

THE FREELAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. IV. No. 10.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 1891.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

IN AND AROUND FREELAND.

—St. Ann's parochial schools will open on Monday.

—The Slavonian Band expects to appear on the streets soon.

—Council is advertising for proposals to put down the sewer pipes.

—Thomas Coates, of Oakdale, has gone to the Soldiers' Home at Erie.

—Lovers of fruit are jubilant over the prospect of large crops in that line.

—The proceeds of the excursion of the Citizens Hose Co. to Glen Onoko netted $156.69.

—At Campbell's Grove, Sandy Valley, the Scale Siding Base Ball Club will hold a picnic on Saturday evening.

—James W. Jones and Miss Gertrude Reed were married at Upper Lehigh by Rev. C. A. Spaulding last week.

—The Columbus (Ohio) Club, which is fifth in the American Association, will play here on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

—At St. Ann's Church to-day Daniel J. Marley, of Jeddo, and Miss Susie O'Donnell were married by Rev. M. J. Fallhne.

—Republican delegate elections will be held Saturday evening, and the convention will meet at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday.

—Excepting the Masons and the Alliance, Freeland has a branch of every leading social, beneficial or secret organization in the country.

—An Italian cobbler has been arrested and fined at Hazleton for doing work on Sunday. He should move to the Points, where everything goes.

—George Bird, of this place, registered as a veterinary surgeon in the Prothonotary's office on Tuesday. He has had twenty-two years practice.

—Farmers find Freeland a good place to dispose of their products. Many drive here from the interior of Monroe and the western part of this county.

—Considerable testimony was taken this week by Squire Johnson in the suit of Kline Bros. against Dominick O'Donnell. The case will come up at the October term of court.

—Political candidates drop into town quite frequently, but find it very hard to arouse any interest among the voters. The prohibitionists are the only people who show signs of life so far.

—Six well-filled cars left Upper Lehigh for Mountain Park on Saturday. At White Haven they were joined by eleven more, and the visitors to the Central's pleasant resort had a most enjoyable day.

—General Master Workman Powderly spent Sunday at his home in Scranton. He said to a Truth reporter that he will accept the Republican nomination for delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

—Any person wishing to attend the Democratic State Convention on September 3 can get to Harrisburg and return at half rates by applying to County Chairman P. A. Meixell, of Wilkes-Barre.

—Ben. Reynolds, of Drifton, a D. S. & S. engineer, had his right leg injured on Saturday near Beaver Meadow. He stepped off the engine along an embankment, and by turning his foot fell upon some rocks.

—John McMenimen, a miner employed at Stockton, was killed by a fall of top coal on Monday. His laborer, Christ Beisel, was injured. McMenimen was interred at St. Ann's Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

—Rev. F. P. McNally's lecture at Plains on Monday evening was well received by the people of that and neighboring towns. It is said he handled his subject, "Irish Loyalty to the Stars and Stripes," in a masterly manner.

—Rev. L. G. Jordan, of Texas, a colored orator, opened the Prohibition campaign in Lindsay's Hall on Monday evening. The audience was large and listened attentively to the speaker, who made a good address and sang several songs.

—The Young Men of Drifton will hold their first picnic at the park in that place on Saturday evening. The proceeds of this affair are to be used for a most commendable purpose, and the picnic deserves the patronage of all who can attend.

—A carousal, the motive power of which is furnished by a portable steam engine, is the latest novelty in town, and began operations last evening upon the lot near the Lehigh Valley station. Wonder if it will go on Sunday? Everything else does.

Killed and Injured To-Day.

While a number of company men were standing timber in Neil Gar's breast at No. 2 Drifton a fall of top rock took place about 10 A. M. this morning. Frank Lapinski, a Polisher residing with his sister at the corner of Main and Ridge Streets was instantly killed. He was a single man aged about 22 years, and was highly esteemed by his countrymen hereabouts. By the same fall Councilman Henry Smith, of Washington Street, had a leg broken, and another Polisher was slightly injured.

