As there are quite a number of those who were appointed on that committee absent from the district at present it will be a question as to who will be their successors and by whom shall they be appointed. We trust the matter can be arranged satisfactory to all concerned.

—The ball held under the auspices of the St. Ann's T. A. B. Pioneer Corps, at Yannes' opera house, last evening was not what was anticipated. Hats, Caps, Boys' and Men's Clothing, a special feature. A large stock of suits made to order for $25.00 reduced to $17.00. Ready-made clothing, limited means over ready-made clothing. Clothing made to order by experienced workmen at short notice and at the lowest prices. A large stock of piece goods to select from. Ready-made clothing of all sizes and styles.
Reception of the Children of Mary.
Sunday evening at St. Ann's Church, Drifton, the ceremony of the reception of the Children of Mary took place. For some months past this society of children has been carried on under the supervision of Sister Josephine and assistants, and their formal reception and admission into the society took place. The announcement at the two masses by Rev. Father Farrell that the ceremony would take place at 7:30 p. m., brought many people to the church, outside of its regular attendants, to witness the solemn and grand ceremony.
Precisely at 7:30 the strains of the organ struck up a sacred march, and the children came filing in and took their seats in the body of the church, in the space provided for them, and later Rev. Father Farrell, accompanied by the altar boys, knelt in front of the altar and after a short prayer blessed the badges and medals about to be bestowed on the young children. At its close the boys to the number of 53 took their place in front of the railing, while Master Andrew Higgins, in their behalf, answered the responses required of them. At the close of the responses the Rev. Father proceeded to invest each member with the badge and at the same time reciting prayers suitable to the occasion.
At the close of the ceremony for the boys, the young girls came next to the railing, to the number of 63. Miss Katie McKeage, of Drifton, read the initiatory prayers, which were answered in unison by the whole class. At the close of this part of the ceremony Rev. Father Farrell again began the investing of each with a medal and ribbon and continued until all had been gone through.
The next part of the ceremony was the blessing of the statues of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph, which were placed in position, one at each side of the altar. Miss Mary Dougherty presided at the organ, and Miss Mary Davis made the crowning speech and placed the crown on the head of the Blessed Virgin. Master John McDonald done the same for the statue of St. Joseph, except that instead of the crowning ceremony a lily was placed in the hand of St. Joseph.
At the close of the reception the Rev. Father Farrell ascended the altar, and spoke upon the objects of the Society of the Children of Mary and their relations to the church. His sermon was well rendered, and was spoken of by many who were present as being the most instructive ever delivered in St. Ann's Church.
The reception of the children into the Society of the Children of Mary, and the placing of the two statues in the church reflects great credit on the Sisters in charge of St. Ann's schools.
The Constables Organize.
The latest move in the way of trusts is that of the constables of the State. Those of Luzerne county met at Wilkes-Barre on Monday and effected an organization. Their object is to have Legislation favorable to their interest brought forward at the next session of the Legislature and to prevent, if possible, deputy constables, coal and iron police and special police doing the work assigned to constables.
We know that their duties are such that they run great risk of ever getting paid for three-fourths of what they do; hence this needed Legislation.
Of Interest to Coal Operators.
The Mercantile Appraiser, of Lackawanna county, assessed the Delaware and Hudson Coal Company as a powder dealer. The company refused to pay its tax, claiming that it was not a dealer in a mercantile sense of the word. Judge Connelly, of Lackawanna county, decided that the company is a dealer, and it will take the case to the Supreme Court. The plea is that the company merely "furnishes" powder to employees. The case will be watched with great interest by the operators of the whole anthracite region.
Changed Its Form.
The Hazleton Plain Speaker came out on Monday morning in a more compact form, being what is known as a quarto sheet. The change is for the better.
The Plain Speaker is getting there quietly. Its management is composed of men who are acquainted with the wants and needs of the toilers of this region, and who are not afraid to give them publicity when the occasion requires it.
Cut off His Finger.
Yesterday afternoon a young boy about seven years of age, son of George Sipple the Tailor, had one of his fingers cut off by having it caught in an Ice Cream freezer, in Baker Horlacher cellar.

Before the Burgess.
Saturday night or early Sunday morning Burgess Cowan's force of special police were making their rounds on Centre street, and when in the neighborhood of Centre and Main streets they noticed a party of men apparently under the influence of drink, and upon requesting them to move on they became abusive, whereupon Policeman Edward Gallagher took one of them into custody and took him before the Burgess, who inflicted the usual fine and cost. The gentleman fined proved to be John Mosier, of Ridge street. The other man, John Slatery, of the Points, took leg bail and made tracks for the township. Next day Policeman Gallagher took out a warrant for his arrest on the charge of trying to rescue a prisoner.
