KEYES' SUDDEN DEATH.

The Ball Player Dies at the Miners' Hospital.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN AN ALLEY HE REMAINED IN THAT CONDITION UNTIL HE EXPIRED—THE JURY'S VERDICT.

Samuel Keyes, of Pittsburg, who came to Jeaneville last spring to play ball with the club at that place, died at the Hazleton Miners' Hospital on Monday afternoon. Last week he resigned his position at Jeaneville and came here on Friday, intending to catch for the Free Club in Sunday's game. He spent the evening with a number of his friends through town, and when he retired to his room in the Central Hotel he was in good spirits, chatting and laughing with his companions.

About half-past three o'clock Saturday morning he was found lying unconscious in the alley by the side of the hotel by John Carlson, a baker employed by J. B. Laubach. As the body was directly beneath the third-story window of the hotel he occupied it was surmised that he fell out during the night. Physicians were immediately summoned and everything done to revive him without success. All the assistance that his friends could give was cheerfully rendered, and on Saturday evening he was taken to the hospital, where it was thought he could be given treatment that would bring him back to consciousness.

On Sunday and Monday morning his condition remained unchanged, notwithstanding every effort made by the hospital doctors, and on Monday afternoon he began to sink rapidly, expiring at half-past one o'clock. His mother, who had been notified on Saturday of her son's misfortune, came on from Pittsburg, and was at his side when he died.

Deputy Coroner Buckley was requested by Dr. Keller, superintendent of the hospital, to have a post-mortem examination of the body. The jury adjourned until Tuesday morning, when the testimony of seven witnesses was taken at the Central Hotel. From the evidence it was shown that the deceased had probably been on his way to the outhouse in the rear of the building, as he was barefooted and all his outside clothing was removed.

Those who had been in his company before retiring testified he was sober, having drunk only a few glasses of beer during the evening. It was also learned that he was a sufferer from Bright's disease. The jury or coroner could not find any evidence to substantiate the prevailing opinion that he had fallen from the window, neither could they discover anything that would give the affair the appearance of a foul play. A verdict of death was returned, and the body was buried from Bright's disease of the kidneys, superinduced by uremic convulsions.

The remains were taken to Pittsburg on Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Keyes and some of his friends. He was aged about 25 years, and was the only support of his widowed mother.

"Ledger" Coal Report.

The coal trade is unchanged in any material feature. The weekly output of coal continues at the rate of about eight hundred thousand tons, and the markets are absorbing all the coal produced, so that there is no surplus stock accumulating at tidewater shipping points. There is a disposition on the part of some dealers to postpone stocking their yards with coal for the fall and winter trade in hope that prices, if not higher than now, will be no higher. But well informed coal operators and shippers of anthracite are of the opinion that as the season advances prices will strengthen, and that those who neglect to take advantage of the present prices will regret it later in the year.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending June 4, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 780,875 tons, compared with 776,259 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 4619 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year of 1892 is 6,109,775 tons, compared with 14,961,111 tons for the same period in 1891, an increase of 1,148,464.

The New Method of Voting.

The new method of voting is not so difficult as the cumbersome legal phraseology of the act makes it appear, according to an exchange. The voter comes to the guard rail, calls out his name, and if found on the registry list, or if he is otherwise qualified to vote, he is admitted inside the rail. Once within he is handed a ballot and as he receives it the clerk marks opposite his name on the list the letter B. The voter then passes on to the booths, which are not less than four in number. A booth contains a shelf, pen and ink and a printed card of instructions to the voter. The ballot itself varies in size according to the number of persons to be voted for. In case of a presidential election it is about 12x12 inches. The names of the candidates are arranged in columns. All the Republican candidates are arranged in one column under the word "Republican" with the name of the office to be left. All the Democratic candidates are under the word "Democratic." All the Prohibition candidates are under the head "Prohibition." A fourth column of blanks is left, so that if a voter does not wish to vote for any of the candidates whose names are printed, he may write the name of his choice in the blank spaces. Opposite the name of each candidate and opposite the words "Republican," "Democratic," etc., and opposite each of the blank spaces, there is a square blank spot.

The ballot is prepared as follows: In the square to the right of the voter's choice, the name of the candidate is written, and opposite the name of every candi-

Sad and Fatal Ending of a Fishing Excursion.

ROBERT JOHNSON DROWNED IN GRAHAM'S POND ON SATURDAY EVENING—THE BODY RECOVERED AFTER A LONG SEARCH.

