Interesting Meeting Convened at Saratoga.

Dr. Kingsbury Delivers the Opening Address and Talks on "The Reign of the Law"—Do Those in Great Battles Know Anything of the Fight as a Whole?

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The general meeting of the American Social Science association convened at eight o'clock last evening in the Town Hall ballroom. The opening address was made by the president, F. J. Kingsbury, L. L. D., of Waterbury, Conn. The subject was "The Reign of Law."

Dr. Kingsbury's paper opened with a description of a battle in Tolstoy's novel, "War and Peace," where he pointed out graphically that the most of those engaged in a great battle, even commanders of regiments, batteries, brigades and army corps, know nothing of the battle as a whole. They see only what is being enacted in their presence.

"It is theirs not to reason why, 'Theirs but to do and die.'"

To hold a position, assault a line, or stay where they are until assailed or ordered elsewhere. In the end they are surprised to learn that a little distance, apparently a few feet, at the time, was the winning point, and they find themselves heroes without knowing it. This key to the whole was in the mind of the general whose orders they had obeyed. To a fair extent, this has been our conception of the battle of life. It was the Hebrew ethic that came to us with our religion, but generally a reign of law has been interposed between us and Providence. The rationalism of the west has superseded the fatalism of the east, and man has been made to feel that his destiny is in his own hands—that he must work out his own salvation; that he has all the responsibilities of Omnipotence without the power.

The myth of the Sphinx, one of the oldest in literary history, contains the lesson that no divine power interferes to save men from the consequences of their own follies, even in ignorantly violating nature's laws, but a "reign of law" inexorably condemns them to pay the penalty.

Further on, Dr. Kingsbury alluded to the great cities of the ancient world—Babylon, Nineveh, Baalbec, Jerusalem and even Rome—and drew from their history, decadence and ruin the inference that they perished largely from the ignorance or neglect by their rulers and populace of the laws of health by which they were environed and from the fact that they had no internal redemption agencies to regenerate them when assailed by foreign enemies. The Paris of this century, they had no such agencies, who could rebuild and reinvigorate their city after having been conquered three times by a foreign conqueror.

"Take," said Dr. Kingsbury, "the case of our own civil war. Can anybody to-day tell how it might have been averted, had not the mighty stretch by which our nation has advanced since peace resumed her sway. Yet, we are as much in the dark as ever as to how we may avert future internecine troubles. Finally, is our system of the conduct of life radically wrong, or do we come back from whence we started, working out the divine purposes which are best for us under the declarations of the poet—'There is a divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them as we may.' No proper institution will make a decent government, without a law-abiding, law-fearing people back of it."

The annual report of General Secretary Frank B. Sanborn, of Concord, Mass., was then read.

Colorado Populist Convention.

Pueblo, Col., Sept. 4.—All the hotels in this city are crowded with delegates to the populist state convention which opens to-day. Gov. Waite is here and has headquarters at the Grand hotel, where he received his friends and admirers. Although nearly all delegates have been instructed to support the governor, the nomination of Mr. Waite is by no means a certainty as his opponents are making a vigorous fight. Congressman Pence will endeavor to capture the convention and get the nomination.

Effect of the Drouth in Connecticut.

Rockville, Conn., Sept. 4.—Reports from parts of Tolland county show great loss on crops from the long continued drouth. Many wells and springs are entirely dry. Farmers in some places are obliged to drive stock from two to five miles for water. Roaring brook in Union and Stafford is entirely dry, which never happened before. The reservoir and the village secures a partial supply of drinking water by forcing water from the mill pond into the water mains.

Dead and Missing at Broad Park.

Mora, Minn., Sept. 4.—Broad Park, Pookagama station, a new town on the St. Cloud & Hinckley branch of the Great Northern, was totally destroyed. The flames burned 200,000 feet of lumber, a saw mill, hotel, stores, post-office, school house and section house. Twenty-five families in the immediate vicinity are homeless. The total loss of property is estimated at $200,000. Five people are known to be dead, fourteen are missing and half a dozen are injured.

