REVENGE OF A LOVER.

SET OFF A CHARGE OF DYNAMITE TO KILL AN ECKLEY WIDOW.

John Vinosky's Desperate Plan to Have Revenge Upon Mrs. Rasolski, Who Refused to Marry Him—Captured a Highwayman—Trouble at Sandy Run.

John Vinosky, of Eckley, has been wooing Mrs. Rasolski, a fair widow of that town, for several months, but he has received very little encouragement. Last week he made an impassioned appeal to the idol of his heart to share his joys and sorrows. His supplications, however, were of no avail, and a blunt refusal was the widow's reply. John brooded over the matter for a few days, and finally his revengeful disposition overcame his tender emotions and he planned a desperate plot. Had he succeeded in carrying it out he would now be a candidate for the gallows.

On Saturday John procured four sticks of dynamite and the necessary fuse to set them off. These he hid until an hour or so after the sun went down, then he sallied forth in the direction of the widow's residence. He carefully arranged the dynamite by the side of her dwelling, placed the fuse in position and set off the deadly charge.

The explosion that followed aroused the town and the people of Eckley rushed in the direction of the noise, expecting to find an awful sight. John's lack of knowledge about dynamite was very fortunate for Mrs. Rasolski. Owing to the position in which he placed the powder it failed to demolish the building, as was intended. The whole force of the charge came backward and very little damage resulted. The house took fire, but was quickly extinguished. The widow was badly frightened, yet she surmised at once who was the perpetrator of the fiendish deed.

On Sunday she was convinced that her rejected lover was the guilty party, and she came to Freeland and had him placed under arrest. Squire Buckley gave him a hearing and John spent last night in the borough lockup. Officer Welsh took him to the county jail today.

Captured a Highwayman.

The numerous robberies committed lately on the turnpike between Highland and Freeland has given that road the reputation of being a dangerous one to travel. One of the highwaymen has been captured and the proof against him seems to be sufficient to keep him away from here for awhile. About 7.30 o'clock last night two young men of Sandy Run, Neil Gallagher, Jr., and Elmer Anthony, were on their way to this place. At the railroad trestling they were held up by two men who demanded their money. Both darted past the robbers, and after a lively race succeeded in escaping. They saw the faces of the men, however.

Next came Mike Schawinsky, of Adams street, quietly pursuing his way home from a visit to Highland friends. When he reached the same spot, the trestling, two forms appeared before him and without a word of warning one of them began striking at him with a small knife. He was knocked down and a quart of whisky and 30 cents, all he possessed, were taken from him. He received three gasches with the knife, but managed to get to town and make his report.

The police force immediately started in pursuit of the highwaymen and in about twenty minutes Officer Jones caught Joe Antevich, a Pole from South Heberton. He was identified by Messrs. Gallagher and Anthony as one of the men who tried to rob them, and was placed in the lockup for safe keeping over night. This morning Schawinsky was able to be around again and he is positive that Joe was one of the two who attacked him.

The highwayman was taken before Squire Kline at 9 a. m. today and recommended for a further hearing at 7 o'clock tonight.

A Sandy Run Christening.

The next case to require the service of the borough police was a call from Sandy Run. A christening celebration there during the day brought together many Hungarians, and between some of them the best of feeling did not exist. As the time wore on threats and challenges were exchanged, and shortly after dark the inevitable fight took place. Andrew Panko, with a companion, left the house of festivities, for a short walk. He had not proceeded far until he was set upon by Andrew Hudak and Tony Cochen, who in a few minutes had his forehead gashed and ripped open and his clothing covered with blood.

Andrew came to town and after having his wounds dressed swore out a warrant. Officers Dan Gallagher and Jones went after Hudak and Cochen and at 11 o'clock had them before Squire Buckley. Both men were sent to the borough bastille in default of $200 bail each. They will likely go to Wilkes-Barre today.

Covered with Her Husband's Dust.

Mrs. William Gerscheider, a German woman of Wilkes-Barre, who has been deserted by her husband, tells a very sad story of wanton cruelty. Several years ago in Europe Mrs. Gerscheider married August Engle. Soon after this marriage the young couple came to this country, locating in New York city, where the husband opened a drug store, and for eight years conducted a very profitable business. Then he died and his body was cremated, and the ashes placed in a costly urn, which the widow treasured.

Some time after she married William Gerscheider and the couple went to Wilkes-Barre to live. Then their troubles commenced. He beat her, stole her jewels and sold them in order to provide himself with money. When the jewels were gone he told her he was going to sell the urn containing the dust of her first husband's remains. She implored him not to touch it, but he laughed and brutally seized it and actually threw the dust over the woman. Mrs. Gerscheider fainted, and when she recovered he had disappeared. She complained to the police, who found he had sold the urn and left the city.

May Never Be Captured.

The authorities having failed to furnish any information as to the identity of the murderers of the Arabian peddler, John Mike, the coroner's jury last week rendered a verdict to the effect that the victim came to his death on September 20 near the bridge crossing over from Plymouth to a pistol shot fired at him by some person or persons unknown, and the crime was committed for the purpose of robbery.

