POWDERLY ON THE DEAL.

ANOTHER SCATHING LETTER FROM THE MASTER WORKMAN.

Through the "K. of L. Journal" He shows Mow the Bankrupt Reading Is Being Saved-Pennylvania's Dereited Omeials—McLeed Asked for Law.

When the Reading combine wasformed last winter, the argument was put forward that the price of coal would not be advanced. The announcement was made by the promoters of the scheme that the movement was in the interest of economy, and that the cost of production would be cheapened. It would strike the average mortal that when the cost of production is lowered the price of the article produced should also decrease, should not be advanced. Soon affer the price of coal was advanced 25 cents a ton. Every eye was turned toward the retail dealers of the large cities to see what action they would take, and the combiners pointed triumphantly to the inactivity of the retailers, and with a went if the price of coal was advanced 25 cents a ton. Every eye was turned toward the retail dealers of the large cities to see what action they would take, and the combination of the state that no public announcement habeen made by the retail dealers, the price of coal has advanced, and that the poor people who are obliged to purchase coal by the pain is a consequence, each time the consumeration of the coal repriors consumers of coal do not burn the article of fuel as liberally as we do here among the mines. In the large cities where rents are high-yeary way, people are obliged to live on the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh stories of tenement-houses. It is impossible to divide a cent, and as consequence, each time the consumeration of the state and the price of the article was a consequence, each time the consumeration of the state and the price of the article was a consequence, each time the consumeration of the coal regions consumers of coal do not burn the article of the article was a consequence, each time the consumeration of the state of the price of the article was a consequence, each time the consumeration of the state of the co the consumer who buys by the pail must pay at the rate of 90 cents a ton more than before the price of the article was raised. Last week, on the morning of the 20th, the sales agents of the anthracite coal companies made another advance of 25 cents a ton on the price of coal.

Some may ask why the retail dealers did not advance the price of coal last spring when the combination was formed. The warm weather was approaching, the necessity for coal was not so great, the sales were falling off, as they always do at that time of the year, and to run up the price of an article which the people could, just at that time, use sparingly, would not be regarded as a necessary or business-like act. In a few days the weather will begin to cool off and the consumption of coal will intrease, the necessities of the people will demand a greater supply of coal, and through that necessity they will have to pay a higher price for what they use.

Twice since the combination was formed has coal advanced, each time 25 cents. It is now half a dollar higher in price than it was on the day the infamous Reading deal was consumated. Many people in New York will carry coal home, by the pail, at an increase of 2 cents per pail above last year's prices. At the rate of minety pails to the ton, the New York consumer will pay just $1.50 more for every ton of coal consumed during the coming winter.

That is one side of it; the other, as we see it here in the coal regions, is not a bit better. With three coal-breakers standing where one can do the work, the miner and laborer around the mine will work short time as before. Coal also deal was consumated the mine will work short time as before. Coal also deal was consumed the coal mines, and they alone are the coal mines, and

"Equal Rights."

Daniel F. Guinan, of Mahanov City, has commenced the publication of a weekly paper devoted to the single tax theory. It is appropriately named Equal Rights, and there is no reason why it should not prosper in a field like the coal regions, where the curse of land monopoly has had full sway and where the effects of the present tax system are so plainly shown in the enslavement of the people. The doctrine has many advocates and friends in this part of the state, especially in this vicinity, and they will undoubtedly give a hearty welcome to a good, aggressive organ, the columns of which can be entirely devoted to the discussion of the subject. That Mr. Guinan's paper will meet the requirements we are certain, and a continuation of the high standard of reading matter given in the first number will make Equal Rights a powerful ally in spreading the light. It is only 50 cents a year.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

SANDY RUN, September 1.

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—Friday evening, August 26, marked an epoch in Sandy Run politics. The occasion was the firing of the first gun in this presidential campaign in Sandy Run, and that was by the Prohibitionists. The school house had been secured, and at the hour appointed, Rev. L. G. Jordan, of Philadelphia, addressed the vast throng that had assembled to hear this champion of Prohibition espouse his cause. The had been secured, and at the hour appointed, Rev. L. G. Jordan, of Philadelphia, addressed the vast throng that had assembled to hear this champion of Prohibition espouse his cause. The school house was entirely filled, even standing room being at premium, whilst some of the unfortunates who had been shut out, took their stations at the windows as they listened to the orator. For two hours he held them spell-bound and swayed them as he willed. Now the crowd was so intent on his words, the falling of a pin could have been heard. Now they were wild with applause, making the building shake. Never was a more enthusiastic political gathering at Sandy Run. That is the verdict of both friends and enemies of the cause so ably presented. If Sandy Run does not go Prohibition in the fall it certainly will not be the Rev. Mr. Jordan's fault. At the close of the meeting, subscriptions were taken for the Pople, the Frohibition state organ, published at Scranton, at the rate of a ten weeks' subscription for 10 cents, and sixty-three subscribers were secured. Rev. Spaulding, of Freeland; Rev. J. W. Bedford, of White Haven, and E. D. Nichols, Esq., of Wilkes-Barre, the county chairman, are expected to speak at Sandy Run during the campaign.

