

FREELAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. II. No. 33.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1890.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

BRIEF ITEMS.

A marriage license has been granted to Pedora Naglovsky, and Anna Skrap, both of White Haven.

Attorney John D. Hayes attended the funeral of Mrs. Anthony Brown at Hazleton this morning.

At Pottsville last week, Austin Harvey was granted a liquor license for his house at Nelson City.

Joseph Hinkle, Jr., of Upper Lehigh, a cousin of Limber Metz, is on a visit to the latter.—Ashley Observer.

Owing to some defects in the machinery at No. 1 breaker Drifton, work was suspended yesterday afternoon, and last night.

The Democratic nominating convention for Freeland borough will be held at the opera house on Saturday evening, Feb. 8, at 7.30.

James Furey and sister Cassie of Jeddo, left for New York on Tuesday morning to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Ellen Munday.

The Freeland Citizens' Bank will shortly be ready for business, contracts having already been made for office furniture and stationery.

Peter Shovlin and John Cunningham of Sandy Run, removed their families and household effects to Silver Brook Schuylkill County, last week.

The restaurant at the corner of Pine and Walnut Streets is offered for rent from April 1 on. Apply to Mrs. Hannah McCole, on the premises.

The Union Insurance Co. of San Francisco was organized in 1865 with a cash capital of $750,000, fully paid in gold. Their agent here is W. A. Grimes.

The question of widening Centre Street, from Front to Walnut streets, will come up before the court of common pleas next Monday when action will be taken on it.

Owing to the absence of a quorum, the members of council failed to transact any business last Monday evening. The next meeting will be at the call of the president.

Ex-Councilman John Haggerty, who some time ago removed to South Bethlehem, was a visitor to town on Sunday. Mr. Haggerty has lately recovered from a long spell of sickness.

Let every Democrat of the borough attend the nominating convention at the opera house on Saturday evening and assist to nominate good men for the various offices to be filled.

Over 400 invitations have been sent out by the young men of the Drifton Shops for their social hop to be held at the opera house on February 14. Those receiving invitations should attend as it promises to be one of the largest of this kind ever held in Freeland.

John M. Powell 1st, is being urged by many of his friends to allow his name to go before the Republican nominating convention as chief burgess, and it is now understood that he will be a candidate, in the event of the present incumbent declining a re-nomination.

At a citizens caucus of the 5th ward of Wilkes-Barre on Friday evening John P. McDonald was nominated for Alderman. Mr. McDonald served for a number of years as justice of the peace here and if he should be elected the people of the 5th ward will not regret their choice.

The receipts and expenditures of the Citizens' Hose Company's hat at the opera house on the 16th of last month were as follows: From the sale of tickets, $92.50; from refreshments, $61.15; total $153.65; expenditures, $136.18; net receipts, $17.47.

We are in receipt of a letter from Wm. Jones of Telluride, Colorado, (known in the West as "Strong boy Jones") renewing his challenge to fight Wm. Dougherty, of Freeland, or will fight Louis Jester, of Wilkes-Barre, for a purse of three hundred dollars. Mr. Dougherty is not a resident of this part of the country. His other challenge is respectfully referred to Mr. Jester.

DEATHS.

HARRISON.—At Freeland, Feb. 4, Willie, son of John and Mary Harrison, aged 4 months and 20 days. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Brislin, undertaker.

AMNO.—At Upper Lehigh, Feb. 3, Mary, daughter of John and Bridget Amno, aged 13 years and 3 days. Interred at St. Ann's cemetery, yesterday afternoon. Brislin undertaker.

Election of Officers.

At a meeting of the Tigers Athletic Association, held on Saturday evening, the following officers were elected: President—Peter Gallagher. Vice President—James Gallagher. Secretary—John J. McMenamin. Treasurer—James McKinley. Sergeant-at-arms—Rodger McNeil. Trustees—Patrick Higgins, P. J. Boyle, James McKinley.

Catholic Population.

Sadler's Catholic Directory for 1890 has been just published and contains interesting statistics relating to the Catholic Church in the United States. It estimates the Catholic population at 8,277,039. There are 8,332 priests, 7,523 churches, 3,302 chapels and stations, 35 seminaries and 3,194 parochial schools with an attendance of 633,238 pupils. The number of charitable institutions is placed at 553.