Senators Will Oppose Tillman.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 4.—It is generally talked in political circles here that Bourke Cockran, of New York, Senator Gorman and Spenser Crisp, of Georgia, will vote against Tillman and make speeches in favor of Senator Butler's candidacy against Tillman for the United States senatorship.

Smoke Makes Navigation Perilous.

Mackinac City, Mich., Sept. 4.—Navigation through the straits is so dangerous on account of the dense pall of smoke from the forest fires which hangs over the lake that vessels cannot proceed through St. Mary's river, except at great risk.

The President Spends a Day Fishing.

Buzzards Bay, Sept. 4.—The president and Dr. Bryant spent all-day fishing on Cleveland's ledge, off North Palmouth, returning after 9 o'clock.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 1.—Mayor Stoy has instructed the Chief of Police to stop the "mill" between "The Kentucky Rosebud" (Walter Edgerton) and Jack Barnes, of New York, which was to have taken place this evening.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 3.—The grand stand, Exposition building and other adjacent buildings at Pimlico, Baltimore's famous race track, were burned yesterday. The total loss is estimated at $50,000 and is covered by insurance. Origin of fire unknown.

Woburn, Mass., Sept. 3.—The old pickle merchant of Boston, Benjamin B. Brown, who was seriously injured at his factory on Faneuil Hall square, Aug. 25, by two men who attempted to rob him, died at his home in Woburn, Saturday night as a result of the assault.

Paris, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Ha-Moi, capital of Tonquin, says that last Monday night Chinese attacked the house of M. Chaillet, collector of customs at Monka, killed him and kidnapped his wife and daughter. Troops were sent out in pursuit of the Chinese but failed to overtake them.

London, Sept. 1.—Paddy Slavin, who has challenged Corbett and Jackson, or the winner of the fight between them, to meet him for £3,000 a side and a purse, says now that if £3,000 seem too much, he is willing to reduce the amount to £2,000 in order to facilitate arrangements for a fight.

Round Lake, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The camp meeting closed last night amid a general low feast and extortations. The two presiding elders, Rev. T. C. Griffin, of Troy, and Rev. Mr. Moe, of Rutland, Vt., preached to large audiences during the day and the evening was given up to exhortations by various ministers who were present.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—David McDonald and John Madison, two ex-deputy marshals, were arrested yesterday, charged with looting a Santa Fe dining car. Both men were employed during the recent strike. They entered the car and carried away everything portable, including the silverware and linen, cut glass ware, coffee pots, etc.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Chaplain H. V. Plummer, one of the few negro officers of the Pull Over line, who has been issued by the war department for his trial by court-martial on the charge of drunkenness and the trial will take place at Fort Robinson, Neb. Chaplain Plummer, who holds the rank of captain, is attached to the Ninth cavalry, a negro regiment.

New York, Sept. 3.—The double service of the Pull Over line will be discontinued for the present year on Sept. 15, instead of Sept. 8, as previously announced. The evident demand for large facilities for transportation for some time yet to come within the present season, doubtless due to the general improvement in business, has influenced this change of time.

Lyons, Mass., Sept. 1.—The trimmers and edge setters employed in the shoe factory of Leary and Luddy in Lynn are out on a strike to resist a cut-down in their wages. The firm announced that they would have to cut down their salaries, which would go into effect last Thursday. The men tried to settle the question without going out, but the firm refused to arbitrate the matter.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 3.—Tommy Ryan, of Chicago, and Billy Layton, of this city, will fight twenty rounds in this city on the night of Sept. 13, at the rooms of the St. Joe Athletic club, for a purse of $2,500 and a side bet of $1,500 and to decide the world-wrestling championship of the world. Ryan recently defeated Billy Smith at Minneapolis, and Layton whipped George Lalanche, "the Marine," at Des Moines.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The state department has received two despatches from Minister Hannis Taylor at Madrid, confirming the United States' abstention from the Spanish war. The Spanish government had by royal decree abrogated the reciprocity arrangements with this country by which special rates were accorded on American imports to Cuba and Porto Rico, and no doubt is entertained that such action has been taken and that all exports from America will hereafter have to pay the same duty in Cuban and Porto Rican ports that has been exacted on articles from other countries.

