Foster Republicans Meet.

The Republicans of Foster Township met on Monday evening at Highland and placed the following ticket in nomination: Tax Collector, Louis Bechtloff; Supervisors, James Cartwright, Joseph Sarriks; School Director, Moses Tranter, George McNeely; Justice of the Peace, Daniel Kline; Township Treasurer, Thomas Lewis; Township Clerk, D. R. Davis; Auditor, Joseph Birkbeck.

A Horrible Accident.

John Evans, a laborer at Dick & Co.'s Treestock strip, on the 10th inst., had an accident at that place on Saturday afternoon. A loaded car was being hoisted up the plane. When near the top the cable broke and the car receded with lightning rapidity. Evans, who was at work at the bottom of the plane, could not escape in time to avert danger and was struck by the car, a large rod on the car penetrating his body. He was removed to his home and after having his wounds dressed was removed to the Ashland Hospital, where it is feared he can not recover.—Standard.

Fire in a Mine.

A gas-faceler in No. 3 slope of the Squechuanna Coal Co. at Nanticoke was ignited on Friday last by a party of men who were driving new openings. In a short time the interior of the mine was a mass of flames, roaring like a furnace and threatening total destruction to the entire underground workings. Preparations were made as soon as possible to flood the workings, and a trough 2700 feet long was thrown down the slope to carry the water into the mine. A large volume of water was soon pouring into the mine, but the flooding of it will require several weeks, and in the meantime hundreds of miners will be idle.

Special Announcement.

We have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall, Co. publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. B. J. Kendall, Co., Esopus, N. Y. The book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining a valuable book.
It is necessary that you mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open only a short time.

Settled His Accounts.

On Monday evening the members of Borough Council met in special session for the purpose of hearing the report of the Tax Collector and passing upon his list of exonerations. The collector presented a list of exonerations of persons and dogs, from whom he claimed he could not collect any taxes on account of their removal from the borough.
A perusal of the list showed that many of the names therein were dead or had removed from town. The council held the collector to the sum of $5.00 on personals and $14 on dog tax. The balance was accepted.

Sunday Evening's Entertainment.

The entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies' T. A. B. Society of St. Ann's Parish, at the opera house, on Sunday evening was one of the finest ever held in that hall, the audience filled every seat available.
James F. Sweeney acted as Chairman of the evening and fulfilled the duty assigned him in a manner creditable to all present. He complimented the Ladies' Society in the manner in which they got up the fine programme that was to be rendered and the excellent taste displayed by them in its composition.
The programme, as printed in last week's TRIBUNE, was carried through, and many of the participants were called back several times, noticeably in this respect was it with Will Divenny, who had to make his appearance three times in succession. The remarks of Rev. M. J. Fallibe were full of instructions for the female portion of the audience. The length of the programme caused it to be late before it was finished. The orator of the evening, Rev. F. P. McNally, on coming forward to speak, said that as the evening was so far advanced he would not make any extended remark, and confined himself to a comparison of the different societies to be found among working people and those organized for wicket and malicious purposes, and closed with a fervent appeal to all to remember their duty to that society which is known as the family circle, for said he "it is there the boy or girl gets their first training, which fits them for the higher and more onerous duties which in after years they are called upon to perform." The Rev. Gentleman closed by saying a tribute of praise to the St. Ann's Ladies' T. A. B. Society. The St. Patrick's Cornet Band rendered several selections, as also did Depiero's Orchestra. The two cornet solos by Prof. A. P. Mayberry were equally well received.
The young ladies and the school children, who took part in the entertainment, are to be congratulated upon the proficiency made by them in such a short time, and reflects great credit upon those who took such pains with them.

Killed at the Lumberyard.

On Thursday afternoon while working on the railroad a short distance below the Lumberyard station on the L. & R. R. John Dennison, an old and respected citizen of that section of the county, met his death by being run over by an engine. Mr. Dennison was employed on the road, and, as usual, when the engines dropped the ashes it was his duty to remove them from the track, and while thus engaged an engine backed down the road and before he could realize the position he was in he was run over and mangled in a shocking manner. Deputy Coroner Buckley, of Freeland, was notified and repaired to the place on Friday morning. He viewed the remains and examined those who were near to the deceased at the time he was struck and a number of others who were present when he was picked up, but those named being overtaken by the flood were compelled to seek refuge in a heading which they knew to be on a very heavy pitch. On reaching the heading they climbed to its uppermost part, and, after safely lodging a narrow piece of timber which they picked up in their hasty retreat, they climbed on it for a seat. The timber also served to keep back an amount of loose coal. Here the men spent four days. The first welcome sound that reached their ears was the loud strokes of the pump and they knew active service had been commenced toward their rescue. A considerable amount of the water having been pumped out a searching party went through the mine Monday morning on a raft. In a short time loud cries were heard and the searchers proceeded to the place from which they were supposed to have come. They went up the old heading and there discovered the men in the position described above. They were given stimulants and taken out on the raft one by one. The men related a tale of terrible suffering during their many hours of confinement.

Miners Rescued Alive.

