Father Mathew Celebration.

The celebration of the 104th anniversary of the birth of Rev. Theobald Mathew, the apostle of temperance, will take place at Pittston on Wednesday. A parade of the Catholic temperance societies of the county will take place at 11 a. m. The grand marshal will be E. J. Dougher, Pittston; commander of first division, John D. Herron, Freeland; aids, Edward Gallagher, Eckley, and A. J. Givens, Hazleton.

The Young Men's T. A. B. Society, of this place, was to lead the first division, followed by St. Ann's Pioneer Corps and the societies of Eckley, Hazleton and Lower Luzerne.

At the meetings of the Freeland societies yesterday all previous action upon the parade was rescinded and the members decided to take no part in the celebration this year. The railroad companies and the societies could not make suitable arrangements. The members say that the board of government of the diocesan union is to blame for the trouble.

Ball of the Young Men's Society.

On Wednesday evening the seventh annual ball of the Young Men's T. A. B. Society will be held at the opera house, and the members propose to make it the most successful they have ever given. The society now is in a prosperous condition, and being composed entirely of young men who are capable of making the affair an enjoyable one, the ballgoers look forward to an evening of pleasure.

The committee in charge of the ball has completed every necessary arrangement that could add to the comfort and convenience of the people attending. The dancing music will be furnished by DePierro's complete orchestra.

John L. Enjoyed Himself.

From the Wilkes-Barre Leader. John L. Sullivan enjoyed himself very much on Thursday night. From the time the show ended until daylight next morning he paid strict attention to the Luzerne house bar. He had made the acquaintance of a traveling man who attempted to drink with the great champion. At 8 o'clock the traveling man was in the lockup and John L. was as fresh as a daisy. John did not desert his friend but accompanied the police to the lockup where he tried to induce the mayor to release him. The mayor said so long as he did not belong to the show he would keep him until he got sober.

Fingers Pinched.

From the White Haven Journal. Howard Reese, a brakeman on the Central's Upper Lehigh train, met with a painful accident on Friday. While coupling cars he accidentally permitted the thumb and forefinger of his right hand to project over the car bumper, and when the cars came together his fingers were crushed. The thumb and finger were amputated at the first joint by Dr. Neale.

Institute Entertainment.

The Mining and Mechanical Institute of Freeland has completed arrangements to have Ralph Bingham and sister Ruth give entertainments at Freeland opera house on October 18, at Hazle hall, Hazleton, on October 19 and at Hosack hall, Audenried, on October 20, for the benefit of the school.

A Suggestion.

Mrs. Brown—Since they have become engaged they just sit in the parlor and not a word passes between them. Brown—Perhaps there is no room for it to do so.—Puck.

Most Distant.

Stelky—Who is your most distant relative, Bill? Bill Frazedout (who is known to have relatives abroad)—My cousin, John Weltodo, just across the street.—Boston Courier.

A Great Advantage.

Cymbals—Squiggles going to play the coronet? He'll never do anything with it. He has no lip at all. Bass Viol—But just think of his magnificent cheek!—Boston Transcript.

A Good Comedy.

Celtic comedies are, as a rule, the best liked and patronized of any class of comedy. There are good and bad of all kinds, but "Our Irish Visitors," which comes to the opera house on Friday evening, has the glorious record of having pleased more people than all the Irish comedies put together. It will be put on in magnificent shape at its coming visit and will have the benefit of the following strong cast: W. J. Mason, late principal Irish comedian with J. M. Hill's well known attractions, and Frank Davis, a decidedly unique Irish comedian and wit, will be seen in the lead-roles as "Gillhooly and McGinnis."

They will be assisted in the fun-making, by Miss Victoria Waters, a vivacious soubrette who has created the principal roles of more farce comedies than any soubrette on the stage today; Miss Emily Nortrop, a beautiful vocalist, late principal and contralto of the Duff Opera Company; Ed. Rowland and Lillian Keene, special artists of pronounced ability, together with many others equally as well-known.

All the latest, brightest and catchiest music will be introduced in the comedy.

FREIGHT STATIONS ROBBED.

Freeland and Drifton Given a Call by Burglars—Conyngham Also Visited.

Burglars entered the freight station of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company here early Friday morning. By prying open a window in the front part of the express office they secured admittance. Nothing of value was in the express office, and they passed on to the freight house, which was filled with trunks, valises and other goods. Several of the valises, which belonged to "The Burglar" Company, were opened, and every trunk in the station had its lock burst. The thieves strewed the costumes and clothing about the floor, and although many of the dresses, etc., were of considerable value, the burglars did not take any clothing but an overcoat, suit of clothes and several pairs of pants. Every trunk was carefully investigated, and a gold dollar, which was tied in a handkerchief in the bottom of one of Mr. Moore's, was found. Several other little souvenirs were stolen. The contents of every trunk was scattered about the floor recklessly and much of the clothing was damaged in that manner. A large package of cigars was opened, but only a few boxes were taken. It seems the burglars were looking for something more valuable than they found in the actors' trunks.

The robbery was discovered in the morning by Station Agent McHugh. The night operator, Daniel Hartig, was at his desk in the station all night, but he failed to hear any noise about the station or freight house after the trunks had been taken there from the opera house.

P. J. Fergusson, of Shenandoah, claim agent for the railroad company, was notified and came here at 9.19 a. m. He effected a settlement with all who lost anything, the amount of damages varying from $5 to $50 each. The theatrical company left at 10.56 o'clock to fill its engagement at Wilkes-Barre.

