

HOOD'S CURES

Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and since have been very seriously troubled with my liver and kidneys. I had no appetite and a softening of the bowels. Had no more color than a marble statue. After I had taken three bottles of...

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA I could eat anything without distress. I have now fully recovered. I feel well and am well. D. M. JORDAN, Elmwood, N. Y.

German Syrup

Regis Leblanc is a French Canadian store keeper at Notre Dame de Stanbridge, Quebec, Can., who was cured of a severe attack of Congestion of the Lungs by Boschee's German Syrup. He has sold many a bottle of German Syrup on his personal recommendation. If you drop him a line he'll give you the full facts of the case direct, as he did us, and that Boschee's German Syrup brought him through nicely. It always will. It is a good medicine and thorough in its work.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT CURED ME.

Dr. Kilmer & Co.—I had been troubled for eight years with stomach and heart difficulties. I lived mostly on milk, as everything I ate hurt me. My kidneys and liver were in a terrible state. Could neither sleep or eat. I had been treated by the best Chicago doctors without any benefit whatever. As a last resort I tried your SWAMP-ROOT, and now I can eat anything, no matter what. Nothing hurts me, and I can go to bed and get a good night's sleep. SWAMP-ROOT cured me.

SWAMP-ROOT CURED ME. Had Torpid Liver For 14 Years. Bilious all the Time. DEAR SIR:—I have been troubled with Torpid Liver for 14 years and gone through courses of bilious fever many times. It has been impossible for me to do any kind of labor. Dr. Kilmer's SWAMP-ROOT was first recommended to me by Dr. (Druggist) Decatur, Ind. After taking one bottle I was uncertain whether I was really deriving any benefit or not; after taking the second bottle, however, I found that my health was improving and I continued until I had taken 6 bottles. I can now cheerfully recommend SWAMP-ROOT to every one who has torpid liver, for it has completely cured me.

SWAMP-ROOT, The Great Blood Purifier. At Druggists, 50c. & $1.00. "Guide to Health" Free. Consultation Free. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

77 I am seventy-seven years old, and have had my age renewed at least twenty years by the use of Dr. Kilmer's SWAMP-ROOT. I would not let a young man for two years, and physicians said I could not be cured. After taking fifteen small bottles, I was able to do my own work. There is not a sore on my limbs, and I feel like a new man. You ought to get all your cures from Dr. Kilmer's SWAMP-ROOT. Palmer, Kansas City.

IS A WONDERFUL REMEDY—especially for old people. It builds up the general health. Treats on the blood in all cases. SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.

THE MERRY SIDE OF LIFE.

STORIES THAT ARE TOLD BY THE FUNNY MEN OF THE PRESS. And He Grew Bolder—On Land and on Sea—Took His Medicine—Money a Friend Indeed, Etc.

TOOK HIS MEDICINE. "I'm a pill," proclaimed the tough. "I'll take you," responded the policeman, as he gathered him in.—Truth.

ON LAND AND ON SEA. He—"On land the dudes make me tired." She—"And at sea the swells make me sick."—Bulletin.

COLD AND DISTANT. She (in the swell set)—"Why is the north pole so cold, do you imagine?" He (not in it)—"Because it is in the upper circle, I fancy."—Detroit Free Press.

KEEPS 'EM OFF. Bleeker—"Do you have those rods on your house to protect you" from lightning? Uncle Treetop—"No; from lightning-rods agents."—Puck.

MONEY A FRIEND INDEED. "What is the name of your best friend?" "Bill." "The other name, please?" "Dollar."—Boston Saturday Gazette.

A BRAVE TALK. Scribner—"Have you read my new novel, 'A Story Without a Hero'?" Carper—"Yes. I think it's misnamed, however. Any man who reads it through proves himself a hero."—Tit-Bits.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? "How did you cure your boy of his habit of running off to swim?" "I happened to speak of swimming as 'bathing' one night, and he immediately took an unconquerable aversion to it."

LIBERAL WITH HIMSELF. "Cholly is very independent. He says he will never be owned by anybody." "Probably that is why he feels at liberty to give himself away so often."—Washington Star.

SELITS THE HEAVENS. "Did you advise Howler to cultivate his voice?" "Yes." "Oh, mercy! What for?" "A rain producing machine."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

LADY IT QN TOO THICK. "Oh, I'm so sorry, Mr. Dillingham, your lady love has thrown you over. What was the trouble?" "Why, you see, I flattered her so much she got too proud to speak to me."—Boston Beacon.

"NONE SO BLIND," ETC. "I can't see that the streets are so very dirty," remarked the commissioner. "Neither can I, with these frightful clouds of dust in my eyes," retorted the groaning taxpayer.—Puck.

A DIPLOMATIC ANSWER. "Can't you settle this bill to-day, Senator?" asked the tailor of the delinquent legislator. "No, Sir; it wouldn't be parliamentary. I've merely glanced over it, you know, and I can't pass a bill until after its third reading."—Judge.