Another Victim to the Rail.

As a party of young men were walking along the Lehigh Valley Railroad near Port Blanchard, on Sunday, they came upon the body of a man lying in the ditch by the side of the road. Both legs were broken their being also a deep gash on the side of his head. Not being able to identify the remains they were allowed to remain there until the arrival of Coroner Pier. The latter identified them as those of Thomas Curry, of Avoca. He had been stricken down with a severe illness some time ago which so unsettled his mind that he was unable to take care of himself. He was taken to the Ransom poor house for treatment but escaped several weeks ago and has since been at large.

Poor District Conventions.

The Republicans of the Luzerne portion of the Middle Coal Field Poor District met at Hazleton on Tuesday and nominated, by acclamation, A. S. Monroe of Hazleton for poor director and T. H. Williams of Beaver Meadow for auditor. Immediately after the nominations for director and auditor were made the convention took up the election of a delegate to the state convention. The names of C. W. Kline, G. H. Troutman and Harry E. Sweeney were proposed. Mr. Troutman requested that his name be withdrawn which was done. The convention then proceeded to ballot with the result of Mr. Sweeney's election by a vote of 21 to 13.

A series of resolutions were read and agreed to except the one endorsing the course of General Osborne and requesting the delegate to vote for him. Mr. Sweeney the delegate stated that he was not pledged to any candidate for governor.

There being no further business the convention adjourned sine die.

Yesterday was the day set apart for the nomination of a candidate for poor director and auditor by the Democratic conferees of the district. Hugh O'Donnell of Hazleton having received a majority of delegates at the convention on Monday, the privilege of selecting his own conferees was given him, and, as a matter of precedent, all that remained were to have the whole of the conferees meet and endorse his nomination, but the result was otherwise.

Yesterday the conferees met and it was evident that those from Carbon County intended to vent their spleen on some one and the result was that instead of following an old custom they made a new departure and took up a man who only received one vote from the delegates on Monday at Hazleton. The action of the representatives from Carbon could be construed to mean but one thing—the defeat of the Democratic nominee for poor director, no matter who he might be.

We always thought that Foster township had statements that could maneuver a convention but now we raise our hat in deference to Carbon's heavy weight, Mr. Hugh O'Donnell is in the field and will be endorsed by the Freeland Borough Democratic convention which meets on Saturday evening and from what we know of old Foster, the home of his birth, it will also fall in line.

ECKLEY.

The Eckley cornet band are getting a hall built for their own use, so as to not use the school buildings.

Two of our young men took a quiet trip to Jeddo last Sunday night and from their appearance seemed to have had a good time.

It is pleasing to note the many visitors that were in attendance at the fair on Saturday evening and every person seemed to enjoy themselves. It reflects great credit on the management for the courtesy of their ushers, for the success of the fair is in a great measure due to them, who, by their genial and pleasing ways seem to entertain everybody.

During the evening there was a cakewalk, which was led by Neal Ward of Freeland and Miss Mary Boyle of Mahanoy City, and won by Charles Harvey and Ella Campbell of Eckley. Manus McLaughlin, Alex. Yammaker and Patrick O'Donnell acted as judges.

John McMenamin and wife of Highland were present, also Miss Thompson.

William Solomon from the Scales was the jolliest man at the fair. The Scales boys attend pretty regularly and seem to enjoy it. What is the matter with that Sycamore his absence is noticed. Come again Dave.

Sandy Run furnished a large contingent to the fair last Saturday night. All are to be complimented for their good attendance.

Among those present from Freeland were William Timony and wife, Susie O'Donnell, Fannie Doris and Madge Borer, with a number of other ladies and gentlemen.

Neal Ward seems to have some attraction over here. No flies on Neal.

Our chief of police was absent and everybody knew it hence there was a good time all around. Keep it up boys the fair will soon close.

Freeland parties held the lucky numbers on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, taking all the valuable articles.

The horse will be changed off on the 22nd inst. and parties holding tickets will please hand them in not later than the 19th. The fair will be open next Saturday evening.

Balls at the Opera House.

Young Men of Drifton Shops, Friday evening February 14.

Young Men's Literary Society of Eckley, Monday evening February 17.