No clue to the perpetrators of this foul crime has been obtained, and it is more probable that the guilty parties will never be captured.

Fell from a Buckboard.

Adam Antolek and wife, of Sandy Run, attended a christening yesterday at No. 4 Upper Lehigh, and while returning home, near the G. A. R. camp ground, Adam fell out of the buckboard with such force that his head struck the wheels, stunning him for awhile. The driver, thinking he was dead, made his way to Freeland for help. A crowd soon collected and went to the scene of the accident, where they found the wife leading him home. He was more frightened than hurt. The exaggerated report of the accident created much excitement.

Drowned in a Barrel.

Howard Lyons, a four-year-old child of Edwardsville, fell into a rain barrel on Friday evening and was drowned. He had been sitting on the doorstep with his mother, waiting for his father to return from work. The mother went into the house for something and told the little fellow to "go down to the gate to wait for papa."

The child instead went around to the side of the house and in some manner fell into a barrel which was full of water. It was half an hour before the little fellow was found, and then he was dead.

The Tigers Entertainment.

A large audience attended the entertainment of the Tigers Athletic Club on Saturday evening. The programme was carried out nearly the same as published, and all who took part did creditable work. Owing to the illness of George McLaughlin, A. M. McNulty acted as chairman of the evening. James McGill, of Jeddo, was also ill, and Edward Reilly, of Hazleton, filled his place on the programme. Hugh P. Boyle, of Lattimer, also delivered a recitation. The club returns its thanks to all who assisted at the entertainment.

Church Fair at Eckley.

Rev. Thos. Brehony, pastor of the Catholic church at Eckley, will hold a fair in the church basement. It will open some time in the latter part of next month and continue through the Christmas holidays. The congregation of the church is rather small, and this method is taken to procure the money necessary to pay off some indebtedness that yet remains on the building. The pastor requests his friends in the neighboring towns to do what they can to assist the congregation in making the fair a financial success.

The Best Place to Buy.

The people of Freeland are not slow to learn the best place to buy, especially in the clothing line, and the handsome suits which Refowich is turning out at ready-made clothing prices are giving him lots of free advertising. Nothing counts so much in business as to secure a name for doing good work. Refowich has the name of being able to send every customer away perfectly satisfied with his bargain. Try him.

All his goods are new, bright and of the latest style and suits will be made to order at ready-made prices. He has no need to pay and can easily do it. The best fits are guaranteed and clothing made by him will be kept in repair free for one year. Nothing like this has ever been seen in Freeland before. Give him a call. Square treatment assured.

MEETING AT FREELAND.

Singly and Other Democratic Candidates to Be Here on November 1.

The itinerary for the complete tour of the Democratic state candidates has been made up. Mr. Singery and his colleagues on the ticket, and the corps of orators, started out on Saturday evening. The first week's trip will be devoted to central, western and northwestern Pennsylvania. The itinerary for the second week, which was finally determined upon yesterday, is as follows: The party leaves Philadelphia on Monday, October 29, stopping at Columbia, Marietta and York. On Tuesday, October 30, there will be a field day over Schuylkill county, with day meetings at Pottsville, Tamaqua and Ashland, and night meetings at Mahanoy City and Shenandoah. The Schuylkill Democrats will have a demonstration at Pottsville and the Berks Democrats will gather at Reading.

Wednesday, October 31, the itinerary calls for a reception and afternoon meeting at Easton; a reception at the Eagle Hotel, South Bethlehem; a big mass meeting in the evening at Allentown, and also one at Stroudsburg.

November 1, day meetings will be held at Mauch Chunk, Weatherly, Freeland, Pittston and White Haven, and night meetings at Hazleton, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. November 2, there will be night meetings at Doylestown and Pottstown, and the next day the itinerary closes at Norristown.

The special train will arrive here at 2 p. m. A reception and meeting of twenty minutes will be held, and at 2.20 o'clock the party will leave for White Haven.

Among the speakers who will go with the candidates on the first week are Governor Pattison, Secretary Harity, Attorney General Hensel, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives James Kerr, of Clearfield; Senator Gerard C. Brown, of New York; ex-Senator Grant Herring, of Bloomsburg; Robert E. Wright, of Lehigh; R. Jones Monaghan, of West Chester; Dwight M. Lowry and John H. Fow, of Philadelphia.

The list of speakers for the second week's trip also includes W. Rush Gillian, of Franklin; John M. Garman, of Luzerne; ex-Congressman Benjamin F. Meyers, of Dauphin; ex-United States District Attorney George A. Allen and J. Ross Thompson, of Erie; James Denton Hancock, of Venango; James M. Beck, Edwin Gaw Flanigan and Dallas Sanders, of Philadelphia.

The nominees of the state ticket, William M. Singery, of Philadelphia, for governor; John S. Killing, of Erie, for lieutenant governor; David F. Magee, of Lancaster, for auditor general; Walter W. Greenland, of Clarion, for secretary of internal affairs, and Henry Meyer, of Allegheny, and Thomas Collins, of Centre, for congressmen-at-large, will make the full two weeks' tour.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

The artesian well which is being sunk by James Blanchard for this company in the vicinity of St. Ann's church, is down more than 700 feet. It is flowing water in abundance.

