—When you hear a man sneering at the local papers because they are not as cheap and newsworthy as the city papers, you can safely bet he does not understand any of his wealth in assisting them, and that generally the local papers have done more for him than he ever could do for them.

—The wife of Dr. John L. Wentz died at her residence in Jeddo early Sunday morning, aged nearly 47 years. Services were held yesterday morning by Rev. J. P. Buxton, of St. James' P. E. Church, Drifton, and the remains were conveyed by special train to Mauch Chunk, where the interment took place.

—The burgess should see that the policemen patrol the streets a little more than they have been doing. The noise made on Sunday night by the pack of hoodlums who paraded the streets at a late hour should not be allowed to be repeated. The streets of the borough are no place to practice vocal organs on.

—Chairman Long, of the Democratic standing committee of the fourth legislative district, has issued a call to the members of the committee to meet at the Brinslin House, Hazleton, on Saturday afternoon, August 17, to elect three delegates to the Democratic convention at Harrisburg, September 4. The members of the committee from Foster township are Michael Campbell, Andrew Furey, Hugh Shovlin and Wm. A. Mulhern.

—Mr. John Turnbach has been tendered the superintendency of the Alden company store, made vacant by the resignation of Charles H. Wise. He will take charge about the 1st of September, and will close out his business here as soon as he can remove his family to Alden. We congratulate the people of Alden and assure all who may be brought in contact with him that they will find in him a civil, courteous and obliging gentleman, such as is rarely seen in such positions. Mr. Turnbach has been in business here but a few years, and in that time has made many friends. That he will do well in his new field of labor we have no doubt, and the interest of all will be well served by him as has been done in the past.

—James O'Donnell of Eckley left on Friday for three months visit in Ireland.

—J. Reiforwick is spending the week in New York, combining business and pleasure.

—Mrs. Rose Carr and daughter, Mary, of Chester, are visiting at the residence of Condy O. Boyle, Centre Street.

Selling Liquor Without a License.

Sometime ago the attention of the borough authorities was called to a certain house in the borough whose inmates were supposed to be carrying on a trade in direct violation of the Brooks' high license law, and also, of keeping a house of questionable character. Owing to the fact that the patrons of this resort were not disposed to give themselves away, and no one was willing to testify, the officers of the borough were powerless to act, notwithstanding requests came from business men and clergymen to have the nefarious traffic stopped. Some four weeks ago, a raid on the premises was contemplated by Chief of Police Cowen, but at the last moment the hearts of the valiant volunteer defenders of the borough of Freeland failed them. Chief Cowen, nothing daunted by this act of cowardice on the part of his subordinates, took a position outside and saw enough to satisfy himself that the law was being violated. On Thursday last complaint was made before Justice of the Peace Buckley by Constable Quigley charging Mrs. Jennie Duval of 43 Washington Street with selling liquor without a license, and also with keeping a bawdy house. Subpoenas were issued for Wm. McNeil, Oliver Leiby and William Seiwell. The warrant and subpoenas were placed in the hands of Constable Sault, who went to the house and found it closed. It took the constable from Thursday afternoon until Monday noon to make the house open to the law. Mrs. Duval was brought before Justice Buckley and pleaded not guilty. Evidence was then taken, and resulted in the binding of Mrs. Duval in the sum of six hundred dollars to appear at the next morning court. The commitment was made out and handed to Constable Sault, who took his prisoner towards the station, expecting to make the 4.30 train for the county seat, when he was met by Austin Harvey and William Seiwell, who turned with him to the Justice's office and entered bail, each in the sum of three hundred dollars, for her appearance at the next term of court. On Tuesday Mrs. Duval removed her household effects from the borough.

Sanitary Condition of the Borough.

Since the question of compelling the property owners to lay sidewalks has fallen through, would it not be well for all concerned to give their attention to the sanitary condition of the town. The copious rains that fell during the past two months have done much to carry away a great deal of the refuse and rubbish that lay on the surface, and has also caused cesspools and cisterns to overflow to an alarming extent. We do not wish it to appear that there is any immediate danger, but a walk through the streets of the borough will convince any sensible person that the time has come when the question of drainage must be taken up and acted upon, if the future health of our people is to be considered. Situated as the people of Freeland are, with ample grade facilities, this question of drainage should receive no further postponement, for delays are dangerous. The borough council are by law endowed with absolute power for the protection of the lives and health of the community over which they preside, and it is hoped they will discharge their duty in this respect in a more becoming manner than the pavement question was disposed of. The columns of the TRIBUNE are open to a discussion of this or any other subject of local character.

