TURF TOPICS.

There is a teamster named Driver in Missouri and one named Trotter in Colorado.

G. G. Green, of Woodbury, N. J., has bought Stamboul Prince, by Stamboul, 2:07, dam by Dictator. He is said to have shown 2:16 in California.

Budd Doble says that the people who attend the trotting meetings throughout the country are almost unanimous in favor of the regulation mile track.

The total amount of betting on horse races in France in 1892 was $30,000,000. Of this 2 per cent., or $600,000, went to the government for charitable purposes.

Maud S will be 19 years old next spring. Goldsmith Maid trotted in 2:14 when 17, and trotted three heats in a race when 20 years of age in 2:19, 2:14, 2:17.

Denny Bros., of Ligonier, Pa., are engaged in building a covered track one-third of a mile long, for the purpose of training their colts through the winter months.

M. P. Ketchum writes that the trotting dog Doc has now earned $18,000, and that he refused $12,000 for him at Richmond. He adds, "He simply isn't for sale."

There is likely to be a union of all the trotting associations in Germany, Austria and Italy on the plan of the American grand circuit, so as to do away with clashes on racing dates.

"In speculating on the prospects of the fastest trotter for 1893 do not leave Belle Vara, 2:08 1/2, out, as she is sound and game, and has as much speed as any trotter that has as yet appeared," says a turf prophet.

STAGE GLINTS.

Ralph Delmore has married Gertrude Dawes.

Neil Burgess will take "The County Fair" to England.

Edwin Milton Royle has bought back his play, "Friends," from Manager A. F. Hartz.

May Robison has resigned from the New York Lyceum Theater company and joined Charles Frohman's forces.

Mike Kelly, the baseball player, is a member of Wood and Shepard's "Winging Cards." He blacks up and does a comedy turn with W. C. Cameron.

John L. Sullivan has secured Dr. Bird's tragedy, "The Gladiator," which Edwin Forrest and John McCullough used to play, and will produce the work at no distant day.

Mascagni, the composer, is said to be a domestic model. He is the father of three sons, each of whom was born just previously to the production of each of his father's operas.

Charles Frohman has bought the one act piece, "The Burglar and the Judge," recently produced in London, and will give it at the Standard theater, New York, in February.

It has been published that E. S. Willard's new play, "The Professor's Love Story," is a dramatization from a novel by Barrie. This is not so. The play is an original writing by Barrie from an idea furnished him by Mr. Willard, and the title was fixed upon by Mr. Willard and his manager, A. M. Palmer.

RAILROAD JOTTINGS.

The Roanoke Machine works has received orders to build five engines a month for the Norfolk and Western.

Within the last two years the freight traffic of the Chicago division of the Pennsylvania lines has increased 160 per cent.

The Oklahoma Midland railway, running from Cherokee county, Kan., southwest across Oklahoma and into Texas, has been chartered.

Colonel Horace Hibbard, general freight agent of the Vandalia, recently completed his twenty-seventh year of service with that company.

The Wyoming and Utah, a continuation of the Chicago and Northwest railroad, has been incorporated to build a line from Caspar, Wyo., to Ogden, U. T.

There seems to be no doubt that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas will soon be extended into Austin, and that the arrangements for it are already planned.

The New Jersey court of errors and appeals has decided the South cove water front controversy between Jersey City and the Central railroad in favor of the city. The city recovers property worth $1,000,000 or more.

One of the most valuable railway concessions ever granted by the Mexican government has been obtained by Chopin Bros., who represent a syndicate of United States capitalists. The proposed line is to run from Esperanza to Suchil, in the state of Vera Cruz.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Ten million nerve fibers are said to be found in the human body.

In Sweden and Denmark the parliaments have voted that the office of stenographer shall be filled by women.

A woman in Ohio has a churn which has been in her possession for fifty-five years, and which has made more than $10,000 worth of butter.

Flyies are so pestilential in Siam that every soldier is compelled to assist in reducing their number by catching enough every day to fill a matchbox.

It has been discovered that the Congo river is 1,432 feet deep at its mouth. The mouth of the Mississippi has a depth of 83 feet and the Thames of 40 feet.

An Evanston (Ills.) man claims to have among his collection of curiosities two hairs from Shakespeare's eyebrow. He has an affidavit establishing their authenticity.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

The Original Hut to Be Exhibited at the World's Fair.

Uncle Tom's cabin, the real cypress wood cabin, as the owner alleges, is to be exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair. Its history is thus traced: The people about Natchitoches, La., have long insisted that Robert McAlpin was the original Simon Legree. His house and plantation were the only ones on or near the Red river exactly fitting the description in the book, and he the only man in the state who "filled the bill." He was intemperate and merciless and died before the war, leaving a memory for brutality to his slaves that is even now mentioned with horror.