ECONOMY. Laura—"Where did you get that beautiful black sailor?" Flora—"You'll never tell, will you? It is a last summer hat, and I blacked it up with waterproof shoe polish." Laura—"Well! That is one way of making both ends meet, I must say."—Indianapolis Journal.

THE RIGHT LINE. "Look at me, ma'am," said the man who was asking for something to eat. "Ain't I the picture of despair?" "I don't know anything about yer bein' a picture," she answered, glancing at the ax, "but unless you're in the wood cut line you can't get anything to eat here."—Washington Star.

A FOREIGNER'S IMPRESSION. M. Parce—"Is not ze cognomen, 'Town Lots' a very common one in ze America?" William Ann—"Not that I am aware of. Why?" M. Parce—"Every place where I go, I see ze headboards where some man of zat name has been buried."—Puck.

A WRATHFUL NEIGHBOR. Lady Canvasser—"I have here a preparation for beautifying the complexion, removing sunburn, eradicating pimples. The lady next door sent me. She?" Mrs. Wordlover—"She did, did she? Well, you go back and see if you can't sell her something to remove that corn from sticking it into other people's business." (Door bangs)—Judge.

SETTLED HIM. "I hear," said the city editor, "that you claim to be able to put into intelligible print any kind of American dialect."

ALWAYS SWEEP UNDER THE MAT.

A story is told of a poor servant girl, who once was moody and strange. Who asked for admission to the fold of the church, As she had experienced a change.

MERELY ORNAMENTAL. Miss Gusham (in a studio)—"Oh, Mr. Clawed le Rain! This 'Marriage' of yours is such an exquisite picture! But do tell me why Hymen is always represented carrying a torch?" Clawed le Rain (solemnly)—"It passes my comprehension, my dear Miss Gusham. It always has since I found out that the torch never throws any light on the subject."—Judge.

HER IMPRESSION. "Well, how do you like going to school, Wendeline?" inquired her mother. "The intelligent discipline pleases me very much, mamma," replied the dear little Boston girl who had just returned home after her first day at school, "but the methods are somewhat crude and the teacher impresses me as one who has not wholly succeeded as yet in the struggle to overcome the disadvantages necessarily resulting from defective early education."—Chicago Tribune.

CLEARLY HER RIGHT. "You have trifled with me, Miss Gripley," said Young Leazer. "You have been warm and cold by turns. You have led me on by your coquetish arts to make a fool and a laughing-stock of myself for gods and men. I will stand it no longer. Miss Gripley, permit me to recall the offer I made to you six weeks ago. I have come," he went on, with increasing bitterness, "to withdraw from the utterly unreliable savings bank of your fascinations one heart placed there on deposit April 22, 1893."

"Hiram," softly replied the young girl, with a look that brought the wretched young man to his knees. "I shall take advantage of the time limit. You will have to let it remain on deposit, dear, sixty days longer."—Chicago Tribune.

USE WORDS. He who foresees never acts. Wise men never attempt anything. Shyness is a sport on the tree of egotism. Without trampling the cleverest cannot get rich. Love is blind, but hatred wears double lenses.

The greatest things are done by the greatest fools. The more space a man acquires the less room has he. Men's motives are mercifully hidden by their shirt fronts. Observe moderation in all things—especially in virtues. Pure love is a phoenix which rises from the ashes of self.

Most men are like small dogs—very ferocious behind the fence. When you lose a leg begin at once to practice with a wooden one. The consolation of those who fail is to depreciate those who succeed. If you cannot become rich remember the many miseries of the rich. Dives is never an example, because nobody considers himself really rich. Counting the blessings that remain is like enumerating the teeth left after a fight.

A too prosperous and verdant flourishing of a plant's foliage may interfere with the fruit. Sincerity is not incompatible with reserve, and brutal frankness proclaims its own egotism. A person who demands admiration is disliked in proportion to the admiration we cannot but concede.

What a fine glow we feel in defending a slandered enemy; and how fervently we hope our opinions will have no weight. If every person on earth spoke the truth and nothing but the truth upon one appointed day of each year we would soon revert to barbarism.

When the nature of a natural honest and serious man has suffered a deviation through extravagance, into which by some ill chance he has been led, and having proved the folly of his course he would turn to other ways, marriage is a good thing—for the man.

Pets for a City's Menagerie. At this period of the year, when people are hurrying out of town, a large number of pets that would be inconvenient to carry about are sent as presents to the Central Park Menagerie. Among these are always a large number of small alligators, and for these gifts the larger alligators are most thankful, for if there is a tidbit that one of these saurians love it is a young and tender one of his own family. In the wild state the female alligator's chief care is to keep the home of her young ones unknown to the male. Many of those that are sent to the menagerie are very soon gobbled up, though the brutes are fed with ample rations of raw meat.—New York Post.