Joseph Gallagher, who resides at the corner of Chestnut and Ridge Streets, had his collar bone broken about 11 o'clock by falling from heading in his breast at No. 2 Highland.

On the Philadelphia Force.

One of the latest additions to the Philadelphia police force is William A. Mulhearn, of Freeland, a well-known young man of this section. Mr. Mulhearn left here last winter and went to the above city, where he held a responsible position in the office of the Cambria Iron Company until recently, when he received his appointment as an officer. He is in every way well qualified to perform the duties pertaining to his new work, and if promotions were made according to merit under Mayor Stuart William would soon be climbing the ladder of fame in the Quaker City.

Will Not Be a Candidate.

This is to certify that I will not be a candidate to represent Freeland in the Luzerne County Republican Convention, which meets at Wilkes-Barre, September 1.

JOSEPH NEUBURGER.

SEWERS ARE COMING.

Council Advertising for Proposals to Lay the Pipes—Work to Begin Soon.

An adjourned meeting of the Freeland Council was held on Tuesday evening, with Messrs. Bachman, Doors, Goepfert, Smith and Williamson in attendance. The meeting was called for the purpose of receiving the report of Engineer Mackl and taking action on the proposed sewers. Mr. Mackl submitted a profile of the main sewer from a point near the Lehigh Valley Railroad in Foster township to the centre of Walnut and Pine Streets in the borough, together with a connection from the east of the borough line to South Street, the length of the same being 2275 feet. The report was accepted, and the council instructed Mr. Mackl to complete the survey of the other streets in the borough.

The secretary read communications from different manufacturers of sewer pipe, and a motion was made that the pipes be purchased by the borough. It was also decided that proposals be received for digging the ditch and laying and covering the pipes, and that advertisements for these proposals be published in the TRIBUNE and Progress. The secretary was instructed to ascertain how soon the pipes can be shipped after the order has been placed. The profile of the sewers was left in custody of the secretary, so that all who desire to bid can see it.

The Tenth of October.

Representatives of the different temperance societies of this portion of the county met at Freeland on Sunday to make arrangements for the parade of the First Division of the Scranton C. T. A. Union, which will be held here on October 10. P. J. O'Donnell, of Drifton, was elected marshal, and N. Barrington, of White Haven, and P. Kelley, of Hazleton, were chosen as aids. The First Division includes the societies of the union from White Haven to Audenried, and all will no doubt take part in the demonstration here. Invitations were sent to the temperance organizations of Mauch Chunk, Summit Hill, Mahanoy City and other points in Schuylkill County. D. J. McCarthy was appointed to make arrangements with the railroad companies for the transportation of societies and visitors. Rev. F. P. McNally, Hon. E. B. Cox and John Brady will be the speakers. Another meeting will soon be held, when the route of parade and other matters will be determined upon.

Markle's New Colliery.

Work at the new colliery of Markle & Co., located between Jeddo and Eckley, is being rapidly pushed forward. The slope, which is known as No. 5 Pink Ash, is being arched and put in readiness for the transportation of coals. Many expects this new opening to prove a very valuable working, and through it will be able to procure the coal in the old Pink Ash slope. A pair of improved hoisting engines arrived there last week and will be put in position in a short while. The boiler and engine houses will be built this fall, but the breaker will not be erected until next spring. It is expected that the D. S. & S., which passes near the site of the proposed work, will convey the coal from this colliery.

One More Life Sacrificed.

John Linderman, of Hazleton, was picking blackberries on Sunday morning and while walking along the canal between Jeddo and Ebervale came across the body of a Hungarian. He was seen last around the Ebervale breaker about three weeks ago and talked as though he wanted to get to the Laurytown porch. Deputy Coroner Buckley held an inquest and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide. Nobody could identify the Hun and he was buried at Laurytown. It is supposed that he was unable to obtain work, became discouraged and ended his life in the above manner. Another illustration of the injustice of present social conditions.

