—An unknown man was struck by one train and thrown in front of another which cut him to pieces, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, at Slatington, on Monday night.

Tramps Around.

For the past week our town has been over-run with a number of suspicious looking characters, who travel around under the pretense of mending umbrellas, needles, etc. On Monday afternoon they became so numerous around town that a number of business men got together and engaged Constable Quigley and Special Policeman Gallagher to patrol the streets. That these people had some object in view other than their so-called calling, can be seen from the fact that they were seen on Sunday night to extinguish the street lamps at several places and were driven away from several houses where they attempted to get in.

It is time that something was done in reference to night protection. We understand that a petition is being circulated and signed by many of the business men of the borough and township to raise a fund so as to employ one or more watchmen, and at the next meeting of the borough council that body will be asked to appropriate a sum of money for the same purpose.

Another Old Resident Gone.

Denis Conaghan, an old resident of Upper Lehigh, died on Friday last after a protracted illness. Mr. Conaghan was an old gentleman, being aged 79 years, and had been a resident of this section for a long while. He was at one time Supervisor of Foster township but for a number of years has been confined to his home.

Mr. Conaghan was born in Ardara, County Donegal, Ireland, and was married to one Mary Moore 43 years ago. Their union was blessed with fourteen children, seven of whom, with his wife, survive him. They are as follows: Mrs. Alice Maly, Freeland; Mrs. Peter Shovlin, Silver Brook; Mrs. John Gallagher, Sandy Run; Mrs. John Burns, Upper Lehigh; Miss Sarah, James and Patrick Conaghan. The deceased was Grandfather of sixty children and Great Grandfather of eight children.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended.

Entertainment and Rally.

The St. Aloysius T. A. B. Society of Harleigh will hold an entertainment and rally in the church at Harleigh to-morrow evening. An excellent programme has been prepared. Rev. F. P. McNally will deliver an address appropriate to the occasion.

Dropped Dead.

John Beisel, a prominent business man of Butler Valley, dropped dead at his home on Tuesday evening. Mr. Beisel was well known in this part of the country as a store keeper, and long before our town grew to its present size, he made periodical visits from his place of business (then at Hazleton) to supply the people of the north side. He was in Freeland on Tuesday and in conversation with a representative of the TRIBUNE he expressed himself as well pleased with the growth of our town. The cause of his death is supposed to have been heart failure. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Friday) afternoon. Interment in the Butler cemetery.

Working for Pattison.

Daniel J. McCarthy, the silver tongue orator, is doing effective work for the State ticket through Allegheny county and the Western part of the State. From an eye witness who attended several of his meetings, we are told that he is outdoing his former record as a stump speaker and that the meetings are largely attended.

Pedagogues as Politicians.

On Saturday two well known school teachers of the lower end of the county, J. B. Laubach, of Freeland, and G. C. Farrar, of Sandy Valley, were in Wilkes-Barre. They spent the day among the many politicians and it is rumored that they expect to come out as candidates for county offices during the next campaign.

Assessors Elected Last Spring Disqualified.

W. S. McLean, Attorney to the County Commissioners, has given his decision that Assessors elected at the February election in 1889 will hold office for three years, as provided for in the first section of the act of February 14, 1889.

Balls at the Opera House.

Progressive Literary Club, of Jeddo, Thanksgiving Eve, November 26.
Freeland Citizens' Hose Co., Friday evening, January 16.
St. Ann's Pioneer Corps, New Year's Eve, December 31.

White Haven Institute.

The Institute to be held in the opera house to-morrow evening promises to be unusually interesting. Besides the two County Superintendents, there will be present Deputy State Superintendent Houck, of Harrisburg. Mrs. Alma Sager Welsh, wife of Prof. Welsh, Principal of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, and Prof. E. I. Wolfe, of Wyoming Seminary. There is no need to say anything in commendation of Mr. Houck. He is known throughout the country as an able institute man. He can arouse teachers on the subject of education, and sympathetic relations with pupils in the work, in a manner equalled by few, and surpassed by none. All should come to hear him, and make his acquaintance. Mrs. Welsh has taken a place with the leading county institute instructors. None can be more pleasant in address, and the subjects discussed are always dealt with so plainly and completely that all can understand and nothing remains untouched. The teachers, directors and citizens will no doubt be pleased with Mrs. Welsh and her work. Prof. Wolfe is in charge of the Normal Department of Wyoming Seminary and is doing good work there. He will address the teachers on a subject familiar to him, "The Advantage of Professional Training."

An invitation has been extended to Mr. Coughlin, formerly Superintendent in Luzerne, and to some other leading educators. No direct arrangement has been made, but it is not improbable that some of them will be present. An effort has been made to have represented each school district within the Local limits, and nearly all have responded.

