Ballot reform will not go into effect in time to hold the special election under it, but that should prevent any citizen from casting his vote for sewerage on the 16th inst. Only those who wish to advance the town and maintain health and cleanliness are requested to vote.

Stephen Galatea, residing on Adams Street and employed as a miner at No. 1 Drifton, was injured on Tuesday morning by a fall of extra rock. He was driving a heading and had fired off a shot, which left the coal loose, and while waiting it out a quantity of the top rock fell on him. He is in a very precarious condition and slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A Priest Who Cures Blindness.

An Associated Press dispatch from Pittsburg to-day says that "Rev. Father Mollinger, the faith-healing priest of Troy Hill, who mixes a great deal of medicine with the faith of his patients, is reported to have completely cured of total blindness a boy who went to his retreat nine days ago. Several other wonderful cures were made recently." John Melly, Patrick Dougherty, Bernard Gallinger, Mrs. Wm. An Aristocratic Wedding.

Promptly at 12 o'clock yesterday the marriage of Alex. B. Cox and Miss Sarah F. White was solemnized by Rev. J. P. Buxton at the residence of the bride's parents, Drifton. Quite a number of guests from New York and Philadelphia were present at the ceremony, and the couple received many handsome and costly gifts from their relatives and friends. Upon their return from the bridal tour they will reside at Eckley. Depiero's Orchestra played the wedding march and discoursed several selections of their choice music.

BOROUGH FATHERS MEET.

Sidewalks and Sewerage Discussed and Other Business Considered.

The borough council met in regular session Monday evening, with Messrs. Bachman, Doors, Goepfert, Rutter, Smith and Williamson present. After approving the minutes of last meeting the following bills were presented and ordered paid:

Wm. Williamson, supplies..... $ 2 03
Street committee's expenses to Hazelton..... 7 50
Thomsen, publishing election notice, bills and order book..... 7 00
Progress, publishing election notice..... 3 00
Daniel Daubert, janitor..... 8 00
Penn'a Globe Gaslight Co..... 39 00

The burgess' report was presented, showing amount received for fines, permits, etc. $16.25; commission, $5.70; amount due treasurer, $12.55. The report was accepted and placed on file.

The treasurer's report for the month ending May 31 was as follows:

Balance May 1..... $ 641 87
Received for House licenses..... 2009 65
From John M. Powell, burgess..... 5 20
Total..... $2656 72
Paid out as per vouchers..... 233 88
Balance..... $2422 84

This report was accepted, and also the report of the street commissioner, amounting to $96.55. The street committee reported they had visited Hazelton and had inspected the system of laying pipes in that town, together with cost, etc. They stated they had gained some valuable information on sewerage that would be a benefit to the council in case the people decide to have sewers. They also reported that they had accompanied the street commissioner on his tour of the borough, and found that sidewalks and gutters are being laid and that it would be necessary to lay more crossings. The secretary was instructed to order 300 feet of siding.

The street commissioner was instructed to enforce the ordinance as to those persons who fail to put down sidewalks and gutters after their notices expired.

The directors of the Citizens' Home Co. met last evening and the system of the communication sent them to appear and discuss the janitor question. The directors claim that the janitor should be a member of the company, as there is a library and reading room to look after the pupils from outside districts. After the subject was discussed the matter was left as it is at present.

The petition of property owners on Centre Street asking for sidewalks from Walnut to Chestnut, was again taken up on motion it was agreed that the street commissioner ascertain upon what condition the ground can be procured and report at the next meeting.

The president and street commissioner were authorized to see Mr. Cox and procure the deed for the Firemen's Park. A communication was read from W. D. Cowen, enclosing a check for $25.40 as part of the bill due from him to the borough, and stating that he would be here himself in a short while and prove that the bill presented to the council some time ago by the police was exorbitant.

The borough solicitor appeared before council and stated that he had an order of court appointing John Yannes, Owen Frizger, William Williamson, Joseph Neuburger, Henry C. Coons, Thomas Campbell and Leopold Shano as viewers to assess and allow damages and to assess contributions, for the opening and extension of Pine Street.

Freeland School Board.

The members of the Freeland school board met in the school building last evening and finished up the business of the past year. A resolution was adopted that pupils from outside districts be charged at the rate of $1.00 per month. Bids were received for the paving of gutters along the school property and the contract was awarded to Patrick Meehan at 65 cents per running yard. The treasurer's report and the board was approved. A vote of thanks was tendered to Bernard Boyle, the retiring member.

