

MOBBED BY STRIKERS

Tube Workers Driven Out at McKeesport.

McKEESPORT, Pa., June 6.—The expected trouble at the National Tube Works has occurred. Last night a mob of 5,000 strikers broke down the entrance to the mill yard and drove the workmen employed in the various departments out of the plant. As the men were driven out of the works they were surrounded by another mob of strikers on the outside and beaten with clubs and chased through the central part of the city. Several welders crossed the Monongahela river and were pursued by the strikers down the river. One of the men was caught and severely stabbed by his pursuers. His condition is critical.

The strikers intended to intercept the men when they came out of the works at 6 o'clock and try to induce them to join their ranks. The officials of the company anticipated a move of this kind and had a dining room erected in the works where the men at work could get their meals without leaving the place.

A foreigner came out of the shops shortly after 6 o'clock. He was halted by the strikers.

The man drew a knife and in an instant at least 20 strikers jumped on him and would have killed him, but for the interference of police officers.

At 7:30 o'clock the mob was increased to 5,000. They broke down the entrance to the works and drove the men at work out as related above.

The greatest excitement prevailed throughout the city and the mayor ordered all the saloons to close.

Charles Manlin and Joe Koborky, two of the men beaten by the mob, are maimed for life and internally injured.

Councilman Watson was mistaken for one of the non-union men and was badly beaten by the strikers.

The mob stopped a street car and took off a man who had also received a severe drubbing. No one was killed, but many of the non-union workers had narrow escapes at the hands of the angry mob.

It is reported that deputies are coming from Pittsburgh and the strikers have pickets out to intercept them.

There were 240 of the old employees in the mill when the raid was made.

FIGHTING THE LORDS.

Unanimous Action of the National Reform Union.

LONDON, June 6.—The conference of the National Reform Union, a movement in favor of the abolition of the house of lords or at least a considerable abridgement of the power of the lords, was opened here with Hon. Philip James Stanhope, M. P., in the chair. After the preliminary work of organizing the conference, Mr. Labouchere submitted a resolution that whenever the house of lords should reject a bill that had been passed by the house of commons it would only be necessary for the latter body to signify its approval of the measure by a formal vote, when the bill would become a law. In proposing the resolution, Mr. Labouchere said that he himself was in favor of the abolition of the house of lords, root and branch, but to be practical, they must first see what they were likely to accomplish. The house of lords, he said, was an irreparable and pernicious assembly, which was opposed to the elementary principles of self-government, and therefore it ought to be swept out of existence. R. J. D. Burne, M. P., made a speech seconding the resolution of Mr. Labouchere, and it was adopted by a unanimous vote. Sir Charles Dillke introduced a resolution that the franchise ought to rest upon the personal fitness of the voter alone, and not depend upon the possession of property or the occupation of premises; also the districts should pay the election expenses and the state pay members of the house of commons and order second ballots.

Horseanship at West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 6.—The three galleries of the riding hall were packed full of spectators to witness the antics of the school of the troopers. Twenty-seven cadets, selected from the graduating class, under command of Captain Craig, gave a fine exhibition of horsemanship. Many of the feats performed by the cadets, such as mounting and dismounting while the horses were on a fast gallop, were very exciting, and two or three of the army girls almost fainted away at the thrilling performance. The bareback riding and hurdle acts were particularly fine. The board of visitors were highly elated and warmly congratulated Captain Craig upon his success as instructor in cavalry tactics. This is the captain's last year, as he is being transferred to another post.

The Late Mrs. Amory's Will.

DEDRAM, Mass., June 6.—The will of Mrs. Jeanne Philomine Amory has been filed for probate and provides that on the death of her husband, William Amory, jr., her estate in Dedram, known as "Seven Oaks," shall be given to Francis I. Amory, Sigourney Butler, and one other chosen by them, in trust, as a temporary home for poor women and their young children, and for invalid women, both young and old, the said home to be known as St. Margaret's, to be under the supervision and control of the Sisters of St. Margaret, a Protestant Episcopal charitable and religious society in Boston.

