Railroad Foreman Is Killed By Train On Friday Morning

A veteran railroad worker planned to retire in a month or so was killed last Friday when a freight train on the Ebensburg-Cresson branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad crashed head on into a track car he was operating.

Victim was Frank A. Dishart, 77, of Ebensburg, a track foreman for the PRR.

The accident occurred about 50 feet from the switch where the tiny gasoline-powered track car would have reached safely out of the path of the oncoming 20-car coal train from Ebensburg.

Others Throw Switch.

According to investigating officials, the accident occurred at 11:35 a. m. (EST). Mr. Dishart and two trackmen were traveling towards Ebensburg on the track car. The other men ran on ahead to throw the switch that would have allowed Dishart to enter a side track off the center tracks on which the freight was approaching.

Trackmen with the foreman at the time were Fred Maloney and Paul Zim, both of Ebensburg. Engineer of the freight was M. C. Washington, Cresson. The engineer said he saw the track car ahead and threw on the emergency brakes, but too late to avoid hitting the little machine.

Investigations Started.

Mr. Dishart was born in East Carroll Township May 11, 1877, son of Charles and Matilda (Wasser) Dishart, started working for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company July 21, 1895, on the old Cresson Division, now Cresson Branch.

Named Foreman in 1961

On July 1, 1961, he was appointed track foreman and served continuously in that position until the present. Railroad officials said it was service record unequalled in the Pennsy system. He planned to retire next month after 59 years of service in maintenance of way for the railroad. He served the last 16 years under Mr. Miller.

In 1945 Mr. Dishart was honored at a testimonial dinner in Old Ebensburg Inn on the 50th anniversary of his service with the company. He was given a citation by N. L. Fleckenstein, who at that time was maintenance superintendent on the Pittsburgh Division at Cresson.

Surviving are his widow, former Stella Crise; children: Earl, Byron, Mrs. Grace Westman, Mrs. Greta Buckus and Mrs. Gilbert Durleigh, all of Ebensburg; Mrs. Herman Fagan, Johnstown; Mrs. William Campbell, Worcester, Mass.; and Montell, Pittsburgh; these brothers and sisters; Ralph Cresson, U. E., Pittsburgh; Mrs. Clark Thomas, Carrolltown, and Mrs. R. J. Hoover, Ebensburg R. D. Preceded in death by parents, brother, Harry, and two sisters, Magdeline and Lucinda.
