Guides To Buying Bed Linens
When it's your turn to buy bed linens, know what you want and your shopping trip will be successful...

The label will tell you much about the sheet; read the label carefully. It will give you the thread count; that is, the number of threads woven in one square inch of sheet...

Percale sheets are more luxurious, lighter weight and have a high thread count, though they sometimes do not take heavy wear as well as muslin. Muslins are heavier, have a lower thread count and are excellent for hard wear...

Look for a smooth flat finish with very little fuzz. Hold the sheet up to the light and be sure the fabric is closely woven. Rub a portion of the sheet in your hands, no fine powder should come off...

While you have the sheet in your hands, look at the selvage. It should be firm, closely woven and tape-like to prevent breaking or tearing. The hem should lie flat...

To get the most wear and value from the sheets you buy measure the bed carefully. The 108-inch length sheet is recommended, though a 99-inch sheet is acceptable...

Mary Ann Ludwig, John Bechel, Ed Linsky and Ron Weiland were named to give talks on health and the keeping of project books.

W. H. Fryock, chairman Cambria County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today that they have just been notified that wheat producers in Pennsylvania and throughout the country will be permitted to bring overpart of 1954 crop wheat acreage into compliance with the acreage marketing quota, acreage allotment program through an amendment to program regulations today by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

The change revises the definition of "wheat acreage" under the program. It excludes from the definition wheat acreage which does not reach maturity because it is, while still green, turned under for green manure, pastured off, or cut for hay or silage. Any wheat, whether seeded or volunteer, which is allowed to mature will still be subject to compliance with the wheat allotment provisions. Prior approval of the permitted practice is not required, but acreage on which the practice is carried out must be designated at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office.

Under the wheat marketing quota program approved last August by farmers voting in a referendum—farmers having an acreage allotment of more than 15 acres and who exceed their arm acreage allotments in 1954 become subject to a marketing penalty on their "excess" production. Farmers with an acreage allotment of 15 acres or less may reduce as much as 15 acres of wheat without incurring marketing penalties. In addition any farmer who exceeds his wheat acreage allotment, regardless of the size, becomes ineligible for the Commodity Credit Corporation price support on his wheat.

According to Mr. Fryock, under the amended program, such producers will now have an opportunity to bring their acreage into compliance and thus avoid the quota penalty and loss of eligibility for available price support.

Storage Building At Munster Destroyed
Fire of undetermined origin at Thursday destroyed a storage building on the Donald Sutton farm in Munster.

Cresson volunteer firemen were called shortly before 3:00 p. m. but were unable to save the frame structure, used to store coal and farm equipment.

Firemen were able to prevent the wind-blown flames from spreading to a nearby chicken coop. Robert Kenney, fire chief, set the loss at about $300.

Dr. Anderson Dies At County Seat

Dr. Joseph C. Anderson, well-known Ebensburg physician, who had practiced his profession at the county seat for the past 17 years, died at his home shortly before 8 o'clock on Saturday morning. He was 44 years old.

A week ago Friday, announcement was made of his retirement from private practice due to ill health.

The physician has been Cambria County Medical Director since 1948.

After completing his internship at Winder Hospital, D. Anderson established an office in Ebensburg in 1937. In 1942 he entered the Army Medical Corps and three years later was discharged with the rank of captain.

He was past president of the Ebensburg Borough Council and a member of the Masons, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Independent Order of Oddfellows and Rotary Club.

Dr. Anderson was second vice president and a director of the Cambria County Medical Society. He formerly was a member of the board of directors of City-County Clinic in Johnstown.

Surviving are his widow, the former Kathryn A. Cooley, and their children—Guy Kenneth, Sylvia, Gloria and Ryan, all at home, and a sister, Mrs. Blain McNulty, Barnesboro. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist Church at Ebensburg, by the Rev. William King. Interment was made in Rose Hill Cemetery, at Altoona.

Increase Noted In Wedding Licenses
Dan Cupid apparently put in 43 percent more time on the job last month than he did in January.

Records in the office of Michael J. Hartnett, clerk of the orphan's court in the Ebensburg Court House, show that 79 couples obtained their marriage license there in February.

The number is 54 percent, or 24 more than in the previous month. The figure also is three above the total for February of 1953.

PUPILS FACE TAXING PROBLEM

Cresson Tavern Burns To Ground

A $20,000 fire early on Sunday morning leveled Taverners Inn, along the William Penn Highway, near Mt. Alto Junior College at Cresson.

Fire, which broke out about 1:15 o'clock, spread rapidly through the one-story frame building and an adjoining one-story frame apartment.

Firemen from Cresson, Gallatin and Dooling, battled the wind-swept flames more than three hours in sub-freezing weather in a futile effort to save the building.

Male homeless by the fire was a young Cresson couple—Mr. and Mrs. Donald McConnell. They had moved their furniture into the apartment Saturday afternoon and were preparing to complete the moving job Sunday morning.

Mr. McConnell is scheduled to enter the armed forces March 24 and his wife planned to live in the apartment while he was in service.

Joseph Traxler, Cresson Township, owner and operator of the inn, told firemen he does not know what caused the fire. He said he left the establishment only 10 or 15 minutes before he heard the Cresson fire siren sound. He went to the scene a short time later and watched helplessly as the building burned to the ground.