Opposes Automatic Gallows.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 6.—At a monthly meeting of the state board of charities, Dr. A. W. Tracey, of Meriden, the president of the board, presented a communication from himself objecting to the hanging of "Jack" Cronin, aged 24, by means of the automatic hydraulic gallows. Dr. Tracey argues against a criminal's taking any part in ending his life. With the proposed gallows, Cronin, when steps on a small platform will set in motion hydraulic machinery which will complete the execution.

De Felice's Family Expelled.

PALEMBU, June 6.—Upon an order issued from Rome, the wife, mother and two children of the socialist deputy, Joseph De Felice-Giuffrida, recently sentenced to 18 years' imprisonment for complicity in the Sicilian riots, have been expelled from Sicily and ordered to take up their residence at Moras, on the island of Sardinia.

Cholera in Europe.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Official reports just received by the marine hospital service as to the general cholera situation in Europe are somewhat reassuring, so far as regards those parts of Europe towards which the tide of American summer travelers

NEWARK, N. J., June 4.—As a result of a row in front of the Newark City National bank Francis Green, the colored janitor of the bank, is locked up at police headquarters charged with killing John Class of the Morris & Sussex hotel, Morristown.

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—The water works department is running short of coal, and the contractors are anxious that it is important for them to keep up the supply, for which 90 tons are needed daily. It has been decided to prepare the furnaces to burn oil.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 5.—Pennsylvania mine operators have decided to employ negro labor in their fight against the miners. This means of warfare has already been used by the Pennsylvania mine operators. Two hundred coal miners have already left here in special cars for Pennsylvania, and more are to follow.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A court of inquiry to investigate the accident to the cruiser Columbia on her recent trial trip has been ordered by Acting Secretary McAdoo. The details of the court will be announced soon and it will meet when the vessel is placed in the dry dock.

OWEGO, N. Y., May 31.—The jury in the Shock murder trial found a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the first degree and Judge Parker sentenced him to ten years and nine months hard labor at Auburn state prison. His trial from the time the district attorney opened it until the time he was sentenced occupied less than twenty-four hours.

LONDON, June 5.—A Berlin despatch to the Times, commenting upon the socialist victory in the by-election at Plauen, hitherto represented by a conservative, says a similar result is looked for in the by-election of Pirmsehr. The socialist agitation, the despatch adds, "is developing activity in all quarters of the empire, and it is high time for the other parties in the state to realize that their intolerance and dissension are doing half the work for the socialists."

BRADDOCK, Pa., June 1.—The shipment of coke to the Edgar Thompson Steel works plant has entirely stopped. The furnace of the Carnegie plant, smelting manganese, which has been operating since the iron furnaces suspended some days ago, will close down. The minor departments of the works will have to stop now that the coke supply has ceased. Sixty Hungarians who had been working in the mill here have left for New York to return to Hungary.

Coxey charges the industrial depression to British influence; the Cleveland, Sherman, Van Hook, Crisp and all other "Congressional Judas Iscariots" with having wrought his personal humiliation and complains that they are succeeding in leading off material support of the commonwealth movement.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—That the operators of the Central Pennsylvania region are determined not to recognize the miners' national union, but are willing to confer with a committee of their own miners, is evidenced from the telegram forwarded to Gov. Pattison in reply to the one from Secretary McBryde of the Miners' National union, asking him if he could arrange a meeting with the operators. The operators decline to meet the executive committee of the Miners' National union, but will be pleased to arrange a meeting between a committee of the miners and operators of the Central Pennsylvania region.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The published report that ten men selected from Yale's athletic team had sailed for England in about two weeks to engage in a contest with a team chosen from the best athletes in Oxford University is confirmed by C. H. Sherill, jr., who was for a number of years Yale's foremost representative in the "sprints," and who is now selecting the team. He said: "We hope to get the boys by June 15, although they may be delayed a few days by an examination. The arrangements were all made by Melane Van Ingen, who is still abroad."

