

BRIEF ITEMS.

Ice cream at Jacobs'. Hazleton vs. Freeland Sunday afternoon. Candidate P. F. Boyle, of Hazleton, spent Sunday in town. Strawberry, Vanilla and Chocolate Ice cream at Jacobs' every day. Carpets, from 10 cents a yard and upwards, at Neuburger's, Brick store. Strawberry, Vanilla and Chocolate Ice cream at Jacobs' every day. John D. Hayes attended to business at the county seat three days this week. Bernard McLaughlin and Ignatius Gross each lost a valuable cow last week by death. Misses Mame Quinn and Mary Kennedy were visiting Hazleton friends on Tuesday. Rev. S. S. Jones will preach in the Woodside school house next Sunday at 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. The Hazleton Mines team will again play at the park on Sunday afternoon. Game called at 3 p. m. A grand picnic of the Freeland Citizens' Hose Co. at the Freeland park on Wednesday next, October 1. Misses Cassie Boyle and Kate McLaughlin were visiting friends at Audenried the fore part of the week. Miss Mame Boyle, of Lansford, was visiting her cousin, Miss Sarah Hanlon, of Pine Knot Hill, Friday and Saturday of last week. Two lots are offered for sale on Ridge Street. For terms apply to Condy Heeny, Lansford, Pa., or to T. A. Buckley, Freeland. Peter Timony and P. J. Boyle are having concrete pavements laid on their Centre street property, between Main and South streets. Miss Winnie McCafferty, of Lansford, who had been visiting her sister, Miss Mary A. for a week, returned home on Sunday afternoon. M. A. Ferry, of the firm of Ferry and Christy, returned home on Wednesday, after a three weeks' business trip in the upper end of the county. The members of St. Patrick's Society of Drifton are requested to meet at the regular meeting place next Sunday morning at 11 a. m. PAT' K. HANLON, Sec'y. A picked nine of town went to Tamaqua on Saturday afternoon where they played the team of that place. They were defeated by a score of 7-12. Joseph Neuburger has been appointed a member of the Republican County Committee and attended the meeting of that body at Wilkes-Barre on Monday. Eddie Jenkins had his hand severely cut at No. 7 slope, Upper Lehigh, yesterday, while loading a car, by a piece of coal breaking while putting it into the car. Mrs. Nancy Brislin and daughter Miss Mary, formerly of South Heberton, but now of Philadelphia, were visiting relatives and friends in town during the week. The Ashland-Mt. Carmel combination team, which was to have played here on Sunday, failed to put in an appearance and the game was consequently postponed. Miss Ella Maloney, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Mary, of Lansford, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maloney, of Highland, the latter part of last week. A double block of new buildings for rent, situated on Ridge street, near Lehigh Valley Railroad containing 12 rooms, suitable for two families, for terms apply to T. A. Buckley. The new road from the lower end of Main Street to Highland is now open and in passable condition. Supervisor Brogan and his assistants were engaged on it for the past two weeks. Conductor Archie Phillips, of the Drifton Branch of the C. R. of N. J., left for Bethlehem this a. m. to visit his son, who is an inmate of St. Luke's Hospital, suffering from hip disease. High Constable Rinker requests us to state that he has removed to Pine street, next door to Denis McHugh, in the rear of Washburn's shop, where those wanting his service can find him. Ice cream at Jacobs'. A. A. Barthmaier, representing the dealer of H. G. Osterle, Philadelphia, dealer in society and church goods, spent Sunday and Monday in town. The firm furnished the handsome new caps and badges to the St. Kasimer's Polish Society of town. The excursion of the Machesieck No. 221, Improved Order of Red Men, to Mount Airy on Saturday was largely attended, eight cars being used to carry them to and from the park. Everything passed off satisfactorily. The committee of arrangements made it pleasant for all who were there. The ball held under the auspices of the St. Patrick's Cornet Band at Yannes' opera house on Friday evening was not as well attended as was anticipated, but all that were present seemed to enjoy themselves. Early in the evening Di-pierro's orchestra struck up the music of the grand march, which was led by Master of Ceremonies James P. McNeil and Miss Sarah Hanlon and were followed by about fifty couples. The various committees deserve praise for the excellent manner in which they carried out the work assigned them. The attention of our readers—and especially those who are engaged in correspondence—is called to the article in another column entitled "Post Office Regulations." Those who would wish to have their letters sent to the dead letter office in case of non-delivery, can do so by having their name and residence printed on their envelopes. The TRIBUNE has on hand a fine assortment of envelopes and paper, and will supply them as cheaply as they can be bought blank at retail. Call and see our stock.

Church Dedication.

