LETTERS THAT MAY CONTAIN BITS OF NEWS FOR EACH READER.

"Tribune" Correspondents Gather Up All the Latest News in Drifton and Jeddo. What is Going On in These Two Towns Will Be Found Below.

Regular correspondence from the surrounding towns and communications upon local or general subjects are solicited by the TRIBUNE. The name of the writer must accompany all letters or items sent to this office for publication.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

Night school will open this evening in the Hazle township school with Prof. P. J. Furey as teacher. The day teacher, Prof. P. F. Fallon, of Hazleton, did not find it convenient to teach evenings, and the school board excused him, providing another teacher could be found. Director Timony, who has charge of the schools on this side, selected Mr. Furey, and he underwent a rigorous examination by Superintendent Mulhall, who found him qualified in every respect. He will enter upon his duties this evening with the best wishes for success from all who are acquainted with him.

H. N. Berlin, train-master of the D. S. & S., and his brother, E. E. Berlin, train-dispatcher on the same road, tendered their resignations on Friday and the same were accepted immediately. It is reported they will engage in business at Slatington. Austin Mutchler, of Main street, Freeland, has been promoted to train-master, and the selection is considered by the men as one of the best that could be made. Mr. Mutchler is a gentleman who knows how to treat the employes under his charge.

King & Co., who have charge of the stripping on the hillside between No. 1 breaker and the Lehigh Valley station, had several teams at work yesterday. It is expected to have the surface removed in three months. The coal will be taken underground to the breaker.

The resignation of Hon. E. B. Cox as president of the different companies last week created a great deal of surprise here, and our citizens are guessing as to what the next announcement will be.

Engine 27, of the D. S. & S., was weighed at the scales at Lehighton recently. It is a monster piece of machinery and tipped the scales at eighty-three tons.

Special trains were run over the D. S. & S. yesterday on account of the laying of a corner-stone for a new Greek Catholic church at Shepton.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Maggie Gallagher, of town, and P. J. Boyle, of Freeland.

Mrs. William Gross, who was very ill for the past four weeks, is able to be around again.

Bernard Ward, of Audenried, was in town yesterday on business.

Mrs. William McTague spent part of last week with Ashland friends.

John McDermott is enjoying a few days with friends in New York city.

Mrs. Cornelia Byrnes, of Buck Mountain, visited friends here last week.

Thomas Oberender will take charge of the Cottage hotel, Freeland, about the first of the coming year.

Since the resignation of H. J. Davis, assistant superintendent of the D. S. & S., that office has been abolished.

Michael O'Donnell, one time a resident of this place but now of Wilkes-Barre, spent a few days with friends here last week.

It is rumored that Joe Kennedy will be a candidate for school director next spring. If such is the case he will get a large vote, for Joe is an upright Democrat.

At St. Ann's church on Thursday afternoon Edward Brogan, of town, and Miss Sarah McGuire, of Jeddo, were united in marriage by Rev. M. J. Fall-hee. The bride was attended by Miss Tessie Timony, of Jeddo, and John McHugh, of the same town, was groomsmen. The young couple will take up their residence in Freeland after their return from the wedding tour.

JEDDO NEWS.

Quite a number of young people are regular attendants at Freeland dancing school. Dancing, which seemed to be a lost art here is reviving, and if Professor Mooney succeeds in arousing the same interest in all his pupils as he has in those here his success is assured.

Night school will commence here this evening. A large attendance is expected, and we would suggest to those who enter the building merely as a protection against the cold breezes to stay away, for there will be no room for their kind.

Master Frank Ray, of Oakdale, who was so badly injured at the Oakdale breaker last winter and underwent treatment at Hazleton hospital, has gone to Philadelphia, where he will undergo an operation.

Misses Kattie McHugh and Maggie Gillespie visited Hazleton friends on Saturday night.

Miss Mary Burns, of Tamaqua, visited her parents at Japan last week.

Miss Hannah McGill contemplates a trip to Wilkes-Barre.

Robert Boyle is moving his family to Mahanoy City today.

Miss Tessie Timony has returned from a pleasant visit to Philadelphia friends.

All indications point to a month of steady work during December.

Miss Bridget Haggerty, of Hazleton, is visiting her parents at Oakdale.

John J. Gallagher and Frank McHugh spent yesterday in Hazleton.

Miss Mary McCaffery, of Hazleton, called upon friends at Japan last week.

James Ferry, of Wilkes-Barre, called upon relatives here on Saturday. James is always welcome.

The matrimonial fever is here at present and it seems very contagious. It is said that three or four of our supposed invincible bachelors will join the benedicts in the near future.

Electric Light Engine Broken.

The Freeland Electric Light Company is very unfortunate in the commencement of its career, and another accident to its machinery left the town in darkness last night. The engine has been working irregularly for a few nights past, and on Saturday evening it broke down about 5 o'clock. It was repaired partially in a few hours and the arc lights were set going, and all day yesterday machinists worked at it until the trouble was located. However, it was found necessary to take the engine to Drifton shops, where it is now. The company feels certain the repairs will be completed in time to start up again tonight.