St. Patrick's Cornet Band, Easter Monday evening.

Societies Athletic Club, Wednesday evening April 16.

Political Budget.

John Burton is talked of as a probable candidate for chief burgess on the Democratic ticket.

John McCauley, Hugh Brogan, John Gallagher, Edward Quinn and Thomas Early are making big fights for supervisors of Foster.

Jacob Fox, of South Heberton, is a candidate before the Republican nominating convention for tax collector of Foster township.

Jos. P. McDonald, Patrick Brown, John McNeil, James North and P. H. Hanlon are candidates for school directors before the democratic convention of Foster township.

William Gildea of Jeaneville was nominated for poor director and John P. Connell of Beaver Meadow for Auditor by the Carbon County Democratic conferees at Hazleton yesterday.

The fight for tax collector on the Democratic side of Foster township lies between John Miller of Drifton and Fred. Lesser of Upper Lehigh, the friends of both men are working hard.

Joseph Handlong is the latest aspirant for school directors on the Democratic side of the house in Foster. Joe has already served three years on the board and done credit to himself and his constituents by his faithful attendance and self-sacrifice of any paying office while a member.

Supervisors Arrested.

Joseph Hutton and Valentine Genz, supervisors of Darby Township, near Media Pa., were on Saturday bound over by Squire McCormick, to be tried at the March term of court, on the charge of failure to keep the roads of their township in safe traveling condition. The prosecutor is Charles Tribit of Darby. One day last summer Mr. Tribit was hauling a big load of hay, long one of the mud streets of Darby, when a wheel of the wagon went into a big hole and hay, wagon, and all were upset. The wagon was broken and two of Mr. Tribit's sons, who were on the load, were thrown to the ground. One of the boys in falling struck a fence at the side of the road and received injuries that confined him to his room for several weeks. Mr. Tribit says the supervisors had received notice of the unsafe condition of the road, but gave it no attention. He intends to hold them responsible for the damage, and his reason for not commencing the suit before was their promise that they would make everything right.

Polish Church Riot.

Another Polish Church riot occurred at Buffalo, N. Y., on Sunday, in the vicinity of Adelbert Park, in which took the full force of 200 police men to quell. No one was killed but several policemen were injured by bricks and other missiles. The leader of the rioters, a Polish woman, was badly injured. The disturbance was similar to the one at Plymouth, the cause being the dislike of Father Pawler, a newly appointed priest.

UPPER LEHIGH.

S. S. Jones was elected president and William T. Williams secretary of the Welch Baptist Sunday School on Sunday. The Good Templars of this place are steadily increasing. Eleven members joined on Sunday.

People should keep their eyes on the number of tramps that are loafing around here. They go about begging in the day.

The delegate elections of both political parties will be held in the Foster township school house on Saturday afternoon.

Upper Lehigh has two women who make their calling and we have no doubt could earn good wages as reporters for the Associated Press. These two women make it a point to go from house to house each morning after their husbands go to work and gather all the slanderous news they can get and for the balance of the day they are running around peddling their news.

The oldest brother in Onoko Tribe is 76 years of age and as supple as any of the youngest members, having danced a jig. All report having had a good time.

Tom's Tombstone.

Crain, the long-legged biped who wandered into Tom's Ochiltree's breezy, tide swept district of Gulf coast Texas, is a magnificent, good fellow of rare ability, and Ochiltree's superior in wit, and only inferior to Tom in skillful avoidance of remotest verisimilitude.

Crain, when warned that his courtship in dealing with limber-jawed, red-headed, awfully beaunched Tom might be misconstrued by his pugnacious audience, was not so stopped, when next he discussed Tom's glowing virtues in Tom's presence, that when Tom's brief and brilliant career was ended his tombstone would bear the inscription:

"Here lies Tom Ochiltree; he never did anything else."

The fun comes in when we state that Ochiltree was so delighted with the cheerful witicism that he wrote and transmitted it at once to the family stonemason in Galveston, and on a great white headstone, to stand through all time and evoke tears for Tom's untimely end, is recorded Crain's admirable epitaph:

"Here lies poor Tom; he never did anything else."