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 29.—The strike situation has dwindled down now to a fight as to who can hold out the longer, the operatives or the mill men. Before the board of arbitration left town Mr. Warner tried to get some additional facts from the mill managers, but on account of their not being at the mill he did not succeed very well. He wanted the facts to present at the meeting of the board, which will probably be called together in Boston next Monday to consider the New Bedford strike.

Baltimore, Aug. 31.—The Maryland oyster season opens this year on Saturday, Sept. 1, fifteen days earlier, and will close on April 25, or five days later than heretofore. Tonging alone is lawful, however, for the full season, dredging alone being allowable only from October 15 to March 15. Reports from the various sources throughout the state whence such information comes are to the effect that a fairly good season may confidently be looked for. As far as can be known the oysters are in good condition, in places in better condition than for several years.

Depere, Wis., Sept. 1.—A petition has been circulated by the members of the Archelon Fraternity of St. Joseph from Northern America, established in this city, requesting Cardinal Gibbons to convocate an American eucharistic congress, similar to the one held in Jerusalem last year. The initiative for the project was taken by the Rev. J. P. Durin, director of the Archelon Fraternity. The petition is signed by 80,000 Catholics and was presented to Cardinal Gibbons on the 20th inst. Cardinal Gibbons promised to support the movement with all his efforts. The matter will be laid before the archbishops at their meeting in October next.

Albany, Aug. 30.—Yesterday Senator David B. Hill celebrated his 51st birthday. The senator was at work in his law office all the day, but was kept busy receiving the congratulations of his friends and members of the constitutional convention and democratic state officials.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 3.—The steamer Saginaw, Capt. Rockwell, which arrived from Azua, San Domingo, etc., last night, brings no news of any disturbance in Hayti. President Hippolyte is said to be mortally ill and when he dies it is thought that a very uncertain state of affairs will prevail, and a revolution would be among the possibilities.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 2.—A destructive fire started last evening in a shed belonging to the Erie Railroad company, and before it was extinguished $40,000 worth of property and ten buildings had been destroyed. The shed had been uncoupled for some time, except by tramps, who are supposed to have set it on fire. Sixteen families were rendered homeless.

Baltimore, Sept. 1.—President Hanlon of the Orioles, is determined to maintain Baltimore's lead in the championship race if money will accomplish it. He has just consummated a deal with Manager Barnie, of Louisville, whereby "Doc" Hanlon comes to Baltimore in exchange for Inks, and a cash bonus, the amount of which is for the present withheld.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Secretary Morton is in receipt of advice from the secretary of state of a cable received from the United States minister at Brussels to the effect that an order of the Belgian government subjects all American citizens to military quarantine. An exception is made for cattle on route before Aug. 29, but this is only on condition that they be killed at the public slaughter house on arrival.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 1.—P. J. Lynch, a reporter, accomplished a remarkable feat of long distance swimming in the Merrimack river yesterday by swimming from Tyngs Island to Stevens' wharf, in this city, a distance of five miles. Lynch was in the water just two hours and forty-five minutes and did not appear to be fatigued as a result of his efforts. The feat was witnessed by several hundred admirers of the natator.

Washington, Sept. 3.—When the white house was closed Saturday with the intention of having it remain so several weeks. The regular annual housecleaning will begin Tuesday, and the mansion will not be opened to the public until it shall have been completed. The work will be pushed so that the house may be ready for occupancy when the president and his family return to Washington in October.

Baltimore, Aug. 31.—Pursuant to the request of President Cleveland Dr. Frank T. Shaw, collector of customs at this port, will on Monday hand in his resignation as chairman of the Carroll county democratic committee. Deputy Collector Dittenbacher will also resign as secretary of the same committee. These resignations will be made in accordance with the wishes of President Cleveland, who is opposed to federal officials holding positions in partisan committees and taking active part in the management of political affairs.