Ingenious Saw to Cut Stone. French ingenuity has contrived an improved stone-cutting saw of remarkable efficiency—a circular saw having its edge set with black diamonds in the same way as the straight blades; but as the strain on the diamond is all in one direction, the setting can be made much firmer.

How It Feels to Be Scalped.

The man who can tell more tales of Indian fighting, bear hunting, and wild life generally than any other man west of the Rockies, is Carroll Bronson, a pioneer of the Solikirk Mountains in British Columbia. It is forty-two years since he made his way alone from the head waters of the Missouri to those mountains, and he is now in San Francisco, seeing for the first time in all these years a town of more than a thousand persons.

His face is scarred from arrow wounds received in Indian fights, and if he lifts his long white hair from the side of his head he shows a great circular scar extending from above his right eye clear around the right side and back of his head almost to the left ear. "That is where the old man was scalped."

It was in '66, with the Sioux," he explained, "and it was the worst brush I ever had with the Indians. They came upon a camp of nine of us, and one of them pounced upon me, seized me by the hair, and cut right around my head where you see this scar. Then he gave a sharp wrench the whole of his hand and laid the whole skull bare. I cannot describe the pain it gave me, and I don't believe I could have endured any more without simply dying of it. There is no other torture man can be subjected to that will begin to compare with being scalped."

It is a common belief that a man can't live after being scalped, but I've survived the experience a matter of twenty-two years, and I don't think I'm quite to the end of my journey yet, even if I am 70 years old. I knew another man up there, too, who didn't die under the scalping knife. The scalp was torn completely off from the whole top of his head, so that it had to be constantly swathed in cotton and olive oil. He lived a year. That man knew what suffering means, if ever a man did."—New York Sun.

The Eiffel Tower. M. Eiffel's metalized monument in the Champ de Mars is said to have lately been competing with the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa. The rumor was spread diligently recently that the Nineteenth Century B. had been seen to oscillate slightly toward the left or the right, no one being able to specify the particular direction. M. Eiffel and his constructors admit the possibility of a slight deviation of the axis of the tower, but they are firmly convinced that the iron edifice is as perpendicular as the firm stone foundation on which it rests. They contend that even if the tower deviates the accident would be of no importance, as it rests not only on a strong basis of masonry but on a complicated mass of machinery of steel and cast iron, into which hydraulic presses of 800 tons power can be introduced for the purpose of keeping the tower in the perpendicular. The engineers also aver that the ground on which the tower rests is no more overweighed than if it bore an ordinary Parisian building of five stories, and that the resisting power of the iron of which it is composed is sufficient to insure its safety. The tower, as it now stands, is a thing of wonder if not of beauty, and will certainly be the marvel of the approaching universal exhibition.—London Daily Telegraph.

Postponement Inevitable. Miss Gushy (pausing on the ladder, while the moon modestly hides its face behind a cloud)—Stop, Jack! We must postpone the elopement until tomorrow. I have forgotten to write to my mother. Jack Borrowit—No matter, darling—hurry! You can send the letter by mail. Miss Gushy—How absurd you are! It must be left on the dressing-case or the romance of the whole thing is spoiled. I shan't move a step.—Judge.

Made a Formidable Impression. She (softly)—I shall never forget this night—and this ball. He (tenderly)—Tell me, why? She—And that last waltz. He—You delight me! She—And you? He—You entrance me! Then I have impressed you? She (more softly than ever)—Yes. You've about smashed two of my toes. London Tit-Bits.

Penicils for Glean. To make penicils for writing on glass: Take glycerine 2 oz., mutton suet 3 oz., and stearic acid 4 oz.; melt all together, and add about 6 oz. of red lead, to which has been mixed a small portion of purified carbonate of potassa; stir all well together, then pour into hollow glass rods and let cool.

That Unusually Breezy Journal. The Pittsburg Leader, in its issue of Thursday with a four column account of the marriage of Princess May and Prince Leon, gives in detail the royal ceremony, description of the bride trousseau, with pen sketches of the possible King and Queen of Edouard and the Count of Queen Victoria. The Leader is always live, bright and newsy.

Editor (to reporter)—I think we'll dispense with your services hereafter. "Why?" "We can't afford to keep a man who makes enemies of the best people in town."

"How have I made enemies?" "See here—in this account of the wedding last night you make no reference to the bride being beautiful and accomplished, and you dismissed the groom without saying that he is one of the most popular young men in the city. That kind of business won't work in this office."

When His Back Was Turned. Fle—"Why don't you sit down?" He—"Why—er—the truth is, your papa assaulted me last night. She—Assaulted you? He—Yes, assaulted me. I wouldn't have minded it so much had it not been for the cowardly way he did it. She—"What do you mean?" He—"He kicked me—when my back was turned."
