LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE OF NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

Death of One of Drifton's Most Estimable Ladies at Bethlehem Hospital Last Week—Other Notes of Interest and all the News and Gossip of Jeddo.

Special and regular correspondence from the surrounding towns is solicited by the TRIBUNE. All writers will please send their names to this office with communications intended for publication, in order that the editor may know from whom the correspondence comes.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

Mrs. John H. O'Donnell, a highly respected lady of this place, was buried in St. Ann's cemetery yesterday. She had been suffering for several months past with a complication of diseases and was removed to the Bethlehem hospital, where she died Thursday afternoon. Her husband and family of nine children, which she leaves, have the sympathy of the entire community, as was shown yesterday at the funeral, which was one of the largest that ever left Drifton.

On Saturday many of our residents attended the funeral of Frank Sweeney who died at Eckley on Thursday. He was a former resident of this place.

John Adams, who was so terribly burned in No. 2 boiler house last week, may have to get one of his hands amputated.

A large number of our sportsmen attended the cock fight in the vicinity of Hazleton on Saturday night. They say it was a complete route for the Freeland end of it.

The blue bird made its first appearance here yesterday morning. It must have got lost.

John J. Baskin had a hand badly injured by having it caught with the gas pump in No. 1 slope on Friday.

Several of our young men are taking great interest in the mining school at Freeland.

Daniel J. Kennedy has accepted a position as foreman of the boring drill gang.

Large banks of snow are still on our streets.

Miss Rose Ann Mulherin, of Stockton, was the guest of Miss Mary McElwee part of last week.

Condy Boyle, better known as "Captain Rocks," will be our representative to the World's fair.

John Gilson, Sr., and Charles Waters were sick last week.

Miss Mary Sweeney, of Kutztown normal school, is home on a vacation for a few days.

Edward Brennan wore a very large smile yesterday. It's a young cock.

William Malloy, of Throop, is home on a short visit to his parents here.

Coxe Bros. & Co. have leased the old Scott's dock on the Blackwell canal in Buffalo and are making elaborate repairs and improvements with a view to facilitating their coal shipments. It is said the Pennsylvania Railroad will haul the bulk of this tonnage.

Joseph Gallagher and Frank Brogan, students of West Chester normal school, are home on a short vacation.

William Phillips, of Mahanoy City, was the guest of Harry Jones for several days last week.

Miss Maggie Carr, of West Chester state normal school, spent Sunday with her parents here.

William Weldon, of Silver Brook, was a visitor in town on Friday.

William Gitner has accepted a position as engineer in No. 1 slope.

Engine 15 of the D. S. & S. will do duty in the vicinity of Harwood, while No. 112 is undergoing repairs here.

Miss Dolly Mackin, of Wilkes-Barre, is spending a few days here with friends.

Since Friday several of our townsmen are "soured" upon the Freeland police force for their activity in keeping the borough streets free from intoxicated men. More than one of our residents had to face Burgess Gallagher on Saturday morning, and to prevent a recurrence of this it is said a committee will be stationed at South street on every holiday hereafter to prevent Drifton people from passing the Points. A boycott has been declared upon the borough.

JEDDO NEWS.

Our quiet little town was the scene of a great pugilistic battle on Saturday by two well-known men from a neighboring town. They hammered and battered each other in royal style, not because they were angry, but for the love of a scrap. If these gentlemen will come and give us another exhibition of their brutality perhaps we may be able to raise a purse large enough to send them to Wilkes-Barre to interview one of the judges there.

Patrick Boyle and his sister Mary, were visiting friends in Pleasant Valley last week.

Frank McNeil, of Sugar Notch, also bass drummer in the drum corps of this place, was in town on Friday helping the boys out.

Pay day arrived here on Saturday and cheered the community as a whole.

Miss Katie Gillespie, of Drifton, was here among friends on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John McHugh, former residents of here, but now of Oneida, spent a few hours among friends on Friday.

Maurice J. Reed, who was at Washington on business and attending the inauguration of President Cleveland, returned home last week.

Some of the people here wonder very much what can be the attraction in the vicinity of Oakdale. A few of our young men steal away and wander in that section quite frequently. A question put to them might cause the alarm to subside. Try it.

Miss Susie McGarrigue has returned home from a visit to Beaver Meadow friends.

Miss Ella Elwood, of Milnesville, made a short stay among friends here on Friday.

