She Passed Away Peacefully Surrounded by Most of Her Family—The President's Anguish at the Loss of His Devoted Companion—The Scene at the Deathbed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Harrison is dead. The wife of the president sank calmly to sleep in eternity at twenty min-utes to 2 this morning. At midnight Mrs. Harrison was slowly sinking, the change in the previous hour and a half having been greater than at any time. Her respiration had fallen to twelve minute, and the awakenings from the for briefer periods. The president had then been with her an unbroken stretch of seven and a half hours. The end was rapidly approaching, and all the family were in the corridor adjoining the patient's chamber. At lo'clock the members of the family were summoned to the bedside. The pa-tient was in a semiunconscious and mo-tionless condition and there were indications that an immediate dissolution was at hand. The doctor then made a hasty examination and found that the respiration was gradu-ally decreasing and there were other signs that the patient was in the throes of death.

He made an almost inaudible communica-tion to the bereaved ones, using the words, "I don't think she will last half an hour." Dr. Scott, Mrs. Harrison's venerable father, and her brother John were the only members of the family not present when she died.

The result of the product of the second seco

With the great flood of notes and cards came a comforting note from ex-Secretary Blaine and Mrs. Blaine. Queen Victoria sent from her Highland castle this message:

The donate one since the soundy was realized. The donation was made by the presi-dent of the institute, Jas. F. Sweeney, who made a brief but appropriate ad-dress, in which he tendered the sisters the sincere thanks of the members of both societies.

the sincere thanks of the mean of the both societies. Mrs. John D. Hayes, who had been invited to attend the meeting, was then presented by Mr. Sweeney with an ele-gant rocking chair, as an evidence of the members' appreciation of her labors in their behalf. Both presentations were surprises to the recipients, and they offered their thanks as well as could be expected un-der the circumstances.

thanks as well as could be expected un-der the circumstances. An informal programme of singing, instrumental music, etc., was arranged, and for nearly an hour a jovial time was had, after which lemonade, cake and fruit were served by the sisters.

The patent referred to is cleaning the fire itself, pates coal on and keeps water in the boilers. This is the only place it has been tried yet. Misses Mary McCauly and Bridget Haggerty, of this place, left on Tuesday for Philadelphia, where they into to reside for the winter. Quite a number of children at this pl-ice are laid up with the measles. No serious case has yet been reported, ex-cepting the seven-year-old daughter of Frank McGill, Sr., who is lying very low. WATER IS SCARCE. The stuation Becoming Serious in Many Aris of the Coal Region. The scarcity of water continues in all possible loss of time at several colleries and industrial establishments. Unless min soon comes this part of the state will experience one of the work water famines it has ever seen. With the exception of Freefand there is scarcely a town in the region that is not hampered to some extent by the drouth. The supply of the water company here continues good, but people cannot be too careful of how they use it, or we will and ourselves in the same prediciment is the people of other places, trying to live on a bucket or two a day. The Newsdealer yesterday called atten-tion to some spots on the record of Mr. Foster that show him to be a sort of a Jekyl and Hyde. It makes him wince, as all rascals do when they are discover-ed, but they are true and he cannot at this late day wipe out the stain. Another black spot more damnable than the resits his baseness and treach-ery toward Hon. George W. Shonk when that gentleman was the candidate for congress of his party in this district. Not only was Foster personally against Shonk's election and voted against him, but it also can be proved that he en-deavored to enlist Republican voters for money to vote against him at the poll. There is no Republican politician in Luzerne that is so highly thought of as shonk, and both he and his friends are well aware of the treachery Foster mani-fested toward him and they are not hu-man if they no not resent it on Novem-ber 8. The old timber which is sent out of the mines and is dumped down the bank along the locie track from No. 3 slope to the breaker, was gathered in heaps and set on fire early this week. The fires were too close to the railroad bank and it ignited. Since then pumps are being used throwing a stream of water on it night and day, and it will likely be put out before any serious damage is done.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY.

Mass Meeting of the Citizens of Freeland and the North Side.

The Democrats of Freeland and sur-ounding towns will hold a large and The Democrats of Freeland and sur-rounding towns will hold a large and enthusiastic mass meeting at the Free-land opera house on Saturday evening. Every voter, no matter what his political belief may be, should attend, and he will be well rewarded by the addresses. The speakers of the evening will be John T. Lenahan, Esq., of Wilkes-Barre; District Attorney John M. Gar-man, of Nanticoke; County Treasurer John S. McGroarty, of Wilkes-Barre, and Ex-Senator Eckley B. Coxe, of Drifton.

and Ex-Senator Eckley B. Coxe, of Drifton. If possible Hon. William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, will be secured by the county committee to speak here that evening, but owing to the great demand for this gentleman it cannot be stated positively that he will be present. However, those who will attend can rest assured there will be no lack of talent on the stage, and the vital ques-tions of the day will be handled fairly and thoroughly. The Democrats are not making street parades or shooting off freeworks to divert attention from the issues of the campaign, but they are meeting their opponents with sound, common-sense arguments that can be readily under-stood by every voter.

arguments that can be readily under-stood by every voter. Don't fail to attend this meeting, and bring your friends along. Show by your presence at the opera house that you are a Democrat, and that you are as proud of that fact as you will be after Novem-ber 8, when the greatest victory the party has ever achieved will be won. Music will be furnished during the evening by the St. Patrick's cornet band, which will be present to enliven the meeting.