The new board organized as follows: President, W. E. Watkins; Secretary, John Smith; Treasurer, Adam Sachs. The tax rate was made the same as last year, and the treasurer's bond was fixed at $5,000. The building committee was empowered to have the school property and buildings painted, and to have fences, sidewalks and gutters placed in position. The full board will inspect the buildings and grounds previous to the opening of the next school term.

Tie on the Treasurer'ship.

Foster township school board organized on Monday evening by electing P. H. Hanlon President and Robert Oliver Secretary. The vote for treasurer resulted in a tie, three members voting for Thos. McHugh and three for Geo. Meneley. Another meeting was held last evening and several ballots were cast without arriving at a choice. The deadlock will probably be broken at the next meeting.

Law and Order Action Postponed.

The Law and Order Society has descended to give one more week of grace to the people who keep open on Sundays and issue another notice warning them to discontinue business on that day. It has always been the policy of the Tribune to accord fair play to all parties, whether in sympathy with their movements or not, and communications of local or general interest will be published at any time in these columns. This paper does not favor the policy adopted by the Law and Order Society, and has expressed its opinion in previous issues, but any matter in this organization concerning the public will be granted the same privilege given to all others.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed at a meeting of the society on Tuesday evening:

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the business men of Freeland and vicinity who closed their places of business on last Sabbath, and that while we view with regret the desertion of that day by others who kept their business places open.

Resolved, That we will use all diligence to have them closed according to law, and to this end we offer a liberal reward to any person giving evidence that will convict any person of violating the Sabbath law of this Commonwealth on next Sunday, June 7, 1891.

REV. T. J. WRIGHT, Secretary.

IN HONOR OF MARY.

Beautiful Ceremonies at the Institution of St. Ann's Sodality.

In the Catholic Church the month of May is specially dedicated to the veneration of the mother of Christ, and throughout the world devotional exercises and festivals in her honor are conducted on a scale of grandeur and magnificence and impressive as the opportunities and means of those participating will allow. To her this denomination accords a position in its religious teachings second only to God alone, and Catholics ask her aid in their prayers for spiritual or temporal favors which they seek from their Creator. She is looked upon as high above all other created objects of religious respect, on account of her singular position as the medium by which redemption was made possible and the many virtues with which she adorned this dignity. Besides the numerous religious orders which use her name in their titles, there are several associations formed which place themselves under her protection and assistance in their endeavor to help and assist in the same. One of these is the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, organized recently at St. Ann's Church, and which was formally instituted on Sunday evening under the name of the Daughters of Mary.

The last evening of the month was a most appropriate time for this institution, and the church was crowded with people of all religious beliefs who had gathered to witness the ceremonies connected with the organization of the young ladies. The society assembled at the convent of the Sisters of Mercy and at 7:30 marched into the church. They were dressed in white, with veils of the same color, and presented an impressive appearance as they slowly filed into the building and occupied the right center pews reserved for them. They were under charge of Mother Agnes and were followed by Sister Dolores with the Children of Mary, composed of boys and girls under sixteen years. The girls were dressed in white like those who preceded them, and were covered with dark blue veils which added a sombre aspect to their figures. The boys wore red badges on their left breasts.

After those in the procession had taken their places in the church the exercises of the evening began with the singing of "Mary, Dearest Mother," by the Daughters of Mary. At the end of this beautiful hymn the young ladies took their positions at the altar railing and responded to the questions asked by the prefect, Miss Bella McGill. The answers being satisfactory the ritual of the sodality was read by Rev. F. P. McNally and the Act of Consecration recited in unison by the society, in which the members obligated themselves to lead lives in accordance with the rules of the organization and placed themselves under the protection and counsel of their patron, Saint Ann, and the Blessed Virgin Mary. Badges of membership were then awarded to members and they returned to their seats.

Several applicants to the Children of Mary then proceeded to the railing, and after answering the questions of their prefect, Mrs. Mary Herron, they were admitted, the ceremonies being somewhat similar to those of the higher order. The new members were decorated with badges and medals, emblems signifying that their young lives were dedicated to the veneration of Mary.

Rev. F. P. McNally ascended to the altar and spoke for some time upon the character and virtues of the Virgin Mary, showing what an instructive example of patience and suffering her life was and how the members of her sodality should follow. He clearly explained to the audience the attitude of the Catholic Church toward her and demonstrated why the respect and honor given her is necessary for the redemption of the position she holds in heaven. Continuing, he denounced those who acknowledge Mary as the mother of God, but who, by their actions of disrespect, caused by prejudice or ignorance, use all the means in their power to endeavor to degrade her. Catholics, he said, do not worship her. They adore one Supreme Being alone, but through Mary and the saints, whose power they invoke, try to bring themselves in closer communion with God. He closed the address with sympathetic words of advice to the Sodality, entreating its members to be faithful to the promises they had just made before the altar.

