Sued for Damages.

George Hindson, of Sandy Run, recently commenced suit against G. B. Markle & Co., of Jeddo, for damages to his land caused by the latter dumping culm upon it. The case was called on Friday afternoon in common pleas court, W. S. McLean and W. R. Gibbons representing the plaintiff, and Messrs. Halsey and Troutman the defendants.

A large number of witnesses are being examined on both sides and the case is causing considerable interest. The testimony was all in on Saturday and the court was adjourned until today, when the case will be argued.

Colonel Theodore L. Mumford Dead.

Colonel Theodore L. Mumford, lessee and manager of the famous Switchback Railway, died at his home in March Chunk on Saturday, aged 63 years. Colonel Mumford was a native of New York state, where for years he was engaged in railroad. During the war he was engaged by the government in securing engines for military railways. Colonel Mumford was a leading Republican in Carbon county and for a number of years was a member of the state committee. His body will be taken to Belden, N. Y., today for burial.

Engines Reported Wrecked.

From Today's Plain Speaker.

A dispatch received in this city last night reports the wrecking of two of the new ninety-ton mogul engines recently added to the rolling stock of the D. S. & S., at the Pennsylvania Junction at Black Creek. On account of the difficulty with the telegraph wires last night a complete verification of the report could not be obtained. The accident was caused by a landslide.

Picnic on May 30.

Fred Krone will hold his first picnic at the Lorenz grounds at South Heberton on May 30. A new floor has been built for the pavilion and a roof placed over the same, so that rain cannot interrupt the amusement. Dancing all afternoon and evening. Music by a Hazleton orchestra. Admission, 10 cents.

Died with a Fortune in His Pocket.

Lawrence Glennon, aged 55, dropped dead on the street in Wilkes-Barre on Saturday morning. Glennon was a peculiar character. He came to this country twenty years ago from Ireland, it was said because he had been disappointed in love. He lived apart from everyone, cooking his own meals and doing his own housework, but he always appeared happy and cheerful.

For several years past he has been a watchman at the Crystal Spring reservoir, and has all that time lived in the tool house, where he had fixed up a bed and a stove. He was a miser and rarely spent anything except for the actual necessities of life, yet it is said he has aided many a poor family.

On his person were found bonds and a bank book, which show he is worth over $20,000. He has no relatives in this country, and an only brother living somewhere in Ireland will inherit the fortune.

Some Wanted to Work Again.

The strike which began a few days ago among the employes at the Keystone colliery near Parsons, culminated on Friday in a small riot, when a few men attempted to return to work. The trouble originated from the dockage system, which the men assert does them an injustice. When the strike began the men employed in the breaker refused to go out, but it appears the strikers succeeded in inducing them to join. Two of the breaker hands who went to work on Friday were assaulted and beaten with clubs.

S. L. Brown, president of the Keystone company, says that little attention will be paid to the strikers, but that the works will shut down for three or four days to make repairs and open up a new vein. He is of the opinion that when the company is ready to begin work it will have no difficulty in getting men and no further trouble will ensue.

Kidnapped by a Dog.

During a quarrel between Anthony Kospile and his wife at Shamokin on Friday night their four-months-old baby was thrown from the kitchen window. A Newfoundland dog, belonging to Joseph C. Oshaskies, passing at the time, picked the infant up and carried it to his kennel, passing over a creek en route.

When the domestic differences in the Kospile household had been adjusted, the parents thought of their child. A search for it began and was continued for two hours in vain. Then a faint wail was heard from the Oshaskies kennel. Thither the father ran and found the little one kicking in the straw, while the big, good-natured dog watched it and kept guard at the entrance.

Odd Fellows Adjourn.

The closing session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows at Altoona was held on Thursday, when the following officers were installed: Grand master, Harry L. Neall, Philadelphia; deputy grand master, Chas. Chalfant, Danville; grand warden, Amos H. Hall, Philadelphia; grand secretary, James B. Nicholson, Philadelphia (Mr. Nicholson has filled this important position for twenty-six years); grand treasurer, M. Richards Muckle, Philadelphia, who has filled the office for thirty-eight years; representatives to the sovereign grand lodge, Robt. E. Wright, Allentown, and Francis M. Ray, Philadelphia. The grand lodge adjourned to meet in Philadelphia next year.

The Red Men's Council.

The great council of Pennsylvania, Improved Order of Red Men, ended its session at Bethlehem on Thursday. It instructed its representatives to the great council of the United States to vote for reduction of representation, per capita tax and bi-ennial sessions. Newly elected officers were installed and nominations of officers made to be voted for next March.

Mock initials were condemned. A proposition to admit members at the age of 20 years was voted down. The next council will meet in Philadelphia.

Damage Done by the Storm.

A terrific rainstorm began here on Saturday evening and has since continued almost without interruption. The wind yesterday was very high, but no serious damage was done to property in town. The storm interfered considerably with the attendance at church services. Rain entered the mines around here in such quantities that work had to be suspended this morning at Sandy Run, Highland and Drifton No. 2 collieries.

He Will Need Their Sympathy.

From the Wilkes-Barre Record. Congressman Hines says he has secured more places at Washington for Luzerne county Democrats than any congressman who has preceded him. These men will no doubt sympathize with Mr. Hines when that gentleman loses his own job next November.

Go to McDonald's for 10c ladies' vests.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

The bridge-builders of the electric road have a small truck that is a great attraction for a number of boys to put on the Central Railroad every evening and amuse themselves. The parents of these boys should make them stay away from this place, or the bridge men should see that it is locked before some of them get hurt.

The heavy rain, which has been falling for the past two days, has caused the pumps in the mines here to be run to their utmost capacity. While the storm has caused no damage, the little streams which were almost dry have swollen into large bodies of water.

