DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Congressman-at-Large, James D. Hancock, Venango

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, January 12, 1894.

The Democrats of the house have much more than held their own in the tariff debate this week, although some of their best posted men have purposely made no speeches in favor of the Wilson bill.

It is not thought probable by any member with whom I have conversed that any material amendment will be adopted before the bill is passed by the house on the 29th inst.

Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, who has been widely advertised by Republican papers as a tariff "kicker," has been compelled by a troublesome throat affection to take a trip to Florida in search of relief.

President Cleveland has just given a practical demonstration of his earnestness in turning the settlement of the Hawaiian complication over to congress.

Secretary Carlisle explained this week to the members of the senate finance committee and those of the house ways and means committee the immediate necessity for legislation to provide the money to meet the $50,000,000 deficit now staring the treasury in the face.

Representative McMillin says it has not been definitely decided whether the income tax shall be offered as an amendment to the tariff bill or as a separate measure.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

JOHNSON'S SPEECH.

The Brilliant Ohio Free Trader Rebukes Democratic Timidity.

Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, the leading free trade and single tax advocate in congress, made a startling speech in the house of representatives on Wednesday. In his address he voiced the sentiments of hundreds of thousands of voters who helped to put the Democrats in power in 1892, expecting that the meaning of the Chicago platform would be put into effect without delay.

After election the party proceeded to rest on its laurels and divide the spoils, and the nation was treated to a spectacle of a president and a congress lavishing power to remove crushing burdens upon voting their energies to the discussion of personal claims to petty places.

I will vote for this bill if I can get nothing better. But I do not like it. That it does contain some good points is true. The McKinley bill contained some good points; it put raw sugar and some other things on the free list.

But, though I might vote for this bill with pleasure if it came from a ways and means committee representing a Republican house, I am disgusted and dismayed that it is presented by a Democratic committee to a Democratic house.

The bill I would pass would consist of but three sections. Section 1. All import duties and corresponding internal revenue duties are hereby abolished, and all officials engaged in collecting such duties are hereby discharged.

Section 2. The secretary of the treasury is hereby directed to sell all custom houses and revenue cutters and pay the proceeds into the treasury.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately. Such a bill would excite no more protectionist opposition than this poor, timid little Wilson bill will. But it would not be sneered at, and it would arouse a mighty support, that this bill cannot get.

It is political folly for us to be timid about cutting down protection. If we do not do that so quickly and decidedly we shall give the masses relief no Democrat will gain for many a day fill the speaker's chair or occupy the White House.

PICKED UP BY THE WAY.

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD IN THE TOWN AND VICINITY.

Matters of a Local Nature Written Up and Placed Before the Readers of the "Tribune" by the Saunterer—Something Here May Interest You.

An item in our local papers last week told of a meeting held here by an organization known as the Hungarian Evangelist Society, whose object is to erect churches and schools for the people of that nationality.

The children of this nationality now growing up are, as a general rule, very bright and quick to learn. This can be traced almost directly to the fact that they have associated with others in our schools and at work.

Though the time for making nominations for the next election is gradually drawing near, the long-looked for political tempest does not give any signs that it will soon break out.

A stranger, or a new citizen who did not know of the hot times of the past here, would judge this to be one of the quietest communities in the state in the line of politics, but no greater mistake than that could be made.
