who are a year old. Standing beside her (rear) are Daniel and Donald, 8, while the others, Gerald and Earl, are four. (International Soundphoto)

Edward Jones New Overseer of County Pomona Grange

Edward Jones of Wilmore was elected overseer of Cambria Co. Pomona Grange during sessions last Saturday in Pleasant Hill Grange Hall, Chest Springs.

Mr. Jones was named to succeed the late Harry Hazlett of Portage. The Wilmore man also was named with E. C. Reig of Chest Springs to the finance committee. Both will serve three-year terms.

During afternoon sessions, the speaker's platform was shared by Ernest Apel, who spoke on banker-farmer relations, and J. A. Parabough of Loreto, who discussed current international problems.

Members of the county group adopted a resolution to ask the state grange to bring the problem of controlling weed worms before the State Dept. of Forests and Waters.

It was pointed out that damage from the pests has increased throughout the years. Reports were heard from Banner, Munster, Ruckhorn, Mt. Her-nann, Crossroads and Pleasant Hill Granges.

It was announced that the meeting of state grange will be held Oct. 23-25 in Butler and national grange sessions are set for Nov. 14-25 in Atlantic City.

Mr. Jones was named chairman of a committee composed of representatives from each grange unit to arrange for transportation for delegates.

Total of 14 candidates received the fifth degree during evening sessions. They were instructed by Philip Strittmatter of Edensburg. Next meeting will be held in Ruckhorn Grange near Wilmore on Jan. 5.