A sad case of drowning occurred on Saturday evening at Graham's Pond, in Sandy Valley, by which Robert Johnson, of Johnson Street, lost his life. Edward Brogan, of Adams Street, and the three brothers, Matthew, Isaac and Robert Johnson, went to spend the night fishing. About 8 o'clock Mr. Brogan and Robert secured a boat and rowed out to the middle of the pond. The water there is about twelve feet deep on account of the heavy rain of last week. After fishing while they decided to return to the shore. They went but a short distance when Robert stood up in the boat, causing it to turn on its side and become full of water, after which it began to sink rapidly. Both men stayed in it until it went from under them. Robert seems to have lost all presence of mind when struggling in the water, as Brogan, who was cool and collected, gave him an oar to cling to, but he let it go and sank while Brogan was trying to right the boat.

In this he failed and after a hard struggle he became exhausted and also sank, but by an effort such as only a drowning man can make he succeeded in getting his head above the water and within reach of the oar he had given to Robert a few minutes before. With this he kept afloat until rescued by Matthew and Isaac in another boat. The others immediately instituted a search for the body, but could not find it, and Matthew returned to Freeland for assistance. Grappling irons were taken to the pond and the body was recovered about 11:30 o'clock. The deputy coroner was sent for on Sunday morning, but after he viewed the remains and heard the account of the accident he decided an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Johnson was aged 27 years, 3 months and 8 days, and was interred at Freeland Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. He leaves a wife and one child.

Reception at St. Ann's Church.

The second semi-annual reception of the Daughters of Mary Sodality, which was organized on May 31, 1891, was held at St. Ann's Catholic Church on Sunday evening. The main and side altars of the church were handsomely decorated and illuminated for the occasion, and the audience nearly filled the large edifice. The exercises began with the singing of a hymn by the sodality, after which the applicants, twenty in number, proceeded to the altar railing. The necessary questions being satisfactorily answered the new members recited the act of consecration and after receiving the badges of the society were admitted to the sodality.

Rev. F. P. McNally then delivered an instructive sermon upon the Blessed Virgin, showing why Catholics venerate and pay her homage, and telling how young lives which are placed under her protection may receive through her the trials and grace and assistance from God to guide them properly through the trials and temptations of the world. He also advised all the members of the society to show to others fitting examples by living lives of modesty, piety and humility. The sodality now has a large membership, due to the untiring efforts of the Sisters of Mercy and Father McNally.

Henry McKinley Dead.

Henry McKinley died at New Boston on Friday. He was one of the pioneer miners of the anthracite coal regions. He came to Summit Hill way back in 1836, when coal mining was in its infancy, and there remained for several years, until Fillmore, now Eckley, started up, when he moved his family there. He lived at Eckley for several years, when he went to New Boston to live with his daughter, Mrs. Con. Boyle. Besides Mrs. Boyle and Captain James McKinley, he leaves another son, John, who resides in Freeland. He was 83 years old, and was buried at Eckley Cemetery on Monday afternoon.—Speaker.

Excursion to Glen Onoko.

St. Ann's T. A. B. Pioneer Corps will run its first annual excursion to Glen Onoko on Saturday next. This resort is so well-known that it is unnecessary to comment upon its beauties and the pleasures to be derived from a day spent there. The members have won its industry to make it a success in every respect, and if the day is fine a large crowd will attend. The fare for adults is 80 cents; children, 50 cents. Trains leave Freeland at 7:45 A. M., and returning will leave the Glen at 7 P. M., giving at least ten hours to spend on the grounds. Gillespie's Orchestra will furnish the dancing music.

Assaulted an Editor.

S. W. Boyd, editor and part owner of the Newdealer, was attacked on the Court-House Square Saturday morning and severely beaten by Ex-Burgess Edward Barrett, of Pittston. The quarrel originated in a newspaper controversy between the Newdealer and Scranton Truth, of which Barrett's brother is editor.

Candidate for a High Office.

H. V. Mortimer, Jr., of the Lehigh-ton Advocate, is a candidate for grand sir herald of the Knights of the Golden Eagle of this state. At the state officers are voted for by the members of the different castles Mr. Mortimer will receive a large vote in this and surrounding counties.

Loads of What?

THE A. O. H. Convention.

The thirty-eight annual convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Pennsylvania began at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday. In the morning the 400 delegates, representing every county in the state, attended a special high mass at St. Mary's Church, Father McAndrew being in charge. He spoke briefly of the organization, praising the work it had advocated unity and harmony in the deliberations of the convention. The convention opened with an address of welcome by Mayor Nichols, who said he felt pleased and honored to be the bearer of the message of greeting to such a body of representative Irish-Americans. He extended to the delegates, through the people of Wilkes-Barre, a hearty welcome.