Several of our citizens were off on a sporting errand in the vicinity of Hazleton on Saturday night. Their non-appearance since leaves us in doubt as to whether they were on the winning side or not.

A Narrow Escape from Death.

Rev. James A. Brehony, pastor of St. John's church, Manayunk, Philadelphia, and who is a brother of Rev. Thos. Brehony, of Eckley, was out driving near that city on Thursday afternoon with Rev. Michael J. McBride, of Bonneville, Adams county, Pa., and were about to cross the track of the Norristown Railroad when the horse, which was a spirited animal, became frightened and ran away. The horse instead of crossing the track ran up the railroad.

Before the two clergymen could make any effort to escape from their perilous position, they were horrified to see an up train coming toward them. It had not been visible until it was almost upon the buggy on account of a sharp curve. In the collision that followed, the buggy was completely wrecked, the horse was killed, and the two priests were thrown to the side of the track.

Both of them were hurt, but fortunately, not very seriously. They suffered some pain about the chest and back, but as they were able, with assistance, to stand and walk a little, it is thought that this was only the effect of the shock, and some comparatively slight bruises.

The escape of the reverend gentlemen is considered most remarkable, as the train was going at high speed, and the wagon was almost directly in the path of the engine. The bank on which the priests were thrown was of earth, and this probably was an important factor in saving them, and Father Brehony's many friends here are pleased to learn that the accident was not of a more serious nature.

List of Patents.

Patents granted to Pennsylvania inventors last week. Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

O. R. Becker, Reading, dumping; J. T. Bressler, Shepherdstown, attachment for wheel-hubs; I. Broome, New Brighton, apparatus for ornamenting architectural tiles; J. and H. A. Carl, Allentown, folding-table; D. W. Clark, Washington, tube for viscous substances; G. Edwards, Edwarsville, and B. Blackledge, Larksville, covering for pipes; C. S. Fitzgibbon, Allegheny, S. S. Babbitt, Pittsburg, metal railway tie; J. H. Gibson, Bruin, trace-faster; A. W. House, Homestead, mantle; J. Johnson Chester, picker stick for looms; J. A. Nixon, Titusville, combined cane and stool; L. Olmstead, Jersey Shore, fruit gatherer; C. H. Read, Wilkes-Barre, combined chair and brace; G. W. Rodgers, Bellefonte, car-heater; J. Sabol, Boyertown, paper-bag machine; B. J. Sykes, Sykesville, wind-wheel; F. G. Ward, Allegheny, dry-closet system.

True Americans in Session.

The Patriotic Order True Americans met at Mahanoy City on Friday to consider the advisability of organizing a national camp. Delegates were present from the thirty camps and decided to hold the next convention at Allentown on July 28, and to meet every two years hereafter.

The following officers were elected: President, Miss Laura Stauffer, Hazleton; vice president, Cora Kimbly, Delaware; assistant vice president, Edward Hummel, Reading; conductor, Miss Mary Sperry, Norristown; secretary, H. F. Trubore, South Bethlehem; chaplain, Lizzie Hess, Berwick; treasurer, D. F. Panneacker, Philadelphia; guard, Ke-teurath Evans, Allentown; sentinel, Tomson Yorgey, Pottstown.

Business Improvements.

With the opening up of spring the Freeland Mercantile Company, Limited, successors to the old and well-known firm of Kline Bros., flour and feed and lime, brick and sand business, will put in a larger engine and additional milling machinery. Arrangements are now being made for these in their new building, 50x30 feet, four floors, with railroad siding, corner of Johnson and Birkbeck streets, where all the firm's business will later center, it being the intention to remove from their original or Walnut near Pine street site, where they began in 1884.

Hugh O'Donnell in Shenandoah.

Hugh O'Donnell, the Homestead labor leader, is now visiting Shenandoah as the guest of ex-Senator M. C. Watson. He had received many offers to go upon the lecture platform, but had entered into an arrangement with Professor John Edwards, also an evicted striker of Homestead, who has a remarkable family of musicians, six in number, by which the family will give a series of concerts throughout the United States, with Mr. O'Donnell as manager.

Encouragement from White Haven.

Freeland people want the Jersey Central to extend to Upper Lehigh or Drifton branch into that town. This should have been done years ago, as the railroad would receive much traffic that now goes to its competitors, and the extension could be made at small expense.

Our neighbors should bring the matter to the attention of Mr. Harris, of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.—Journal.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

April 3—Ball of St. Patrick's cornet band, at Freeland opera house. Admission, 50 cents.

