QUIET CONVENTION.

DEMOCRATS FAIL TO EXHIBIT THE EXPECTED BATTLE.

A brief session of the convention was held in the forencon when the various committees were appointed and preparations made for the afternoon session, which met at 2 o'clock with Hon. Asa R. Bruudage as chairman, After a spirited address by the chairman the committees tendered their reports to the convention. A number of contested seats were amicably settled and a set of resolutions adopted.

Following are the resolutions:

Following are the remainded by the strongest man with the degates but his combination with Alexander was not approved by them. When Brislin discovered be could not with him he manifully refused to go on the ticket without him.

meGarry and Davenport Nominated for Treasurer and Register Without Opposition—Ray for Controller, and Dullard and McGraw for Commissioners.

The Democratic convention at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday was a very quiet gathering in comparison to the meetings held there in past years, and the harmonious manner in which the business of the day was done was a disappointment to the people who went to the county seat expecting to see "war." It became apparent on Monday evening that McGarry for treasurer would have from 15 to 20 of a majority over Alexander, and at the same time Brislin could be nominated for register by at least 30 of a majority.

With this state of affairs existing the leaders were in a plight. It would be committing suicide for the whole ticket to nominate both McGarry and Brislin, and after numerous conferences and efforts to bring enough strength to either side to put through the combination ticket Brislin concluded to withfraw.

This move, which was made at 3° clock Tuesday morning, also took Alexander from the field, and in the interest of harmony and to avoid dissensions at the general election the way was left clear for the McGarry ticket. For the second time within three years Brislin sacrificed his ambitions for the good of the party.

The first fight of the convention was for controller, and the result was a surprise. The candidates were Sam W. Ray, of White Haven, the latter polling 39 votes to Boyd's 95.

Nine Democrats aspired to the office of commissioner. Their names and residences and the votes received on first ballot were:

and Two Men Are Killed.

The little town of Gilberton, a few miles north of Pottsville, was the scene of fatal rioting Tuesday night, in which two people were killed and several wounded.

The killed are:

James Parfitt, of Gilberton, miner, aged 25.

William Holland, of Gilberton, aged 19.

William rational 19.

The wounded are:
Richard Amour, Shenandoah, aged 42,
wounded in left breast and left thigh;
believed to be fatally injured.
Evan Davis, Gilberton, shot through

Evan Davis, Gilberton, shot through right leg.
William Connors, Gilberton, aged 19, shot in body and foot.
John J. Briggs, Girardville, special officer, shot in leg and head.
James Holihan, Gilberton, wounded on forehead by stone.
The riot occurred where the electric road turns into the main street. The Schuylkill Traction Company had sequenced the right of way through Gilberton, but they were to go up Gilberton, but they were dangerous to wagons.
The council repeatedly notified the company to put their road-bed in good condition, but no heed was taken of the notices. Finally, council decided to give one more notice and warn the company that if the tracks were not put.
The company paid no attention to this and council net yould be torn up.
The company paid no attention to this and council net yould be torn up. In the presentine word had reached the head-quarters of the company at Ashland. Officer Amour, who gathered a posse of men from along the valley, Superintendent Jones and Attorney Wilhelm accompanied the special officers, who were on the car following the construction car, which contained employes of the company, who were to relay the track. When Gilberton was reached Burgess Holihan was on duty to see that no attempt was made by the company to replace the track.

The burgess stood firm and refused to permit the company's men to go to work. A crowd of boys had gathered around the car and as it was about to move off began to taunt the officers. John Briggs, formerly a motorman, but then acting as a special, rushed out of the car with a rifle and revolver and fired into the crowd.

James Parltt, who was an onlooker, was seen to drop on the road. Evan Davis and Richard Connors were also shot. T. Mahoney, a barber, grabbed the barrel of Brigg