On his place lived a faithful negro, sold from Kentucky, who suffered everything but actual torture to death, and Mr. S. Chopin, the present wealthy owner of the estate, has preserved the cabin with great care in the confident belief that in time it would be an object of national curiosity.

The cabin is of cypress logs and covered with cypress boards and sound as when built some forty years ago. It is presumed that Mrs. Stowe used the novelist's privilege of combining the experience of several negroes in one, but simply as a relic of the old slave times the cabin will possess great interest.

World's Fair Sculptors.

The list of sculptors employed on the different World's fair buildings includes Daniel C. French, Lorado Taft, Richard W. Bock, Edward Keene, A. Phimister Proctor, M. A. Waagen, Carl Rohlf Smith, Karl Bitter, Philip Martiny, John J. Boyle, F. D. Millet, Robert Kraus, Mrs. E. R. Copp, Mrs. Edward Keene and the Misses Alice L. Rideout, Carrie Brooks, Bessie O. Potter, Zulime Taft and Julia M. Bracken.

Classic Architecture at the Fair Grounds.

The work of the artists on the buildings for the Chicago exposition was necessarily delayed, as most of it had to be done after the structures were completed, but it has made rapid progress under the direction of Mr. Frank D. Millet. This gentleman, by the way, is of original New England Puritan stock, and does not thank anybody for calling him Mil-lay or mixing him up in any way with the noted French artist.

As an illustration, the Agricultural building is here taken. The painted decorations thereon are by Mr. George W. Maynard, of New York, and the Pompeian style has been adopted as most in accord with the architecture, which is classic. The main entrance is like that of an ancient heathen temple. On the right Cybele, mother of Zeus and Demeter (or Ceres, goddess of grain), is presented in her chariot drawn by young lions, and on the left is the latter's protegee, King Triptolemus, to whom she gave a chariot drawn by winged dragons when she sent him forth to teach mankind the art of agriculture. The accompanying illustration is a detail showing Cybele in her chariot.

An Enterprising California Woman.

Mrs. Harriet W. R. Strong, of Whittier, Los Angeles county, Cal., is a woman of great enterprise. At the World's fair she will have two important exhibitions. One will be a "palace" twenty feet square, made entirely of pampas plumes. The other exhibit will consist of a working plan for a new system of irrigation, in which one dam is placed above the other. This will irrigate all of the strange and fruit orchards of the California state exhibit.

Swedish World's Fair Building.

Among the minor structures of the Columbian exposition of 1893 the Swedish building, though small, will be conspicuous. As the plot granted for the purpose was triangular and contains but 17,800 square feet, the building will also be of that shape and cover but 12,000 square feet. The style will be that of the old Swedish cathedral, and the building will consist of a main floor and gallery having a south front of 164 feet, while above the center will rise a tower 200 feet in height. It will be of wood and shipped in pieces from Sweden.

SELECTIONS

TROUBLESOME GHOSTS.

Strange and Exasperating Performances of Unseen Beings in Paris.

The ghostly season has been opened this year in the Rue de la Sourdiere, either by the same company of spirits who gave a series of performances in a different locality last winter or by a fresh troop. The question remains unsettled, for even the spiritualists who are on speaking terms with the people who have no bodies have been unable to identify or come to an understanding with the ghosts that have been playing such curious high jinks in Paris during the last two or three years. Those now haunting the house in the Rue de la Sourdiere amuse themselves in exactly the same way as the others who upset the nerves of a quiet family last winter——with this difference, that the new set (assuming that they do not belong to one traveling company) appear to confine their antics principally to the kitchen. They have a peculiar liking or hatred for all cooking utensils, for any saucpan or frying pan that may be hanging against the wall is sure to be pulled off its nail and thrown on the ground. There is nothing for a cook to do in such a kitchen but to lament or excrete. The waltzing of the saucpans, the frying pan and gridiron at night has become something unparaphrasable, for these things when they jump off their nails do not remain where they fall, but get up a dance and keep it going with a disregard of propriety quite bacchanalian.

At length the ghosts (the ghostly theory is admitted in default of a better one), finding their game with the cooking utensils rather slow—although this was not the impression of other people—turned their attention to glass and crockery, and either threw it on another or smashed it from love of mischief and sheer deviltry. The night on which this took place was too much for the nerves of the people who occupied the lodgings. They deserted their rooms and took refuge with a neighbor. The police have visited the premises prepared to draw up a process verbal against the ghosts if the phenomena were repeated in their presence, but while they were there the pots and pans and broken crockery remained quiet. This is what happened at the time of the previous outbreaks of the supernatural.

