C. T. A. U. MEN IN LINE. THEY WILL PARADE AT HAZLETON

ON MONDAY. Day by the Temperance Societies of the First District of the Scranton Union

-Parades at Kingston and Archbald.

Father Mathew Day, October 10, will be observed by the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of the Scranton Diocese. Previous to 1888 the union held an annual parade at one place, but since the Mud Run accident, by which the lives of many of the excursionists were lost, the diocese has been divided into three districts. This year the first, composed of the societies of Luzerne county south from White Haven, will parade at Hazleton; the second at Kingston, and the third, composed of Lackawanna county societies, at Archbald.

The following is the order of parade at Hazleton on Monday:

Marshal—H. B. Conahan, Hazleton.
Aids—Patrick McLaughlin, Freeland;
John E. Shearon, Eckley.

Reversed by the Supreme Court.

A despatch from Pittsburg states that the supreme court has reversed the decision of the Northampton county court in the Herstine case. George Herstine, of Bethlehem, while sitting in a Lehigh Valley car, waiting for the train to start, was joited, and claims that by the jar he sustained injuries to the muscles of his back.

He sued the Lehigh Valley Company for $50,000, and was awarded $19,800. A motion for a new trial was made, and Judge Schayler, after hearing the argument, said that if the plaintiff would accept $13,000 he would not grant a new trial.

A Successful Play.

Dan L. Hart, of Wilkes-Barre is receiving unlimited praise this week from the dramatic critics of Philadelphia for the great success he has scored with his play, "Underground." Philadelphia for the great success he has soored with his play, "Underground." Philadelphians, like everyone else, like something new in the line of the drama, and Mr. Hart has given it to them in this piece.

It is a splendid reproduction of the average miner's life. The scene is laid in the Wyoming Valley, and the upsand downs of a common workman are woven with a skill that does the author credit.

The staging of the play, however, is the principal part, and captures the audience at first sight. The interior of a mine is shown, with the cars ascending and descending. A Famous Case Again.

The first case called before Judge Rice on Monday was the famous suit of Alex. McKelvey, deceased, of Sandy valley, against M. S. Kemmerer & Co., operators of the Sandy Run colliery. This case has already been through the Luzerne county court and the supreme court, but was sent back to the former to be re-tried.

The plaintiff, when the suit began some years ago, alleged that water and refuse from the breaker had run through and ruined his farm, rendering it a loss to the owner. Several other property-owners in Sandy valley have similar complaints and will also sue Kemmerer & Co. if damages are awarded to McKelvey.

Attorneys Hayes and McLean represented the plaintiff, and Attorneys Halsey, Palmer and Troutman looked after the interest of the coal operators. A Jury of view was impaneled, and after the difficulty was explained to them, they were sent to Sandy Run to size up the damages done to the farm and to fix upon the amount, if any, that would make good the loss.

Our little village was stirred up on Mondoy by a bagpiper who was serenading on the streets.

The company bricklayers are busily engaged in repairing the chimneys on the houses here this week.

The road between No. 10 and the D. S. & S. bridge was somewhat lively Sunday evening. Large crowds could be seen wending their way in that direction as if there was a pienic or some other amusement going on. We suppose the young folks were on the catamount chase.

HIGHLAND DOTS.

Young Men's Ball.

The Young Men's T. A. B. Society has all the necessary preparations completed for its fifth annual—ball at the opera house on Monday evening. The committee in charge has left nothing undone which could add enjoyment to this occasion, and as the organization has quite a reputation for conducting successful balls, its many triends may look forward to a pleasant evening at the next. Music will be furnished by Gillespie's orchestra. One of the worst features of our little village, and it is one which could be easily remedied, is the poor post office facilities. Here we must wait until whatever time they see fit to send the mail from Jeddo, or walk to that place for it. Why it can't get here regular and on time we cannot say, but presume it is because the people here are not worth the time and attention it would require to send it. However, we hope for a change in the near future.

Miss Ella Curran, of Beaver Brook, is visiting at the residence of Patrick Murrin.

Miss Macric O'Donnell, who has been Wilkes-Barre Beer Boycotted.

There is a strike against Wilkes-Barre beer in Nanticoke. Saloonkeepers to the number of forty-five have an organization that has for its object the boycotting of Wilkes-Barre beer, until the brewers reduce the price.

The brewers are charged with discriminating against small saloons by giving a rebate to large consumers. The boycotters are selling Pottsville beer now and claim that they will make Stegmaier and the other brewers come down.

There has been a rumor circulated about town that the temperance boys will be compelled to work on the 10 inst., and will not be given an opportunity to parade in Hazleton on that day. If this is true it is something unusual, as these are the most reliable men the company has in its employ. It is to be hoped the the rumor is without foundation,

The Christmas agent called through town yesterday, taking the names of the children. Each will receive a present from Coxe Bros. & Co. on Christmas.

While one of our young hunters was returning from his day's hunt on Saturday evening he had the misfortune to be attacked by a large catamount between the D. S. & S. bridge and Moraine. It would be wise for some of our young men who preambulate that road in the evenings to carry a sixteen-shooter to protect themselves and their lady friends.

Commissioner Smith will be around again before election to deliver to each judge of election in this section the new ballot boxes. Notices will be sent to each judge a few days before Mr. Smith comes, and he wishes to meet them at some convenient place, when full instructions will be given for the erection of the booths, etc.

All Judges are requested to examine the booths, railing, etc., of their district, and if any thing is required to notify the commissioners at once, so it can be attended to on the next trip.

Three pieces of casting belonging to the folding-doors were found in the car which brought the booths here, and they are supposed to belong to some of the Foster districts. Any judge of election who misses these parts in his district is requested to call at the Tannux office, where they were left by the commissioner, and by giving a description of what is missing can obtain them.

Freeland's Twelfth Church.

Ground was broken yesterday for the foundation of the Welsh Baptistchurch. It will be built on Fern street, between Front and Main, a short distance below St. Mary's Greek Catholic church. When completed it will make the twelfth church for Freeland, a pretty good showing for a town of this size.

All of the churches and their congregations are in good condition at present, excepting St. Peter and Paul's Slavonian Lutheran church, which is without a pastor, but services are held by the members regularly.

Eleven of them are located at convenient parts of the town, and one St. Ann's Catholic, is a short distance away. Washington street leads with four, Ridge has three, Fern two and Centre and Birkbeck one each.

Upon request of the general committee on the Columbus Day celebration the school board of Wilkes-Barre decided that appropriate exercises should be held at the schools and that the children should afterward parade and pass in should afterward parade and pass in review before the mayor, city council and prominent men. The latter clause has caused great opposition among the teachers, and