Borough Sidewalks.

This has been a good season for sidewalks. Uptown, downtown, and all around town they have been making their appearance, one after the other, until now, between concrete, flagstone and plank, walking is much better than it was some months ago. Notwithstanding this the borough authorities are not disposed to let up on those property owners who have neglected to obey orders, and they intend to have sidewalks placed before every property in that part of the town over which they have jurisdiction. With the exception of some streets where the same are to be widened or otherwise improved the council has instructed Williams & James to put in sidewalks before every property where the owner has refused. Those who imagined that the sidewalk mandate was going to end in smoke will be sadly disappointed, and probably surprised when they find liens filed against them if the charges for doing the work are not paid within thirty days after the job is completed.

Not a Very Bright Future.

In an interview with Assistant District Attorney Henry Fuller, reporter learned that the case against P. J. Ferry and Jacob Fox, ex-tax collectors of Hazle and Foster Townships respectively, would not come up before the court until the term commencing November 9. Mr. Fuller thinks that the evidence in hand, together with what will be developed at the trial, will make a very strong case against the defendants. It has been ascertained that each of them collected taxes from about 150 persons who were not regularly assessed, and in this way they have each taken possession of about $2,500 which did not rightfully belong to them, and makes them liable, upon conviction, to a fine of $100.

The collection of taxes from each unassessed individual creates a separate offense, and if indicted in several cases, and the sentences made cumulative, a heavy fine or a long term in jail are the alternatives that await Messrs. Ferry and Fox in case of conviction. It is not known what line of defense the accused will pursue, but it is probable that they will enter the general plea of not guilty, and then depend on counsel and the jury to take them out of the legal meshes in which they at present seem to be entangled.—Speaker.

THE POLITICAL POT.

Forecast of How the County Tickets Will Look After the Conventions.

This promises to be a year without states. On both sides it is a fact that the old-time leaders and bosses, the men who in the past have set up the states and generally put them through, are not taking an active part. The field is left clear to the candidates and it is probable that it will be so left up to the opening of the convention. There are good reasons for this. The Republican side at least. All the old leaders are vitally interested in securing the return of Hon. George Shonk to Congress next year and they dare not interfere in the ante-convention canvass for fear of offending some who might have it in their power to seriously injure their prospects next year. So they are keeping hands off.

Of course Hon. John Lynch stands alone for the Judgeship. He will be nominated by acclamation and enthusiasm by the convention. There is not a murmur in any quarter against him. He will stand as the standard bearer of a united and enthusiastic party and the result is easy to foresee. He will continue for ten years more to occupy the seat on the bench he has graced so well the past six months.

There are several candidates now in the field for Prothonotary but the chances of some are so small that they can hardly be said to be in it. Harry Reid is hustling around the county in great shape. But Reid's nationality is against him by two men equally strong and his locality too. The same objection answers to William Toole, who would like to be the nominee for Prothonotary. The man who fills all the requirements for this office is J. C. Weigand, of Hazleton, and he is the man who will get it.

For Clerk of the Courts there is a somewhat similar situation. J. J. Brislino, who has had two terms in County Auditor, wants the nomination, but the public has got an idea in its head that two consecutive terms in office should satisfy any man. In this case, too, there is a man who fills all the requirements. It is Lee Stanton, of West Pittston, and he will come into the convention with a mighty following.

If there is any slate at all John Harding is on it for District Attorney, but he is opposed by two men equally strong and equally eligible, and both are making a strenuous fight. They are Colonel T. R. Martin and John M. Garman. Possibly when we consider locality the latter would be the strongest candidate, but any one of the three would make a winner.

James B. Brennan, of Plymouth, is making a great fight for Jury Commissioner. He would make a rattling candidate. He is a stalwart Democrat who has always worked hard for his party. He is all right in every particular, and the convention would make no mistake in nominating him.

Honest Joe McGinty, being on the lookout for the Congressional nomination next year, is taking no hand in this campaign at present. He will be heard from, however, after the convention, and will do great work for the whole ticket.

