Free Delivery for Small Towns.

Postmaster General Wanamaker has definitely in mind to present to the next Congress a scheme by which, when a given sum is asked for, for free delivery in any community, the sum being calculated on the area to be served, the population and other such items. It is almost a certainty that a sum almost if not quiet as large will be added to the net earnings of the office in question. Even if the free delivery does not quite pay for itself, it is likely that the Postmaster General will ask Congress to consider the question whether the rural districts of the country may not properly expect this slight contribution to their postal facilities where in so many quarters they have up to the present time been considered so limited. It is already an established fact that the increased revenue in those offices where the free delivery experiment is on trial almost pays for the increased expenditure, and it is hoped by judicious management that in the average the experiment will entirely pay for itself, as some of the offices more than do that.

In Trouble Again.

Father Mathias De M. Yodyzsus, a former pastor of St. Kasimer's Polish Church at this place, is still making trouble for himself and other people. After leaving here he was stationed at St. George's Lithuanian Church, Williamsburg, but was suspended a few months ago by Bishop Loughlin, of Brooklyn. He remained around Williamsburg, and last Thursday night, after a somewhat too free indulgence in drink, he broke open a house that he owns and demanded the rent. His form of procedure frightened the family and an officer was summoned. Father Yodyzsus, who is a large strong man, attacked the officer, but a solid blow with a night stick put him under partial control, and a pair of handcuffs finished the dangerous part of the work of subduing the turbulent priest, who was taken to the station house. When his case was called in the Police Court next morning he sent a physician's certificate saying he was too ill to attend, and the case was adjourned.

The coal trade is hopeful, but as yet not much quickening of business is discernible. The companies are getting into position to move the large tonnage anticipated for the autumn, and the present intention is to mine for September at the rate of 3,000,000 tons for the month, although this amount may be increased at another meeting of the presidents, to be held about the middle of the month, should the improved outlook of the trade be thought to then warrantit.

look of the trade be thought to then warrant it.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending August 29, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 752,123 tons, compared with 825,295 tons in the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 71,136 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1891 was 24,746,730 tons, compared with 21,967,685 tons for the same period last year, an increase of 2,779,045 tons.—Ledger.

mell and Miss Mame McDonald left this morning to attend school, the two former at Villanoya College and the latter at Scranton.

A Missing Woman.

An elderly lady purchased a ticket Monday evening at the Church Street depot for Newport. She took the 6.15 train and at Penn Haven changed cars. Being under the influence of liquor, the train hands at Penn Haven led her to the waiting room. Not long afterwards the station agent missed her. Going to the outhouse he discovered a bundle and upon investigation found marks on the wall which indicated that she had fallen into the Black Creek, which runs under the building.

The creek is twenty feet deep at this place, and joins the Lehigh River close by. Men have since been engaged in dredging the creek and river, but without any success.

She was about 5 feet, 2 inches tall, looked to be 50 years of age, wore a black dress, brown shawl, and a small bonnet. The woman's name is Mrs. Kate Downs, widow of the late John Downs, of Ebervale.

Two places were named for next year's demonstration, and Mahanoy City was successful over Schuylkill Haven by a vote of 24 to 18.

After the Saloon Men.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company is evidently in earnest in endeavoring to prohibit the sale of liquor in Lansford. There are twelve licensed houses in the place. Four of the proprietors have agreed to quit the business in compliance with the company's recent notice. The company's attorney instituted suits of ejectment against the other eight, and the sheriff has served the writs. The company's action is based on a clause in the title deed for each to in Lansford, prohibiting the sale of liquor on the premises, and stipulating title if this clause is violated the property shall rerest back to the company.

A very exciting game was played at the park on Monday between the home club and Jeaneaville. The contest terminated abruptly in Freeland's ninth inning by Jeanesville's refusal to continue the play, they claiming that the unpure was not giving them a square deal. There was no one out when the trouble began and the score was 13 to 12 in favor of the visitors. Brady took his base on called balls and Welch was at bat. Without any apparent reason Simmons took off his mask, walked over to the grand stand where Manager Haydon was sitting and told him it was useless to continue the game, as they could not get justice. Haydon told him to continue the play and while they were discussing the matter Jeanesville players began leaving the field. Brady, with an eye to business, went around the bases and tied the score. Jeanesville, however, was steadfast in its determination to act dishonorably, and Umpire Bonner declared the game forfeited to Freeland, 9 to 0. From the beginning excitement ran high, the large attendance from the South Side making the admirers of each club about equal in numbers. By their own friends and visitors from other towns the Jeanesville players were denduct, and the boisterous actions of those the same capacity for Jeanesville, and the coisterous actions of those coming throughout the game. The decisions of Mr. Bonner were conceded by all to be impartial, which is far more than can be said of the men who acted in the same capacity for Jeanesville.