And won't it be the proudest and ultimate triumph of truth when Tom modestly and humbly confessing his sins, asks forgiveness by crawling under that tombstone! It is a fact that survivors of us, Crain leading the procession, with hearts full of affection and kindly memories, will scatter roses over Tom's grave. We would do this the more feelingly when we remember Tom's reverence for paternal virtues and gray hairs.

Tom's father (it is rather an old story but befits the place and occasion) having been Chief Justice when Tom was twenty, authorized the law student to announce a partnership between the father and son. It appeared in the papers and on a great signboard over the door: "Tom Ochiltree & Father."

The Newspapers of the United States.

Nine years ago the tenth census included an enumeration of the newspapers published in all the states and territories in 1880. The total number of periodicals then registered was 11,314, of which 971 were published daily. The enumeration of Bowyer's Newspaper Directory was less complete than that of Mr. North for the census. Rowell, in his edition of 1880, gave 9,728 periodicals, and 843 dailies. That is to say, the figures of the census were more than 16 per cent. over Rowell's figures for the total of publications, and more than 15 per cent. over Rowell for the number of dailies.

This year Rowell's Directory mentions not less than 16,319 papers printed in the United States, including 1,494 dailies. If the deficiencies of his enumeration count in the same proportion as they did in 1880, as compared with Prof. North's enumeration for the last census, the number of periodicals issued in the United States to-day is not far from 19,000, and the number of daily newspapers not far from 1,700.—N. Y. Sun.

Fatal Gas Explosion.

A terrible explosion occurred at the Nottingham mine, at Plymouth on Saturday morning by which six men were killed and several others injured, one so badly that he died soon after. The victims are:

JOHN HUMPLEYS, JOHN CROSSING, DAVID J. WILLIAMS, JOHN DAVIS, EDWARD BARRY, POWELL SCHULTZ, JOSEPH JONES.

On Friday notices were posted at the head of the shaft announcing that the colliery would resume work on Saturday and at the regular time in the morning the men gathered around the mine. They were greatly disgusted and enraged, however, when Doss Berkeheiser announced that there would be no work and that all he wanted was a few men to get out the coal already loaded in the mine and two gangs for timbering. The men were not backward in expressing their disappointment and this only elicited curses and abusiveness, from the boss, in the following manner: "Go home you d—n starving curs. Go home and starve there. There is no work here for you to-day."

The men selected for timbering and getting out the coal were placed in charge of fire boss George Dunstan and set to work, one gang in the fifth and the other in the sixth lift. Being through with instructions, as to the manner of standing the timber, to the party in the sixth lift about 9 o'clock he was on his way to the fifth, when, and by whom, it is believed, the gas was ignited. The explosion that followed was terrific. The men were tossed in all directions, caps that stood on the track were shaken to pieces and the timbers were all torn out. The men in the sixth lift were also horribly burned.

The news spread rapidly through the town and very soon many hundreds were gathered around the top. Then came the cries for help but the men being very much disgusted over the action of the boss in the morning would not come down until nearly noon when Morgan W. Morgan, ex-superintendent of the Nottingham and so well liked by his fellow-workers, appeared on the scene and went among the men begging them to go down and commence the work of rescue. In a short time 100 volunteers were ready and no time was lost in descending the shaft and getting to work. A heavy fall of roof rock had also followed the explosion which took some time to clear away. It was about 10 p. m. before the dead men were all sent to the surface and that completed the work.

The now famous anthracite coal mine is not almost a total wreck. The men are very bitter in their denunciation of Berkeheiser and claim that he is totally incompetent to handle such a colliery as the Nottingham. They also say that the wrecking of the shaft, especially by this explosion, is due to the incompetence and ignorance of the bosses.

The Conspiracy Case.

Peter Wise was held at Greensburg on Saturday for a hearing in the Callaghan conspiracy case before Justice Keener. Wise's attorney was Hon. James I. Beaman, Callaghan gave his testimony that Wise had boycotted him through the Knights of Labor and substantiated it by his witness, J. A. Wimboth, ex-president of the Miner's Amalgamated Association. One of Callaghan's principal witnesses, Wolkoski, who is in business with Callaghan, said he knew nothing of the alleged boycott. Despite the fact that Callaghan's evidence did not show a boycott, Wise was held for court in the sum of $300. Hon. J. R. Byrne, of the defendants, who some weeks ago gave bail for court, went Wise's bail. It has been ascertained that Powderly will not push his libel suit against Callaghan, as he thinks it unnecessary.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of unclaimed letters remaining in the Freeland Post-office, February 5, 1890:

Boyle, Mary Ann
Honze, Ida
Pinzlar, Yanos
Schweitzer, Chas.
Stub, C. V.