T. S. McNair and Robert Fagan, of Hazleton, made an examination of No. 1 mine last week. They were here in the interest of the Moorhead estate.

Patrick O'Donnell, who is employed as an apprentice in the blacksmith shop, had the misfortune to get his foot smashed by a shaft falling on it.

Miss Cassie McGarvey, of Freeland, is now employed in the family of Dr. Geo. S. Wentz.

Edward O'Donnell is confined to his bed with sickness.

John Gilson, Jr., spent a few days with friends at Mahanoy City last week.

Miss Ellie O'Donnell, of Wilkes-Barre, is visiting her parents here.

Robert Williams moved his household effects to Morea, Schuylkill county, last week.

In conversation with the Democratic candidate for representative, John J. McNelis, we learn that the outlook for his election is very bright.

Daniel Cox and wife have returned from their wedding trip through the East. Mr. Cox has been busy since receiving the congratulations of his employees on the D. S. & S.

The Fearnots base ball club has closed a very successful season, having played twenty-one games, winning seventeen and losing four; average, 8.09. Credit is due to Joseph Gallagher who was its successful manager. He left nothing undone for the benefit of the club.

Timothy Hayes, a former resident of town, has been elected to represent District 16, of which he is master workman, at the next national convention of the Knights of Labor, to be held at New Orleans on November 13. Mr. Hayes, when here, was an ardent advocate of workingmen's rights and he will make a good delegate. He now resides at Dickson City, Lackawanna county.

A Creditable Piece of Work.

From the Weatherly Herald.

The new supply wagon ordered by the Firemen's organization was brought to town on Tuesday last, from Freeland, where it was built by M. Halpin, carriage builder. To say the least it is a beauty, and most substantially built. The frame is of iron and is put together in the best possible manner. The box is long with an offset of about two-thirds the space, making the back part of the wagon easy of access. Steps are placed on the sides and rear.

The painting is a deep carmine trimmed with gold and silver leaf, and is in keeping with the rest of the apparatus owned by the department. On both sides are the words "Weatherly V. F. O."

The wagon attracts a good deal of attention and much credit is given Mr. Halpin the builder. He has made a first-class job of it and Freeland can be proud that there is located in their midst an industry that turns out such fine work.

The design was perfected by Chief W. B. Lovatt and is just what the company wants. Extra hose, nozzles, coal, etc., can be placed therein very conveniently. The wagon in every particular is first-class and the department will no doubt prize it highly. The Weatherly fire department can now make as good, if not a better showing than any organization in the Valley.

Young Physician's Death.

From the Wilkes-Barre Record.

It is with deep sorrow that we are called upon to chronicle the death of Dr. W. J. Edwards, of Warrior Run. The physician was only 24 years of age, a graduate of Jefferson medical college, of Philadelphia. After leaving school he settled down at Uniondale, Pa., but, owing to ill health, he was forced to relinquish his practice there and moved to his home at Warrior Run.

This change produced a temporary relief and it was not long before he was again in the midst of a good practice. About a month ago, however, he was again attacked with his first affliction, and in order to seek permanent relief, he went to the Jefferson college, of Philadelphia, and there on Thursday underwent a surgical operation from the effects of which died on Friday. His body was brought home on Saturday. He is survived by his father, E. J. Edwards, of Warrior Run, and his sister, Mary Lizzie, of the same place, also a brother, Edward, with Cox Bros. & Co. of Drifton.

Fell from a Trestle.

From today's Plain Speaker.

An unknown Hungarian was picked up at Drifton about 7 o'clock last night and taken to Hazleton on a North Side trolley car. He had fallen from the trestle which supports the track of a road used for hauling coal from one of Cox Bros. & Co.'s slopes to the iron breaker. The height of the trestling is about fifteen feet and the unfortunate man fell to the trestle road beneath and sustained quite a few bad cuts about the head and face. He was taken into the Traction Company's office, from which place he was late removed to the hospital.

Midnight Court.

At 12 o'clock last night Burgess McLaughlin had to open court in the council room. The six cells of the borough lockup were becoming uncomfortably crowded, and the motley aggregation of drunks and disorderly had to be thinned out to make room for the higher class of criminals who were to go next day to Wilkes-Barre. The usual fines were imposed upon those who were guilty, and all decided to pay except three. They concluded to serve out their time at the expense of the town.

Killed by an Express Train.

James Shearn, of Ashley, was instantly killed on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Sugar Notch on Saturday morning by the morning express to New York. It is thought he committed suicide, as he walked on the track when he saw the train coming, and walked toward it without heeding the whistle or bell. His body was thrown over the telegraph wires, so great was the shock.

He had been very despondent of late and said he did not want to live any longer. Lack of work is the cause.

Freight Car Robbed.

A D. S. & S. freight car was broken open and robbed of clothing, boots and shoes at Shepton on Friday night. Detectives are tracing the thieves.