Several hymns and sacred music by the church choir followed, after which the Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was read.

Coal Company Sued.

Messrs. Hayes, Lenahan and Lynch, attorneys for Thomas Gaffney, have brought suit against Markle & Co. for $10,000 damages for the death of Patrick Gaffney, who was killed at No. 2 Highland on April 21. In his statement Mr. Gaffney says that his son, who was only thirteen years of age, was employed in the breaker as a slate picker. The defendants, through their knowledge or consent, took him from his place as slate picker and gave him charge of a conveyer used to carry coal from the breaker to the boiler house. While discharging this duty the boy was caught in the chain, and received injuries which resulted in his death. The plaintiff has prepared to give the company a strong fight for their negligence in killing the boy. Several photographic views of the accident and its surroundings have been taken and if there is any justice in the law Mr. Gaffney's attorneys will try to obtain it.

An Unreliable Correspondent.

The Sentinel denies the report regarding the Evans Mining Company and its breaker boys, viz: that the latter had been notified to leave one-half their earnings at the company's store. The article was circulated by the Beaver Meadow correspondent of the Western Herald and was reprinted and commented upon by the Tribune. The Sentinel states the rumor is without foundation, and unless the Beaver Meadow party can prove it otherwise the Herald should procure a more reliable newsgatherer, for the item has been copied extensively throughout other sections of the coal region and, if false, does great injustice to the Evans Company.

BUYING BOGUS MONEY.

"Green Goods" Men Corresponding With Parties in Freeland.

A very important capture was made recently at Gloucester, N. J., by a detective, and certain people of this section must feel ill at ease over the disclosures which will probably be forthcoming. A trio of "green goods" men were run down by a North Carolina officer, to whom they had sent circulars offering to sell counterfeit money. After the arrest the postal authorities took charge of the case and also the trunks of the swindlers. When these were opened they were found to contain letters from all parts of the country written by persons to whom the sharpers had sent circulars in which flattering offers of engaging in a paying business were made. Many of the parties answering these letters would inquire for further information concerning the nature of the business they were to engage in and what amount of capital would be required to make it pay.

Other answers were from parties who stated they were anxious to engage in any business or enterprise where there was any money to be made. Some of the writers were willing to assume any and all risks, "if there was anything in it." These convicting epistles are now in the possession of Chief Edgerton and Inspector Griggs, of the Philadelphia Postal District, and as the writers of them are liable to the law they will hear from the Government later on.

The letters found are principally from the West and South, but several Pennsylvania people were among the writers to get rich quick, and correspondence implicating parties in Freeland, Hazelton and Plymouth is held by the authorities at Philadelphia. The "green goods" men had several methods of luring their prey, and many carried on their operations on a very extensive scale. The mode of procedure, to begin with, was by mailing to persons a seductively printed circular, with an imprint of the "counterfeit" as a Treasury note, of which the following is a copy:

PLEASE DON'T EXPOSE.

DEAR SIR:—It is with pleasure we send you this circular, and we hope you will read it carefully and decide to go to work at it at once. We have a large lot of greenbacks for sale that cannot be told from the genuine except by an expert. It will pass anywhere like a hot penny. Never mention the word money when you write. Say medicine, large, small or medium size bottles. We will understand it. Please don't write unless you intend to buy, and say as little as possible then. Prices, $10 for $5, $100 for $10, $500 for $25, $1000 for $50 and so on.

Upon receiving a satisfactory reply to this circular the operators would send detailed instructions to the party, giving directions how to reach Gloucester and where to find them, when the deal would be carried out. They have been working people for several years, and have always heretofore eluded arrest. Chief Edgerton refuses to reveal the names of the persons in this vicinity who tried to obtain some of the counterfeit money, stating that such information, if published, would prevent their arrest. From the tone of the Chief's letter it is inferred that some of Freeland's citizens will find themselves in unenviable quarters shortly.

Killed By an Engine.

Donato DeLuca, a Hazleton Italian, was killed at Stockton Wednesday evening. He was employed with the repair men along the Lehigh Valley road. He and several of his countrymen had just pieces of the heavy iron straps, out of the way of a passing engine. Another engine followed and DeLuca, it appears, did not hear it coming and while crossing the track was knocked down by the tank, the engine passing over him. DeLuca has worked on the road for thirteen years, and was a member of the DeLuca's countrymen Deputy Coroner Buckley held an inquest and the jury last evening returned a verdict of accidental death.

A Creditable Display.

Memorial Day was observed in Freeland according to the programme, and business was generally suspended in the afternoon during the ceremonies. In the morning the graves in the surrounding cemetery were decorated with flags. After the dismissal of the parade at the Freeland Cemetery a fitting address was delivered by John D. Hayes, Esq. The business places and private residences were generally decorated with the national colors, and on Centre Street the long lines of bunting and stately banners gave the town a very patriotic appearance.

Forging to the Front.

The FREELAND TRIBUNE is forging to the front as a spicy local paper, and deserves the hearty commendation of the people of the North Side.—Plain Speaker.

A Remarkable Surgical Operation.

A successful operation of skin grafting was performed on the person of John Wall, of Plymouth, on Sunday. John was injured some time ago by being caught between the ribs and a trip of mine cars. The injury he sustained consisted in the tearing of the skin and muscles from the bone of the right leg—from the middle of the thigh to the ankle. The muscles were bruised and contused and the heavy duty of the mine was taken away or had to be removed by the surgeon's knife. Several friends of Mr. Wall, all members of the A. O. H. of which John is a member, presented themselves and each of the many fellows permitted the surgeon to pluck four pieces of skin from their arms—there was no complaining from these friends—they were friends indeed. After each had lost part of his anatomy he went into an adjoining room and had his arm dressed and bandaged and seemed no worse for his experience. The wound will be opened in three days to ascertain the condition of the grafts and as forty-five grafts does not make much of a showing on such an extensive wound there will be a repetition of the operation on Sunday next, at which time twenty more of Mr. Wall's friends will present themselves and be united through the bonds of fraternal love and the surgeon's knife.—Neurologist.

BASE BALL.

On Friday the Larksville Club sent word that they would be here Saturday afternoon, and upon this short notice much difficulty was found in placing a team on the field against them. Freeland players were out of town or unprepared to play, but with the assistance of the Tigers a nine was gathered. Welch pitched a good steady game until the seventh inning when Larksville bunched their hits and Freeland assisted them with errors in scoring four times, giving them a lead which was not regained. The score:

Short as the notice was to play Larksville it was discounted at 10 P. M. Saturday night by the Cooling Club of Philadelphia, which dispatched from Catsasque that it was coming the next day. Manager Hanlon had been trying to secure either the Highland, Forrest, Bradford or Cooling, all of Philadelphia, for a Sunday game, but could not get a definite reply from any of them in time to advertise a game. The Cooling Club arrived, but after an ineffectual attempt to secure players Freeland preferred to forfeit the game rather than place an inferior team on the field. This was very much regretted by the audience, as the public was anxious to see what kind of ball the Quaker City boys would put up.

Some very important business will be considered by the Freeland Association at its next meeting relative to players and games. The management states that the public need have no fear of any further disappointment when games are to be played. The Association's members to sign several new players who will bring back to Freeland the prestige it held in former years.

Sunday afternoon at Mt. Pleasant the game between the Tigers and the club at that place was interrupted by a show-inning in the third inning. Neither side scored in the first and in the second. Mt. Pleasant made three runs and the Tigers five. The prospects were favorable for heavy hitting and a large score when the rain interfered.

At Lehigh Drifton will play two games on the Fourth. Freeland will play at home, probably two games, and Manager Hanlon is negotiating with a well-known club of Philadelphia for that day.

Wilkes-Barre completed its straight dozen victories by defeating Scranton Saturday morning, and was whipped by the same club that afternoon. Freeland, the "phenom," pitched both games.

Jennings made his debut at Louisville on Monday. The club was defeated, but it was not any fault of Hughley's. He played short and accepted eight chances without an error.

Where have you been my pretty maid? I've been to church, kind sir, she said. And where are you going my pretty maid? To the base ball game, kind sir, she said.

Drifton intends to go to Phillipsburg on Saturday, where they will try to lay out the Jerseymen of that place.

Lehigh is nothing if not "hogish." Give it the whole terrestrial sphere and it would clamor for the moon. All clubs are generally satisfied to break even in two games, but the "champions" want everything in sight, if not by fair means they are willing to try the other. The Highland Club, of Philadelphia, played there Saturday morning and was defeated—5 to 3. Lehigh also lays claim to the athletic game, but this is incorrect, as the game was stopped in Lehigh's half of the ninth inning. With two out and one man on third the game was a tie at 6. The runner tried to score on a hit to left field. The bat was swung and the ball was caught by the runner. The base umpire gave the runner out, while the umpire back of the plate gave him safe. (The same question came up in the morning game, and the plate decision was given to the base umpire against the Highland.) Lehigh refused to play unless the runner was declared safe, and after waiting ten minutes to continue the play the game was awarded to Highland by Umpire Dehart.
