emetery, Hazleton.

This is the time of year when the enterprising and far-reaching business man should make his wares known to the public. You should not forget that your card in the newspaper is your show window for the public, and should be equally, if not more attractive than your store front. The TRIBUNE offers unusual advantages to advertisers of reaching the public through its columns.

reaching the public through its columns.

—On Thanksgiving eve, November 26, a ball will be given by the Progressive Club, of Jeddo, at Yannes' opera house. Depierro's Orchestra will furnish the music. The club is a literary institution organized about a year ago, and, through the liberality of Supt. John Markle, a room has been secured in one of the company houses, where the members meet. A library is also a feature of the club, and the ball is for the purpose of supplying more books.

James Philips, a miner employed in No. 4 colliery, and what is known as the No. 11 vein of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company at Audenried, was killed early yesterday morning. Mr. Phillips was driving a gangway and was on the night shift and was making a place on the lower side for a ditch, when a large slip gave away, catching him and instantly crushing the life out of him. Mr. Phillips was 47 years of age, and is the father of five children, who, with his wife, are left to mourn his loss. He will be buried at Jeanesville on Sunday afternoon.

will be buried at Jeanesville on Sunday afternoon.
Shortly after Mr. Phillips met his death, two Polanders who worked in the same mine were also killed. The Polanders were drivtng a gangway across some old broasts and a prop which stood in their way, they attempted to remove, when the clod which it was supporting fell and crushed both before they had time to get out of the way. Both were married men, one having his wife in the old country, and the other a resident of Andenried with a wife and large family. Plrin Speaker.

What might have been a repetition of the burglary committed at the store of J. C. Berner, corner of South and Washington streets, Freeland, some time ago, was happily frustrated yesterday morning by the timely arrival on the scene by Mr. Berner himself, who, when he entered the room the would-be burglars fled.

For some days past five suspicious looking characters were seen around town, with no fixed purpose, and who made a practice of selling combs, needles, &c., and suspicion fell on them. Inquiry showed that three of them put up at the Central Hotel on Tuesday night, and early yesterday morning they were arrested by Constables Quigley and Sault, who brought them before Squire Buckley for a hearing.

rested by Constables Quigley and Sault, who brought them before Squire Buckley for hearing. The facts brought out at the hearing went to prove that Mr. Berner, having heard a noise in his store room, arose and went down and while going towards the door noticed two men standing outside, who fled at his approach. An examination of the door developed the fact that it had been pried open by a clisel, or some sharp instrument, causing the iron fastenings to break. The prisoners were searched, and nothing found in their possession to warrant a suspicion that they were the parties who were at the store, and they having retired to bed at the hotel at an early hour the night previous, they were discharged. This is the second time that Mr. Berner had the misfortune to be selected as the victim, but luckly they were foiled this time. This should put our merchants and business men on their guard and be the means of getting them together for the purpose of employing a private watchman, or else have council to employ a special night policeman. An attempt was also made to break into several houses at South Heberton on Tuesday night—no doubt by the same party who was unsuccessful at Mr. Berner's place.

Father Mathew's Day.

The celebration of the one hundred anniversary of the birth of Rev. Theobald Mathew, the apostle of temperance, was celebrated in a becoming manner by the different T. A. B. Societies of St. Ann's parish on October 10th.

As announced in our last issue, the programme was carried out to the letter. Hon. Eckley B. Coxe, D. J. McCarthy and Rev. F. P. McNally, of St. Ann's, spoke to the large gathering that assembled at the park, after which the picnic was kept up until near 8 p. m., when all went to the opera house, where one of the largest balls ever held in that building was carried on. The grand march was led by John Mellon and Miss Rose B. Carr and was indulged in by 136 couples. Dancing was kept up until early Saturday morning, when all retired well pleased with the day at Freeland.

Accident at Dritton.