The Lehigh Valley's station at Drifton was also entered the same night. The burglars pursued the same plan as at Freeland, breaking open boxes and tossing everything about. In a box addressed to J. B. White was found a silver tea set, which they appropriated. A few other articles amounting in value to a couple of dollars were also taken. The tea set was valued at $297, and Mr. White was reimbursed by the company to that extent.

At Conyngham they could not find a railroad station, so they broke into Knelly's machine shop and supplied themselves with tools which they used in securing an entrance into the general store of A. F. Smith. There a safe was opened and $16 taken out. Several other articles were stolen from the store, consisting of knives, razors, jewelry, etc. Mr. Smith has offered a reward of $100 for the capture of the guilty parties.

The Lehigh Valley Company placed its detectives on the case, and after following several clues two arrests were made.

Officer Hoodmacher on Saturday took into custody two young men at Weatherly who were acting suspiciously. They were taken to Hazleton and given a hearing before Alderman Martin. They gave their names as Francis Gallagher, of St. Nicholas, Schuylkill county, and James McGinn, of Wilkes-Barre.

At the hearing the company had witnesses from Jeddo who testified that the prisoners had been offering silverware and other valuable articles at ridiculously low figures on Friday morning. The evidence was sufficient to hold them for trial, and they were taken to the county jail yesterday.

PERSONALITIES.

Hon. William H. Hines made a brief call upon a few of his friends here on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. A. Bachman is spending a few weeks with friends at Cherry Ford.

The games in the Temple Cup series between Baltimore and New York have resulted as follows: New York 4, Baltimore 1, on Thursday; New York 9, Baltimore 6, on Friday; New York 4, Baltimore 1, on Saturday. The club winning four of seven games will get the cup. It looks "blue" for Baltimore.

Nyce, of Pottsville, has signed to play at short for Boston, and Tighe has signed with Philadelphia for next season.

Boston beat Wilkes-Barre on Friday, 1 to 0. The game was won by a home run by Bannon. Both clubs played without an error. On Thursday Wilkes-Barre beat Boston, 8 to 1.

Labor Men in Court.

Attorney William T. Monague, of Washington, in the United States circuit court at Philadelphia on Friday, asked Judge Dallas to interfere with the intended discharge of some of the employees of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on Monday. Mr. Monague said that the men in question had been notified by the superintendent that either they must renounce their membership in a certain organization or be discharged from the railroad company's employ.

Some of the men, Mr. Monague continued, had been members of the organization for the past seven or eight years, and their leaving it would involve the giving up of property rights. He therefore desired a restraining order to prevent the discharge of the men until the matter could be disposed of by the court. The company asked for time, and it was arranged that the matter go over until this morning, when it is again to be called up.

The principal fact in the case is admitted on the part of the Reading officials to be true, and the organization in question, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, intends to push for a decision. S. E. Wilkinson, grand master of the order, stated that the organization had affidavits from twelve members that they had been verbally requested to withdraw from the brotherhood by Monday or quit the railroad's service. These men have been asked to notify the others connected with the organization to give up their membership. Mr. Wilkinson said that this is to be made a test case.

Vice President Voorhees, of the Reading, when told what Mr. Wilkinson had stated regarding the threatened discharge, remarked: "Well, I guess that is true. This is not a union road, you know, and those who join an organization violate their pledge."

It was explained that every one entering the company's service was required to sign an application blank promising not to join any organization. Mr. Voorhees was not aware that other organizations were greatly represented on the road, and said that a lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in Reading agreed to disband some time ago. If men went into the brotherhood the question simply became one of violation of pledge.

How to Save Money.

The amount of money a man has saved at the end of a year does not depend upon the salary he received, but upon the use he made of it during the year. If he buys the best goods at the lowest market prices he is sure to come out ahead, and this he can do in the clothing line by dealing with that reliable and responsible clothier, I. Refowick. His present assortment of piece goods is without doubt the most complete in the Lehigh region, embracing, as it does, the best that was in the city markets.

All his goods are new, bright and of the latest style and suits will be made to order at ready-made prices. He has no rent to pay and can easily do it. The best fit and guaranteed and clothing made by him will be kept in repair free for one year. Nothing like this has ever been seen in Freeland before. Give him a call. Square treatment assured.

A Play That Will Please All.

"Our Irish Visitors," that delightful quaint comedy which comes to the opera house on Friday evening, has for over twelve years been the accepted Irish comedy of the day, and it is safe to say that more people have seen and been amused by it than any other play in the country. It is a play of Messrs. "Gillhooly" and "McGinnis" than any two characters on the stage today. No pen can describe the irresistible humor brought forth by these two eccentric gentlemen. In fact, from the very moment they appear on the stage until the fall of the curtain on the last act, laughter prevails in a vociferous manner. William J. Mason, an unusually clever young Irish comedian, will be seen in the principal role. His conception of the character is entirely different from all others who have preceded him and all the principal dramatic critics are quoted as saying that his conception of the character is by long odds the best. A dignified and funny Irishman is little Frank Davis, his Irish companion throughout the comedy. Miss Victoria Walters, a lady who not only possesses beauty of form and feature, but artistic to a high degree, will be the leading soubrette. She has a whole lot of new, original songs, which will be heard here for the first time.
