ELECTIONS IN MAINE. THE STATE GOES REPUBLICAN BY ABOUT 12,000 PLURALITY.

The Australian Ballot System Was Used

Augusta, Sept. 13.—The state election

Again Declared Unconstitutional.

Augusta, Sept. 13.—The state election for the choice of governor, four congressmen and members of the legislature occurred under the Australian ballot law, and as far as learned everytody appears satisfied with the working of the system. In 1888 the Republicans had a plurality in the state of 18,053 for governor, and in 1890 their plurality was 18,890. Comparison this year will be made with the vote of 1890. From the best evidences that can be obtained Cleaves, Republicans candidate for governor, will have a plurality over Johnson, Democrat, of between 11,000 and 12,000 votes, and a majority over all of from 6,000 to 8,000 votes. In 140 town Cleaves received 27,112, Johnson 22,232, Hussey 455, scattering 631. In 590 Burleigh re ceived 25,503, Thompson, 17,748, Thompson 383 in 1890.

The following dispatch explains itself: 70 Hon. Thompson 383 in 1890.

In Augusta, Cleaves received 1,009, and Johnson 800, against Burleigh 831 and Thompson 323 in 1890.

The following dispatch explains itself:
TO Hon. Thomas H. Carter, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, 518 Fifth avenue, New York:
The total vote will be 12,000 less than in 1888. We elect all four congressmen, carry fourteen of the sixteen counties, have two-thirds of the mombers of the legislature and elect our governor by 11,000 over the Demo. J. H. MANLEY.

The Democrats have not been organized before since 1882, when the Republican plurality was less than 9,000. The greatest Democratic gain so far has been in the city of Augusta, where the Republican plurality of 2,670 in 1888 was reduced to 1,702; Lewiston also showed a Democratic plurality of 250, a gain of 278. The smaller thoms heard from indicate that the Democratic gain in the cities is offset in the country districts.

Freeport showed 122 majority, a gain of 58 Republican votes, and eleven towns in Waldo county, the home of Congressman Milliken, show 211 Republican gain for both state and congressional tickets.

Late advices to Chairman Manley indicated that ex-Speaker Reed's majority over Ingraham will be 2,000.

Judge Morris Nominated Again for Governor by Acclamation.

Hartford, Sept. 14.—The Democratic state convention was called to order in Allyn hall by Clinton B. Davis. Senator John S. Seymour, of Norwalk, was selected as temporary chairman, and Congressman Robert J. Vance, of New Britain, was made temporary chairman. Mr. Vance ande a brief speech, attacking the McKinley bill and the reciprocity features of the Republican policy. The mention of ex-Governor Waller's name in the speech evoked the first outburst of enthusiasm in the convention.

presidential electors met at 11 a. m. today
Teamont temple Chairman of the State presidential electors met at 11 a. m. today in Tremont temple. Chairman of the State Committee Eben S. Draper called the assemblage to order in a brief address, which he urged hard work, the getting out of every vote and the avoidance of the danger from overconfidence. Hon. Charles H. Allen, of Lowell, the defeated candidate for governor last year, was made permanent chairman, and delivered a long address, devoted mainly to an attack upon the principles enunciated by the Democrats at Chicago, particularly with reference to the tariff and silver, and to the conduct of that party when in power.

Lieutenant Governor William H. Hale, of Springfield, was then nominated for governor by acclamation.

STRIKE TALK OVER

Trouble, So He Backs Down.

'No strike on the Reading system' are the words that flashed overthe wires at the end of the conference between the railroad officials and the committee from the men on Tuesday afternoon. The difficulty, it is stated, has been arranged annicably, and all danger of a tie-up on the road has been averted for the present. Twenty-five committeemen, with Chief Arthur as spokesman, conferred with President McLeod and General Manager Sweigert. When it was explained that Engineer William Schaeffer, who was discharged for belonging to the Brotherhood, had not signed a contract to renounce labor organizations, President McLeod ordered that he be re-instated.

to renounce labor organizations, President McLeod ordered that he be re-instated.

Engineers John Bowman and William Grakelam, of the same line, however, will not be re-instated, for they violated the signed agreement with the company when they joined an organization. President McLeod assured the employes of the leased lines that they would not be disturbed and that they would not be disturbed and that their membership in the Reading Relief Association will be optional with the present employes and they can join what labor organizations they please. The main line and new employes, however, must abide by the old rules.

The committee was surprised and astonished at the sweet words that dropped from McLeod's lips. They expected to have a lengthy conference, and some were even prepared to be ordered out of his office, for they had heard of the president's hatred of labor unions and his desire to advance the growth of the company's pet, the Reading Relief Association. When he granted almost every concession and deviation from the rules asked by the committeemen, they thought he might have experienced a change of heart, but the impression is growing since that the wily chief of the Reading was laying a pretty trap to throw them off their guard. He is not yet allow the cope with the labor unions on the leased lines, and by feigning friendship or even tolerance he can pursue without suspicion his scheme to crush them out.