Sunday last, September 21, was a day long to be remembered by our Polish residents. On that day their handsome church, on Ridge street, was dedicated to the worship of God by Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara, assisted by a number of the local clergy. The several masses at St. Ann's were held earlier than usual in order to have the clergy and congregation take part in the exercises of the day. An excursion train from Hazleton arrived early in the morning, bringing with it a large number of visitors, as also two societies and the St. Gabriel's band, who immediately proceeded to St. Ann's Church, and there the parade started in the following order: Grand Marshal, Anthony Rudewick. St. Ann's Drum Corps. St. Ann's Pioneer Corps. St. Patrick's Cornet Band. Young Men's T. A. B. Society, Freeland. St. Michael's (Greek) Beneficial Society, Freeland. Chas. Dushek, Marshal. St. Gabriel's Cornet Band. St. Joseph's (Greek) Beneficial Society, Hazleton. Society of St. Peter and Paul, Hazleton. Knights of the Golden Eagle Band. St. Kasimer's Polish Beneficial Society. Kosciuszko Guards, Freeland. Pulaski Guards, South Heberton. The parade started from St. Ann's Church and proceeded to Luzerne street to Ridge, down Ridge to Carbon, on Carbon to Centre, up Centre to South, to Washington to Main, to Centre and up Centre to Front, counter-marching on Centre and down Centre to Luzerne, to the church and dismissed. The parade was one of the best of its kind ever conducted here. The day being fine a great number of people from the outside villages were in town, and everything passed off quietly. After the dedication services the Rev. Bishop confirmed a large class, and in the afternoon the transfer for Hazleton, where confirmation services were conducted at St. Peter and St. Paul's Church.

The Beautiful Queen.

This and to-morrow evening the grand cantata of Esther, the Beautiful Queen, as founded on the book of Esther in the Bible, will be rendered by a troupe of trained home talent specially drilled for the occasion, under the direction of Prof. Lloyd, at the opera house, Freeland. The doors will open at 7.30 and the curtain will rise at 8 sharp. The cantata is founded on Esther, a Persian queen of Jewish descent, wife of Ahasuerus, and also from the Biblical book that contains her history, and the narrative of the delivery of the Jews by her from a general massacre throughout the Persian Empire. Her original Hebrew name was Hadassah. The book of Esther is one of the smallest historical works of the Hebrew scriptures and one of five so-called Megillith, and belongs to the Hagiographa. The book narrates how the King, incited by the independent spirit of the Jew Mordecai, resolved upon the massacre of all the Jews in his dominions, but was turned from his purpose by Esther, who inspired by Mordecai, saved her nation at the risk of her own life. The entertainment will, no doubt, be entertaining and instructive, and will be free from anything objectionable to the most sensitive minds. Mr. Lloyd has been at considerable expense, both as to time and money outlay, in bringing this troupe to such a high grade of perfection as they possess, and it should be the duty of all our people to attend it. The people who compose the troupe, and who will take part in the cantata, are all local residents, and, it alone, should ensure them a warm reception.

First Gun of the Campaign.

On Saturday evening next the Jeffersonian Democratic Club, of Freeland, will open the campaign by holding a grand Democratic meeting at the opera house. During the evening the following named gentlemen will address the people on the issues of the day: J. M. Garman, the silver-tongued orator of Nanticoke; John B. Reynolds, of Kingsport, candidate for congress in the 12th congressional district; John S. McGroarty, of Miner's Mills, candidate for county treasurer; Philip V. Weaver, of Hazleton, candidate for register of wills; P. F. Boyle, of Hazleton, candidate for representative, 4th district. The members of the club will throw a large banner to the breeze across the street from their meeting place in Passarella's hall. The public are cordially invited to attend the rally.

Fingers Cut Off.

The many friends of John M. Cunniss will be sorry to hear that, while ripping some boards in the planing mill on Tuesday, he had the misfortune to have four of the fingers of the left hand taken off.

The Place to Get Your Clothing.

I. Reiferwisch, the clothing merchant and agent for the firm of No. 37, Centre street, Freeland, with a stock of goods that for quality, cannot be surpassed in this region. Hats, Caps, Boys' and Men's Clothing a special feature. A large stock of suits made to order for $25.00 reduced to $17.00. This is a saving to persons of limited means over ready-made clothing. Clothing made to order by experienced workmen at short notice and at the lowest prices. A large stock of piece goods to select from. Ready-made clothing of all sizes and styles.

Killed at Hazleton.

At 15 minutes to 7 o'clock Monday morning Philip Henry, a miner in No. 3 colliery of A. Paege & Co., was killed by his laborer, Lewis Yotung, lying under a mass of rock at the face of the gangway in a lifeless condition. An examination showed that a fall had occurred and Mr. Henry was struck by a piece of the rock and had his neck broken. He was carried on a stretcher to his home on No. 173 North Wyoming street. Deceased was aged 32 years, 7 months and 10 days. He leaves a wife and three children.—Plain Speaker.

Father Wynne Dead.

