WHAT WE ARE COMING TO ! It is About Time to Put a Stop to Such Business.

It is About Time to Put a Stop to Such Business.

A stranger entering Freeland last Sunday evening from the southern end of the town, or what is commonly called the Points, and seeing the people running back and forth would naturally think that some accident had occurred, but such was not the case. In the rear of Centre street, between South and Luzerne, are a number of the old Woodside houses occupied by Italians, and to these houses were the crowds of people seen on the streets heading. When a representative of the Trinux arrived on the scene, the view that presented itself was disgosting. The occupants of the houses—men, women and children—were drunk, and outside a scene was going on that would have done justice to a professional prize fighter. Upon investigation it was ascertained that at least a half-dozen kegs of beer were on tap, and the whole flowed freely. That a free fight was the result it is needless to say; and broken heads were plenty. Our local justices were kept busy Monday and Tuesday in straightening out the knotty problems arising out of the many suits and counter-suits that grew out of the whole business.

Not only was the desecration of the Lord's day being carried on among the Italians, but others from whom we would expect something better were indulging in the same manner in the upper end of town.

Having drank all that was in the house their next act was to a few and a secret and a secret was a secret and the same manner in the upper end of town.

expect something better were indusing in the same manner in the upper end of town.

Having drank all that was in the house their next act was to go for a keg; and who would go for it became the all absorbing question, finally it was settled and the keg procured, but at what a sacrifice. Between 8 and 9 o'clock three young ladies could be seen wending their way down Front street trudging a wheel-barrow, and when near Pine street the old bag that served for a covering for the keg fell off and exposed to view the coveted keg, which without further delay was quickly wheeled to its destination by the three young ladies above mentioned; and from the noise of hilarity heard in the house after their arrival we have every reason to believe that a gay time was had all around.

Those young hadies are well known to the writer, and if ever they are seen on the streets again in such a manner their names will be made public. We merely mention this so that they may shun their evil ways ere it is too late.

A noted Pedagogue of this section at present a resident of the upper end of the county and by the way is also a member of the 9th Regiment, N. G. P., while at camp at Mt. Gretna last week had the misfortune to be placed in the Guard House. We are loth to believe that John has forcotten his early training and that he fell a victim to the cup. There might have been other causes How about the pretty lady visitors and tarrying too late outside the lines?

Damages Claimed From Coal Companies.

Papers were filed in the Prothonotary's office at Wilkes-Barre on Saturday in five suits for damages, aggregating $80,000, against coal companies. Henry Alger wants $20,000 from the Avoca Coal Company for the loss of a leg. John Haskens brings suit against the Susquehanna Coal Company for $10,000 on behalf of his son Gerhart, who was badly injured in 1888. Eliza Krieg wants $20,000 from the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company for the loss of her husband Robert, who was one of the victims of the gas explosion in the Empire mine a little over two months ago. Evan X. Thomas also wants $20,000 from that company for the death of William X. Thomas in the same manner as Krieg, and Mary Finn, mother of William Finn, asks for $10,000 from the same corporation for the injury of her son.

Which Will Get Through First?

A little difficulty arose between street workers in Wilkes-Barre on Saturday. A number of men are employed laying an asphalt pavement on one of the streets of the city, and when finished grading the street they were asked by a force of the Gas Company to wait until they would lay a number of pipes through the same thoroughfare. But the asphalt workers thinking this would delay their work would not cede the street to the Gas Company's men and continued their labor. The Gas Company, however, wishing to get possession of the street, obtained an injunction prohibiting any further work to be done on the street until said pipes were down. But owing to the asphalt managers keeping quiet and instructing their men to hold the street they could find no one upon whom to serve the writ and consequently could do no work. The asphalt men still hold the street, and in order that the Gas Company's force may not take possession of it during the night they drive several wagons, loaded with stone, over the place and tie them together, at the same time keeping guard over the place with one or two policmen.

The Drifton Base Ball Association will hold their second grand pic-nic at the ball park, Drifton, Saturday, August 2d. Depierro's orchestra will supply the dancing music. A game of base ball will take place at 4.30 between the Jeanesville and Drifton Clubs. Admission to the ball game as usual; to pic-nic free.

—Many persons go out of town to buy their goods claiming that they cannot get variety enough at home. Our business men can supply them with anything on the market and in short notice, as was evidenced by an order given for a pair of pants by a well-known citizen of the township the forepart of the week and delivered yesterday afternoon. Its size was 52x29—enough to make a whole suit-for some men,

The Pancoast Accidental Association pic-nic at Priceville grove yesterday was a very pleasant affair. The numbers were not as large as might be expected in a good cause but all seemed to enjoy themselves with the exception of a few, well, I cannot say they were young men, for the cynical scowls they cast now and then at the young ladies and gentlemen who were enjoying themselves in terpsichorean exercises made one they were plotting something not in harmony with the enlivening strains of Walkenshab and the according to the same and the same as a same and the same as a same as a same a

She was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to St. Ann's cemetery and was largely attended, friends being present from Sugar Notch, Wilkes-Barre and other places. The children are being cared for and are doing well.

—Having a large stock of Fly Nets on hand, Geo. Wise is offering them at a very low figure. Call and examine them. —D. J. —Coal at twenty-two dollars per ton is a stiff figure, but such is the price paid for coal by the owners of the Sheridan and Mendota mine in Colorada, to keep their engines going. All this within fity miles of the best coal fields of that State. Nothing but first-class ore could stand such an expense. The completion of the railroad, now building, is expected to materially reduce the price of coal in that section.

—Upper Lehigh and Audenried clubs will play a game on the former's grounds on Saturday.

-Jeanesville vs. Drifton at the latter place on Saturday. -The Lehighton club defeated Hazleton on Saturday by a score of 8 to 2.

—The Wilkes-Barre Lace Factory has called for a meeting of its stockholders to be held on September 25 to vote on increasing its capital stock to $1,000,000. Lace manufacturing must evidently be beneficial to Wilkes-Barre, as the capital stock of the firm when the factory was started—about five years ago—amounted to only $30,000.

—It is reported that the Italian accomplices of "Red Nose Mike," have been punished for their participation in the McClure-Flanagan murder. The Italian government has sent one of them to prison for life, and the other one gets 20 years in prison. They were committed on evidence furnished by District Attorney Darte, of this country.

Gus. Cook and Jacob Wilson, two young men of Nanticoke, while disputing their running powers recently decided to settle the affair by running a race from Wilkes-Barre to Nanticoke and 3 times around the public square at the latter place, making in all 12 miles. The race came off on Thursday evening last and was won by Cook, he having beaten his opponent one lap around the square in 1 hour and 58 minutes.

—An Exchange tells of a young man who was practicing on a sliding trombone, at home, when the thought struck him that he would like to see how he would look playing in the band. So he stood up in front of the mirror and began. The first slide he made, the end of the trombone went through the mirror, smashing the glass into many pieces. The young man's ardor was completely cooled, and he is now willing to wait and let some one else judge how he looks as he goes marching on.
