The State and Shot and State and State and State and State precland to Highland that no surprise precland to Highland that no surprise is case, but the latest assault brings with it a deliberate attempt to murder and has aroused excitement in Highland to great extent. The highwaymen on Sunday evening gave special attention to their costumes before coming in contact with their victims, as they were disguised in such a mamer that their most inlinate friends would fail to recognize them. It was thus they waylaid Mike Selensky, who, with Joe Maydor, his boarding boss, was re-turning from Freeland, where they had been attending a meeting of St. Michael's Oreck Society in the afternoon. I was abut 7.30 ocick when the two menstatted home, and after passing the small creek that crosses the road they net six men coming toward Freeland, one of the party said, "Hello, Yonko, gives us a chew." When the ey stopped two of the men selezed Maydox by the astruck him ablow on the neck, knocking him down. Realizing his danger he ass on his feet in an instant and rate to Highland with all possible speed. The sall the their dis attention to Selpasky, who had failed to get away, and a desperate struggle ensued. One of the party used a knife on the poor fungarian, and slashed him terribly about the head and wrist. The first finger of the right hand was nearly sev-eresfully. As last resort another of the thing drew a revolver and shot at him. The bolle entered the jaw about a half inch from, and opposite the centre to the right and was nearly sev-eresfully. HIGHLAND DOTS.

A sleighing party of twentw-five couples will leave here on Friday night for Ed. Henry's in Conyngham valley. They will have an orchestra and every-thing necessary along to make it enjoy-able.

John McMenamin was in Wilkes-Barre on business last week. The literary society which was estab-lished here some time ago is not a thing of the past as many suppose. It is said that some of our Republican neighbors are not at all pleased with the political aspect. A Hungarian wedding took place here on Saurday. As usual, they had a splendid time.

splendid time. J. J. Gillespie, of Freeland, was here doing business the fore part of the week. William Schultz, of Sandy Run, was here among friends on Monday.

It is reported that No. 3 slope will be abandoned shortly and the men will be transferred to No. 2 slope. Miss Mary Paul returned to her home in Hazleton on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Zeisloft spent Sunday here nong friends.

William Kellar was on the sick list last week.

John Murrin received a severe at-tack of cramps while at work here on Friday, and is now iying at the residence of his brother Michael. For a few days his life was despaired of, but at last ac-count 1 e was slowly improving. Several of our citizeus have been in-terviewell by highwaymen recently. The residents of this place are thinking of hiring a few detectives to see if they can locate the whereabouts of the coal and iron police. As groundhog day is close at hand it is expected they will come out to see their shadow, and if they do they will surely be caught. opera house. Admission, 25 and 35 cents. Kidnapped His Little Son. Kidnapped His Little Son. Great excitement was caused at Wikes-Barre by the bold kidnapping of li-year-old Wile Heyer, son of Mrs. Oscar Heyer, by the boy's father, who has been living in New York. Mr, and Mrs. Heyer for several years conducted a large jewelry establishment in that city, and moved in good society. About six months ago Mr. Heyer startled the community by eloping with a yong servant girl employed by the family. Mrs. Heyer retained the busi-ness and has since been conducting it. The boy, who is an unusually bright little fellow, loft his home Theres morning to go to school, but he never reached there. Not returning home at noon his mother went to the school and found the child had not been there. She at once concluded that her husband had done as he often threatend. A friend of the family had seen Heyer and the byg going up the street about 9 ciclock. The little fellow was crying bitterly. The detectives so far have been unable to find any other trace of the father and the child, but are con-vinced they have not left the city. Elquor License Applications. her offspring in the future. New Systems Needed. "The movement on the part of the house of representatives icoloking to the investigation of the business methods of the executive departments," said a gov-ernment official the other evening, "is a move in the right direction. If the com-mission proposed were wholly outside of the house of representatives it would be better, for two years is entirely too short a time, when the necessary legitimate duties of a member of congress are con-sidered, to look into this matter thor-oughly and in which to formulate a remedy. The business of the United States is perhaps the most clumsily and expensively managed of any other busi-ness in the world. This is mainly be-uause it is a growth and because it is be-ing shifted to new and irresponsible shoulders every now and then. Obso-lete and complicated systems of book-ter part and complicated systems of book-ter part of the insinvariably been the policy of government bureaus to mag-nity their own business and of every petty chief to increase his own duties. The Tigers ball on Monday evening was just as expected—one of the best held here this season. Nearly a dozen large sleighing parties were present from the South Side, and Hazleton fur-nished over thirly couples more. The opera house was decorated very prettily, and all who attended seemed to enjoy themselves very much. The grand march was led by Master of Cermonies James Herron and Miss Maggie Tinney. The committee in charge of the ball extends thanks to the St. Patrick's cor-net band for its attendance, to the young ladies who assisted at the stands, to the public for its generous patronage and the basiness men for the flags, bunting, etc., loaned the club.