April 21—First annual ball of Division No. A. O. H., of Eckley, at Freeland opera house. Admission, 50 cents.

ALL FOR THE CENTRAL.

A Petition to the Officials Received Over One Hundred Signatures.

The movement inaugurated a few weeks ago to induce the Jersey Central Railroad Company to extend its tracks from Upper Lehigh or Drifton to Freeland has been brought to the attention of the officials of the company once more, and it is accompanied this time by a petition containing 118 names of Freeland people. With the exception of ten or twelve persons the signers are all people who are engaged in business here, and the list contains the name of every prominent merchant in the town.

On Thursday the petition was taken around by John L. Burton and Thomas Birkbeck, and these gentlemen found the business men all anxious to attach their names to the petition. The men were taken to the surface and the ambulance quickly summoned, when Gaydoes was removed to the hospital. Every possible means was used to restore him to consciousness, but he died at half-past five o'clock that evening.

How the accident happened will probably never be known. They were both alive but unconscious. The men were taken to the surface and the ambulance quickly summoned, when Gaydoes was removed to the hospital. Every possible means was used to restore him to consciousness, but he died at half-past five o'clock that evening.

The petition was sent on Saturday by the TRIBUNE to Geo. W. Twining, of Manch Chunk, division superintendent of the L. & S., who will forward it to President Harris, Mr. Twining, we believe, will do all he can to have the road extended here, as he stated last week in his answer to the letter sent him by Joseph Birkbeck, of Wilkes-Barre, that he would bring the matter before Mr. Harris and see what could be done.

It is a good indication that Freeland is losing none of its progressiveness when a question of this kind can be so far advanced in such a short time. Three weeks ago today the TRIBUNE called upon the people of town to make the request for this extension, and, whether it will be granted or not, the prompt work of our business men and merchants shows that they are alive and willing to do anything for the town. This is as it should be, and we trust that the coming summer may see the people of Freeland working together and doing all they possibly can to bring new industries here and aid every movement that will benefit Freeland.

Home Talent Scores Another Success.

The first production of "Under a Ban," the five-act comedy-drama written by our townsmen, W. C. Miller, was witnessed by an audience that filled the opera house from stage to door on Thursday evening. The audience was not only large but it was one of the most critical that was ever assembled in the opera house, and the comments that were made as the play progressed were of such a nature as to insure the company's success on the road. The actors did their work well and but little fault could be found with any of the characters. Considering that this was the first production of the drama on any stage it is hard to understand how it could be done any better.

The scenery used was painted entirely by the author, and it equalled the best that any traveling company has shown on the stage here. The ship scene was highly praised and the explosion that followed when the fire reached the powder magazine was very realistic. The subsequent view of mid-ocean, with the hero, heroine and two comedians floating upon the high waves, could not be excelled. The specialties of Messrs. Faas and Woodring, and the singing of Miss Marie Timney, were also loudly applauded.

Kind Words for a Conductor.

Charles Dickinson, of Hazleton, has been appointed passenger train conductor on the Hazleton branch of the Lehigh Valley Railroad to succeed William H. Lawall, who recently resigned. It is conceded on all sides that Mr. Lawall was one of the most popular conductors in the employ of the company, but we miss our guess if Charlie Dickinson in time will not fully equal the popularity of his predecessor.

The new conductor was Mr. Lawall's baggage master for many years. He is thoroughly acquainted with the route, its duties and its patrons, and will, we think, fill the position with credit to himself and the company. A portion of Mr. Dickinson's run is between Hazleton and Manch Chunk. This is filled in the afternoon every other week, changing about with Conductor George Reese.—M. C. Times.

Of Interest to Sons of America.

The executive committee of the State Camp, P. O. S. of A., met at the office of State Treasurer Irvin S. Smith, Reading, on Friday. Matters pertaining to the advancement of the order in various sections of the state and a number of decisions rendered by district presidents were considered.

State Secretary William Weand reported that during 1892 there were members initiated, 8,224; members admitted by card, 227; members reinstated, 340; total membership December 31, 47,954; amount paid out in benefits during the year, $106,085.48; total receipts during the year, $349,619.83; expenditures, $306,606.99; amount of cash in treasuries of subordinate camps, $143,724.44; invested in bonds, real estates, etc., $409,292.79; value of paraphernalia, $180,965.06; total valuation, $740,658.26.

