REPUBLICANS STRUGGLE HARD AND ELECT THEIR TICKET.

Luzerne County Reverses Itself and Surprises All by the Result-Davenport the Only Democrat Elected-The Old Fourth Republican.

Tuesday's election was one of the nietest seen in this part of the county a several years. In Freeland and vicin-ty the Republicans turned out strong ity the Republicans turned out strong and at several polls rolled up even a larger vote than was given for their presidential candidate last year. On the other hand the Democrats polled the lightest vote since 1887. There was no enthusiasm or general desire to see the ticket win, and very many refused, for various reasons, to cast their votes.

A somewhat similar state of affairs existed throughout the county, and the resisted throughout the county, and the reisted throughout the county, and the re sult was that the Republicans won by handsome majorities. Davenport was the only candidate elected by the Democrats.

"Enemies for Life" is a play of absorbing interest and natural in its entirety. The audience is kept spell-boundons moment chained down to sympathize with the woes of others, and as if by magic touch, when the sense of emotion is well nigh exhausted, lo! we are wafted upon the billows of laughter and our other nature, to laugh and be pleased, is catered to in a most excellent. The company is strong, while the place. Now "Johnny," it would like to know very much who is the paragrapher of this extent. The company is strong, while the place. UPPER LEHIGH NOTES.

During the past few months some of the boys of this place have found much amusement in arming themselves with revolvers and when coming home from freeland by way of No. 6, at night, they do a considerable amount of unnecessary shooting. At might be well to inform Judge Smith was defeated in Lacka-wana county by H. M. Edwards, Rep.
The Democratic county ticket was also defeated.

A Hungarian and some young and created quite an excitement here on Sunday. The Hun was coming from Freeland and the boys began teasing him. They annoyed the Hungarian to such an extent that he went home and got his gun and after chasing the boys until he got within range he fired, but failed to hit them. Several men took the weapon from him and a constable of Freeland has been looking for him since, but he has skipped the town.

Row at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 8.—At the second precinct, first ward, a collision occurred between the police, supporting the republican ticket, and the democratic fusionists. Seven police, headed by Pat Farrel of Homestead fame, interfered with the fusionists, who were casting their votes. This resulted in a collision and personal encounter between Farrel and Councilman McHugh, a democratic fusionist. The intimidation reached such a point and the excitement became so great that the election board was compelled to close the polis.

Repeaters' Lives Threatened. ALBANY, Nov. 8.—Repeating was carried on to such an extent in the 10th ward ried on to such an extent in the 10th ward that the repeaters lives were threatened, and Sergeant Brennan and a squad of police had to escort the repeaters to the cars that they might escape from the gity without violence being done them. John Bellow, about 8 o'clock, shot at John Gillespie in the first district of the sixth ward. The shot did not take effect and Bellow escaped.

Broken Heads in Long Island City. Long Island City, L. I., Nov. 8.—A lively scrimmage took place early in the afternoon at the first polling district in the second ward. Stones flew and police-men's clubs were used to good effect. The roters were finally driven away with bat-tered and bleeding heads. The fight was occasioned by a crowd of roughs trying to take possession of the polling booth.

May Start "Gin Drug Stores."

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 8.— James Farrel, a former New Britain saloon keeper, has made application to the county commissioner for a druggists license to sell liquor. It is said that he has bought out a drug store and there are evidences of starting up of "gin drug stores" at New Britain, East Hartford, Manchester, Berlin and other no-license towns in this vicinity.

The annual report of Hon. Herman tump, superintendent of the bureau of immigration, states that there are twen ty-four ports through which immigrant wre received into the Umited States. New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and New Orleans are the chief ports of entry, in the order named. During the last fiscal year, which ended June 30, 1893, 440,793 immigrants arrived in this country, a decrease of 131,034 over the previous year. Of these 439,730 were landed and 1,063 debarred for special causes; in addition to which number 577 were returned, having become public charges within one year after arriving in the United States. The prin-cipal decrease was from Russia and other countries where cholera has been pre-vailing.

During March and April, 1893, large numbers came over, and in the first part of May last 20,000 immigrants were re-ported to be upon the ocean at one time destined to the United States, their object being to arrive before the modified and obstructive measure in the act pas-sed March 3, 1893, went into effect. The transportation lines readily adapted themselves to the new requirements and have aided and assisted the office attached to this bureau in carrying ou

Dave Clark Was the Engineer.

From the Philadelphia Record.

The name "Novelty" was most appropriately applied to a locomotive engine which, as described by James W. Holmes, of Reading, an old employe of the Reading Railroad, was built for that line by Nichols & Kirk in 1846. It had two boilers, each mounted upon separ-ate trucks with six wheels, each 4½ feet in diameter, and was intended to be a perfect model anthracite coal burner.

The forward boiler was used for much the same purpose that the locomotive tender or tank is employed for today, and the two were connected over the engineer's head, by a ball-jointed pipe that might have easily cooked the engine crew to death in case of derailment. David Clark, the present superintendent of the Lehigh Valley's Hazleton shops, was the unsuccessful "Novelty's" first and only engineer.

Jacob Whalen, of Wilkes-Barre, dien early on Tuesday morning from the effects of inhaling escaping gas from a jet in his room. He retired at 8 o'clock the previous night and when called did not previous night and when called did not answer. His room was entered and the gas was found turned on in full force. Whalen was then found in a dying con-dition. A doctor was summoned, but the patient was too far gone and died shortly after the doctor's arrival. It is supposed that having turned the gas off in his room he in some way again open-ed the stopcock.

A Good Show.

"Enemies for Life" is a strong play the best of its kind we have had this season. It teems with everything cal-culated to arouse interest, human sym-pathy and emotion. The transition from tears to laughter is judicious and well timed. Miss Cravan, in the stellar role, is an actress of true merit. Her characterization of the Gypsy Queen is superb. Many singing and dancing specialties were introduced and met favor with the large audience present .-

The Republican Windup.

The Republican meeting on Monday vening was addressed by John C. Turner, of Lackawanna county, George S. Boyle and Captain Alfred Darte, of Kingston. Mr. Turner had but very little to say, but sang a song to fill up the time allotted him. Mr. Boyle resurrected the free trade bugaboo and sound-ed the praises of protection in his usual style, while Mr. Darte foungt the war over again and made the audience tired hearing how he and his father, with a little help from the Republican party, but down the rebellion. His most remark-able utterance was when he stated the country would be infinitely better in every respect if all south of Mason and Dixson's line was cut off. The Mayberry band rendered several fine pieces and Joseph Neuburger made a very good chairman.