Rev. Peter G. Wynne, a well known Catholic priest, died at the home of his mother, at South Bethlehem, last Tuesday. Father Wynne was born in Buckmountain, Carbon county, and was well known in this part of the country. His funeral takes place to-morrow. Interment at South Bethlehem.

Robbers Around.

Late on Sunday night or early Monday morning, the stable of J. P. McDonald, on South street, was broken into by some parties and one of his horses taken out. When Mr. McDonald went to the stable Monday morning he discovered that one of his horses was gone and found that the other one had been harnessed, evidently with the intention of taking it also. Word was sent in different directions, and shortly after 8 a. m. the horse was discovered by a gentleman from Freeland, while going to his work at Jeddo, tied to a tree and uninjured. Mr. McDonald is to be congratulated upon his luck in finding his horse so soon. Mr. Charles A. Johnson, of Centre street, had occasion to go into his stable late on Sunday evening previous to retiring for the night, and while in the stable noticed a figure of a man standing against the side, and spoke to him in reference to his business. The man, in an hour, when the man answered by saying "that he knew Mr. Johnson, knew his family, and told him that if he made any effort to molest him that he had confederates outside the door, and that it would not be very healthy to invite a quarrel with them." Whereupon he was allowed to go, and after he had left Mr. Johnson found his horse's bridle lying on the floor. Being hauled in their attempt to steal Mr. Johnson's horse, they no doubt, turned their attention to those of Mr. McDonald. That there has been a band of organized desperadoes in and around this section for some time past no one will deny; and there can be no doubt that it was the same parties that stole Mr. McDonald's horse who waylaid and robbed Patrick Early, a former resident of Eckley, but now of Beaver Meadow, at the latter place on Monday morning, by taking from him twenty-five dollars. They pretended that they just wanted 5 cents, and when he opened his pocket book they took it all. They are still at large.

The Railroad Catastrophe.

A frightful accident occurred on the Reading railroad, near Shoemakersville, Berks county, on Friday evening. The train which met with the disaster was what is known as the Williamsport express, and being late at the time the accident occurred, was running at a high rate of speed. The accident was caused by the wrecking of two coal trains, which had collided with the express. Two loaded trains of 150 cars each were going down the road from the Schuylkill regions. A. B. Gehry was engineer of the first train. When he got near where the accident happened he found his train had parted. He went back to connect the separated ends, and during this time the second coal train, of which James Valle was engineer, came along, and crashed into the hind end of the first train, throwing several cars on the opposite track. This took place at the fatal curve, and in a minute later, the fast express shot around the bend, and although Engineer John White tried to lessen the speed of his train, she dashed into the wrecked cars at the rate of 45 miles an hour. A terrible crash followed and nearly all the cars of the express train were thrown over the embankment and into the Schuylkill river, which runs a few feet below the tracks. Some of the engine and cabooses were demolished. The other engine was sent for assistance, and, while returning, through a flagman's carelessness, was run into by the wrecking train near the scene of the first collision. James Shantz, the engineer, was killed, and his fireman, Harry Cuphers, badly injured internally, while John Reynolds, fireman of the wrecking train, was badly cut and scalded. Several others suffered minor injuries.

Will Parade at Home.

At the last Diocesan Convention of the C. T. A. U. of Scranton, held in the city of Wilkes-Barre last June, a resolution was passed to hold a parade at Hyde Park on October 10, and, as a matter of fact, all societies affiliated with the Diocesan Union were to attend. The arrangement for transportation of the societies was left with the Board of Government, who opened negotiations with the different railroad companies, centering in Scranton, as to rates. The usual custom was to quote a rate for the Board and have the board add a small margin so as to cover the expenses of advertising, etc. Contrary to the expectation, the answer received by the Secretary of the Board was "that an open rate to the public had been agreed upon of a single fare for the round trip." Last Sunday St. Ann's T. A. B. Society and the Young Men's T. A. B. Society held special meetings to take action on the question of participating in the parade. The result of both meetings was that they decided to remain at home and celebrate the day in some manner suitable to the occasion. At each meeting a conference committee of three were appointed to ascertain the best manner of celebrating the day. The committee met on Monday evening and have issued a call to all local temperance societies to join with them in a general parade on October 10. The full particulars will be made known in a few days; and there is no doubt but a very enjoyable time will be had.

Fourth District Committee Organize.

The members of the Fourth Representative District Democratic Committee met at Hazleton on Saturday last and effected an organization as follows: Chairman, Matthew Long; Secretary, G. L. Lubrecht. The following are the Executive Committee: Conrad Haas, John J. Campbell, George McGee. The chairman and secretary are ex-officio members of the committee.

Death of Mrs. Daniels.

Mrs. Mary Daniels, wife of Evan Daniels, of Front street, who had been ill for some time past with dropsy, was called away by the hand of death on Friday evening. She was aged 56 years and 3 months. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. Interment at Hazleton.