Auburn, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A letter has been received in this city from Gov. Flower's private secretary expressing the desire of the governor that the Second Separate company will volunteer the same courtesy to Gov. McKinley upon his visit to this city next Wednesday as they have already offered to Gov. Flower upon his visit on the day following. In accordance with this request the local organization of the national guard will be the escort of Ohio's governor as well as of her own commander-in-chief.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The last act in the great legislative spectacle that has attracted the attention of the whole country for the last nine months having been performed in the senate chamber, the worn-out solons have left the city as rapidly as possible, and this morning hardly a baker's dozen remain. The hotel corridors are deserted, the legislators having repaired, in most instances, to their homes to look after their political fences, which have been sadly neglected in the past on account of the necessity of their presence in the great tariff fight.

London, Aug. 31.—Andrew Carnegie has an article in the September Contemporary Review concerning labor in America. He says that a workman can live for less in America if he chooses than in Great Britain, provided that he will live as frugally. Consequently, Mr. Carnegie thinks, the argument that wages must be higher in America is fallacious. A pound judiciously expended in America on the necessities of life would afford the workman's family more comfort than would the same amount spent here. The American workman's position was like that of the old Scotch woman who, when asked if she could live on a certain annuity, replied that she could live on half of it, "but could spend double."

It is expected that representatives of the club and the two principals will meet in Chicago to sign the articles.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Rockport, September 4, 1894.

Editor TRIBUNE.—In view of the fact that you have often granted space in your columns to enable mine workers to ventilate their opinions of mine foremen and mine managers, I think it is nothing more than right to change the monotony of things by granting space to one of the latter class to have his little say about the other fellows. For many years I have filled the position of mine foreman in your neighborhood. I tried at all times to perform my plain duty as I understood it. My aim in life has been to do what is right irrespective of what others might think. I have always believed that in dealing with my fellow-men better results could be accomplished by working on the line of least resistance—hence where a simple request would suffice I have never given a command.

How well I have succeeded is not for me to say, and it would be egotism on my part to attempt to discuss it, but the various letters and testimonials received by me are flattering in the extreme and deserve a public acknowledgement.

On the eve of my departure from your neighborhood I was presented with a beautiful gold watch by the employes of No. 5 colliery, Upper Lehigh. The event was a surprise for which I was wholly unprepared, and while I may have said much to the committee which presented it, yet I realize that I have overlooked some very important matters, chief among which is to properly thank them, which I now do publicly.

I am not vain enough to think that this testimonial is a tribute to my personal worth. On the contrary, I am fully conscious that it is a high tribute to the eternal principle of justice, paid through me, its humble votary. It is a specific acknowledgement that the divine injunction, "Do ye unto others as ye would have others do unto ye," is the only true code to govern human action, and still holds a dominant place in the hearts of men.

To the various friends who by word and deed have so honored me, I return my heartfelt thanks. The magnificent present I have received and the circumstance under which it was presented, has made a lasting impression. It will always be a source of pleasure to me to wear the beautiful watch, to explain whence it came, and in the evening of life, when the shadows commence to grow dim, to religiously transmit it to the care of posterity.

To the men who have worked under my charge for many years I say good bye. Individually and collectively, I thank you. It will always give me great pleasure to hear of your welfare, and if many of you will only remember the advice I often gave you it will have a tendency to smooth your pathway through life.

Should you stray around Rockport at any time the latch-string is always out, and the table will contain the farm's choicest gifts. Again, good bye, and that happiness and prosperity may attend you, is the earnest wish of your friend,

Thos. C. Sheppard.

Home Comfort Ranges.

People using the Home Comfort steel range speak as follows:

White Haven, August 10, 1894.

To whom it may concern. This is to certify that we have a Home Comfort steel range in our home and find it in every way, so far as represented by the salesman, H. C. Robinson. Our water-tank boils quickly, it bakes nicely, takes up a small amount of room in the house, is certainly cleaner and neater than cast-iron stoves, no ashes flying, the closets are very nice and handy to warm victuals in and for what time I have used it, would not take two others for it.
