David C. Kufe, repairs, $2.00. Progress, publishing ordinance, 1.75. Wm. Williamson, supplies, 1.55.

Two bills, for $2.25 and $2.50 respectively, presented by special policeman McLaughlin and Gallagher, for serving notices on property owners by order of the burgess, were read and laid over until that officer makes his report.

A letter was read from the local agent of the Western Wheeler Scrapper Company, requesting payment for the road machine left on trial some time ago.

A petition of the property owners on Centre street, between Front and Walnut, was read, asking council to allow them to put down a concrete crossing at their own expense at a point near the intersection of the alley in that square.

The street commissioner's report was read for the month of September, showing the amount expended on sewers, $22.00, and on the streets, $59.92; total, $71.92. The report was accepted and ordered paid.

P. M. Boyle, borough surveyor, made a statement to the effect that he had made a partial survey of Johnson street and would have it finished in a short time.

At St. Ann's church at 10 o'clock this morning P. J. O'Donnell and Miss Rose McGeehan were united in marriage by Rev. M. J. Fallhee.

After the ceremony the wedding party started upon a tour through the surrounding towns, and will return this evening to the residence of the bride's parents at Drifton, where a reception will be given.

Both of the parties are well-known young people. The groom, who formerly resided at Eckley, is employed as a fireman on the D. S. & S., and Miss McGeehan is one of Drifton's estimable young ladies.

They will go housekeeping immediately in a handsomely furnished residence on Adams street, Freeland.

Thirty years ago the wife of John Laffin, of Land's End, England, took with her a five-year-old son and deserted her home and country, fleeing to America with a man named Andrews.

A discussion took place about the sidewalks which were ordered to be repaired, but no action was taken.

"The Merry Cobbler," which is holding the boys this week, was given a production last evening before a good-sized and very appreciative audience.

He was easy and graceful, and besides proved himself a pleasing singer. He was surrounded by several cute children who did some clever dancing, and little Rosebud, who sang quite a big song for so small a girl.

Improved Breaker Machinery.

The latest introduction of modern improved coal breaker machinery was made by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company at their No. 11 colliery, Lansford.

The machine, which is known as the dirt blower, is calculated to serve as a substitute for the dirt plane, which is commonly in use for carrying the dirt from the breakers.

By this new device the dirt is carried from the screens on the breaker by a liberal use of water through a trough and deposited into receiving tanks, several of which have been erected.

As these tanks continue to fill, the water is forced to the top and by the time the tank is filled with dirt the water has almost entirely passed off.

A gate in the bottom of the tank is then opened, and with the aid of a worm, which is propelled by a twenty-horse power engine, the dirt is conveyed through a chute to the mouth of a ten-inch pipe.

Two eighty-horse power engines are then set in motion. This produces an enormous pressure of compressed air, which drives the dirt through 500 feet of iron pipe, ten inches in diameter, on an elevation of fifteen degrees.

The blower was set in operation and has given good satisfaction except at times when a large quantity of water would get into the pipe when it would not work perfectly.

The machine is capable of handling thirty tons of dirt per hour.

Married This Morning. At St. Ann's church at 10 o'clock this morning P. J. O'Donnell and Miss Rose McGeehan were united in marriage by Rev. M. J. Fallhee.

After the ceremony the wedding party started upon a tour through the surrounding towns, and will return this evening to the residence of the bride's parents at Drifton, where a reception will be given.

Found After Thirty Years. Thirty years ago the wife of John Laffin, of Land's End, England, took with her a five-year-old son and deserted her home and country, fleeing to America with a man named Andrews.

Ever since the real husband has been searching for her and at last found her at White Mills, near Honesdale, surrounded by a family of grown up children, the fruit of the union with Andrews, whom, it seems, had served in the United States army and is now an invalid inmate of the Soldiers and Sailors' Home in Washington, while his wife resides at White Mills.

The boy, a son of the deserted husband, has left his mother and since the meeting with his father lives with him.

Choir for the Eisteddfod at Wales. A number of prominent citizens of Scranton, headed by William Connel, the coal operator, have formed an organization to send a choir of 100 voices to Wales to represent America at the national eisteddfod there in 1894.

Connell, who is president of the organization, says it shall not suffer for want of funds. No one will be permitted to join this choir who has not passed a careful examination in voice culture at the hands of a master, and all the singers must be Welsh.

Good Prospects for Schuylkill. All the collieries of the Reading Company in the Schuylkill region have resumed operations under orders to work six days each week for two months and the miners to be paid at the rate of 5 per cent. above the $2.50 basis.

This is an advance of 6 per cent. over the wages paid last month, and the increase, together with the steady work promised, has caused a hopeful feeling to prevail in the business and laboring circles of the region.
