George W. Esser has occupied the Prothonotary's office in Carbon County for four terms, and as he is in the field for another whack at the public crib the Mauch Chunk Democrat and Lansford Record are keeping him busy explaining and denying several well-authenticated charges. Wonder if Esser is any relation to the Darte family of Luzerne? Both develop the same symptoms of tenacity.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania have a grander opportunity to carry everything next fall than they had last November. All that is necessary is to nominate men who have the confidence of the people. The independent Republican voters are deserting the sinking ship and will support any Democrat with a clean record. Keep the deadwood off the ticket and Pennsylvania will strike another blow at the dying G. O. P.

A PROMINENT State politician, discussing the nomination of Democratic candidates at large to the constitutional convention, proposes the name of Eckley B. Coxe. As Mr. Coxe refuses to obey the present laws and violates them openly with every cent's worth of goods sold in his company store the name seems out of place. The men wanted in that convention must not be of the Coxe stripe, if the people are to be represented. people are to be represented.

Treasurer Bardsley's statement, which was given to a Philadelphia reporter, created quite a sensation when it appeared, implicating the editors of the Times, Record and Inquirer and two Judges in that city. Of course, prompt denials were in order, and the unsupported confession of a jailed perjurer must be taken with much allowance, yet the common herd will find in it enough food for thought to keep them thinking for some time.

The Philadelphia Press is not yet The Philadelphia Press is not yet done carping about Pattison's appointment of Judge Lynch. What a pity it is to see such a great newspaper trying to misrepresent public opinion? But then any journal is liable to go "wild-catting" when it loses an editor like Charles Emory Smith, and the sarcastic references to Lynch generally make their appearance on Tuesday mornings—about the time Don Lamburt is enjoying ance on Tuesday mornings—about the time Doc. Lambert is enjoying the time Doc. ____his weekly "jag."

The opposition to Cleveland's nomination comes only from two sources. If any one takes the trouble to probe If any one takes the trouble to probe very deep into the movement against this fearless statesmen they will find that the principal objection emanates from a horde of hungry office seekers, to whose demands Grover refused to make subservient the interests of the country. The other and lesser antagonism is that of the Hill coterie—an insignificant paged of embilious an insignificant parcel of ambitious spoilsmen, devoid of principle and

When the residents of Buffalo woke up on Saturday morning they found the British flag floating from the staff of the city hall, placed there probably by some admirer of William III. to commemorate the two hundredth anniversary of the Aughrim massacre. It required but a few moments to cut down the emblem of oppression and the crowd below quickly tore it into shreds. Americans can respect the flag of any country, but the colors of Great Rritain must never be raised above the stars t never be raised above the star

To the Democrats it is first-class amusement to see the present condition of the Republican party in this State. The anti-Quay movement is assuming immense proportions and the opposition to Chairman Andrews becomes more marked every day. These two causes alone are enough to disrupt the organization, yet to them must be added the factional quarrels and dissensions which exist all through the State. The Democrats will meet their demoralized apponents with a solid and harmonious front which is bound to carry everything before it in November.

"If we get out the Democratic vote next fall we are sure to win," said State Chairman Kerr to a Philadelphia reporter the other day. Chairman Kerr came to Philadelphia to attend a conference of the Democratic division chairmen with the Democratic Congressmen and party leaders throughout the State. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering the condition of the party and fixing a time for the State Convention. The latter body will meet in Harrisburg on September 3.

ditions for Republican revolt even more aggravated than last year, there is everything to encourage our people to come to the polls. It will be the duty of the State Committee to see that this is done. I predict that within two weeks after the campaign shall have opened we will convince the people of Pennsylvania of the necessity for a thorough reorganization of the Treasury and auditing systems of the Commonwealth. We have the proof, and when it shall be laid before the people they shall be astounded. The Republican party has had the power to make reforms and done nothing and it cannot plead promises in answer to our indictment.

"What effect had the stalwart revolt against Senator Quay in Philadelphia had upon the country Republicans?" the Chairman was asked.

"I believe it will be an important factor in contributing to our success," was the Chairman's answer. "The arraignment of the Senator by the leading business men of his own party has convinced many earnest Republicans of the truth of the charges that have been so persistently made against him. They are disgusted, and the result will be more stay-at-homes in the Republican party this year than ever before. Our own splendid organization which will bring out the largest Democratic vote ever polled in an off year, aided by defection in the enemy's ranks, will certainly result in the election of our candidates if the convention names men in whom the people have confidence."

Blaine Is Drifting There.

As to rejoicing that Mr. Blaine is ill, it cannot be true. We think we may safely say that the whole Democratic party hopes he will reach a ripe old age and maintain his magnetic qualities unimpaired to the end. There is no reason to desire his "breaking down." You may possibly remember that since he became Secretary of State he has shown himself better than his party in two important respects. This is, he has not looked with much favor on the McKinley bill and he has absorbed good Democratic ideas about extending the American market. Perhaps, if he makes equal progress during the next twelve months, he will openly repudiate the high tariff nonsense and knock for admission to the good old fashioned Democratic household. Increasing years sometimes make a man wise.—N. Y. Herald.

They Battle For a Common Cause.

They Battle For a Common Cause.

The increasing solidarity amony workingmen is witnessed by the action of the Central Labor Federations of New York in sending a delegate to the International Labor Convention at Brussels. In spite of the pretenses of tariff spoilers, there is no real antagonism of interest among workingmen.—Record.

Labor organizations, especially the K. of L., clasped hands across the sea years ago. A man, no matter in what land he may live, cannot let imaginary lines or occans keep him from trying to assist a brother in industrial slavery. There is no enmity among the laborers of the earth. They are willing to exchange with each other the products of their labor if only given an opportunity, which must come by removing the tariff bars.

And the "Press" Is Silent.

The tin-plate swindle in the McKinley bill is now fairly developed. The people of the country see it, and, what is worse, they can feel it. All the thin pretences about the establishment of a tin-plate industry in this country are gone. The about the establishment of a tin-plate industry in this country are gone. The loudest and brassiest of the tin-plate organs are ashamed to repeat them. There is no tin-plate industry in America, nor any sign of one. There is still some faint lying about it, but it is growing fainter and must soon cease.—N. Y. World.

Free Trade Means Liberty.

Free Trade Means Liberty.

Free trade is nothing but freedom to trade. It is the liberty of every man to trade where he pleases. It is nothing more or less than the liberty of every man to exchange the product of his labor and skill for the product of the labor and skill for any other man in the world. It is the liberty of the farmer, for instance, to sell his wheat wherever and to whomsoever he pleases, and to buy what he wants with the proceeds wherever and from whomsoever he pleases. Is there anything so very dreadful about that? Is there anything about it that would be likely to ruin the farmer or anyone else?—Chicago Herald.

In more than two-thirds of the iron and steel industrial establishments of Pennsylvania there are strikes at present. The men employed in these works are supposed to receive, above all others, every benefit that can possibly be derived by laborers from a protective tariff. At no period in the country's history was protection in greater force than now, yet in our own State are thouse ands of men refusing to work be cause the beneficiaries of the tariff will not pay them a fair day's wages for a fair day's well camples of the protective system are brought home to workingmen it is nearly time for them to vote against a party and its candidates that uphold this ridiculous doctrine. Protection to American industries and American workingmen is a delusive fraud. Its fallacies have been expoleded too often to fool even the most ignorant.