John Rineer, William Cragle and Michael Schelling, the three miners who were entombed in the old Harvey mine at Grand Tunnel last week, were rescued at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning. The accident by which the men were shut up in the mine was caused by a large body of water in an abandoned mine adjoining the Harvey colliery breaking into the latter and filling it almost to the mouth. The men who had been working in the slope managed to make their escape, but those named were overtaken by the flood and were compelled to seek refuge in a heading which they knew to be on a very heavy pitch. On reaching the heading they climbed to its uppermost part, and, after safely lodging a narrow piece of timber which they picked up in their hasty retreat, they climbed on it for a seat. The timber also served to keep back an amount of loose coal. Here the men spent four days. The first welcome sound that reached their ears was the loud strokes of the pump and they knew active service had been commenced toward their rescue. A considerable amount of the water having been pumped out a searching party went through the mine Monday morning on a raft. In a short time loud cries were heard and the searchers proceeded to the place from which they were supposed to have come. They went up the old heading and there discovered the men in the position described above. They were given stimulants and taken out on the raft one by one. The men related a tale of terrible suffering during their many hours of confinement.

Legislative Bills.

The want of a liability law in this state, whereby those who may be injured may recover damages from their employer, has been urged upon the Legislature time and again. That such a law is needed can easily be seen by the number of fatal accidents occurring of late. Through the courtesy of Hon. Wm. R. Jeffrey, of this district, we are enabled to place before our readers the text of a bill introduced by him in the House of Representatives on the 5th inst. Mr. Jeffrey assures us that his bill has every chance of being passed.
AN ACT to extend the liability of employers for negligence causing personal injury or loss of life of their employees while in their service by prescribing who shall hereafter be not deemed co-employees.
PREAMBLE.
WHEREAS, The Supreme Court of this Commonwealth have by their decisions, as to who are employees, gone further to relieve employers from liability to their employees for injuries or loss of life caused by the carelessness of their agents than any other state in the union,
AND WHEREAS, The lives and limbs of our employees while at their work should be made as secure as human foresight and care can make them so,
AND WHEREAS, An extension of the liability of the employer for such injuries or loss of life would tend to make them more secure than under the present decisions of said court,
SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same that hereafter no person having any control or direction of the services of any employee or having any supervision or inspection over any room or place where any employee works or is to work or having any control or supervision inspection over the construction or operation of any machinery, engine, vehicle, shaft, slopes, drifts, entries, gangways, railroad works or plant, connected with or used in the business of the employer, shall not hereafter be deemed a co-employee of the employer injured fatal or otherwise or killed, but he shall be deemed the vice principal of the employer, and for all injuries or loss of life suffered by any such employee while in the service of the employer, which could have been avoided by the exercise of proper care by such vice principal, the employer shall be liable to the person so injured or in case of death to his or her legal representatives.
SECTION 2. The rights of employees under this act shall not be waived and any waiver thereof by any employee shall be absolutely null and void.
SECTION 3. All laws or parts of laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.
The following bill was presented in the House of Representatives January 21. It is known as the Farrell Company Store bill and was read on Tuesday for the third time. It now goes to the Senate for their approval or amendment.
AN ACT to prohibit mining and manufacturing corporations from engaging in the business of carrying on stores, known as company stores or general supply stores.
SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same that on and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any mining or manufacturing corporation of this Commonwealth, or the officers or stockholders of any such corporation, acting in behalf or in the interest of any such corporation, to engage in or carry on by direct or indirect means any store, known as a company store, general supply store, or store where goods and merchandise, other than such as are necessary for the use of the corporation, are sold or manufactured by the mining or manufacturing corporation of which said officers or stockholders, are members, are kept or offered for sale.
SECTION 2. That no mining or manufacturing corporation, engaged in business under the laws of this Commonwealth shall lease, grant, bargain or sell to any officer or stockholder of any such corporation, nor to any other person or persons, whatsoever the right to keep or control upon the property of any such corporation, any company general supply or other store in which goods other than those mined or manufactured by the corporation granting such right shall be kept, or exposed for sale whenever such lease, grant, bargain or sale, as aforesaid, is intended to defeat the provisions of the first section of this act. Nor shall any such mining or manufacturing corporation, through its officers, stockholders, or by any rule or regulation of its business, make any contract with the keepers or owners of any store, whereby the employees of such corporation shall be obliged to trade with such keeper or owner, and that any such contract made in violation of this act shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that such store is under the control of such mining or manufacturing corporation and in violation of this act.
SECTION 3. That for any violation of any of the provisions of this act by any mining or manufacturing corporation aforesaid, such mining or manufacturing corporation so offending shall forfeit its charter rights granted to it under the laws of this Commonwealth, and it is hereby declared and made the duty of the Attorney General of this Commonwealth, upon proof of such violation of any of the provisions of this act, by a petition signed and sworn to by two or more citizens residents of the county where the offense is sworn to have been committed, to immediately commence proceedings against the corporation or corporation complained against by a writ of quo warranto.
SECTION 4. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

The matter will now be officially investigated and measures adopted to prevent further damage to property.
—While several persons were waiting in a shanty at the head of the Mount Pleasant Colliery, near the junction of Wyoming, Saturday, one of the party began to prepare a charge of powder. The men named are the ringleaders of a society, which has for its main object the avenging of wrongs done its members, and the payment of all expenses of members who get into trouble before the courts.

Weekly Coal Report.

The anthracite coal trade continues very dull, and the reports from all quarters are of the same character, viz. little new business doing, orders for coal scarce and prices weak. The production of anthracite in the month of January exceeded three million tons, that quantity being a quarter of a million tons more than had been agreed upon by the sales agents at their December meeting, and the output for last month was also 675,000 tons in excess of that for the corresponding month of last year. Since the last instant the production of coal has been greatly curtailed, and the restriction of the machinery at the Ashley Plane, but as the New York market was already oversupplied with anthracite, consumers did not suffer.
The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending January 31, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 699,552 tons, compared with 516,448 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 183,104 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1891 was 3,094,895 tons, compared with 2,418,243 tons for the same period last year, an increase of 676,652 tons.—Ledger.