Persons calling for any of the above letters should say Advertised.

Weekly Coal Report.

There has been much discussion recently of the "demoralized condition" of the anthracite coal trade, but that impression is entirely unfounded. That there is comparatively little demand for the domestic sizes of anthracite is true, but the consumption of the furnace and steam sizes is very large. The mild, open weather of the winter season thus far has caused a large decrease in the consumption of egg, stove and chestnut coal, but, on the other hand, the active condition of the iron and other manufacturing businesses has created a largely increased demand for lump, stove and chestnut coals.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending January 25, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 561,929 tons, compared with 578,292 tons in the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 78,363 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1889 was 1,934,329 tons compared with 2,227,648 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 293,319 tons.—Ledger.

STATE NEWS.

—John Lazourky jumped from a passenger train at Penn Haven Junction on Sunday night and was fatally hurt.

—Patrick Loftus pleaded guilty of selling liquor without a license at Scranton, but in spite of all, was acquitted by the jury in the case.

—It is rumored that a match factory will be started at Pine Grove by private capitalists. A large number of men and boys will be given employment.

—Two more carloads of Huns and Poles were taken from the Lackawanna region on Tuesday to Passapatany to fill the places of the striking miners at that place.

—A Poleander, named Robert Scotch, was found dead on the Lehigh Valley Railroad track at Shenandoah on Tuesday. It is thought he was struck by a passing train.

—Five children were arrested at Norristown last week by a Reading Railroad official for stealing coal from cars. The quantity of coal stolen averaged five or more tons a day.

—An unsuccessful attempt was made to blow up, with dynamite, the residence of Rev. Father Fleckinger, pastor of the German Catholic Church of Chartiers of Mansfield, last week.

—All but the necessary machinery, the new locomotive shops of the Pennsylvania Company at Altoona, are completed. They will employ 1000 men and turn out 150 locomotives a year.

—Mrs. George Jones of Edwardsville was found dead in bed on Monday by neighbors. A short time ago her husband died and since then she has been in low spirits. It is believed it was a case of suicide.

—At Scranton on Monday the jury in the case of Paul Hydo, who killed a saloon keeper named Jacob Sontag because he refused to sell him a drink on Sunday, found him guilty of murder in the second degree.

—A nolle prosequi was entered at Scranton on Monday in the case of George A. Jessup, the vice president and cashier of the Scranton City Bank whose misuse of the bank's funds to the amount of $135,000 caused it to go to pieces last May.

—While Polanders were having their usual nourishment at a christening in Marshwood, near Scranton, on Tuesday night a lamp was upset, burning ten blocks of houses. The wife of Joseph Strasso, and a man, named Mike Switz, were burned to death.

—At Olyphant on Sunday Rev. Father Murphy, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, threatened the liquor sellers of that place that he would employ detectives and personally prosecute those that sold liquor on Sunday. The result was that all the saloons were closed during the day.

—As a number of young people were returning from an entertainment near Reading, on Saturday night, the driver of the team lost control of the horses in descending a hill, and several of the party were thrown from the wagon. One boy was killed and two others fatally injured.

—Another cave-in occurred at Pittston last week by which four dwellings were badly damaged. The foundation walls were split and torn loose from the superstructure. The whole buildings were tilted over, the plaster torn from the walls and other damage done. For two or three days previous signs of caving were given the houses being therefore vacated. The settlement was close to the Catholic Church and in the rear about two acres of surface were affected, the ground settling from one to five feet.

The contest for the gold watch between Miss Nellie McCreary, Miss Mamie McDonald of Freeland, Miss Mary O'Donnell and Katie Campbell of Eckley, for the benefit of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Eckley, will close on Friday, Feb. 14, 1890. The fair will close on Feb. 22, when the drawing of the horse will come off. It will be open on Wednesday and Saturday evenings till then and all the articles disposed of.