By dropping the leaders one by one of the contract of the contract one of the presence and fillier, their

"One of the Finest," which will be at the opera house here to-merrow evening, has proven itself really properly named, and is one of the best comedy dramas on the road. The dialogue is bright and sparkling, the situations particularly telling, and the dramatist has woven together a story that is attractive from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The scenic effects are unusually elaborate and effective, every inch of scenery used being carried specially by the company. The Central park and the pier scenes merit special mention. The mammoth tank is certainly a strong feature; gondola boats, swan floats, tug boats, ferry boats, etc., cross and recross the stage with their loads of merry passengers, while a score or more of urchins disport themselves in the miniature river. Manager Hassan brings with him a very strong and evenly balanced company, and the entire cast can truthfully be said to be a good one. The play is replete with pretty music, charming songs, new dances, and all sorts of good and pleasing things, and indications point to a very large business being done here by this organization.

A special panel of jurors will have to be made before the next jury is drawn as the wheel is now nearly empty. At the begining of the year 1,700 names were placed in the wheel and of these 1,650 have been drawn and about fifteen dropped on account of death or non-resi-dency in the county, thus leaving in the wheel but thirty names. It will be necessary to draw two juries

It will be necessary to draw two juries for two weeks of common pleas court in November and more names will have to be placed in the wheel.

Ninety-six jurors are required by the balance of the year and it is probable that at least seventy-five more names will be required before any juries are drawn.

No gas was ever known there before, and probably only found entrance through a crack in rock from the mines below. NEW YORK'S REAPPORTIONMENT.

It Is Again beclared Unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

BUFFALO, Sept. 14.—The general term of the supreme court handed down a decision affirming the opinion of Judge Rumsey, in which the assembly apportionment made by the last legislature was declared unconstitutional. Judge Macomber wrote a long dissenting opinion. Judges Lewis and Dwight each wrote opinions affirming the opinion of Judge Rumsey. All three judges are Republicans.

The majority opinion covers nearly the same ground as that of Judge Rumsey. Among other things, Judge Lewis holds that as the apportionment was made by the same session of the legislature that made the enumeration the apportionment was clearly in violation of the constitution.

The provisions of that instrument with reference to this matter are held to be mandatory and not advisory.

If, therefore, the extraordinary session of last winter had no power to make an apportionment no other extraordinary session of the present legislature can make a valid one. Unless this majority opinion is set aside by the court of appeals it will prevent the present legislature from being called in extraordinary session between now and election to make still another apportionment.

Gallagher's Work Unsuccessful.

Constable Denis Gallagher, of Wilkes-Barre, who spent a considerable portion of his time in this vicinity recently, was not so successful as he boasted he would be in having alleged violaters of the liquor laws punished. When the cases of those whom he had arrested came before the grand jury last week that body could not see, according to the evidence furnished by T. H. Madden, through Gallagher, where the law had been violated, and the result was that every one of the bills against them was ignored. The following are the parties whom Gallagher had lodged information against: George Molinky, Mike Chivama, Mike Gilda, Andrew Hudock, Emily Hudock, Mike Kleits, Peter Moggonia, Joe Solenski, Mike Pstruchna, Mike Postania, and John Shigo.

Last evening a large number of invited guests assembled at the Cottage Hotel hall, where a grand reception was given in honor of Lincoln Cunningham, of Michigan, who is here visiting the members of his family and his many friends. The committee who had the party in charge made it one of the most enjoyable and best arranged affairs that has been held in Freeland for some time, a fact which was not overlooked by those present. Shortly after 8 o'clock DePierro's orchestra began rendering its choice selections, to which the guests responded with a will until all were satisfied. The Features of the Play.

The scenic effects used in "One of the Finest," with its blaze of calcium lights, a genuine rain burst of water, the realistic thunder storm, with its many weird effects, together with the mammoth ship trying to make the harbor during the storm, and the great pier scene, with the "revels of the wharf rats," are alone more than worth the price of admission. DePierro's orchestra has also been engaged for the evening by the manager, and the andience will be treated to several choice selections between the acts.

A drunken and profane blackguard, who sought to bulldoze a free ride from White Haven to Hazleton, on Conductor Lawall's train, was taught a well deserved lesson on Monday, says the Plain Speaker. When Mr. Lawall, after leaving White Haven, asked for a ticket, he insisted that he had paid his fare to the conductor on the main line train, stating that he gave him a dollar. When it was explained to him that this sum was the exact fare, plus ten cents excess, from Wilkes-Barre to White Haven and he was asked to show his excess slip so that it could be clearly proved to him, he became very abusive and disgustingly profane.
