Historian Relates Romantic

Big Sandstone Slab Located In Clinton Co.

Henry W. Shoemaker, Pennsylvania folklore chief, this week told the romantic tale of Logan's

"The historic marker to Martin Chartier, the early French pioneer, at Washington Borough in Lancaster County is placed on an immense boulder," Shoemaker said.

Have Total of 230

"This stone has a history almost as interesting as that of Chartier himself on the Susque-hunna and Allegheny Rivers, and the naming of a branch of the Allegheny as Chartier's Creek in his honor.

Five Hastings miners, who worked a combined total of 230 years, without a lout-time accident, were honored by the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association last Friday night.

was known at its earlier home in McElhattan Gap in Clinton County as the Indians' Card Table, for while the Aborigines probably placed many games of chance upon it, its less com-mon name of Logan's Table seems more applicable.

"It was there that the handsome Mingo Chief, James Logan, the son of Ehikellemus, vice-gernet of the Iroquois Confederation in Pennsylvania and namesake of William Penn's Irish secretary, played a game of ombre (a card Ulster Scot who was crazily in octovakia. love with her.
"As he had already won her stone after the game.

"Holding hands, Logan and Jura started for Sugar Valley. McCafferty, cruel and unscru-pulous in love as in everything else, would not accept the turn of the card, but yowed a ter-

Steadily, the scheming man followed the loving pair ac-ross the ridges. He saw the lovers reach their camp site by the so-called Logan spring, a mile west of Loganville, as the 'spring city' was earlier called.

wils earlier called.

"Just after dawn, the mighty Legan emerged from his tepee for a cooling bath in his favorite spring. The time had come, and McCafferty fired, breaking the Mingo leader's hip. Logan wallowed in the grass in speechless as only from this foul deed. The Uster Scot returned over the same mountain path to McElhittan.

Say Texas Injunction

Not Legal At Portage

Attorneys for the Hoxsey Cancer Chiric at Portage asked Federal Court in Pittsburgh last Friday to order the return of 500, 000 red and black pills seized by Federal Food and Drub Administration, agents in a raid last March.

"Hearing the shot, Jura rushed out and stooping down took her wounded lover in her arms. The tribes were aroused and luggied to the side of their manning warrior chief.

"Six veeks inter he was hailed before his father to be tried for the physical disqualification of chiefship. He could only be convicted find was deprived of his insignia, and even the membership sc oll of the Order of the Whitewater, an ancient blood fraternity to which only youths of noble blood were admitted. He was forbidden to take a 'full-time wife', only being allowed a 'fried', which Jura McAvoy distance."

In They said a federal injunction obtained in Dalias, Texas, probability of the Order of the hibiting Harry M. Hoxsey, a naturopath, from shipping his pills across state lifes could not be applied to this district. They also denied that literature accompanied that literature accompan "Six weeks later he was hailed

"A hundred years later the Indians' Card Table was donated to the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to use as a base for Martia Chartier's monument. Chartier, strangely enough, had merand had dealings with Logan."

Federal Food and Drug agents maintain the pills were misbranded. The FDA and the American Medical Association contend the cancer cure promoted by Hoxage actually is worthless.

Mose People Love Wood In Their Homes

Mose people love wood in their homes because it is warm, soft-toned and liveable. Some home owners faced with the problem of selling their older homes when of selling their older homes when business and employment requires them to move, have discovered the real appeal of wood. By installing a wall of rich-looking Douglas fir paneling in a living-room or den, they have found ready buyers, and best of all, have been able to get more money for their homes.