The Firemen's Excursion.

Leave business cares and household perplexities behind for one day and accompany the Freeland Citizens' Hose Co. on their annual excursion to Glen Onoko next Tuesday. There is no more inviting spot than this in Pennsylvania to spend a day and night. The drive is everything that can be desired. There are all kinds of amusements, beautiful scenery, various points of interest, dancing, etc., to while away the hours, and children can be taken along with perfect safety. DePiero's orchestra will render their choicest music and all can enjoy themselves to their heart's content. Trains leave Freeland at 7 a. m., and returning leave the Glen at 6 p. m., and on the return trip will have a most unadulterated pleasure. Fare, adults, 80 cents; children, 60 cents.

Jugged by the Burgess.

At the last meeting of council the burgess spoke of an old man who frequents the business places of the borough soliciting alms, and that he was in the habit of scolding any person who refused him. The burgess was instructed to use his own judgment in punishing him. Upon returning to town last week he was accompanied with a night in the jug. That settled it. He left as soon as he was released.

DEATHS.

ROLL.—At Upper Lehigh, on August 8, Lena, daughter of August and Bertha Roll, aged 1 year, 3 months and 13 days. Interred at Upper Lehigh cemetery Sunday afternoon.

HINDSON.—At Sandy Run, on August 9, Adaline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hindson, aged 5 months and 16 days. Interred at Freeland cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Married on the Switchback by Moonlight.

A dispatch from Mauch Chunk tells of a rather romantic marriage that occurred on the Switchback a few evenings ago. The contracting parties were John P. Longley of Philadelphia and Miss Nellie White of New York. The ceremony was performed on a car as it was dashing down the grade from Summit Hill to Mauch Chunk, and the gleam of the full moon was the only light by which the spectators witnessed the proceedings. Mrs. Mumford, whose husband is interested in the road, had invited a few friends to take a moonlight ride over the mountain railway, and the party was about leaving Summit Hill on the return trip when Longley asked permission to accompany them. He explained that ten years ago, while riding on the Switchback, he had agreed with Miss White to marry her, but they had a quarrel and separated. A reconciliation had recently been effected, and, hearing of the moonlight excursion, thought it would be a romantic occasion for the marriage. A Justice of the Peace was secured and the knot tied while the car skipped along at a mile a minute.

NOTES FROM OTHER TOWNS.

—Thomas P. Evans of Forty Fort committed suicide Thursday morning. Sick-ness and despondency was the cause.

—Edward J. Campbell and J. F. Sentor have been elected delegates to the Democratic State convention for the Sixth Luzerne District.

—Jas. F. Gorman, a plumber residing at the county seat, has been arrested on the charge of embezzling $1200 from his employer, M. J. Walsh.

—The editor of an exchange asserts that the only way to stop the sale of liquor is to give it away. He's about as near right as editors generally get.

—James McLarkey was buried by a cave-in at the Hammond colliery, Girardville, yesterday afternoon. Three other men narrowly escaped the same fate.

—Wm. C. Root of Catsaqua brought suit for $10,000 damages on Monday against Robert Gibson and Robert Fulton for defaming the character of his daughter.

—Albert Farrell of Wilkes-Barre, who shipped with $500 belonging to the Sons of St. George, has been located in England. Efforts will probably be made to extradite him.

—The pamphlet laws of the last session of the legislature, for the use of Justices of the Peace, have been received at the Prothonotary's office and are ready for distribution when called for.

—William Gehring, Jr., a brakeman of Upper Mauch Chunk, was killed at Penn. Haven Junction, early Friday morning by an engine running into a caboose in which he was sitting.

—A man in a neighboring county, who predicted a dry summer this year, was drowned recently in a flood caused by the heavy rains. Such is the fate of who dare to interfere with nature.

—Herman Webb and Herman Newmayer, residents of Wilkes-Barre, jumped from a Lehigh Valley train at Chatham Sunday morning. Webb was fatally injured.

—The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, of the Order of the Sons of St. George, began its annual session in Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday, and was attended by about 100 delegates, many from this county, Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

—At the Malinkrodt Convent, Wilkes-Barre, the Mothers House of the Sisters of Christian Charity, thirty-one young women took the white veil and twenty-five novices made their profession on Tuesday. Bishop O'Hara of Scranton officiated.