It should be simplified, and the rules of modern business life applied to governmental affairs. Why, don't you know nobody knows how the treas-my department stands? No two financial experts can understand the treasury sys-tem of bookkeeping. The monthly debt statisticians, and as for the method of transacting any kind of government business, it is so ridiculously complicated that the only thing that can be said for the statistic the surplication of the statistic desired results more places for salaried officials than any other system ever de-vised. The whole thing needs revision, but is this to be accomplished in two years?"-New York Herald.

Trouble Over an Oyster Stew Trouble Over an Oysier Stew. Fred Dougherty, who gave Wilkes Barre as his residence, came to town yesterday, and during the afternoor called at DePierro Brose cafe for an oys ter stew. After his order was server the proprietors of the cafe state that h picked out and ate the oysters, their gathered all the vinegar, catchup, salt pepper, etc., that he could find arount the tables. He mixed up the wholy business in his bowl, but as it was not a very palatial dish he demanded anothe stew. The Convention Held at the Opera Hou Last Evening. Last Evening. The borough Republicans held their convention in the opera house last night, and with the exception of two vacancies nominated a full ticket. The conven-tion was called to order by John M. Powell, who was elected permanent chairman, and Jos. Neuburger was elected secretary. George Shick, Frank DePierro and Adam Sachs were chosen tellers.

business in his bowl, but as it was not a very palatial dish he demanded another stew. He was intoxicated at the time, and not wishing to have anything further to do with him Frank DePierro offered to return him the price of the stew. This would not satisfy him; he wanted satis-faction or a stew. He was then ejected from the cafe. Upon reaching the street Dougherty began raising a disturbance in his efforts to gain admittance to the restaurant, and Bargess Gallagher and Officer McLangh-lin found it necessary to take him to the cooler, where he remained until bo'clock, when he was given a hearing. As the man was intoxicated when the trouble began DePierro Bros, did not wish to make any charges against him for the threats, so he was fined only $4.50 for violating the borough ordin-ances. Dougherty was formerly a resi-dent of this place, but he says it is six years since he was here, during which time he has traveled considerable through bey for the He starded that he would give Freeland a wide berth for the future. The Electrie Road.

for the construction of the road on this side. Two carloads of rails are at the Free-land station, and a number of sills for the roadbed have arrived. A represen-tative of the company states it is their intention to begin work immediately over the portions where they have se-cured the right of way. This would bring the road to the borough limits. A special meeting of council will be held tomorrow evening, when it is ex-pected that the North Side and Uuion Companies will be represented again to ask for the right of way in the borough. Constable Gallagher Arrested.

Constable Gallagher Arrested. Constable Dennis J. Gallagher, of Wilkes-Barre, was arrested on Tuesday on a warrant sworn out by a Polish edi-tor whom Gallagher some time ago cap-tured in Pittsburg and brought here for trial. The editor, it appears, had writ-ten a libelous article against Rev. J. I. Jaskowitz, of Hazleton, who swore ont a warrant for his arrest. The editor claims that Gallagher rail-roaded him out of Pittsburg without the formality of a hearing and a detective from that town arrived in Wilkes-Barrest. Gallagher gave bail for a hearing next morning, when the validity of the war-rant was passed upon by Judge Rice, who "decided that he must go to Al-legheny county, where the arrest was made, and give bail there. Preparing for an Elstedfod.

Preparing for an Eisteddfod Preparing for an Elsteddfod. Delegates of all the Welsh churches of the Wyoning valley met in Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday and made the final arrangements for a musical festival, which is to be held the latter part of April. A programme of music will be selected from the latest composers and a choir of 600 or 700 will take part under the lead-ership of S. M. Williams, of Wilkes-Barre. The object is to improve congre-gational singing.

Firemen's B

Firemen's Ball. Tomorrow evening the Citizens' Hose Company will holds its eighth annual ball at the opera house, and all who have at-tended any of the previous balls given by Freeland's firemen know that an-other pleasant evening is coming. The organization is worthy of the pat-tronage of every resident of the town, and even those who cannot attend should not fail to purchase at least one ticket. DePierro's orchestra will be present to entertain those who dance.

A Change in Express Companies A Change in Express Companies. A special car containing officials of the Adams and United States Express Com-panies arrived here yesterday, and after company discontinued its branch here. The United States officials then step-ped in and opened its office. Station Agent James McHugh, who was agent for the Adams, was appointed to the same position by the United States Com-pany.
