THE tour of Candidates Pattison, The tour of Candidates Pattison, Black and Barclay through the State is a series of ovations, large crowds of enthusiastic people greeting the distinguished party of Demscrats wherever theystop. Evidences of Re-publican revolt are seen in all parts of the State. Republican voters are boldly and fearlessly announcing their intention to support the Democratic State ticket.

The farmers of this country sell their products in competition with all the world. The workingmen sell their labor in competition with the pauper labor of all the world right here at home. Are not the farmers and workingmen of this country "blockheads" to go on yoting for protection which ingmen of this country "blockheaus" to go on voting for protection which does not protect—which compels them to pay tribute to the manufacturers alone, who do not number more than one in a thousand of our population?

From every part of the State comes cheerful news respecting the success of the Democratic candidates. Political lines are obliterated in every section, and Republicans are working for Pattison's success even harder than the strongest Democrats. The friends of Delamater, who were claiming 50,000 plurality for him, have lowered their estimate to 15,000 or 20,000, while the Democratic managers confidently assert that Pattison will be elected by over 50,000. Vote for the Grand Old Ticket of '82.

Senator Wallace has arrived from Europe and from now until the election will take an active part in the Gubernatorial campaign. On Saturday evening he appeared on the platform of the Academy of Music in Philaform of the Academy of th delphia along with ex-Governor Pattison, and began his active cam-paign for the success of the Demo-cratic ticket. Wallace will ac-company Pattison in several counties and every day he can spare from pressing business exactions will be given to the campaign until election. given to the campaign until election confidence and doubtless will secure the support of that solid and substantial class of independent voters who are in the habit of looking at their ballots before they vote. There will be no occasion of independent political action in order to secure honest government since the Democrats have placed such an admirable ticket in the field. There is nominees that a stickler for honesty, capacity or fitness can find fault with.

Os January 17, 1887, the Philadelphio Press did not think that Robert E. Pattison would be brought forward as a candidate for Governor in 1890. It had nothing to gain then by misrepresenting his career while he was in office, and in an editorial that day highly complimented the integrity and honesty of the retiring Governor. Pattison has done nothing since that could alter the opinion confessed then by the Press (part of which appears the head of this column), and its E. Pattison has done nothing since that could alter the opinion confessed then by the Press (part of which appears at the head of this column), and its present opposition to him is wholly in deference to the orders of Matt Quay, whose power over the boss-ridden organs of Pennsylvania is a disgrace to honest journalism.

Governor—a man of tried and unimpeachable character—because his opponent, by the circumstances under which his nomimation was secured and by the clear declaration of the platform on which he stands, is the representative of Mr.
Quay. His election will be accepted as a vindication of Mr. Quay in the eyes of the State and of the country.

The issue is plain. In the interest of sound public morals and of primitive Republican faith we seek the political downfall of a man whose public record dishonors himself, his party and his State.

There is but one alternative—either Mr.
Quay must be shorn of political power or the Republican party must lose its high name as the party of progress and the representative of great moral ideas. It must accept the ignoble title of the party
of immoral ideas, whose claim to power is no longer right, but might, and whose appeal is not now, as in the days of Lincoln, addressed through lofty and legitimate argument to the reason of the pecple, to their native sense of justice and of truth; it will then become a party whose youthful aspiration is sunk in hopeless corruption and whose purse
strings have strangled its patrioism.

To avert such a catastrophe we appeal to you, as the Chief Magistrate of the nation, to sid us in this struggle by withdrawing from Mr. Quay the patromage of Pennsylvania, the responsibility for which has been placed by the constitution in your hands. It is in this delegated power to give and withhold office, to bribe and punish, that Mr. Quay's strength largely lies; withhold it from him and his political power will cease to exist.

There is a way to settle this matter Delamater must call on Senator Rutan to produce the letters referred to. Quay Is Fighting For Quay Only.

Quay Is Fighting For Quay Only.

It is reported on good authority that Senator M. S. Quay, after discussing the great extent of the Republican revolt in Pennsylvania, has ordered his henchmen to trade off the entire balance of the ticket, Congressional, Legislative and State, in order to save Delamater.

Republicans who have believed that the Governor's fight in Pennsylvania this year has any reference to the party's tariff policy will now see how greatly they have been mistaken. To carry Delamater through, Quay is willing to lose every doubtful Congressional direction the State, and to sink every candidate except his own personal representative.

didate except his own personal representative.

M. S. Quay is for Quay alone. He represents neither the Republican party nor its policy. He is a bold and shameless exponent of political trickery and treachery. The Republican who supports Quay's candidate will vote to perpetuate boss rule and shameless betrayal of Republican principles.—Ex.

there have been too many Democrats of this class and we have had to stand by and see the county drifting gradually under Republican domination. No bet-ter ticket could have been named

Although Delamater may not greatly covet the distinction, he, too, is entitled to be described as a "farmer." It is not in the field of agriculture, however, that he has distinguished himself, but as a farmer of the public revenues of Pennsylvania. While enjoying the salary of $1500 a year, with the dignity of a State Senator, the farming of $15,000 to $75,000 of the public moneys enabled Delamater to add considerably to his official income. This, with the fees of legislative altorney of so wealthy a corporation as the Standard Oil Company, made the brief term of Delamater in the Pennsylvania Senate one of no small advantage to the holder; especially when he was enabled to crown it with the Boss nomination for Governor. To a man of such enterprise and financial capacity what opportunities would not be opened by a four-year term in the office of Chief Magistrate of Pennsylvania!

The platform upon which Delamater stands, adopted by Quay's Convention, declares in the plainest of words that it "endorses the course and methods of United States Senator Quay," and the election of Delamater will be regarded by the nation as the vindication of Quay from the charges of embezzlement and other crimes, made against him. Quay, who dare not make an attempt to vindicate himself, because the charges are true and the result would place him in the penitentiary, asks for vindication through the election of the briber, forger, perfurer and unconvicted felon, Delamater.

Will you vote to vindicate him? Will you vote to endorse the methods of a thief who stole over four hundred thousand dollars from Pennsylvania's State Treasury?

Will you vote to vindicate the law breaker who released from prison men who bribed our Legislature to pass a bill which appropriated four million dollars to that gigantic monopoly, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company?

Will you vote to vindicate the despoiler of manhood, who is charged by some of the most responsible papers in the United States with crimes that cannot be mentioned here, but which ery to heaven for vengeance?

Will you vote to vindicate the coward, who, when his robbery of the Treasury frunds was discovered, tried to break away from his fellow corruptionists in order to drown himself in the Susquehanna?

Will you vote to vindicate the guilty culprit who dare not breathe one word of denial to the above and scores of other charges made against him, lest he set in motion a train of circumstances which will place him behind the prison bars?