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The inter-state commerce commission, in an opinion by Commissioner Clements, has decided the cases of the Cincinnati freight bureau against the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway company and others, and the Chicago freight bureau against the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railway company and others, in favor of the complainants. The commission decides that the division of territory between the eastern and western lines provided for in the Southern Railway and Steamship agreement is without warrant in law and appears to be made for the benefit of the carriers without regard to the interest of shippers in the territory so divided, to whom it is in effect a denial of the privilege of shipping their goods or produce to market by the line or route they may prefer.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 6.—Mrs. Lizzy Halliday, who was lodged in the Sullivan county jail September last, on a charge of having murdered old Paul Halliday and the McQuillan woman, will be tried on the 16th inst. for the triple crime.

The prisoner is uneasy and nervous, and her mind, which for the past few months has been rational, is again wandering. She calls the sheriff her father, and seemingly takes delight in speaking of him as such to the many callers who visit the place from all parts of the state to see her. The defense will be insanity. The majority of people who visited the prisoner express their opinion that she is acting a part. The superintendent of Bloomingdale asylum, New York city, who has visited her on several occasions, pronounces her insane without a doubt.

DO THEY SEE DEFEAT?

Indications of Surrender on the Miners' Part.

COLUMBUS, O., June 6.—The miners' national strike committee adopted the following resolution, late last night, after being in executive session from 10 o'clock in the morning:

Whereas, it is evident that the national convention of miners and operators cannot be held for the purpose of effecting a general settlement of the present differences over mining rates to be paid for the next year, and

Whereas, The operators in nearly all the districts have expressed a willingness to meet within their respective mining districts, the representatives of the miners for the purpose of adjusting said prices,

Resolved, That we, the members of the executive national committee and the district presidents, to whom was delegated the power to act for the miners at the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, declare our willingness to meet with the operators of the mines in the various districts, to attempt, and if possible to effect a settlement of mining prices.

Resolved, That the conferences of representatives of the miners and operators of the different districts will be held and held not later than Saturday, June 9.

The following conferences will be held on that date:

Central and northern Pennsylvania, at Altoona; western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and eastern Illinois, at Columbus, O.; central and southern Pennsylvania, at St. Louis; Kentucky and Tennessee, at Jellico; Arkansas, Indian Territory, Missouri and Kansas, at Kansas City; Iowa, at Okaloosa; Butler, Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer counties, Pa., at Mercer; Latrobe, at Latrobe, Pa.; Ohio River mines, at Pottsville; northeast Kentucky, at Central City; and Maryland, in time and place to be agreed upon locally.

The resolution was opposed by both President McBride and Secretary McBryde. Inasmuch as they have all along declared that they would consent only to a national settlement of the strike the resolution looks very much like a confession that the miners are beaten.

Convict Wallwitz's Case.

TRENTON, N. J., June 6.—Judge Abbot refused to grant an order for the exchange of the body of James B. Lippincott, the state's prison keeper, for whom the convict Joseph Wallwitz is now under sentence of death. Lippincott is buried in a Philadelphia cemetery and his wife opposes any further handling of his remains. Judge Abbot said the court was absolutely without any power to order the disinterment, but he suggested that the court of pardons who, while considering an application for his pardon, could and probably would ask the authorities of Pennsylvania for permission in the interest of justice to take the body up. The object of the proposed exchange was to allow the body to be buried in the cemetery of the convict or in the cemetery of the convict's family. The body is to be buried in the cemetery of the convict or in the cemetery of the convict's family.

Hewston Convicted of Manslaughter.

LONDON, June 6.—The coroner's inquest upon the body of the street musician Burton, whose death was caused by the thrust of a ferrule of an umbrella into his eye on May 30, was closed, the jury finding a verdict of manslaughter against Hewston. A bystander named Bowring testified that Burton's harp touched Hewston's arm when he was passing, and that Hewston spoke to him angrily. Words were exchanged. Hewston finally raised his umbrella and said: "I'll poke this into your eye." Burton defied him and Hewston deliberately jabbed the point of the umbrella into his eye. One of Burton's fellow-musicians (Henry Jones) was called by the witness to stand that the umbrella thrust was not accidental, but was done deliberately.

