THEY WANT GEN. LILLY.

Fourth District Republicans Support the Operator.

DELEGATES FEEL SORRY BECAUSE PARDEE IS DEAD—RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED THAT ARE LAUGHED AT BY PEOPLE OF BOTH PARTIES.

The Republicans of the Fourth Legislative District met at Hazleton on Monday for the purpose of electing a delegate to the State Convention. H. E. Sweeney, of Drifton, was elected chairman, and W. E. Weigand, of Jeanesville, secretary. The following were delegates from the North Side: John M. Powell, Freeland; George Kugler, Sandy Run; Alfred Widdick, Drifton; Robert Newton, Jeddo, and H. E. Sweeney, Drifton. There were only two candidates nominated, T. D. Jones, of Hazleton, and William S. Leib, of Harleigh. The latter was elected by a vote of 13 to 11. The delegate goes instructed for Harrison.

The committee on resolutions made their report, which was accepted. After commending various Republican officials and paying their respects to Democrats in general the delegates say:

Resolved, That this convention believes that it voices the feelings and the sentiments of the great mass of the Republican voters when it mourns the loss to the State of Ario Pardee, of Hazleton, a man who was essentially of the common people, whose business genius built up and developed this section of the State, whose word was his bond and who added to the glory of Republicanism by a loyal adherence to the principles of that party since its birth.

Resolved, That General William H. Lilly deserves the support of every Republican in his canvass for the nomination as Congressman-at-large.

Resolved, That we view with great concern the action of the coal operators in the anthracite region in disregarding the semi-monthly pay law, and as it is of vital importance that no class of our people shall be permitted to set at defiance the law of the land, as their action would establish a precedent that all good citizens deplore, therefore we urge upon all people interested exact compliance with the two weeks' bill as a measure of justice due the working men.

The first two paragraphs show what a corporation slave the Republican party of this district is, and the weak attempt in the last to throw a bone to the laboring element is an insult to workingmen. All they care about the semi-monthly pay is not worth mentioning. If they were in earnest and in sympathy with the resolution on that subject they could not lend their aid to the Congressional aspirations of General Lilly, who is one of the violators of that law. But a Republican set of resolutions is never intended to be taken seriously and the delegates had to continue the usual custom of making a laughing stock of themselves by adopting such inconsistent nonsense. Their splutterings over dead and living coal operators is too ridiculous for anything.

The other districts of the county elected the following men to go to Harrisburg: First, Hon. Morgan B. Williams and Arnold Bertels, of Wilkes-Barre; second, E. A. Coray, of Pittston, and Crawford Harvey, of Harveyville; third, R. H. Meyer, of Nanticoke, and Evan R. Morgan, of Plymouth; fifth, W. B. Evans, of Pittston; sixth, Dr. R. B. Brundage, of Conyngham.

The Republican County Convention was held at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday to elect two delegates to the National Republican Convention. There were four nominations, W. J. Scott, Hon. George W. Shonk, Hon. M. B. Hughes and C. J. Barrett. Mr. Shonk was elected by acclamation. The vote for the second delegate was: Scott, 85; Barrett, 29; Hughes, 20. Isaac P. Hand was elected substitute to Mr. Shonk and Wm. F. Adams, of Beaver Brook, to Mr. Scott.

President Harrison was indorsed and the delegates were instructed for him. Matt Quay was commended and Congressman Shonk's course in Congress was approved.

In Memory of a Welsh Composer.

A meeting of prominent Philadelphians was held in that city the other evening to arrange for the holding of a festival, the proceeds thereof to be a part subscription towards the erection of the monument in memory of the celebrated Welsh musical composer, Gwilym Gwent, whose real name was William A. Williams. The movement is well under way in the Wyoming Valley, where the monument is to be erected, and the projectors have assurances of support from all sections of the country.

The history of this man, famed as a composer of glees and songs that have achieved widespread popularity, is of interest. Born in Tredegar, Monmouthshire, in Southern Wales, July, 1835, at a youthful age he disclosed a marked taste for music, evidenced by he composition of songs. As he grew in years his ability asserted itself, and to such a degree that his countrymen were quick to recognize his talents. His songs and other compositions were eagerly sought after and given public representation, with successful results.

Determined to come to this country, Mr. Gwent quitted Wales and arrived at Philadelphia on July 3, 1872, repairing to Wilkes-Barre, and taking up his residence there. Here again he became distinguished by new compositions, rapidly succeeding each other. Among his best known works are "The Brook," "The Summer" and "The Bells," all remarkable in their line, and given at more than a few eisteddfods. At a celebration of this character given in Philadelphia during the Centennial, "The Summer" was sung by chorus of 1500.