Two Candidates.

The Repuilican delegates of the fourth legislative district will meet at Hazleton to-day to nominate a candidate for representative. The only aspirant for the honor is Hon. William R. Jeffrey, of Freeland, the present incumbent, and he will be nominated by acclamation. The Republicans intend to make a strong fight to hold the district in their column, and the popularity of their candidate will all them considerably. B. F. Davis will represent Freeland in to-day's convention.

If the Democratic nominee does not want to be snowed under completely he should give a little of his attention to the North Side, and spend less time dabbling in affairs outside the district. A candidate for the legislature is not compelled to attend county conventions and go about lobbying in the interest of aspirants there, in order that men of his own nationality shall be left off the ticket. It was a shrewd little game and was worked successfully, but it did not pass unnoticed last Tuesday.

The annual Labor Day Pienie.

The annual Labor Day pienic will be held at Freeland Public Park this afternoon and evening under the auspices of Local Assembly No. 335, composed of the employes of the Upper Lehigh Coal Company. The pienic will commence at 3 P. M. All kinds of refreshments will be on saie at the park. De-Pierro's orchestra will supply the music, and as this will probably be the last pienic of the season in Freeland it should be well attended.

The committee of the Welsh Baptist church, at Freeland, has decided to publish the following in regard to the proposals received for the building of the church: Mr. L. H. Lentz has given the best satisfaction, therefore the committee decided unanimously to give the contract to Mr. Lentz. Thos. E. Davis, W. E. Davis, W. T. Evans, committee.

OBSERVING LABOR DAY Mountain Park's Big Picnic This Afte noon—Other Demonstrations.

The workingmen of Wyoming valley ecided about six months ago to celerate Labor Day at Mountain Park, and ney are doing it with a vengeance this fternoon. The programme consists hiefly of addresses by prominent labor adders on the important topic of the ay—the struggle between capital and bor.

leaders on the important topic of the day—the struggle between capital and labor.

Hugh O'Donnell, who has made himself one of the best known men in America by the prominent part he took in the Homestead strike, is expected to be present and to speak. If he does not come, one or two of his associates will be present Burgess McLuckie and a prominent member of the advisory committee are expected. Gen. James B. Weaver, of Iowa, the People's party candidate for president, will be present and speak, and Grand Master Workman Powderly has also given his assurance that he will attend and speak. Every arrangement has been made by the park committee to accommodate and entertain a large crowd.

Preparations have been made for a great demonstration in Mahanoy City. General Gobin will be grand marshal. A handsome soldiers' monument will be unveiled. Governor Pattison will deliver an address.

At Nanticoke a monument erected to the nemory of Father Mattingly, the first Catholic pastor there, will be unveiled to-day. A parade of all the Catholic societies of that section will be the principal feature.

Labor Day at Centralia is one of the biggest in the town's history. The Legion of honor will have a parade there, in which they expect several hundred Schulykilli county members to participate.

In several other parts there will be Schuylkill county members to participate.

In several other parts there will be demonstrations, but the majority are held by benevolent and secret societies. Labor organizations and laboring men in the antiracite coal regions, outside of the Mountain Park display, are not taking an active part in observing Labor Day. Freeland, however, has still life enough left to hold a good picnic this evening.

Get Registered at Once.

The November election is approaching and you should see that your name is on the list of of voters. You can do this by examining the registry at the places of voting or calling upon the assessor of the district in which you reside, and have your name placed on the list. The assessors are not required to hunt up voters, but only to assess those who make personal application. The borough assessor, G. G. Fritchard, will be at the council room this evening and to-morrow evening, from 5 to 8 o'clock, to place on the registry any names that may have been overlooked.

New Postage Stamps

Next year the discovery of America will be celebrated in every way that particitism can invent. Not only are ve to be furhished with a special issue of half-dollars by the treasury, commemoring the event, but the postofice department has also decided to sell jubilee postage stamps during the year 1893.

Discovery Day.

The 400th anniversaay of the discovery of America by Columbus will be celebrated by the societies connected with St. Ann's Catholic church. The details of the celebration have not yet been arranged, but the committees from the different organizations will soon meet to decide upon the most fitting manner to observe the day.
