Died at Freeland.

John Stahl, a well-known Polish resident of Freeland, while out driving with a friend last Thursday, complained of feeling ill and returned immediately to his home on Centre Street. He continued to fall rapidly and the doctors who were summoned found a blood vessel in his neck was ruptured. About 3 o'clock the next morning he expired from apoplexy. The deceased left a wife and six children and was fifty-two years of age. His funeral took place Sunday afternoon, under charge of Undertaker McNally, and was attended by St. Kasimer's Society. Interment at St. Ann's Cemetery.

On Saturday morning Annie, the wife of Denis O'Donnell, residing on Birkbeck Street, died after a short illness. The deceased was thirty-eight years of age and was the mother of eleven children, ten of whom survive her. A large number of friends and relatives from this and surrounding counties attended the funeral Tuesday morning. Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Ann's Church by Rev. Wm. O'Donnell, of Providence, Pa. Brother-in-law of the deceased, and an eloquent eulogy was delivered by Rev. P. F. McNally.

Sunday Shaving Don't Go.

A conference of the barbers was held Monday evening and it was decided to close on Sundays. Every shop in Freeland was represented and there is no doubt but that the resolution passed will be faithfully adhered to by every barber. It was also decided to charge twenty-five cents for hair-cutting on Saturdays between 12 o'clock noon and 12 P. M. The barbers of Freeland must have their whisks attended to before midnight on Saturday, as the Knights of the Razor refuse to open before Monday morning.

FREELAND, MAY 26, 1891.

At the last meeting of the Law and Order Society of the Borough of Freeland and Township of Foster the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the Law and Order Society send a vote of thanks to the barbers for their many acts in closing their shops on Sunday, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the barbers and published in the papers.

By order of Society.
REV. THOS. J. J. WRIGHT.

Investigating Sewerage.

Councilmen Goepfert and Dooris, members of the street committee, accompanied by the secretary, went to Hazleton on Monday to make inquiries as to the system of sewerage at that borough. They were taken in hand by Secretary McCartney and escorted through the principal streets where sewers are laid and shown its workings in detail. He also furnished them with a great deal of information that may be valuable in the event of the people deciding to increase the debt of the borough, such as price of pipe, excavating, etc. The committee will make their report to Council next Monday evening.

Drifton's Fire Engine.

A small frame building at Drifton was saturated with kerosene and set on fire Saturday morning to test the new fire apparatus. The chemical engine had the blazing structure under control in a few minutes.

Law and Order on the Warpath.

Freeland is threatened by the so-called Law and Order Society with the enforcement of the "blue laws" of 1794. In fact, this threat has assumed definite form as the following notice, copies of which were given to the business people on Monday, will testify:

OFFICE OF THE Organized May 12, '91.
LAW AND ORDER SOCIETY.

FREELAND, PA., May 25, 1891.

DEAR SIR:—The Law and Order Society of the Borough of Freeland and Township of Foster desires to call your attention to a statute of this Commonwealth, enacted April 22, 1794. (See Barr's Justice, Brightly, 8th Ed., Page 745, Art. 3, Sec. 1.)

SEC. 1. "If any person shall perform any worldly employment or business whatsoever on the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, works of necessity and charity only excepted, or shall use or practice any unlawful game, hunting, shooting, sport or diversion whatsoever on the same day, and be convicted thereof, every such person so offending, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay four dollars, etc."

The law has not been repealed and stands yet for the protection of the Sabbath.

This will be sufficient NOTICE to all parties concerned, that on and after May 30th, 1891, steps will be taken to enforce said law, above given, against parties buying or selling goods, or any kind of wares on any Sunday. We have respectfully ask the closing of places of business on that day so as to save further trouble.

Yours Respectfully,
SECRETARY OF LAW AND ORDER SOCIETY,
OF THE Borough of Freeland and Township of Foster. Done by order of said Society.

The above is a true reprint of the notice and contains neither names nor location of the "office," or any clue to disclose the members' identity. Just what line of action will be adopted is not known, and everyone is waiting anxiously to see whether the cigar stores, news-stands, candy shops and ice cream parlors will be closed, as the law directs. Several of the proprietors of those small stores, especially in the Points, claim they will continue selling cigars and candy as heretofore, and if the "blue law" advocates are in earnest Freeland will witness some lively times next week, when the persecutions begin. The battle between public opinion of the nineteenth century and puritanical customs will be watched with interest.

On with the dance!

DOWN AT THE OLEY.

Strange Stories and Funny Fish Caught By an Eckley Man.

ECKLEY, May 25, 1891.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—I venture to send a few items that may interest some of your readers who participate in the social life and progress of the race. My letter is the result of a few random notes gleaned while on a recent fishing expedition to the far-famed Oley and Nesopeck, but my experience is so much at variance with the stories told by the fishermen of the period that I concluded to give it publicity in the hopes that other "tenderfeet" would profit thereby. While in your city last week I had the pleasure of meeting your respected townsmen, Hugh Malloy and W. F. Boyle, who told some very plausible and captivating stories in relation to their fishing exploits on the above named waters.