The public schools at this place closed on Friday after a nine months' term. Several of the houses at No. 2 are undergoing repairs and having new roofs put on.

Daniel Cox, superintendent of the D. S. & S., returned last week from an extended trip to Florida.

The collieries at this place worked five and one-half days last week. The prospects for steady work during the entire summer are said to be very good.

Ten new caboses for the D. S. & S. arrived here last week. They have all the latest improvements and will be used exclusively on the run to tidewater.

Hon. Eckley B. Cox delivered an address before the Clover Club, of Philadelphia, on Thursday evening.

No Wonder.

"The most disgraced man I ever saw," said Uncle Allen Sparks, who was in a reminiscent mood, "was a divorce lawyer. He attended a sale of unclaimed express packages and bought for two dollars and fifty cents what he supposed was an oil painting. When he took it to his office and unwrapped it he found it was one of these framed mottoes: 'God Bless Our Home.'"—Chicago Tribune.

What He Remembered.

Bright Boy—Uncle George took me to hear a lecture on phrenology. Father—Let me see if you can tell me what you learned?

Bright Boy—Some smart men have high foreheads, and some smart men have low foreheads; and some big fools have high foreheads, and some big fools have low foreheads. That's all I can remember.—Good News.

Might Change Her Views.

"Emily," said the young author, tenderly, "what do you think of my new novel?"

"Reinhold," responded Emily, with a voice of which every tone spoke eloquently as to her feelings, "Reinhold, I have far too high a regard for you now ever to read any of your books."—Chicago Record.

Matrimonial Item.

"Is marriage a failure?" asked the elderly Spilkins of a former flame, who had been a party to a May and December marriage.

"No," she replied, with a glance toward her husband, in the next room. "Not a failure. Only a temporary embarrassment."—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

Where He Kept His Property.

At a church meeting in one of the suburbs of Chicago the inquiry was made whether a certain lawyer of the congregation, whose financial affairs were somewhat involved, had "got religion." To which another lawyer present responded: "No, I think not, unless it's in his wife's name."—Argonaut.

Where Ignorance Is Bliss.

Mother—You are a great big girl, Fanny, but you are afraid to sleep alone, and there is your little sister Jenny, who is not half your age, and she is not afraid.

Fanny—You see, ma, she isn't old enough to have any sense yet.—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

New Species.

Dick Hicks—What kind of a bird is a limed?

Why?—Never heard of the species.

Dick Hicks—The grocer has a whole box full of limed eggs.—N. Y. World.

Early Advantages.

First Student (classical school)—I say, George, what a wonderful race those old Greeks were. Think of their triumphs in art, architecture, philosophy, literature!

Second—Huh! Nothing remarkable about that. They didn't have to spend the best years of their lives learning Greek.—Brooklyn Life.

Temperance Convention Ended.

On Thursday night the delegates to the convention of the C. T. A. Union of the Scranton diocese finished their work at Wilkes-Barre. The report received from the national union showed that in the United States there were 727 societies, of which there were 455 men's, 172 cadets, 80 ladies' and 20 girls' societies, with a total membership of 54,676.

The convention decided upon two parades for October 10, that all Lackawanna county and above have one and Luzerne county and below have another. Jermyn was chosen as the place for the Lackawanna parade and Michael McHale was chosen marshal. Pittston was selected for the Luzerne parade. Ed. Dougher was made chief marshal.

Another insurance plan was reported by the amendment committee, and will be given to the societies to take action upon. Each district was allowed $100 to be expended for temperance literature.

The election of officers resulted as follows: John H. Devine, Scranton, president; Charles Lavin, Wilkes-Barre, first vice president; Frank Caffery, Jermyn, second vice president; John M. Mack, Kingston, secretary; John A. Collier, Pittston, treasurer.

The following were chosen to represent the union in the national convention at St. Paul, Minn., on August 1: Edward F. Hanlon, Freeland; C. G. Boland, Scranton, and M. F. Burke, Carbondale.

The next convention will be held on the third Wednesday in May, 1895, at Carbondale.

Game Preservation.

Our neighbors in Schuylkill county who take an interest in game preservation have begun to realize that the destruction of the cover for birds and rabbits is threatening to destroy all chance of sport of this kind. The frequent brush fires have made a desert of large tracts of country where a few years ago pheasants and other game abounded.

They have decided to put into practice the almost forgotten law of 1870 which provides for the appointment of wardens "whose duty it shall be to ferret out and bring to punishment all persons who shall wilfully or otherwise cause the burning of timber lands, and to take measures to have such fires extinguished where it can be done."

It would be well in our section if public sentiment could be awakened also to the serious injury that threatens our own water supply by the continual burning of the small growth which is of such importance for the preservation of our springs. The drying up of so many of our mountain brooks and small streams has already made an appreciable difference in the volume of those rivers that have their source on the hills, and the lower country is beginning to suffer from a diminished water supply.

Death of John McHugh.

From the Hazleton Plain Speaker. The many friends of John McHugh will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred at the home of his parents at about 1.30 o'clock on Saturday morning. Mr. McHugh contracted a severe cold about a week ago, but continued to attend to his business as usual until Tuesday, when he was compelled to take to his bed. The physician who was called found him suffering from pneumonia. He continued to sink rapidly until death took place at the hour named.

John McHugh was born at Milnesville about thirty years, and has been a resident of this city and vicinity all his life. He engaged in partnership with John Moran in the bottling business about two years ago, which they have since successfully conducted. He was a good son and brother, and an honorable and upright young man, who in his short life did much to endear himself to his family and to a wide circle of acquaintances.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J.