—An outcome of the typhoid fever at Wilkes-Barre is the organization of a rival water company—the Springbrook—which was formed on Monday with $600,000 capital. They propose to bring the water about twenty miles from the mountains.

—Peter Seltzki, a Pole living at Georgetown, a suburb of Wilkes-Barre, was found dead near his home on Monday evening. William Sholowski, his brother-in-law, with whom he had quarreled, was arrested on suspicion of having inflicted the fatal wound.

—Charles Adams, a Pole of Mahanoy City, was arrested on Monday on information connecting him with the murder of Lafferty. Lafferty was shot November 1, 1888. His body was found in the Mahanoy creek, but there was no evidence at the time as to how he met his death.

—Dr. W. H. Bradley, at one time proprietor of the Wilkes-Barre Record, and until recently manager of the Philadelphia Weekly Press, has been arrested and placed in the county jail on the charge of embezzling the funds of the Press Company. A further hearing will take place September 2. Bradley, who is well known in this section of the state, had full charge of the weekly issue of the Press, and is supposed to have obtained the money by making false returns of mailing and traveling expenses.

—A circular has just been issued by the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company prescribing the style of uniform to be worn by passenger train and station employees. Hereafter conductor's coats will be double breasted cutaway design instead of frock, and the buttons will be of gilt instead of silver. Baggage masters' and brakemen's coats will button to the neck, will have rolling collars on which will be the letters, "L. V. R. R." surrounded by a narrow border, which on conductors' coats will be gilt, on others silver.

Does It Pay to Do This?

A Shenandoah merchant with a very large head on his shoulders and a greedy appetite for self complained very bitterly at the prices of the printer for printing business blanks. He finally caught on to an advertisement in a borrowed paper.

"Every man his own printer," said the paper, "for press, for type, for rollers, ink, cases chase and a complete outfit, which he stored in the attic and when he wants printing he just lies down, sets up the form, washes the rollers and press, and if he has a good luck, in an hour and a half returns with a dozen blanks that can be partly read and the remainder guessed at. While he is away printing customers call, find no one in the store and depart, so that every blank costs him the price of a hundred, and he has capital enough invested in printing material to have provided him with blanks, labels and other printing for fifty years."

Jake Kilrain, the puglist, was arrested in Baltimore yesterday upon a warrant issued by the Governor of Maryland on the requisition of the Governor of Mississippi.

Leviston Easily Defeated.

An audience of less than one thousand witnessed on Sunday one of the poorest exhibitions of ball playing seen upon the home grounds this season. Since the opening of the season the Leviston club—self-styled champions of Carbon County—have been endeavoring to obtain a due to test their skill with Freeland. The latter club was not disposed to give them this privilege, as the aim of the management has been to furnish the public with the best games possible, and in this Leviston was not capable of upholding their end of the contest. Failing to obtain a game Leviston foolishly allowed themselves to be impressed with the delusion that Freeland was afraid to play them, for fear of experiencing a defeat. The absurdity of such statement is plainly seen when it is remembered that Uncle Sam can't produce nine men in his whole dominion that Freeland would be afraid to play against. However, Leviston did not know when they were well off and even the club and league Freeland several times a week through different journals, and at last succeeded in receiving orders to come. The club was accompanied by several hundred people from the section, many of them making the entire distance. The result was a foregone conclusion to the people of Freeland, but nothing could dishearten or dampen the courage of Carbon's great unconquered base ball club. Umpire Shovlin, who was suffering from a severe cold, was unable to fulfill his position, and Thos. Slattery was substituted. Mr. Slattery umpired a fair and impartial game, but Leviston was here to kick and kick they did. In the first inning Mauch Chunk by a score of 8-4. The Scopes also defeated the Jeddo Kickers the following day, score 9-6.

—Wilmingon, Del., will probably place a club in the Middle States League on Saturday to fill Norwalk's position. Norwalk has taken Wilkes-Barre's place in the Atlantic Association.

—The uncertainty of base ball was never more fully illustrated than on Monday, when "fast" Joe actual shut out another club, in a trivium was the conquered team and the score was 12-0.

—Games like these played here on Sunday would kill base ball so dead within a few months that it would never again be heard of. Bring clubs here that understand the rules at least, even though they can't play ball.

—At the park Saturday afternoon the Hungarian clubs of M. C. Carmel and Freeland will play the first game of the series which is to decide the Hungarian championship of America. It will be a great game. Admission, ten cents.

