Margie Weakland Bride On Saturday

A pretty church wedding took place Saturday morning in St. Bernard's Church here when Miss Margie Weakland became the bride of Joseph Yeckley. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Weakland of Hastings and he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Yeckley of St. Benedict. Father Adalbert Kalsch, O.S.B., pastor, performed the double ring ceremony, and sang the nuptial mass which followed, at nine o'clock. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Attired in a floor-length gown of white net and lace over taffeta, the bride's veil was waist-length and was secured by a seed-pearl tiara. She carried a corsage of yellow and white carnations. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Raymond Yeckley, as her sister's matron of honor, wore a pastel orchid, her gown being floor-length. She wore a matching tiara and carried a nosegay of yellow and white carnations. Raymond Yeckley served as his nephew's best man.

Dinner was served at Willman's Hotel, Carrolltown, and a reception took place in Carrolltown V. F. W. Home.

Following a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Yeckley will reside in Cleveland, Ohio, where both are employed. Mr. Yeckley is an army veteran.

Former Hastings Resident Expires

A former Hastings resident died July 2, at the age of 35 years. He is Dr. Morton M. Tanner, of New Kensington, son of Mrs. Anne Tanner and the late Harry Tanner, formerly of Hastings.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Dental School, Dr. Tanner practiced dentistry in Arnold, Pa. He died in Presbyterian Hospital, Pittsburgh.

In addition to his mother, his wife, and one daughter, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Ronald Herron, the former Lillian Tanner.

Funeral services were held in Pittsburgh July 3, with burial in a cemetery there.

CIRCUS TIME

(By Gertrude M. Houck)

Oh, Circus Time at last is here, the jolliest time of all the year. We're through with study—no more frowns—

For now's the time to laugh at clowns. We eagerly to the circus go, Mr. and my youngest brother, Joe, Eat candied apples, crackerjack, It's nearly dark till we get back. One day last summer Joe and me went first the King of Beasts to see.

Joe tweaked his tail, when oh, my stars! That lion bounced near through the bars. When he began to howl and fuss The Trainer blamed it all on us; But then it's Circus Time you know, I don't think he should mind things so.

Miss Betty Gavlak Named On Dean's List

Miss Betty Gavlak, member of the Senior Class at State Teachers' College, Indiana, is on the Dean's list for the second semester of this year, as announced by the office of the dean of instruction.

Betsy is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Gavlak of Hastings.

Mrs. Pauline (Hayes) Byrnes, of Byrnesville, was a caller in town last Wednesday evening.

TODAY'S Menu

Superb Brunch Spreads

By ALICE DENHOFF

MORE and more, brunch is becoming popular as a way to entertain; but after a series of such parties, there tends to be a monotony about the menu. For that something different, try serving breads prepared with canned Louisiana yams. Sounds strange, doesn't it? Well, it will be even more strange if you aren't asked for the recipes.

Moist Twelve

First the pinwheels, the recipe is for one dozen. Combine 2 c. biscuit mix and 1/2 c. milk, mixing well. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead 10 times. Roll or pat into rectangles.

Combine a 3-oz. can yams, drained and mashed, 1/2 c. raisins, 1/4 c. milk and 1/2 c. raisins; mix well. Spread mixture over biscuit dough and dot with butter or margarine. Roll up jelly-roll fashion and cut in 1 in. slices. Place cut side up on greased baking sheet and in very hot oven (450° F.) for 15-20 minutes or until golden brown.

Superb Bread

Now settle down to a bit of baking and turn out a simply superb bread made with such good things as yams, almonds and orange juice. Cream 1/4 c. shortening; add 1/4 c. firmly packed brown sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add 3 well-beaten eggs, a 1/2 can drained and mashed yams and 1/4 c. orange juice; beat well. Sift together 2 c. sifted all-purpose flour, 4 tsp. baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt. Add 1/2 c. chopped almonds and 1 1/2 tsp. grated orange rind, mixing well. Add flour mixture to yam mixture and mix only until ingredients are combined (makes a very stiff batter). Spread in greased 9 x 5 x 3-in. pan and bake at 350° F. for 1 hr. and 15 min. Turn out of pan and cool.

Yams and Bacon

Now for some delicious biscuits made with yams and bacon. To make about 10 biscuits, sift 1 1/2 c. sifted all-purpose flour, 4 tsp. baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt together. Cut in 1/2 c. shortening until mixture is like coarse meal. Combine 1/4 c. milk, a 1/2 can yams, drained and mashed and 5 slices crisp, cooked bacon that has been well crumbled. Mix well. Blend into flour mixture. Roll or pat out to 1/4 in. thickness on lightly floured surface. Cut with floured 2 1/2-in. cutter. Place on baking sheet and bake at 425° F. about 15 min. or until golden brown.

Overweight Folks Usually Can Trace Condition to Selves

Overweight persons can no longer claim they are fat because of some glandular condition. This has been found to be a false premise and the general public is getting to know it.

Nor is obesity commonly due to any organic disease. In most cases, overweight is the result of overeating and there lies the big problem.

No drug has yet been discovered that will safely and effectively control the appetite.

With almost mathematical predictability, however, loss of weight can be produced in any obese person who adopts a low caloric diet under strict supervision.

It is the maintenance of this diet that is difficult.

A person who has reduced his caloric intake and has lost a few pounds, tends to have an increased feeling of well being.

But, as he continues his efforts to reduce an uncontrollable hunger sets in so that he becomes obsessed with thoughts of food.

It is not easy to abstain, for at every social function he is offered fattening food and his family sits down to a table laden with tempting dishes.

Reducing is a long, hard process accompanied by a sense of frustration, failure, mental torture, and actually painful hunger contractions.

The commonest cause of obesity is recognized as due to emotional conflict.

Restricting the intake of food does not diminish the urge to eat.

Every overweight patient has to be studied in terms of his body build and emotional history.

INTRODUCE GREENS

Introduce endives and escarole into the family's salad lineup, says Elsie Barnesberger, Penn State extension consumer education specialist. Endive has a leaf that is narrow, finely divided, and curly. Escarole is a broad-leaved plant. Both are good in tossed salads and as a base for fruit salads.

GIVING THE APPEARANCE of a deadly silver arrow as it streaks over the Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., is the Navy's new supersonic fighter, the XF-103. The needle-nose plane is a day fighter designed to operate from aircraft carriers. Speed and other performance data are classified. (International)