Mancy's Court Martial.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 6.—The rumor is flying around Fort Snelling that the findings of the court martial on the case of Lieutenant Mancy on all counts. The findings were completed, signed by all the members of the court and forwarded to Washington, but the officers are not allowed to make any announcement to the public in advance of the receipt of the report of the court, and have not done so. Whether or not the report is correct is not known, and probably grew out of the haste with which the court reached its decision.

Commonwealers at Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, Utah, June 6.—The city is filled with commonwealers since the embargo was lifted from the Sacramento regiments, and the patience of the citizens is fast becoming exhausted. The city and county authorities had determined to do nothing more for any industrial, but Gen. Through the efforts of citizens the mine owners and strikers' committee held a protracted conference, during which they came to an agreement. The mine owners agreed to allow a checkweighman to be paid by the men, placed at each shaft, and to employ the present high wages if the price of mining was not lowered at other places. The men agreed to return at the Riverside and Home mines at once.

He has also real estate to a large amount in Troy, where he formerly resided. He left no will, and his wife and child, who are his only heirs, will go to the probate court, Charles Cornell, of Rondout, Horace Harrington, of Troy, Henry E. Adams, of Newburg, and Mrs. Sarah E. TOBACCO CLAUSE NOW

Democrats Satisfied With Their Work on Sugar.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Democratic leaders in the senate express themselves as greatly relieved now that the sugar schedule of the tariff bill is out of the way, and they are naturally pleased with the day's work, for their programme was carried out on every point.

The work was completed after an intensely and exciting struggle. The fight for the greater part of the day was, as it had been during the preceding four days, over the proposition to postpone the time when the repeal of the sugar bounty is to take effect from the 1st of July, 1894, to the 1st of January, 1895.

It was carried by a vote of 38 to 31. On this vote the populist senators, Allen and Kyle, voted with the democrats, and Mr. Peffer, voted with the republicans. Mr. Hill (dem., N. Y.) did not vote, and Mr. Fry (dem., S. C.) was paired with Mr. Dixon (rep., R. I.).

Mr. Manderson (rep., Neb.) offered an amendment to gut the sugar bounty in force until July, 1905. Rejected—yeas, 32; nays, 40. On this question Mr. Hill voted with his party. Mr. Peffer (pop., Kan.) voted for the amendment; and Senators Allen and Kyle and the two Louisiana senators (Messrs. Blanchard and Caffery) against it.

The next amendment offered by Mr. Manderson was to reduce the sugar bounty one-tenth each year from July 1, 1895, to July 1, 1905, and then to cease. It was rejected—yeas, 34; nays, 37.

It was voted for by the populist senators, Allen, Kyle and Peffer. Mr. Hill did not vote.

Mr. Manderson's next amendment was to confine the bounty to sugar from beets and sorghum. Rejected—yeas, 31; nays, 39. Mr. Peffer voted for it and Mr. Allen and Mr. Kyle against it. Mr. Hill did not vote.

The Louisiana senators (Messrs. Blanchard and Caffery) voted against it. An amendment for free sugar was offered by Mr. Peffer and was rejected—yeas, 26; nays, 37; and one offered by Mr. Allison (rep., Ia.) to make the sugar duty go into effect with the passage of the bill was rejected—yeas, 30; nays, 33.

Thus, the closest of all the votes. Two of the populist senators (Kyle and Peffer) voted with Mr. Hill in supporting the amendment, and if the third populist (Mr. Allen) had cast his same way, the vote would have stood 31 to 32. But Mr. Allen voted in the negative.

Finally the amendment of the finance committee, or rather the Jones' modification of it, was agreed to, yeas, 35; nays, 28; and with a few minor amendments to the other paragraphs the sugar schedule was completed and the tobacco schedule reached.

The bill provides for a duty of 40 per cent. ad valorem on all sugars, with additions which are above No. 10 Dated standard, and this duty is to go into effect on January 1, 1895.