Being somewhat Irish and the morrow Friday I must confess my teeth watered, and I determined to replenish my fisher-larder from nature's storehouse until such times as at least the American Tin Plate Association can supply the native article in sufficient quantities to pack brook-trout for the home market and drop prices within reach of the lower strata, as promised by Harrison and McKinley.

We purchased a rod at $2.00, a reel and line at $1.25, fly and bait-hooks, and other preliminary essentials at $3.00, and left Eckley at 10 o'clock of the night determined to break the record made by Boyle and Malloy. We safely passed through Highland and South Heberton and arrived at the quiet village of Upper Lehigh just in time to catch the dogs awake, which apparently with one accord conveyed us through town and out to the silent city of Upper Lehigh in the suburbs.

We arrived at the Nesopeck at the early dawn of a fine day which appeared to the writer to be a fair reproduction on a small scale of Goldsmith's "Deserted Village." This place is an abandoned lumbering town, formerly owned by A. Pardee & Co.

On the banks of the stream were camped many fishermen well-known in political circles in Foster Township and Freeland Borough. They were cooking breakfast preparatory to commencing their day's labor. We enjoyed a cup of coffee, notwithstanding the fact that it was sweetened with chemical arsenic in a tomato-can that was formerly used to hold bait. We fished hard, managed to fall into the creek many times, tore our new overalls and spoiled our Sunday hat. When Drifton thised announced the hour of noon we were possessed of a few small specimens of the finny tribe—not small enough to go into a sardine can, but they were not of the tribe other men catch (on paper).

We met many fishermen on our route, some of them were lying around in groups discussing and reviewing public affairs. Ballot reform, semi-monthly payment of wages, Judge Lynch's appointment were argued pro and con. Mr. Yeager man that the single tax on land values would be to the best interests of the American farmer. We met a well-known citizen of Freeland, who has had a very warlike prefix attached to the name his God-father gave him, who informed us that he had three hundred trout caught that day. He exhibited the same, but in the absence of our glasses we could not distinguish what tribe they were of, but some other men were undeliberate enough to assert that he caught them in the same spot where Messrs. Malloy and Boyle planted the five thousand fry received from the State Fisheries the week previous.

The lunch our good wife had carefully prepared was now consumed and the wants of the interior were supplied in their social and scientific bearings, interest some of your many readers. We learned that two young gentlemen who are great favorites in social and political circles, one of whom has made his mark in the field of motor engineering, intend in the near future taking a swing around the circle in the shape of a double wedding tour.

We also gleaned the information that the distinguished Prof. H. has exhibited his famous "Electric Motor" before the Board of Prison Commissioners of the State of New York and it is said that the Board was very favorably impressed with the idea of utilizing the deadly machine to exterminate the numerous murderers who are in their time in the prisons of the Empire State.

We left the house of our friend much refreshed and arrived in Freeland just in time to purchase a can of brook trout of Mr. Boyle, the fish store keeper, and firmly resolved while crossing the mountain to Eckley that we had fished our last day this season.

LOVE FISHERMAN.

C. T. A. CONVENTION.

Parade of the First Division Will Be Held at Freeland on October 10.

The ninth annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Societies of the Scranton Diocese, which comprises all the towns and villages in North-eastern Pennsylvania, concluded its sessions at Pine Brook on Thursday. There are ninety societies with a total membership of 7470. The secretary's report showed that during the year just closed the number of new members was 1844. There were 27 deaths during the year, and $14,708 paid in benefits. Some $29,963 were collected, and the balance on hand on January, 1891, was $19,509. The value of property owned by the societies composing the union is $29,742. Some important matters relating to the general government of the union were considered, and several changes made in the constitution.

Condy O'Donnell, of Drifton; Michael J. Walsh, of Wilkes-Barre, and P. F. Kelly, of Scranton, were elected delegates to the National Convention.

The following officers were elected: President, Rev. P. J. McManus; Vice President, D. J. McCartney, Freeland; Treasurer, John A. Collier, of Pittston; Secretary, John Stack, of Kiewit.

It was agreed to hold division parades on October 10, the anniversary of Father Mathew's birth. The first division will celebrate at Freeland, the second at Avoca and the third at Carbondale. A general convention will be held at Scranton on the third Wednesday in May, 1892.

Judge Is a Good Joker.