—New York passed Mike Kelly's aggregation on Tuesday and now leads in the race for the League pennant. The wisecracks all predict the Boston Red Sox will be out of the race for first place before the middle of September, and that the Phillies will crowd them out of second place in the meantime.

—The first nine of Eckley were defeated by the Terrors at Eckley Sunday afternoon by a score of 28-16. One of the prominent features of the game was the interest manifested by the fair sex of the town, who upheld the ball playing abilities of their different favorites with words more emphatic than polite.

CATASAUQUA—SLATINGTON.
J. P. Davis, the manager of the Catsaqua base ball club, indignantly resents the claim of the Blue Stockings of Slatington to the championship of the Lehigh Valley and says his club twice defeated the latter this summer. To settle the matter Mr. Davis challenges the Slatington team to play a game either in Lehigh, Catasqua, Allentown, or at any other place they may desire for a purse of $25 to $500.—Allentown Chronicle.

Manager Jones of the Blue Stockings has accepted the challenge for $500 and arrangements are being made for the game. That is something like business. When the superiority of two clubs is in doubt there is no better way to decide than to play a friendly game for $500 or $1000.

Weekly Coal Report.
The anthracite coal shippers are feeling somewhat anxious concerning the unusually quiet state of the coal trade for this period of the year. Eastern wholesale dealers are not placing their orders for coal in as satisfactory a manner as the shippers desire, and the yards are packed with New England distributing points are reported to be now well stocked with anthracite, owing to the backwardness of the retail dealers and consumers in purchasing their supplies. New orders for coal, which have been received from Boston during the past week or two, are restricted to shipment subject to a lower rate of vessel freights than are now ruling, and, in consequence, the coal is not being forwarded.

The Western anthracite trade is still quiet, but it continues slowly to improve. The movement of coal to the Western distributing points via lake and rail and all-rail routes continues large, and has caused a scarcity of cars of the same kind owing to their being detained for return cargoes of East-bound grain.

The general coal sales agents of the anthracite mining and transporting companies held their adjourned meeting to consider the question of an advance in the prices of anthracite this week. An average advance of about 10 cents per ton in the circular prices of broken, egg and stove sizes was made, to take effect on September 1.

The line and city trade is unchanged for the domestic sizes. The demand for furnace sizes is excellent, and since the strike of the coke operators in the Connellsville region the iron-furnacemen, who have been using more anthracite, have been urgent for immediate shipments of coal.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending August 3, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 890,102 tons, compared with 776,092 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 114,010 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1889 was 10,267,544 tons, compared with 10,272,547 tons in the same period last year, a decrease of 950,003 tons.—Ledger.

Ex-Judge David S. Ferry was shot and killed in a railway dining room at Lathrop, California, yesterday morning. Deputy U. S. Marshal Nagle, who was detailed as a special guard for Justice Stephen J. Field, of the U. S. Supreme Court, Ferry had slapped Judge Field's face and Nagle fired, killing Ferry instantly.

BASE BALL.

—Twelve won and six lost.
—Rumors of the Sunday games coming to a sudden stop are aloft.

—The Tigers easily defeated a picked nine at the park on Sunday. Score, 13-5.

—Manager Sanson of the Alden club is desirous of arranging a game with Freeland.

—The Tigers will probably play at Coal Dale, Schuylkill County, on Saturday, August 24.

—The Drifton club expects to open their new grounds with the Terrors on Saturday afternoon.

—Some of the clubs in the Middle States League need a trial bottle of Dr. Brown-Sequard's "elixir of life."

—Don't miss the game at Jeddo Saturday afternoon between the Kickers and Summit Hill. Game called at 3.30 p. m.

—The reappearance of Boyle and J. Carr with Freeland on Sunday acted upon the club like a double dose of confidence.

—At a meeting of the Middle States League at York on Friday the Shenandoah club was expelled and the Lebanon club admitted.

—The movement to organize a club in Wilkes-Barre to enter the Middle States League has been abandoned. Base ball is destined to enjoy a long sleep in that city.

—The Ravine club of Pittston have issued a challenge to play any amateur team in Luzerne County, at Riverside Park, Upper Pittston, any day excepting Sunday.

—At Upper Lehigh on Saturday the Scopes defeated the home team by a score of 8-4. The Scopes also defeated the Jeddo Kickers the following day, score 9-6.

—Wilmingon, Del., will probably place a club in the Middle States League on Saturday to fill Norwalk's position. Norwalk has taken Wilkes-Barre's place in the Atlantic Association.