Gwent continued to reside at Wilkes-Barre, whence his fame spread abroad, and where the people honored him. In 1876, however, he took up his abode at Plymouth, and, besides composing, directed several orchestras in the performance of his own music, which he arranged for string and brass instruments. He died there on July 3, 1891, much lamented. His remains were buried at Wilkes-Barre.

What will undoubtedly add to the extensive reputation of the late Mr. Gwent will be the production of several of his compositions at the World's Fair, in 1893. These will be given in competition, and it is announced that from $30,000 to $40,000 will be distributed in prizes.

Observe the Fish Laws.

All persons desiring to promote the increase of fish in this locality, will bear in mind that it is important that the laws providing for a close season will be strictly observed, so that the fish may have time to spawn, and thus provide for continuance of the natural supply, without which the waters will soon become depleted. It is also well to bear in mind that there is an association here that will punish as severely as possible any person found violating the fish laws.

Fishing with nets and set lines is positively prohibited by the laws of the State. Penalty $100, with forfeiture of nets, boats, etc. Fish weirs and fish baskets are prohibited. Penalty $50 for first offence and $00 for second offence.

The catching of black bass and wall-eyed pike under six inches, and trout and rock bass under five inches in length, is prohibited. Penalty $10 for each fish. The keeping of Penobscot salmon under three pounds weight is also prohibited. Penalty $50.

Trout fishing is allowed only between April 15 to July 15, except in Pike county, where the season is from May 1 to August 1. Penalty $10 for each trout taken out of season.

Black bass fishing is allowed only between May 30 and January 1. Penalty $10 for each fish taken out of season.

Rock bass same close season as black bass.

Wall-eyed pike (pike perch or Susquehanna salmon) same close season as black bass.

Fish wardens, constables or any other officer of the State, are authorized to arrest without warrant, any person violating any of the fish laws. One-half of the penalty goes to the informer.

To the Supreme Court.

A lengthy opinion was filed on Tuesday in the case of Doolittle vs. County Treasurer McGroarty, it being on the question of whether the liquor dealers of Hazleton shall pay $500 for their liquor licenses or $150, it being in fact a question as to Hazleton being a city or a borough. Judges Lynch and Woodward contend that it is a city, deciding that the letters patent having been signed on December 9, 1891, the borough at once became a city, and the liquor dealers will have to pay $500. Judge Rice disagrees on that point, however, and in a still more lengthy opinion he decides that the liquor men should pay only $150. He argues that the charter of the borough, according to a reservation of the State laws, runs out on the first Monday in April succeeding the third Tuesday in February, on which city officials are elected and consequently Hazleton is not a city until the officials elected take their seats. Judge Rice being in the minority, Attorney G. L. Halsey acting for Do little will take the case to the Supreme Court, and a book is already being prepared.

The Latest Swindle.

Here is another very clever swindle which is being practiced by sharpers all over the country. A man puts in an appearance, seeks the proprietor of the store, and informs him that he is seeking for rare coins, passing him a list of specimens and their alleged value. He also asks the interested proprietors to keep an eye out, and should he get hold of any keep them for him. Soon after another party strolls around, buys a cigar or some other article, and exhibits a number of coins with the remark that they are pocket pieces. On consulting his list the proprietor finds they are marked $45 each. Here he will see an opportunity for speculation, and after dickering, the second party sells him the pieces. Of course, number one never shows up, and the coins are worth no more than their face value. This is now being worked all over the State.

Three New Doctors.

Three new doctors were given certificates by the Prothonotary this week. They were:

John Harvey Bowman, born in Mifflinville, and who now resides in Hazleton. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania on May 1, 1888, and has the degrees of M. D. and B. S.

Henry G. Crease, born in Barrie Canada, and residing in Drifton. He has the degree of M. D. from Jefferson College, dated April 20, 1890.

The last was Adam S. McKnight, born in Manayunk, and residing in Freeland. He also graduated from Jefferson on April 14, 1888.

A COAL KING DEAD.

Ario Pardee Passes Away Suddenly in Florida.