Friday's Celebration.

The St. Patrick's Day celebration here on Friday had the largest number of men in line of any parade held in Freeland on that date, and the various societies made an excellent showing. The town was liberally decorated, and the route and order of parade was followed as announced in previous issues. The number of visitors from outside towns was very large, Hazleton especially contributing a very big delegation of both paraders and spectators. There were 1132 people in line.

Met Death in an Unknown Manner.

A very peculiar and fatal accident occurred at No. 6 Stockton either late Thursday or early Friday morning, by which Jos. Yonkofsky and Joseph Gaydoes lost their lives. The Standard says the first intimation that those in charge of the colliery had that anything had gone wrong was Friday morning when their boarding boss made his appearance at the office and inquired as to what had become of them.

A search was at once instituted by the fire boss, John Parkinson, who found them at the bottom of the manway leading from No. 3, which is worked out. They were both dead but Gaydoes was alive but unconscious. The men were taken to the surface and the ambulance quickly summoned, when Gaydoes was removed to the hospital. Every possible means was used to restore him to consciousness, but he died at half-past five o'clock that evening.

No Exhibit at the Fair.

There has been a decided change in the Reading and Lehigh Valley Roads in respect to an exhibit at the World's fair. For some time past work has been going on in the Lehigh Valley shops preparing for it. An engine of the Lehigh Valley's make, machines which are famous among railroads for their achievements, was being built at the Hazleton shops. It is nearly completed.

At the Packerton shops a gondola car and a freight car of the latest design and equipment were being made. In the shops in South Easton a first-class day passenger coach, with interior finish in bird's-eye maple, is receiving its finishing touches. It will be the handsomest day car ever built by a company.

In a week or so the work on all these exhibits would have been completed. Late Friday afternoon information was received at each of the shops stating that no exhibit would be made at Chicago. No reason was assigned.

Lost Eight Straight Battles.

An exciting cocking main took place at a prominent sporting place at West Hazleton on Saturday evening, when a main of seven battles for a large purse was fought. Hazleton and Drifton were on one side, and Freeland, Upper Lehigh and Jeddo opposed them. The first four battles were won by the Hazletonians, and as this gave them a majority of the main side battles were then fought. Luck, however, was dead against the entire North Side, excepting Drifton, which stuck to Hazleton bring, and the four side battles were lost as quickly as the main. An extraordinary large amount of money was wagered on the battle, and the sports who backed the losing roosters were completely cleaned out.

Arrested for Stealing a Watch.

John Mulligan, of Audenried, and Michael Keating, of Weatherly, were arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing a watch belonging to Edward Furey, of the Points, on Saturday evening. At the hearing Keating was discharged, and Mulligan was held under $300 bail. The watch was afterward found in one of the jewelry stores of town, where it had been sold for $3.00. The case was settled this morning by some of Mulligan's friends paying the costs and returning the watch to the owner.

Sold by Dr. Seitcher.

That old established cough remedy, Down's Elixir, still more than holds its own in the public estimation, despite sharp and active competition. It is a "home remedy," and in this locality needs no words of praise from us, so well and favorably known is it.

It is the standard remedy for coughs, colds and all throat troubles, with great numbers of our people, and their continued use and unsolicited recommendation of it speaks volumes in its favor.—Burlington, Vt., Free Press, January 26, 1882.

A Conductor Killed.

Louis Fisher, a conductor on the Reading Railroad at Philadelphia, was charged with the guard rail of a car and fell under his train on Wednesday. His body was badly mutilated, and he died instantly. Fisher was formerly a resident of Pond Creek, and the remains were brought here on Thursday evening. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon. Services were held at the Heavenly Recruits church, after which the interment was made at Freeland cemetery. He was about 22 years of age.

A Large Ball.

The opera house was crowded on Friday evening by the people of Freeland and vicinity, and the ball of the St. Patrick's Beneficial Society was a great success in every respect. At 10 o'clock the grand march took place and was led by the Master of Ceremonies Manns D. McLaughlin and Miss Fanny Doovis, followed by over one hundred couples. The society is very thankful to the public for its generous patronage.

The Police Had Lots of Work.

The large crowd that came to Freeland from the surrounding towns to witness the celebration on Friday kept the borough police busy during the afternoon and evening. The front street hotel was kept open all night to accommodate the guests who were escorted there by the officers, and at one time there were sixteen held there upon various charges. With a few exceptions all were from out of town.