STATE NEWS.

John Sweeney was placed on trial at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday for the murder of a Polander named George Ward-jack at Luzerne Borough last July. A freight engine and a caboose collided near Berry, on Sunday night. Five trainmen were injured, two—J. N. Caldwell, conductor, and Newton Aikes, flagman—perhaps mortally. Joseph Hefner, a Hungarian, who kept a boarding shanty at Rush Valley, near Doylestown, was murdered on Monday, his mangled body being found on the railroad track near his home on Monday. Mark Flynn was found dead on the Lehigh Valley railroad, near Pittston, on Sunday evening. It is believed he was intoxicated and sat down on the rail when he was run down by the train and killed. Patrick Lavell, of Scranton, was run over and killed by a Delaware, Lackawanna & Western train at Moscow, on Monday, his mangled body being found on the track. It is believed he was stealing a ride home and fell between the cars. The large barn of J. C. Haydon & Co., at Jeaneville, together with a considerable quantity of hay and grain, which had been stored for the winter, was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening. The loss which will amount to about $4,000 is fully insured. Mrs. Patrick McHugh, of Pittston, was walking on the railroad on Tuesday was run down by an Erie & Wyoming Valley engine and instantly killed. She was 63 years of age, and being rather deaf, it is supposed she did not hear the train, which approached her from behind. George Haen, a boy employed at No. 8 stripping, near Hazleton, was killed by cars on Monday morning. He was walking down a track which is used for running empty cars and the steam from a boiler, which was coming up another track, struck him on the head, and the cars, which were coming down behind him. He was struck by the latter and almost instantly killed. Joseph Pace, of Port Griffith, was killed on the Lehigh Valley railroad, near that place, on Saturday night. Pace was a member of Company H., National Guard, and attended an exhibition day of his company at Parsons on Saturday. When the company boarded the train for home at the conclusion of the exercises Pace was left behind. It is thought that he started to walk up the railroad and was overtaken by a train and killed. During a fight in a saloon at Duck Pond, near Wilkes-Barre, last September between Joseph Wallinski and David Lesko, Wallinski struck Lesko on the head with a large club inflicting a wound from which he died shortly after. Wallinski was arrested for the assault and placed in the jail on Friday. The other day last and found guilty of manslaughter. Wallinski was sentenced by Judge Rice on Monday to pay $100 fine and serve four years at hard labor in the Eastern penitentiary. Two freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio road collided near Conellsville, Pa., on Saturday. The engine and cabooses were demolished. The other engine was sent for assistance, and, while returning, through a flagman's carelessness, was run into by the wrecking train near the scene of the first collision. James Shantz, the engineer, was killed, and his fireman, Harry Cuphers, badly injured internally, while John Reynolds, fireman of the wrecking train, was badly cut and scalded. Several others suffered minor injuries.

Miss Bella Murray, of Buckmountain, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Edward Quinn. Mr. Condy Gallagher, who was lying sick for the past few weeks, has again resumed work. Miss Nellie McDevitt, of Wilkes-Barre, accompanied by her friend Mary Sweeney, spent a few hours here Monday evening. Miss Bid Spruce and sister spent Saturday at Scranton visiting their sister, who is now Sister Mary Rose, of St. Joseph's Convent. UNO.

Weekly Coal Report.

The anthracite coal trade continues to slowly but steadily improve. Orders for coal are becoming more plentiful, and there is less difficulty found in inducing dealers to buy more liberally than they have been doing for months past. The demand for egg coal is excellent, and there is also noted considerable inquiry for stove and chestnut. Buyers are not now so much engaged in shopping for coal as they were during the past month or two, and with the advance of the season there is less disposition shown on the part of sellers to shade from the circular prices to effect sales. There is less demand from the usual customers for broken coal, but there is no difficulty found in selling any quantity to the furnace men, who continue to absorb all of the large sizes of anthracite being forwarded from the mines. The output of anthracite thus far this year is about half a million tons less than the production for last year, the corresponding date, but some well informed and usually far-seeing operators are of the opinion that the outlook for the anthracite trade during the remainder of 1890 is so promising that this loss of tonnage will soon be recovered. The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending September 13, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 800,361 tons, compared with 760,792 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 39,569 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1890 was 23,387,431 tons compared with 23,901,092 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 513,661 tons.—Leiter.

Killed by an Explosion of Gas.

On Saturday morning four miners, named Alexander Jennings, James Sullivan, Lawrence Casey and James Boswell, were instantly killed by an explosion of gas in the Murray shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company. About half-past nine the dead men started down the slope, which is not being worked, to examine and repair some pumps. James Boswell, an old and experienced fire boss, was in charge of the party, all of whom carried safety lamps. When about half-way down the gas, which was present in large quantities, was ignited and an awful explosion followed with the result as above stated.