The prisoner was brought before T. A. Buckley, J. P., who held him in his own recognizance to appear at seven o'clock on Monday evening. Monday evening the trial took place, and after hearing several witnesses for the prosecution, as well as others for the defense, the Justice rendered his decision as not guilty, and upon his request he was released from the room amid the rejoicing of his friends.
Special Correspondence.
Editor TRIBUNE—Dear Sir:—I desire to call attention of the members of Foster township School Board to the condition of the South Heberton school house (old building). There are a number of parties who meet in the building, and who have permission to do so from the resident directors, and who are taking proper care of the building, but by what authority or what right has the primary department of the said building to be turned into a "bumming" shanty more than your correspondent can understand.
We do not wish to put a stop to the practice heretofore of allowing the people of the different districts to hold Sunday school, singing school, or nightly meetings in the school, for, to a great extent, there is no other place to meet in, but we are decidedly opposed to allowing a lot of young boys to gather there after night and make a nuisance of themselves, furniture, fixtures, etc. By putting a stop to the above the School Board of Foster township will satisfy
A TAX-PAYER.
—Strawberry, Vanilla and Chocolate Ice cream at Jacobs' every day.
Work for the Supervisor.
The attention of the supervisor of Foster township is called to a letter leading from the West side of Freeland borough, past the old Woodside breaker. For some time past some persons have been taking ashes from what used to be the ash dump, adjoining the road, and as that article is better used, owing to the slope being idle, they next turned their attention to the road which runs over what was formally the ash bank and began excavating it. This has gone on to such an extent that travel along that part of the road after dark has become dangerous not only to those traveling in vehicles, but also to pedestrians. This practice of digging into the road should be stopped.
Weekly Coal Report.
The anthracite coal trade is quite dull for the domestic sales, excepting for choice brands of hard Lehigh and Lykens Valley coals. For the furnace and other manufacturing sizes the demand is excellent, but the supply of pea and buckwheat coal is better, and the prices for them consequently easier. There has been some complaint about excessive tonnage made or carried by one or two companies last month and this, but the markets have apparently taken the coal. The general sales agents of the several large anthracite mining and transporting companies met at New York on Tuesday to discuss the question of an advance in prices, but what determination they reached is rather uncertain on account of the present condition of the coal trade.
A number of collieries in the Schuylkill anthracite region which have been idle for months resumed operations on Monday. Several collieries in the Luzerne, Shamokin and Wyoming regions which were idle for some time past started mining again last week.
The Engineering and Mining Journal of Saturday, in its weekly review of the coal trade at New York, says: "The anthracite coal market may be described as in a very quiet though satisfactorily firm condition. During the past week there has been no unusual activity, and the demand keeps fully up with the supply at full rates. A good deal of coal has until within a few days been moving on April contracts. The expected increase in price at the next meeting of the sales agents has had no appreciable effect on the market other than to increase the prevailing confidence in the present state of trade and the belief that the summer will pass over without any reaction from the present quiet and firm tone. Referring to the apparent difference or proportionate discrepancy between the tonnage shipment up to May 17th and the tonnage awarded for the month (2,500,000 tons), it is satisfactorily explained that it will be adjusted without any appreciable effect. Overshipping has of late been rare, and only one concern is said to have shipped much more than it was entitled to. These questions of tonnage will be settled at the meeting of the sales agents on the 27th instant, as will the output for June. It is about concluded that the increase in prices will be 15 cents per ton on broken, egg and chestnut and 25 cents on stove. The demand for June will be about 2,750,000 tons, and that, it is expected, will be the limit. The fact that all the April-May coal has been delivered will make this quantity necessary. With the expected upward tendency broken and egg are very firm, but pea is weak and will be weaker before it picks up. The f. o. b. quotations of the large companies are: Broken $3.40, egg $3.40, stove $3.50, chestnut $3.25. Individual operators are not going much lower, except where small concessions are made for large contracts on suitable terms; in fact, on some sizes certain of the independent operators are holding even above the company's rates."
The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending May 17th, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 717,067 tons, compared with 679,416 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 37,651 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1890 was 10,598,597 tons compared with 10,837,913 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 239,316 tons.—Lehigh.