Addresses will be made on Friday evening by Dr. Trimmer, Secretary of the White Haven School Board, by Rev. Mr. Mallon, pastor of the M. E. Church in White Haven, and by the two County Superintendents, Mrs. Welsh will recite. The exercises will be interspersed with music.

Brought from Pittsburg.

On Friday last Constable Sault, of Foster township, was given warrants for the arrest of John Shelhamer, ex-constable of Freeland borough, at the instance of E. B. Shelhamer and Michael Depierro, of Freeland, on a charge of absconding from the county, he being under bail charged with extortion. Mr. Sault returned with his man on Monday evening and handed him over to the warden of the county jail at Wilkes-Barre.

The constable found his man working as a flagman on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Chartiers, twelve miles west of Pittsburg.

Some time ago Mr. Shelhamer was arrested on two charges preferred against him by John Rassy and John Draher for extortion, and on the trial was bailed by the above named gentlemen. Failing to put in an appearance on the day of trial, his bail was declared forfeited, and hence the warrant for his re-arrest as stated above.

Thought They Had a Burglar.

Monday evening as Constable Quigley and Special Policemen Gallagher and Kennedy were walking in the neighborhood of the Freeland Citizens' Bank building, their attention was called to a peculiar noise emanating from the interior of the bank. Knowing that suspicious characters were seen around the streets the afternoon previous they were quick to take advantage of it, and after getting together for consultation, a plan was outlined, by which the bank was surrounded.

After rounding the corner, they met at the door of the bank, and, sure enough, the peculiar noise was heard, but this time it sounded as if some one was boring wood with an auger. With drawn revolvers the trio walked towards the bank—having in the meantime pulled off their shoes—and entered. The light was burning in the inner room, and upon looking around they could not see any one. Still the same noise was heard, but this time it appeared to be overhead, above the ceiling. On looking up, the cause of their alarm was discovered to be the ventilator quietly going its rounds. A hearty laugh greeted this discovery, and all hands hastened out to don their shoes and make their usual rounds. It is not safe to talk burglars to them now.

Greek Catholic Conference.

A conference of the clergy of the Hungarian United Greek Catholic Church will be held in this city on Oct. 29. The conference will be attended by priests from Minneapolis, Jersey City, Shenandoah, Freeland, Hazleton, Olyphant, Kingston and this city. The conference will be in session several days and among other subjects considered will be the formation of a union of the various churches, bringing about better organization and capacity for better work. They will present a petition to the Cardinal of Hungary asking him to petition the Vatican for the appointment of a vicar general for this country. They are now under the control of the Bishops of the various dioceses, who, of course, are not of their nationality. They believe that their interests would be better served by having at the head of the church in America a fellow-countryman conversant with their language and custom.—Wilkes-Barre Newsdealer.

Pennsylvania.

She bore the title of the Keystone State
And had for motto Liberty
And Independence. Virtue led these three,
As if she led the nation, who was great
Because he followed. Here they forged the date
That marks our nation's birth, and man,
Not let free,
Has made the year a time of jubilee.
Then they designed a royal potatoe.
How changed! How changed the growth is
From the seed!
Pull down a mighty king and take for chief
A simple pauper to the vilest grout!

We see strange things, out this is past belief.
Penn's Commonwealth, where Franklin used to seal,
The pocket-borough of a common thief!
—Louis Belrose, Jr., in Phila. Daily News.

Weekly Coal Report.

The anthracite coal trade has again become quiet. While there is a large tonnage being freely moved on old orders there is not much new business doing at full circular prices, excepting with the line and city towns. The West would take more coal, but the scarcity of cars for so long a haul prevents the individual shippers from accepting orders, which the mining and carrying companies are "scowping."

An effort is being made to advance the prices for anthracite to the line and city trade to take effect on the 1st proximo, but the opposition of one or two large corporations may prevent it. During the past week there has been noted a scarcity of new orders for anthracite, and nothing but a "cold snap" will have much effect in stimulating the demand. Vessels are becoming scarce and freights are stiffening.

The output of anthracite in September exceeded that of the corresponding month of last year by over a quarter of a million tons, all of which went directly into consumption, and the accumulated stocks of coal at tidewater shipping points were reduced to the extent of nearly two hundred thousand tons to make up the deficiency between the actual market requirements and the production for the 30 days ending September 30th.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending October 11, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 846,969 tons, compared with 808,338 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 38,632 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1890 was 26,657,843 tons compared with 27,075,558 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 417,715 tons.—Ledger.

—The house of Griffith Jones at Sugar Notch was entered by burglars on Sunday night, who after ransacking the house taking everything of value they could find, sat down at the stove to divide the booty. —J. W. Davis, of Pittston, was shot and killed by Policeman W. W. Wethers on Friday evening last. —The work of clearing up the South Wilkes-Barre mine, where the remains of eight men killed in the disaster of February still lie entombed is very slow.
