School Costs Total Many Million Dollars In Pennsylvania

(By Pennsylvania News Service) The costs of operating Pennsylvania's gigantic multi-million dollar school system is tremendous, and little more than two-thirds of all such money spent goes into the payment of salaries. In 1935 the minimum salary was $35 a month. In 1931 the Legislature made it mandatory that the minimum salary be $2400 a year. School teachers have been notoriously under paid and it has been Pennsylvania's good fortune in many respects to have been the leader in providing better pay for its school teachers.

World Famed Ink Spots to Appear At Clearfield Fair, July 28-August 2

Parade Monday Will Highlight Opening Day Following the pattern of presenting one of the outstanding show attractions of the nation for closing night of the Clearfield County Fair, members of Clearfield Volunteer Fire Department have announced that the world famous Ink Spots have been signed to appear before the grandstand in the Clearfield Driving Park on Saturday night, Aug. 2. The Clearfield Fair will open Monday, July 28, and close Saturday, Aug. 2. As in the past few years a special attraction has been presented on both opening and closing nights of the fair, and members of the Fire Department promise something special for Monday night. Famed as stars of radio, stage, screen, night clubs and ballrooms, the Ink Spots have become America's favorite quartet—masters of melior ballad. The Ink Spots are only one of several big attractions signed for the 1936 fair. Tuesday night will mark the opening performance of the Roxeyettes and such circus and vaudeville attractions as the Grandstand Follies featuring Jim Wong Troupe of acrobatic

Vets Warn Women Not to Buy Items Alleging Their Help

(By Pennsylvania News Service) Housewives of Pennsylvania were warned this week not to purchase household products in the belief they are contributing to alleged welfare programs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. G. A. Gnaus, State VFW adjutant, declared: "Annually about this time unknown unscrupulous persons solicit housewives by telephone, urging them to purchase household products in the name of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. "We have received numerous complaints recently from irate housewives who when they desired to buy products by phone, were openly insulted." Gnaus asserted firmly that "the Veterans of Foreign Wars never solicits by telephone for any purpose," and declared: "We denounce these unscrupulous persons and urge anyone having information as to the identity of the solicitors, to give us their names so that they may be prosecuted for fraud." The VFW warning was augmented by reports from police in various sections of the state to the effect that complaints were mounting. HELP TO PRODUCE If dairy cows are to produce their best during the hot summer months, they must have three essentials, says R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. These are: an abundance of high quality feed that can be eaten in a short time, a shady cool place to lie down and a good supply of fresh water.

Present Top A. L. Award to 2 Youths At Blandburg July 4

Celebration Committee Thanks Participants Ronald Raghetti and James Jacobs, both of Dean, were presented with the American Legion's highest award at ceremonies following the July 4 parade held at Blandburg. The presentation was made by David Beck, adjutant of Paul Kuhn Post 522, American Legion, Blandburg. The two boys saved the life of a schoolmate in a near-drowning incident recently. The committee in charge of the celebration wish to publicly thank all units taking part, including state police from Ebensburg, the Gold Star mothers for braving the rainy weather, American Legion Post 522, and its auxiliary, especially Mrs. Walker Matthews who walked in the rain the entire parade route (nearly two miles) despite an offer to ride. She will be 70 on her next birthday. To Mrs. Howard Miller, who was noted waving the Stars and Stripes as the parade passed; to the black-and-white informed 4-31 girls; to the various Little and Junior League baseball teams marching in their uniforms; to the Blandburg Volunteer Fire Co. for having their two trucks in perfect condition; to J. B. Gwin for having his 1932 "T" Ford decked out in bunting; to Glenn Fisher for taking time out to harness Old Nell with nearly obsolete fancy rings and bells. He had quite a few passengers on his 1902 rig, too. Also to various businesses entering floats, and last, but not least, to David M. Beck who has parade marshals made the parade a creditable success despite inclement weather. HASTINGS TAKES PRIZE Hastings VFW Drum & Bugle corps won first prize of $50 as best appearing in the senior class during a 28-unit parade held by Gettysburg Fire Co. last Thursday evening. Hastings Fire Co. took second prize of $15 in the best appearing fire company class.
