

Hastings Speaker Says Training Best Weapon For Nation

Dr. Shan Ho Ma Tells Rotary of Chinese Folk

Education and better international understanding are the best weapons to combat communism in China today, Dr. Shan Ho Ma of Cresson State Sanatorium told Hastings Rotary Club last Tuesday night.

Dr. Ma, a native of Southern China, now visiting the U. S. as a student and practicing physician, was guest speaker at the club's weekly dinner-meeting at Demento's Restaurant.

It is the younger generation in Asia which the western world must woo the truth, understanding and wisdom, Dr. Ma told his listeners.

Other persons in China, through tradition and experience, are more religious and have a friendlier attitude toward the United States, the speaker said.

It is the teen-age group which follows the Russian-Communist line he went on. Through movies and propaganda these youths think of Americans as a bunch of cowboys, Dr. Ma said.

The 35-year-old physician, a graduate of Columbia University, predicted that if America retains living standards as they are today, communism will be denied a solid foothold on these shores.

Dr. Ma expressed his desire to visit an area coal mine and was promised such a trip by club members.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. Henry Lee Robinson Jr., chaplain at the Cresson Sanatorium. George Clark was in charge of the program.

Northern Cambria Nurses Delegates To State Meeting

Total of 24 area nurses are among delegates and alternates named to represent District 5, Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association, at the 50th annual state meeting next week in Philadelphia. The event will begin Tuesday and continue through Friday, Nov. 12.

District 5 includes the counties of Bedford, Blair, Cambria Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Indiana, Huntingdon and Somerset.

District nurses named as delegates are as follows:

Edna Diebert, Catherine Edias, Anne Faith, Sister M. John Joseph, Faye Galer, Margaret Gatus, Merna Kaufman, Janet Kraft, Mervene Pomas and Elizabeth Zubrod, all of Johnstown.

Nettie E. Beiler, Angelina Fafone and Mary Jane Gray, all of Indiana; Lois Brown, Heme, Indiana County; Elsie Davis and Cora Myers, both of Windler; Mary A. Dunn, state secretary-treasurer, and Mary Lou Elder, both of Spangier; Bertha Klawich, Carrolltown, and Ethel H. Blair, Cresson.

Alternates are Mary Kearns and Faylie Williams, both of Indiana; Alean Merryweather, Balmeshoro, and Helen Patrick, Spangier.

Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association, with a membership of 16,500, has had the largest active membership in 48 states and territories for the past five years.

It is the oldest organization in Pennsylvania composed of individual professional nurses only.

Indian Minister Is At Hollentown Church Tuesday

Rev. Andrew Maracle, missionary to the American Indians, was guest speaker on Tuesday evening in Hollentown Pentecostal Assembly of God Church between Glasgow and Van Ormer. Rev. Maracle is an Indian. The minister, who appeared in full Indian dress, speaks both English and the Mohawk tribal language.

The speaker has returned to Indian work in Hagerstown, N. Y. His Indian congregation lives on the St. Regis Reservation. A hymn book has been translated into the Mohawk tribal language by one of the members of his congregation.

Novena At Carmel To Open Nov. 22

On Monday, Nov. 22, the monthly novena in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary and St. Theresa of Lisieux, the Little Flower, will open at the Carmelite Monastery, Leontia.

The celebrated Carmelite nuns invite all to unite with them during these nine days of prayer. The special intention for the November novena will be the souls of all the faithful departed.

The novena will close on Tuesday, Nov. 30. Address all inquiries to the Carmelite Monastery, Leontia.

Heavy Sunday afternoon at the Leontia Carmel devotions are held at 4:30 p. m. in honor of the