When the TRIBUNE of the 14th inst. reached Scranton the paragraph stating that D. J. McCartney had entered the wholesale business of tobacco, cigars, etc., was read by a newspaper man of the city and he saw an opportunity to play a practical joke upon Mr. McCartney. The article was reprinted and before tobacco he inserted the words "whiskies and wines." The TRIBUNE was given credit and then followed a copy of the article in the "Free Societies" of the C. T. A. Union for engaging in the liquor traffic. Slanderous allusions filled the criticism throughout, and it was fixed up in a style to resemble a newspaper clipping and mailed to Freeland with a request that Mr. McCartney explain himself.

D. J. immediately jumped at the conclusion that the whole affair had appeared in a Scranton daily, and engaged Attorney Hayes with the intention of having the proceedings for libel against the publisher. Upon his arrival in Scranton he endeavored, to the amusement of his friends there, to find a clue to the article. Suddenly the truth dawned upon him that the whole affair was a first-class fake, and he was waiting an opportunity to return the compliment to the Scranton editor.

Avarice Unsurpassed.

The Beaver Meadow correspondent of the Weekly Coal Reporter has a statement that "the slate-picker boys in the employ of the Evan's Mining Company, of that place, have been notified that unless half their earnings is left at the store their services will no longer be required. This is really a piece of news from the child. How long do they think such doings can be continued—deeds that cry to Heaven for vengeance. Corporations like the Evan's Mining Company are responsible for the anarchists and riotous mobs that are doing so much of mischief in the State of labor. But the day of retribution is coming and it is hastened by acts of this kind.

Weekly Coal Report.

The anthracite coal trade has not changed materially since our last report. There has been a slight falling off in the demand for sizes and an increase for others. The New England markets are reported to be fairly well supplied with anthracite for immediate requirements, and the dealers there do not appear to be troubled about the proposed advance in the prices for anthracite which will probably be made by the General Coal Sales Agents at their meeting to be held at New York to-day. What increase will be made in the circular figures for the prepared sizes has not yet been determined.

The total amount of anthracite coal to market for the week ending May 16, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 801,713 tons, compared with 722,068 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 79,645 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1891 was 12,628,062 tons, compared with 10,620,972 tons for the same period last year, an increase of 2,007,090 tons.—Ledger.

Poor Directors Meet.

The Poor Directors met on Monday at Laurytown and transacted regular routine business, and in addition resolutions were passed cutting off all out-door relief, unless in extreme cases. Measures were also taken to curtail expenses of return judges, making only one return judge from townships and boroughs. The law in reference to the receiving of votes says the judges of election of each township or borough having more than one voting district shall meet on the Friday following the spring election at some designated place in the township or borough, and there compute the vote of the whole township or borough and select one of their number to carry such votes to the Almshouse the following Tuesday. As it is at present each judge takes the vote in person, and the board claims that this entails a great deal of unnecessary expense.

The board also instructed its attorneys to look into the matter of back taxes and see that every cent due the district is turned over where it belongs. The expense report for the past month shows a falling off of $1350 in comparison to the preceding month. It is evident that the present board realizes the position it is placed in and want to keep the expenses down to the lowest possible notch, and at the same time show a reduction of the standing debt at the end of the fiscal year.

The following persons were taken this morning to the Danville Asylum by Directors Neumiller and Monroe: Chas. McClugh, of Lansford; Mike Costig, of Hazleton, and Elizabeth Michael, of Drifton.

BASE BALL.

Two great games are scheduled for the Drifton Park on Memorial Day. The Jeaneville Club will endeavor to defeat the home team at 10:30 A. M., and at 3:30 P. M. it will make another attempt to accomplish the same purpose. Both clubs will be strengthened considerably by the struggle for supremacy. Each of the managers are confident of winning and the battles will be most exciting. Don't miss them.

Drifton opened their park with Mahanoy City on Saturday afternoon, and a few innings demonstrated the home club's superiority over the visitors. The game was not any too well played by either team, but Drifton had the best hitters and found no trouble in piling up the runs. The infield work was something to brag all around and was responsible for the large score. Mahanoy could not do any effective batting against O'Hara's delivery and did not earn any of their seven runs. The game was very well attended.

Following is the score:

DRIFTON	MAHANOE CITY

After several challenges had been sent to the Tigers the Locals of Honeybrook were permitted to come over on Sunday afternoon. The club is about as good as the average and expected to have some chance of defeating the Tigers, but they returned home firmly convinced that they can't play ball with the Freeland boys. In six innings the Tigers knocked out four pitchers and scored eighteen times, then the people from the South Side requested the umpires to call the game. They failed to do so, a base on Gaffney, and made two hits off Brislin. The score by innings:

-----------------------------	--------------------------

Jeaneville must be a disappointment to the people who took so much pains to organize the club. A team from New Boston shut them out—2 to 0—on Friday, and the next day Tamaqua did the same thing—9 to 0. Jeaneville failed to make a hit off Gormley.

Wilkes-Barre gives no signs of finding a conqueror. They took the Scranton Club into camp—7 to 6—on Saturday, and that made their ninth victory. Drifton will see them and break their run on June 27.