THE HEAD OF ONE OF THE LARGEST FIRMS IN THE ANTHRACITE REGION IS LAID AT REST—BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Ario Pardee, Hazleton's great coal operator and banker, died on Saturday at Rock Lodge, Florida, at the age of 81. He was one of the pioneers of the anthracite region, and had amassed several millions as a coal operator. He was also largely interested in the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Mr. Pardee was born in Chatham, N. Y., November 19, 1810. He received a common school education and then turned his attention to engineering. His first work was on the construction of the Delaware and Raritan Canal, in New Jersey, during 1830-33, after which he came to Pennsylvania and had charge of an engineering corps running the line for the Beaver Meadow Railroad. In 1836 he began the Hazleton Railroad, and, settling there in 1840, opened coal mines which proved exceedingly valuable. In 1848 he built a gravity railroad to Penn Haven, a distance of 14 miles, as an outlet for the product of these mines, but in 1854 the Lehigh Valley Railroad was opened, which, with its improved facilities, caused the abandonment of the old road in 1860. Subsequently he became interested in iron manufacture, and in 1888 owned blast furnaces at various localities in New York, New Jersey, Virginia and Tennessee.

At the beginning of the civil war, in 1861, he fitted out a military company for the national service at his own expense, with which his eldest son, Ario Pardee, Jr., served, and attained the brevet rank of brigadier general on January 12, 1865. Mr. Pardee became interested in Lafayette College in 1864, and through the influence of William C. Cattell, then President, of the college, he gave $20,000 for the endowment of a professorship. He soon increased his gift, until in 1869 it amounted to $200,000, and upon this basis was first established a new curriculum of scientific and technical studies.

A new building being needed, Mr. Pardee, for this purpose, made a further gift of $250,000, to which he afterwards added $50,000 for its scientific equipment, thus increasing his donations to $500,000. The building was erected and called Pardee Hall in his honor.

Mr. Pardee was a director of several railroads, including the Lehigh Valley, and was president of the State board that has the oversight and control of the second geological survey of Pennsylvania. He was a Presidential elector in 1876.

Ario Pardee was first married to a Miss Bessie Jacobs, of Butler Valley. Her children are General Ario Pardee, Jr., and Calvin Pardee, of Germantown; Alice, who married Erastus Earle, of Philadelphia, and Ella, who died in Paris.

His second wife was Miss Annie Robinson, of Bloomsburg, and her children are Israel Pardee, Stanhope, N. J.; Barton Pardee, Lock Haven; Frank Pardee, Misses Edith and Gertrude Pardee, Hazleton; Mrs. L. S. Allison, Port Carbon, and Mrs. A. S. Van Wickle.

"The Roadway of Life."

As a poet, Sam. W. Boyd, of the Wilkes-Barre Newsdealer, is making a record for himself that is only equalled by his reputation as an editorial writer. His latest song, "The Roadway of Life," is certainly better than many that are palmed off upon the public as something extra by more famous poets. It is set to a pretty and popular air by Ed. C. Soley, and will be sung in Dan Hart's new play, "Underground," which opens next August in New York. "I'll Be Back Some Day to You" and "The Roadway of Life" are two songs which Mr. Boyd should feel proud of being the author. Below are the words of his latest:

Be good and kind to yourself, my girl,
As you travel the roadway of life;
Its pitfalls and snares you must carefully shun,
Its perils, its crosses and strife.
Remember that sunshine will not always beam
O'er your pathway, but do not forget
That after all trials and troubles have ceased
There is happiness still to be met.

CHORUS.

Then keep up your heart and your courage, my dear,
Old Time will right all things, don't fret;
The bright sun will shine after clouds pass away,
And bring you sweet happiness yet.

Be good and kind to yourself, my girl,
Let your voice and your temper be sweet;
Have a kind word for all whom you meet on the way,
And a smile for all friends that you greet.
Many things will, no doubt, cause you sorrow and pain,
In your journey through life, but don't fret;
Let your heart be assured that behind the dark clouds
You'll find sunshine and happiness yet.

Be good and kind to yourself, my girl,
Keep your heart pure and free from alloy;
Make the most of the innocent pleasures of life,
And avoid all the cares that annoy.
Bright youth, with its gladness, will flourish
And old Time write his wrinkles, don't fret;
But the love and bright pleasure of sunny old age
Will be yours with sweet happiness yet.

An Elopement Fad.

An elopement epidemic has broken out in Scranton, beginning about ten days ago. It has continued up to the present, during which time five prominent couples have disappeared in the night, four of them going to Binghamton, the other seeking a marrying clergyman in New York City. The first to go were Adelbert Houck and Mary Penry, who were wedded in Binghamton. A startling development followed the announcement of this marriage. When too late, Miss Penry learned that Houck had two other wives living, and the unfortunate girl returned to Scranton broken-hearted.

John Perry and Lettie Teets were the next to hie themselves at Binghamton. Perry was a well-known young business man and she was a clerk in a dry goods establishment. She was very young and her father died only two months ago, her mother objected to an early marriage and the young couple took the matter into their own hands.

Then Robert Robinson, son of a wealthy brewer, eloped with Maggie Haag, and they were united in the Parlor City. They were well received upon their return and are living happy now.