Not a ghost can be found that will perform in the presence of a police officer. This is sufficient proof that the spirits who are causing so much trouble again are French; it is evident that the national respect for uniforms clings to them even when they have left the flesh.

—Paris Cor. St. James Gazette.

Those Collar Buttons.

The most aggressive of all of life's minor evils is a man's collar button. It is the most elusive of things when sought for and the most obstinate when in place. Every sort and style seems to have been invented to abate its trying qualities, but it still remains an obstinate fact, and especially obstinate and uncomfortable when on the back of a man's neck rubbing and irritating the sensitive flesh. And when that collar button serves double duty and holds down the collar, and by being an ungainly lozenge shaped thing also holds down the necktie, then indeed is its presence felt most unfortunately.

Terrible boils have times unnumbered been occasioned by these ungainly metal things on a man's neck, and their toleration for so long a time is a matter of wonder, especially when the matter is so easily remedied. One needs to go only across the way to find the remedy, and it is this: On many of the newest collars there is the necessary central buttonhole in the back, which fastens over an ordinary pearl button which is sewed on the shirt. On either side of this buttonhole two small flaps are stitched. The flap is stitched to the collar and is just its own width from the lower edge of the collar. These flaps are of three or four ply linen, and when laundered are as stiff as the collar itself. The necktie is slipped under them, as with the oblong button, and no exercise, be it ever so violent, will loosen it from its confinement and let it ride the collar, as it has always had a tendency heretofore to do.—New York Herald.

An Extravagant Pair.

It is not generally known that the German empress, in spite of her many excellent qualities, is very extravagant, and owes large sums of money to the Berlin tradesman, one firm alone having a bill of 800,000 marks, or $160,000, against her majesty. The empress never wears either a dress, a mantle or a bonnet a second time in public, and everything that she buys is of the very best. It is all the more surprising when it is recollected how extremely simple her surroundings were before her marriage to Prince Wilhelm of Prussia, and even after her marriage, until her husband succeeded to the empire.

The emperor is also very largely in debt in spite of the handsome present made to him last spring by the Empress Frederick, who advanced him 1,500,000 marks.

His majesty undertook the greater part of the expenses incurred at the Luther festival at Wittenberg. The emperor has, unfortunately, not the slightest idea of money, and scatters it right and left, to the great horror of many of his royal subjects.—Cincinnati Post.

Useful Articles at a Fair.

"Old men's comforts" is what packages on sale at some recent fairs were labeled. The packages include a pair of gloves of knitted wool, a large neckerchief of soft woolen cloth, a package of tobacco and a pipe.

The "comforts" sold quickly, as many visitors could readily pick out among their proteges at least one "old man" who would welcome the quartet of articles.—New York Letter.

a glide over the snow this week, and while no immediate benefits may be derived from it, they still have hopes, but even these are being sadly diminished.

The M. E. church, which has been undergoing repairs for some time past, will be reopened on Sunday next, by Rev. J. B. Man, D. D., of Catawissa, Pa., assisted by the pastor, Rev. E. M. Chilcoat, of Freeland. Rev. Man will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. The pastor and trustees invite all to attend.

It came at last. The days and weeks were measured, and as the small boy awaits the Fourth of July and prepares himself for a glorious time, so it was with us. The event was on Saturday. The whole town was on the move to welcome it and they did. It was pay day.

Neal McHugh is about again after a severe illness.

The teachers of the public school will give their pupils a sleighride this afternoon.

The township political machine has decided to begin operations on Saturday.

The residents of this place are amazed at the slowness displayed by the Freeland authorities in deciding between the two railway companies who want to put the electric road through. Jeddo is in favor of having it immediately. To wait two years is losing time.

Last week John Gregory, one of our young men, was assaulted on the highway by a person whom he did not know.

John Tyson, of Jeddo, and Frank Deach, of this city, will shoot at 15 birds for $100 a side, some time next month. A forfeit of $25 has been posted by each gentleman.—Speaker.

A sensation was created among a number of our young people on Wednesday evening near the place which has become famous as the abode of ghosts, gobblins, spooks and mysterious objects of almost every kind. This sacred spot is on the hill a short distance above the M. E. church, and it is looked upon by our residents as a place to be avoided, especially after dark. On Wednesday night several of our young ladies were on their way home from the vicinity of Freeland and when on the forbidden territory several shots from a revolver were fired in quick succession and the ladies scattered and ran, each yelling murder in the latest improved style. Several of our youths (bald headed), who were taking up the rear, investigated the matter and spoiled the whole sensation. The gentleman who did the shooting explained by saying that he and his girl had trouble enough with their beast and he took it where he thought no one would find it out and shot it. It was the house dog.