James North, a miner, working at No. 2 Dritton, had a narrow escape from instant death on Monday morning. He was working a pitching breast, and while at his usual employment a rush of coal from the face of the breast fell on him and threw him down, where he was pinioned for about half an hour. His laborer coming up from the gangway, after loading a car, found him nearly buried up. Planks had to be used to get the lumps of coal off his body. He was severely injured on the back and left knee, and one of his hands was badly cut.

A petition is being prepared for presentation to the School Board of Foster township, at its meeting next Saturday evening, by the residents of Pine Knot Hill, for the purpose of inducing the Board to build them a school house. They claim that it is too far to have their children travel to Woodside or South Heberton.

Why not annex to the borough? It is only a question of time when annexation will be accomplished.

Will Admitted to Probate.

In the Register's office on Monday there were four wills admitted to probate, among them being that of Sarah Higgins, who, before her death resided at Freeland. She leaves everything to her son Patrick, and prodives that none of the property be sold until the youngest child is 21 years of age. It also provides that the children have the right to live in the house until they marry or become of age. The will is dated Dec. 5, 1889, and Patrick is appointed sole executor.—Newsdealer.

Gubernatorial party to the the Central Hotel.

The meeting at Hazle Hall was called to order by Mr. J. B. Hutchison, President of the Democratic Club, who introduced Hon. Eckley B. Coxe as Chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Coxe made a brief speech, in which he addressed those present as fellow sufferers and gave plenty of evidence before he finished that we of Pennsylevania, above any other State in the Union, suffer most from the want of proper legislation. He then introduced James M. Beck, of Philadelphia, who es packe on the ground issues of the campaign.

proper legislation. He then introduced James M. Beck, of Philadelphia, who spoke on the ground issues of the campaign.

Mr. Beck was followed by ex-Governor Pattison, who spoke for nearly one hour. He was listened to with marked attention, and at the close he said, "why should men be compelled to put their hands in their pockets to do that which the State should do for them." Referring to miners and others organizing for the protection of themselves so as to secure leigslation in their interest he said, "under our system of government every interest in the State ought to be protected by good sound laws guaranteeing to every citizen equal rights, but as new administered by rings and bosses, there is nothing left you but to demand a change.

Channey F. Black was next introduced and spoke on ballot reform and its necessity in this State, and among other things said "that under a Democratic administration the Australian system of votting would be introduced within one year after the date of their organization."

W. H. Barcklay followed Mr. Black, as did George Hoffman, of Philadelphia.

An overflow meeting was held opposite the Central and was addressed by the same speakers.

The corning mill of the Dupont Powder Works, near Wapwallopen, blew up Saturday. The shock was very violent and was heard and felt for a long distance around. The cause of the accident is not known. There was no one in the building at the time. The structure, however, was totally demolished, and some of the other buildings were damaged. Three men who were in the neighborhood of the mill were injured, one of them, Frank Craber, quite seriously.—Newsdealer.

At the close of the meeting a special train conveyed those from the north side to their homes, and all seemed enthusias-tic in their praise of the manner in which the issues of the day were dis-cussed by the different speakers.

Bloodshed May be the Result.

A family fued is raging at Evans Falls, a small settlement in the upper end of this county, that has many of the Kentucky characteristics. James Moss and his son were arrested some time ago for assaulting R. H. Evans. A bridle path ran across the Moss farm, which they notified Evans not to use, but he persisted in doing so. He was shot at and afterward beaten. Since then the two families have been at war. Evans caused the arrest of Moss and his sons for illegal fishing. That night some one fired a load of shot at him through a window in his house, slightly wounding him. A day or two after, the house of Moss was set on fire and the barns burned down. Then Evans' house was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished. One of Moss' sons, while at work in the woods, was shot at, the bullet knocking his hat off. Three nights ago Evans house was again fired and totally destroyed with all its contents. Since then Evans has been hanging around the Moss house with a Winchester rifle, yowing to shoot the first member of the family he sees.