Rev. Father Jordan, of Wilkes-Barre, was then introduced by State Delegate Jackson, who said that never before had the state convention of the A. O. H. been honored by having a priest to deliver the opening address. Father Jordan's address was most stirring. He asked them to persevere in their love for their God, the birthplace of their forefathers and their adopted country.

Rev. Father Phillips, of Plains, then made an eloquent address, arousing great enthusiasm. "I have never met," he said, "in my seventeen years of life as a priest, a body of men belonging to any order or society who are more faithful or more devoted to their cause than the A. O. H. for the cause of the Catholic schools, and said he gloried in being a foreman so true to their religion, their country and their brethren.

A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered the reverend gentlemen and the business of the convention then commenced.

Yesterday was styled general recreation day for the visiting delegates, the societies of Luzerne and Lackawanna Counties giving them a monster picnic at Luzerne Grove, which was pre-eded by a fine parade. From Lackawanna came a large delegation of the order and Luzerne furnished twenty-one members. The seven companies of Hibernian Rifles, Meagher Guards and Co. H of the Ninth Regiment attracted general attention by their splendid marching and flashy uniforms. Nineteen bands and a select drum corps furnished music for the paraders, each of whom, outside the military division, wore a green and gilt badge, trimmed with red, white and blue.

Fire Company Meeting.

The members of the Citizens' Hose Company met in their room last evening. The report of the investigating committee was accepted in reference to candidates. The following were balloted for and elected: Henry George, Harry Keck, John Brennan, James Ferry, D. J. O'Donnell, Andrew Wilson, William Berner, Patrick Welsh, Michael Boyle, Peter Carr, Jr., John Jones and Jas. M. Gallagher. Peter McGietrick was proposed and was referred to the investigating committee.

The resignation of Charles Shepperly, as chief of the fire department, was presented, his reasons being that he had left the borough. The resignation was accepted. The names of James Crawford and B. F. Davis were placed in nomination for chief. Mr. Crawford declined and the name of Mr. Davis will be presented to council at its next meeting for approval by the board of directors.

Wm. Williamson appointed to fill a vacancy on the excursion committee and John Welsh was elected a member of the board of directors. The committee on excursion reported everything working favorable.

Pushing the Industries.

W. J. Eckert has been selected treasurer of the Freeland Electric Light Company and is making his calls upon the stockholders for 10 per cent of their subscriptions. This is being done in order that a charter may be obtained without delay. Mr. Eckert reports that the subscribers are responding promptly to the demand.

M. Zeman, treasurer of the Freeland Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company, is also on the road collecting 10 per cent of the subscriptions of this industry. As the capital stock, $40,000, has been all taken and the members are all anxious to have work commenced it is likely their application for a charter will be made in a short while.

A South Side Walker.

On Saturday Mrs. Sheridan, who keeps a boarding house at Beaver Meadow, performed the feat of walking from that place to town in search of a gent who had left and forgot to his boots bill. While on her way to Upper Lehigh, where she had located him, she fell exhausted at the upper end of Ridge Street. She was kindly taken care of by the residents there and Dr. Murray was sent for. The doctor applied restoratives and when she had recovered sufficiently he gave her a short lecture upon the folly of such pedestrian feats and advised her to return home by train, which she did—minus the board bill or the boarder.

Pennsylvania Crops.

The weather crop bulletin of the Pennsylvania State Weather Service says: The weather during the past week has been much more favorable than that of the preceding two weeks. Some sections of the state were visited by heavy local rains during the first four days and cloudy weather was very general, but the abundance of sunshine has done much to counteract the bad effects of the prolonged wet spell. The wet weather has done considerable damage to the corn crop throughout the state, and in some sections it has rotted in the ground. Much corn will have to be replanted or the land used for buckwheat. Wheat and oats are reported in good condition and an average crop is anticipated. Potatoes are doing well and a large crop is expected. Tobacco planting was done under favorable conditions and some sections report a large acreage. Hay is being cut in some places in the southeastern portion of the state, but is reported as rather below the average in some eastern counties. Strawberries are ripening well and are very abundant. The cherry crop is reported as almost a total failure, owing to heavy rains while the trees were in bloom. Some places report apples to be dropping badly, but the prospects are generally favorable for most kinds of fruit. A continuation of present weather conditions would much improve the crops in all sections.
