The Wall Street Daily News is au thority for the statement that betting in New York city is $100 to $50 against the election of Hill for governor. The News may be right, but at this distance it looks like a foolish bet to make. There are some things now transpiring under the eyes of the New York papers, which, as yet, they have not discovered, and if these are kept as quiet until election day 18 to they have been, the man who bets $100 to $50 against Hill's election will consider himself a fit subject for a dunce-cap on November 7. a dunce-cap on November 7.

Editor Singerly is making a bold ght for the governorship. Almost ny other man in the state would be iscouraged to face the majority of iscouraged to face the majority of the Brownkians claim. Editor Singerly is making a bold fight for the governorship. Almost any other man in the state would be discouraged to face the majority of 300,000 which the Republicans claimed they would give Hastings. But Singerly has the grit and his straight-out anti-tariff talks every evening for the past few weeks have caused the Republicans to cut their estimated majority down to 200,000, and now the battle cry is "for 100,000." Any man who can make his opponents concede him 200,000 votes in two weeks deserves to be elected and such a thing as the election of Mr. Singerly is by no means improbable. ly is by no means improbable.

The Democratic candidate for congress is not receiving the sort of treatgress is not receiving the sort of treatment he deserves from some of the men who stand high in the party in this county. To outward appearances they are aiding him, nevertheles secret work against the nominee is going on in every nook and corner of the county. The men back of this fear to come out openly, as it might injure their future political prospects, but they are adding nothing creditable to their reputations by such work. The Tribute has no love for Hines and will try to defeat him, but at the same time it despises Demoat the same time it despises Demo-crats who will talk and shout one way city, passed the senate through the efforts who will talk and shout one way and work and vote another.

Factory Inspector Watchorn, having been instructed by Governor Pattison to investigate the company store system in this state, made an extended report to his chief on Friday. In it he says that the present law upon the subject "has not accomplished the end desired, insamuch as it deals only with chartered corporations, leaving individual firms and non-chartered companies to carry on the business unmolested." The report of the factory inspector confirms all that the Tribunes aid of this law a few weeks after it was adopted. We claimed then that the miners and all whom the bill was intended to benefit had been "duped" again. At the time it was passed the Tribune proposed to make a test case at once. Secretary of State Harrity was sent a list of the mining corporations of the Lehigh region, with a request to state whether or not they were chartered, and out of nearly a dozen companies he informed us that only one (the Stout Coal Company) had a state charter. The penalty for violating of the company in the state of the penalty for violating can, for they fare just as well under he informed us that only one (the Stout Coal Company) had a state charter. The penalty for violating the company store law is the revoking of the charter of the offending corporation, so the legislators who drew up this bill had an eye to the interests of their friends, the corporations, when they proposed to make them forfeit something which scarcely one in twenty of them possessed. Congressman Hines claims the credit of getting this act passed. What can miners think of a legislator who from the Philadelphia Record.

The following letter, with list of in-uiries attached, has been addressed to the Democratic candidate for governor. He does not recognize the propriety of making private declarations or pledges relating to matters affecting the general welfare while a candidate for office, and welfare while a candidate for office, and therefore gives to the public both ques-tions and answers:

Bogus Labor Bills and False Claims.

From the Wilkes-Barre Record.

In the Leader Hines gives a list of bills which he says he introduced and which were passed "largely through his efforts." Among them are the employers' forts." Among them are the employers' liability bill—a dead letter. The powder bill—a dead letter. The night school bill. He didn't even draw this bill. It was drawn by Dr. P. J. Higgins, of this city, passed the senate through the efforts of Hon. Eckley B. Coxe, and was concurred in by the house. Had not Dr. Higgins conceived the bill and Coxe carried it through the senate, it would never have become a law. In daring to

The great number of people gathered at the opera house, about ten days ago, to hear the Democratic candidates defend their cause, have been doing some thinking about what they heard, and all shades of political comment have been floating in the air since. Taking all in all it has dwindled down to the sayings of Mr. Hines, who was the magnet that drew the crowd, but as he was advised, according to common report, what to say and cautioned what Patriotic Order Sons of America.

First question. Yes.

Second. Only as a pupil, a school of the platform, was a decided papeared on the platform, In Mr. Hines' recent utterances almost every word was an appeal to prejudice, and the vast difference in the conduct of himself and the other candidates, who appeared on the platform, was a decided advantage in their favor. His presumption that the people of this locality are so ignorant as to allow themselves to be linsulted by a supposition that the can him of this fact.

> About the worst blunder made was the attack upon Dr. H. M. Neale, of Upper Lehigh. It is not much use for a man with a record like Mr. Hines to attempt to bring reproach upon the integrity and character of Doc. Neale, especially in this end of the district, for of all the professional men in our midst few, if any, are held in higher estimation by the very people before whom Mr. Hines delivered his harangue. The doctor has won the friendship of the people by his charity and generosity to those in Freeland and vicinity who deserved assistance, not in one case, but in hundreds, and no amount of calumny that may be poured upon him by irres-ponsible politicians can sever that friend-ship. Facts are at all times stronger than fiction, and this is one which has many witnesses to sustain it.

His grand display of ignorance upon the subject of doctors' fees startled his most ardent supporters. In condemning the system of miners voluntarily paying 75 cents per month for the ser-vices of a family physician, to an audie ence of miners, he gave but a slight idea of how little he knows about what is of real benefit to mine-workers. It is not real benefit to mine-workers. It is not miners alone who approve of this system, but the merchants, butchers, bakers and tradesmen of every kind, wherever it is in vogue, all commend it. Still, Mr. Hines, who knows only what somebody tells him, would insist upon insulting the intelligence of the people upon this subject, as he did upon others.