THE REPUBLICAN CAMP.

War God Norris had a happy little gathering at his home last Thursday. It was a banquet to celebrate his thirty-eighth birthday. There were present a number of the heavy-weight leaders of the Republican party and a sort of political pow-wow resulted. There was not much done, however, for, as indicated above, there are reasons why they dare not take any active part.

It may be said, however, that they are against Dart for Judge, and while they will not go out and make any fight they are quietly throwing out hints to all their friends and followers that it would be an error to nominate Dart and that L. H. Bennett would be the proper man to lead the party this year. It is certain that within the past two weeks Dart's prospects have begun to darken and Bennett has loomed up brightly as the coming candidate.

Practically speaking W. P. James is out of the race for Clerk of the Courts. He has made a splendid official, but realizes the force of the popular objection to third terms in office. He is making no canvass for delegates, and in all probability his name will not be mentioned for the office.

Will Evans, of Pittston, ex-tax receiver of that borough, is the man most likely to make the nomination for Clerk. If he does he will have a nice old time on his hands. The faction fight in Pittston will break out with tenfold force, and his own home will probably give him a black eye.

Schwartz for Prothonotary is now the cry. With James out of the way it is necessary to get some other man from the Hazleton region of the ticket, and Schwartz just seems to fill the bill. He is a German of course, and so the nationality side of the question is all right.

Chris Wren was fast dropping out of sight. He never was much liked either by the leaders or the rank and file of the party. He has never done anything for his party—he is too much for Chris Wren. His chances are slim and growing slimmer.

Squire Montayne, of West Pittston, is poking around for the nomination as Clerk. He had better stay at home. It is said that Ambrose Reese, of Parsons, would like to be Jury Commissioner. It is a cold day when Ambrose is not after something. He is wise to select Jury Commissioner, for that is about the only office he could ever be elected to.

Of course General MacCartney will have the thing all to himself for District Attorney. There may be no opposition in the convention. It will be a bad year for the Republican District Attorney and no one else wants to lead a forlorn hope. The sanguine General, however, has thrown himself into the trench. He has not learned much wisdom by his past experience, and will tackle it again—with the same result.—Newdealer.

COLD WATER MEN.

They Meet and Nominate a County Ticket For the Coming Election.

The prohibitionists of Luzerne County met in convention at Wilkes-Barre on Friday. It was a very harmonious gathering. There were no contested seats between the delegates, as all persons wishing to identify themselves with the movement could act as representatives. Rev. C. A. Spaulding and Rev. J. W. Bedford were the delegates from Freeland. Chairman E. D. Nichols called the convention to order and in his neat speech praised this place as a great prohibition town. George A. Edwards was chosen Chairman, J. A. Dewey Secretary and George A. Pehl Treasurer. The morning session was devoted to singing hymns and registering the delegates, thirty-one in number. Twenty-six of these were elected to represent the county at the State Convention. In the afternoon they got down to business, and after adopting suitable resolutions placed the following ticket in the field: Additional Law Judge, W. W. Lathrop, Scranton; District Attorney, D. O. Conghlin, Luzerne; Prothonotary, Thomas Evans, Freeland; Clerk of the Court, Perry F. Brown, Lake township; Jury Commissioner, John B. Houser, Wilkes-Barre. Mr. Conghlin, candidate for District Attorney, denies all connection with the party and has refused the nomination.

The Lehigh Valley Spreading Out.

It is announced that the Lehigh Valley Railroad is putting its line in the field of Williamsport, and before a year has gone it will have completed a through line to that city. President George L. Sanderson, of the Williamsport and North Branch Railroad, said that the Lehigh Valley had built its Nordmont branch to within eight miles of its road, where a connection will be made via the Williamsport and North Branch and the Reading Railroads.

The Lehigh Valley now runs its trains over its own road as far as Newark. In a year, at least, the Lehigh Valley system will be complete between New York and Lake Erie. From the latter place the road will soon be extended through Canada, paralleling the Grand Trunk, which is noted for its heavy freight traffic. A charter for a long stretch of this road is now being obtained. Connections from there on to the lakes will be a matter of time only.

A Singular Accident.

Friday afternoon Catherine Muldowney, of White Haven, was coming down the Central road with her dog alongside of her. A passenger train came along and whistled, and Mrs. Muldowney stepped off the track, but the dog did not. The engine struck the dog and hurled it against Mrs. Muldowney with force to break her arm. She was brought to the station here, where Dr. Snyder attended her. The injury is a painful one, and quite serious for an aged woman.—Journal.

List of Coming Amusements.

Picnic of Young Men of Drifton, Drifton Park, August 29.
Picnic of Scale Siding Base Ball Club, Campbell's Grove, Sandy Valley, August 29.
Ball of Garibaldi Political Society, Opera House, September 18.
Picnic of Tigers Athletic Association, Firemen's Park, September 19.

Card of Thanks.

The Freeland Citizens' Hose Co. tenders to the public its sincere thanks for making the recent excursion such a success, and also to all who so liberally assisted on the grounds, especially to the following young ladies for their work at the stands: Misses Mamie Wilson, Ellen Scott, Susie Sweeney and Mary Murrin. COMMITTEE.

To Our Subscribers.

The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since, announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosburgh N. Y., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address to B. J. Kendall Co. (and enclosing a two-cent stamp for periodical postage) is renewed for a limited period. We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To every lover of the horse it is indispensable, as it treats in a simple manner all the diseases which afflict this noble animal. Its phenomenal sale throughout the United States and Canada, make it standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for "Treatise."

Restriction of the Order of the Day.

The anthracite coal trade cannot be said to yet show any change, although as the summer advances the feeling becomes hopeful. The companies are rigidly adhering to the reduced August output, and three weeks of the month under the restricted rule of work are estimated to have produced not quite 2,300,000 tons, so that the four weeks will probably approximate the 3,000,000 tons output ordered. Yet the excess output over last year is still more than 2,800,000 tons, and the companies thus far have mined about 24,000,000 tons for the year. The rigorous restriction of output has been continued for the third week in August, and all the companies are working in complete harmony and good faith. There is scarcely anything to report beyond the evident determination to make a more rigorous restriction in September, when, it is expected, the output for the month will probably be kept down to 2,500,000 tons.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending August 15, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 723,741 tons, compared with 738,363 tons in the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 14,622 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1891 was 23,280,836 tons, compared with 20,435,288 tons for the same period last year, an increase of 2,845,548 tons.—Ledger.

NOTES FROM OTHER TOWNS.

—The corner stone of Lansford Hungarian Church will be laid on Sunday.

—Pittston tailors have been on strike for six months, and many of them are becoming destitute.

—The Democratic Societies of Pennsylvania will hold a convention at Pittsburg on September 30.

—Kingston citizens voted in favor of increasing the borough debt $20,000. The streets will be paved and improved.

—Ten thousand people picnicked at Mountain Park on Tuesday. The proceeds, over $3,000, are for the Scranton Home of the Good Shepherd.

—The Mine Inspectors' Examining Board has recommended the appointment of Edward Rederick, of Stockton, as inspector of the First District.

—Hazleton and Suburban Street Railway Company has been chartered to build a five-mile line. It is not yet decided what route will be pursued.

—The new court house at Pottsville will be dedicated September 3 and the Luzerne Commissioners have been invited to be present at the ceremonies.

—Another evening paper is announced for Wilkes-Barre. Chas. B. Snyder and E. B. Yordy have bought the Kingston Times and will remove the plant to the county seat.

—Gold is said to have been discovered near Shawnee, Monroe County. A company of capitalists is being organized to prospect for the treasure, and will begin operations.

—The Democrats of Schuylkill have nominated the following ticket: Judge, George J. Wadlinger, Pottsville; Sheriff, Joseph Woll, Pottsville; Director of the Poor, Robert Ebling, West Brunswick; Jury Commissioner, James O'Donnell, St. Clair.

—Thomas C. Watkins, secretary of the Gwent Monument Fund, says it is growing and that the amount $2,000 will probably be realized. Every Welshman and lover of music should contribute his mite for a memorial to this gifted old miner song writer.

—Plymouth Coal Company notified its employees that the semi-monthly pay law will not be obeyed by it, but any person wishing to be paid according to the law, says the notice, can have his money when demanded—and no doubt his discharge at the same time.

—Lawyer H. S. Graham, of Nanticoke, has been hauled by a Wayne County posse of farmers from a barn in which he had hidden, being charged with stealing two head of cattle and selling them for $75. The posse turned him over to a constable, and he was locked up.

—The Prohibition State Convention met yesterday. V. W. Hagan, of Scranton, was nominated for Auditor General, and George Drayton, of Media, for State Treasurer. The platform declares for an educational qualification for voters; condemns the Baker Ballot bill, and the Constitutional Convention act.

—John Berkheiser, inside foreman at Nottingham mine, and Thomas Young, inside foreman at Washington mine, Plymouth, were summarily dismissed by Superintendent Lawall on Saturday for accepting bribes from Hungarians and Poles. Native workmen complained that they were discharged and their places given to foreigners, who paid from $5 to $20 for a job.

—The National Camp, P. O. S. of A., is in session at Philadelphia. Thirty-one States are represented by ninety-two delegates. In Pennsylvania there are 48,000 members. Schuylkill County leads with 57 camps and 6,204 members. Berks, 34 camps and 4,379 members and Luzerne third with 36 camps and 3,159 members. The convention yesterday decided against eliminating the word "white" from the constitution. This was inserted last year at Boston and prevents negroes from joining the order.

DEATHS.

FLAIL.—At Freeland, August 21, Barbara Flail, aged 69 years and 27 days. Interred at St. Ann's Cemetery on Monday. Albert, undertaker.

RIDGEMAN.—At Sandy Run, August 23, Anna C. Reighn, aged 2 months and 25 days. Interred at Eckley Cemetery on Tuesday. Albert, undertaker.

ECKLEY NOTES.

Miss Mary Muloney is visiting Lattimer friends.

John Coleman spent Sunday with the fair sex of White Haven.

Michael Boyle has removed his family from Eckley to Frenchtown.

The Never-Say Club will attend the Scale Siding Club's picnic on Saturday evening.

Several of our young men are becoming experts in the line of singing, and they can be heard daily rehearsing the latest songs.

Mrs. Hugh Tolan, of Wilkes-Barre, was among the visitors here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McAuley, of Silver Brook, spent Sunday with friends at this place.

Eckley, like other mining towns, is suffering from the general exodus of its girls to Philadelphia and other cities. The coal regions, once such a pleasant place to reside, are becoming unbearable, owing to the cheap labor element which is increasing annually, and the girls are deserting us as fast as possible. We hope, however, that you will visit us occasionally, ladies.

Miss Annie Cannon, who has been lying ill here, left for her home at Wilkes-Barre on Saturday.

The All Wool Club went to Sandy Valley to play ball on Sunday, but the unfavorable weather caused the game to be postponed. Their battery is Davis and Logan, two of our handsome young men. Snow Boy.

FARM FOR SALE.—A farm containing 76 acres of good land, a two-story dwelling, barn, outbuildings, spring house and good water one mile from Dornance Centre, in Dornance Township, Luzerne County. For particulars apply on the premises. Wm. Krol, proprietor.

PRIVATE SALE.—A horse, wagon, harness, sleigh and a quantity of butchering tools offered for sale at reasonable figures, as I am about to leave this part of the country. Any of the articles can be seen by calling at my residence. Mrs. D. Lorenz (Chas. Cummins house), South Heberton.