Thomas P. Duffy and Emily Armbrust, who had contracted a passion for each other, which her mother opposed, next thought to keep in fashion, so they went to New York to get the ceremony performed. They have not yet returned and are still unforgiven. Both are members of families prominent in the business community.

Tuesday morning the announcement was made that Will N. Smith and Laura Reese had eloped to Binghamton and were married, and there has been a storm in the Reese household since that day. Scranton clergymen and Scranton mothers are protesting vigorously against this disastrous elopement fad.

Game Club Meeting.

A special meeting of the Upper Lehigh and Freeland Game and Fish Protective Club was held Monday evening in the Young Men's Hall. The meeting was largely attended by hunters and fishermen of Freeland, Upper Lehigh, Eckley and South Heberton. It was unanimously agreed by all present to keep their hunting dogs out of the woods during the months of April, May, June and July, and we respectfully ask all hunters and persons keeping dogs to have them chained during these months, as dogs running on the hunting grounds when the game is young destroy a great number. The directors reported having killed 15 weasels during the month. A bill of $3 was ordered paid for weasel scalps killed on the hunting grounds by Samuel Miller, Dominick Broskoskie, James O'Donnell and Joseph Gallagher. Hugh Malloy reported that 20,000 brook trout fry would arrive on the 9 15 train on Saturday morning, April 2, and it was decided to plant them in the Oley and Nescopeck streams. It was also agreed to pay $10 to any person giving information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons killing, or having in their possession after being killed any brook trout before April 15 or after July 15. The directors of the club were instructed to invite the Hazleton hunters and fishermen to co-operate with the Upper Lehigh and Freeland Club to protect and stock game and fish. The next meeting of the club will be held in the Young Men's Hall on Tuesday, April 5, at 7.30 P. M. All hunters are invited to attend.

HUGH MALLOY, JOS. GALLAGHER,
President pro tem. Secretary.

Meeting of the Military Company.

The Freeland Military Company will meet this evening at Donop's Hall at 7.30 o'clock. Every person whose name is on the list of membership is requested by the captain to be present. Those failing to attend the meeting this evening will be cut off the roll, and all vacancies will be immediately filled by persons who are willing to become active members of the company. All who wish to retain their membership and persons wishing to join must be present to-night.

Squire Coyle in Politics.

John J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City, formerly of Freeland, is making an active canvas for the Republican nominaton of Representative from the First District of Schuylkill. Mr. Coyle is an active worker for his party, and as he has the support of the leaders he will no doubt be nominated. While his many friends here would prefer to see him on the right side of the political fence, yet the Squire has their best wishes for success.

Changes in the P. & R. Time Table.

The Philadelphia & Reading Company will change its time table on Sunday next. The changes will effect the entire system, including all leased lines. It is probable that a number of trains will be taken off the Central and Lehigh Valley roads. These changes, it is said, will be pretty general, and many of the crews who are now making short trips are likely to have their runs extended.

At Libor Winter's Restaurant.

Libor Winter has recently received a fine lot of wines of different assortment, also some genuine French Cognac (grape brandy), anchor rye whisky and Holland gin, which will be served at the bar. Good, fresh Hazleton beer always on tap. A good, free lunch right along; also other lunches, hot or cold. Oysters served in all styles.

May Locate in California.

Mrs. Lew Hoffman, of Freeland, spent last week with relatives in Carbon County, prior to her leaving for California to join her husband, who left in December to travel through the west for his health. If they find California to their taste they will make it their future home.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Preparations Made for a Successful Base Ball Season.

FREELAND TO HAVE THE BEST CLUB THE TOWN AND REGION CAN PRODUCE—ENCOURAGING RESPONSE TO THE FIRST APPEAL.

The Freeland Base Ball Association has organized for the coming season, and preparations are under way to place before the public this summer the strongest team that can be gathered together in the region. Work will be commenced at once upon the park in the way of repairing the fence, grand stand, etc., and clearing off the ground. A committee was selected to call upon the business men and citizens of town for contributions, and the appeal has been met everywhere with favor and encouragement. Although the town has not yet been wholly canvassed the money received already indicates that the public is with the association in the effort to keep alive the national game. The soliciting committee states they were cordially welcomed by all upon whom they have so far called, and the association can have every reason to believe that the public is with them. That this is a sporting town goes without saying, and the people here are determined to have a club that will hold Freeland's time-honored position as the home of the amateur champions of the anthracite coal fields. The soliciting committee is still at work and will call upon those who have not yet been seen. All money donated will be acknowledged through the TRIBUNE. Following are the contributions received:
