He was questioned about his name, and where and how he was injured, but being able to speak only a few words in English, he could not understand what was asked of him and would make no reply. He could simply moan "me sick" and this at long intervals. Deputy Coro-ner Buckley was notified of the man's sad state, by several persons who be-lieved him a fit subject for aid, and the justice immediately communicated the matter to the poor authorites, requesting them that they allow the suffering fel-low to be taken to Laurytown. The Terrors will go to Silver Brook on Sunday, if the weather is favorable, and play ball with the club of that place.

The pienic held here on Saturday under the auspices of Division No. 20, A. O. H. was a grand success. Fully 800 people were present and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. The St. Patrick's Cornet Band was present and rendered several selections.

Drifton contested with Jeanesville at the latter place Saturday afternoon and had the game all their own way. They batted hard and freely, and this, combined with good fielding made them an easy winner. The game was slow and uninteresting up to the sixth inning when a dispute arose over a foul ball. This came nearly preventing the game from being finished but after considerable arguing play was resumed. Drifton then went at it in earnest and determined to keep their opponents as far behind as they were, the score standing 3 to 0 against them. Their efforts were partially successful but, however, they could not keep their Jeanesville boys out of one run which was made in a very creditable manner the runner having stolen home from third. The reporter of the Plain Speaker who contributed an account of the Scranton—Freeland game to his paper on Monday is evidently a seldom visitor to base ball in this section, and is unaccustomed to the ways of the patrons of the sport or he would not have said that "The crowd was very boisterous in its applause of the home team, and was also very rude in the treatment given to the visitors." While it is true that much more applause was bestowed on the home players than on their opponents it was not on account of any prejudice on the part of the audience, or an eagerness to discourage the visitors, but simply because it was well merited and more opportunities given for it. The several good plays of the visitors on the diamond and fly catches in the field were appreciated by shouts and yells equal to that given at any time to the home club.

THE LAW AND ORDER SOCIETY. What It Has Been Doing Since Our Last Issue-Other Notes About It.

As the time set for the hearing of E. S. Shick, Geo. Shick and Mrs. S. B. Vanhorn, the defendants in the suit brought by the Law and Order Society, the office of Squire Kline, on Birkbeck Street contained quite a number of business men who were anxious to learn what disposition would be made of the law breakers. John D. Hayes and Daniel J. McCarthy conducted the defendants' side of the case and E. D. Nicholls, of Wilkes-Barre, who is believed to be a member of the Society and its sole adviser, appeared for the prosecuting body. Several members of the Society were present as witnesses, and testified as to having seen the stores of the above named persons open on the 7th inst., which was all that was required to convict them. After this evidence was given Mr. Hayes entered a plea of misnomer for E. S. Bick and had him or he would not have said that "The crowd was very boisterous in its applause of the home team, and was also very rade in the treatment given to the visitors." While it is true that much more applause was bestowed on the lone players than on their opponents it is not on account of any prejudice on the part of the audience, or an eagerness to discourage the visitors on the diamond and fly catches in the field were approciated by shouts and yells equal to that given at any time to the home club.

The audience that usually assembles at the park is not of the kind to jeer and ridicule every blunder made by the visiting club, and to the great many games played in Freeland but none of the visiting clubs have found any reason to complain of their treatment by the andience and Sunday was no exception to previous occasions.

The Sentinel of Monday evening also had an article about the game here on Sunday but confined its report more to adenunciation of the audience and umpire than to the merits of the players or the features of the game. After mentioning what clubs were playing it comments as follows: "The game was abitter one and the treatment accorded the visitors was outrageous. A few strangers gave an occasional cheer for the visiting club but their voices were simmediately drowned with the boisterous yells of the Freeland enthusiasts. The umpire favored Freeland in his decisions and this accounts for the score standing to their favor at the close."

—On the Bell's Gap Railroad, near Altoona, Friday morning, a rear engine broke from a train of 30 cars descending a very steep grade, and 29 cars ran away with the front engine. For five miles the train held the rail, but finally, some distance from Bellwood Station, the engine and cars went over a 30 foot embankment. Fight Over a Prisoner.

Friday night Herbert Graham, a Nancoke constable, lodged William J. Armson in jail in Pittsburg in default of $1000 bail for impersonating a revenue officer. The prisoner had seven Nanticoke saloon keepers arrested for violating the revnee laws, when his authority was questioned and his arrest followed.
Deputy Marshal Barring, of WikesBarre, followed closely on Graham's heels to ask Judge Reed's permission to take the prisoner back to Scranton to secure bail. This was finally granted.
Before going into Court Graham and Barring had a wordy encounter in the Marshal's office, in which they called each other liars and blackmailers and expressed a desire to punch each other's heads.