Another engine and a dynamo have been ordered and are now ready for shipment. They are expected here within ten days, and the power house is being enlarged to accommodate the new machinery. When these are placed in position the company will be prepared to give the people of town continuous light.

Prizes on Exhibition.

The prizes to be awarded at the ball of the Freeland Dancing School on Thursday evening, to the winners of the waltz contest, are now on exhibition at Myers' jewelry store. The best lady waltzer will be given a handsome gold necklace and the most proficient gentleman waltzer will be presented with a pair of gold-mounted sulphur-diamond cuff buttons. Three competent judges will decide the contest. The admission to the ball has been placed by the management at 35 cents. Parties desiring to enter the contest can leave their names at Myers' store, or send them by mail to J. J. Welsh, Freeland.

Sunday School Association.

The Luzerne County Sunday School Association met in annual convention at Nanticoke last week. The secretary reported that the number of scholars represented was over 30,000, and the estimated number in the county was over 40,000, including those attending Catholic, Hebrew and other schools not connected with the association. Several addresses were made by prominent ministers. Freeland's delegates were Rev. H. A. I. Benner and William A. Ulrich.

BATTLE IN THE DARK.

Boisterous Huns Attacked an Officer Who Tried to Stop a Quarrel.

There was excitement in the vicinity of Carbon and Washington streets last evening, and Officer Patrick Welsh had a narrow escape from being a victim of the wrath of a crowd of disorderly Huns who were making night hideous with their brawls. On account of the electric light not being lighted Burgess McLaughlin took special precautions to prevent trouble in every part of town, and the police force patrolled the streets as soon as darkness came. Shortly after 8 o'clock Officer Welsh was walking along Carbon street and when near Washington he came upon a large crowd, and two of them were pummeling each other in royal style. The darkness was intense, but the officer pushed through the mob and arrested the fellow who appeared to be the cause of the fight.

He started with his prisoner up Washington street in the direction of the lock-up, and had gone about twenty yards before the crowd realized that their fun was interrupted. With a cry of vengeance they started after him, and guided by the howls of the prisoner they soon caught up to Welsh. Three of them threw themselves upon the officer, who went down but took the prisoner with him. Welsh got on his feet again and started on a run with his charge, but he went only a short distance when a shower of stones came upon him.

One of the rocks struck him in the back, knocking him almost senseless. In falling his knee struck a stone on the ground, inflicting a painful injury. The crowd then rushed upon him before he could rise. After receiving several kicks from the infuriated Huns the prisoner broke from the officer's grasp and made his escape. Welsh's assailants were now in a mood to finish up their work by killing him, and believing that to be their intention he drew his revolver. Three shots struck terror to their hearts, and the crowd scattered in all directions. Welsh then started up Washington street to secure help.

Chief of Police Gallagher and Officers Daniel Gallagher and Jones were on Centre street at the time of the trouble. Hearing the shots they ran to Carbon and Washington streets where the Huns had collected again. No one could give them any information about the shooting, and as they could not see any disorder there they allowed the crowd to depart in the direction of Highland. After searching around the neighborhood awhile some of the English-speaking residents informed them that the Huns who had just left were implicated in the trouble. The officers went after them and caught eight at Adams and Carbon streets. A few escaped in the darkness and the men arrested were marched to the lockup. Some of the prisoners, when searched, were found to have large rocks in their pockets, and these were produced as evidence when Burgess McLaughlin gave the crowd a hearing at 11 o'clock.

Andro Dovho, charged with interference, was fined $7.50; Jake Danko, interference and carrying concealed weapons, $7.50; Steve Gasch, interference, $6.25; Carl Carli, interference, $6.25; Joe Carli, Charles Baker and Frank Renau, charged with fighting, $5 each. Mike Bardona was discharged for lack of evidence, and as none of the others would pay, they were committed for five days. The prisoners are all from Highland, where they work on the stripping.

PERSONALITIES.

Ed. F. Hanlon, national organizer of the C. T. A. U., attended to business at Sugar Notch on Friday evening.

John M. Carr, Esq., spent yesterday with friends at Wilkes-Barre.

Assistant Postmaster C. J. Boyle visited friends on the South Side yesterday.

James Dickson, of South Heberton, has accepted a position as clerk in J. C. Berner's store.

Time Table Changes.

The Lehigh Valley time table, as revised, appears in another column today. The trains which arrived here at 7 18 a. m. and 10 32 p. m., from Hazleton, have been taken off. The train which left here for Hazleton at 4 55 p. m. will go at 4 25 p. m., and the train for Wilkes-Barre now leaves at 11 54 a. m., instead of 11 59 a. m. A few other minor changes are made.

Eloped With His Wife's Sister.

Peter Benson, of Weatherly, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Christy, eloped on Thursday night. Mr. Christy was awakened from his slumbers early Friday morning by the crying of the baby in his wife's room. He went over to the room and found the baby alone. He then called his son and they searched the house and barn, but could not find Mrs. Christy. They then thought that she might have gone to Weatherly to see her sister, Mrs. Benson.

Mr. Christy and his son drove to Weatherly and found Mrs. Benson in tears. She said that her husband had not been home during the night. The station agent remembered having sold two tickets to Buffalo to a man and woman answering the couple's description, and that they had left on the 1 40 a. m. train. Telegrams were sent to different points to arrest them. It is supposed that they went to Canada. Mrs. Benson is the mother of five children.

Junior Baptist Union.

A branch of the Junior Baptist Union has been organized at the English Baptist church under the direction of Rev. J. T. Griffiths. The new society starts out with thirty-three members and the following as officers: President—Sadie Paul. Vice president—Esther Marshman. Secretary—Willie Evans. Treasurer—Rachel Davis. Organist—Mary Parry.

The union meets every Saturday afternoon from 2 30 to 3 30 o'clock. All children between the ages of 6 and 16 years are eligible to membership.

A Slight Fire.

About half-past eleven o'clock on Saturday morning fire was discovered in the building owned and occupied by Patrick Boyle and wife on Ridge street above Main. The alarm was sounded and in a few minutes the firemen had two lines of hose ready for work. Their services, however, were not required, as neighbors had succeeded in extinguishing the blaze shortly after it was discovered. The fire was caused by a defective flue. The loss will not be very heavy.

Salary Increased.

The Foster township school board on Saturday evening decided to grant an increase of $5 per month in the salary of Mrs. S. M. Dennenny, teacher of the Woodside primary school. The attendance is very large and requires an unusual amount of labor on the part of the teacher.

An Oyster Supper.

An oyster supper will be held at Cottage hall on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week under the auspices of Garfield Commandery, No. 6, Knights of Malta. The tickets are 25 cents each.

Deeds Recorded.

Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the borough council will be held this evening to take action upon matters requiring immediate attention.

Shooting Match.

Sportsmen are invited to attend the shooting match for turkeys, geese, chickens, ducks, etc., at Steve Eroh's hotel, South Heberton, on Thanksgiving Day, commencing at 10 a. m. Everybody is welcome to try their skill at the target.

The Neuvilles in Philadelphia.

From the Philadelphia Dispatch.
"The Boy Tramp" is the best of the season. It is well constructed, the language excellent, and has a good cast. Augustin Neuville is an unusually fine comedian and gives imitations almost as clever as Nat Goodwin. He is handsome, graceful, has a fine voice, and is a splendid actor. Mme. Neuville leaves scarcely anything to be desired. The lady's impersonation has a finished, matured quality that is refreshing to witn-ness in these days of gawky society debutantes. All her work is permeated with that certain indefinable something that always marks the natural-born actress, trained in a good school.

In many particulars Mme. Neuville reminds one of Mrs. D. P. Bowers—noticeably in the penetrating, resonant quality of her voice. The great Brooklyn bridge scene was presented in a marvelous way, and called forth generous applause. This company remains the entire week and will appear to the capacity of this beautiful place of amusement. At Freeland tomorrow evening.

Hunters and sportsmen are invited to call at A. A. Bachman's. A fine line of sporting goods on hand.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns Are Doing.

A Traction car on the Freeland branch was burned out on Saturday evening. Travel was delayed for more than an hour.

The Centennial hotel, on Front street below Centre, has been leased by Daniel Boner, who will assume control in the near future.

The mother of Prof. W. H. Kavanaugh, of the Mining and Mechanical Institute, died at her home in Newberry, Pa., on Thursday.

The new addition and several other improvements which were being made upon the Greek Catholic church on Fern street are almost completed.

A union meeting of the Knights of Malta commanderies of Freeland, Hazleton and Weatherly will be held at Hazleton on Thursday evening. National officers will be present.

Charles Conaghan, who was recently convicted of the murder of John Breslin at Buck Mountain, has been taken to the eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia to serve out his sentence.

Camp 261, P. O. S. of A., of Audenried, will place flags on the schools at Pleasant Hill, on Thanksgiving Day. A number of invitations have been sent out, and the affair promises to be an eventful one.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has issued orders that all persons caught picking coal along the company's road shall be arrested and punished according to law. This will affect many poor families living along the line of that road.

Hugh O'Donnell, of Homestead, who stumped the state during the late campaign in the interest of several Republican candidates, is announced, will act as private secretary for Congressman-elect Kulp, of the Northumberland district.

Colonel William E. Lines, of Wilkes-Barre, died on Friday, after a long illness of Bright's disease. He was 52 years old, and is survived by a wife and five children. He was one of the most prominent colliery superintendents in the Wyoming region.

The large breaker over No. 3 mine, owned by the Delaware and Hudson Company at Plymouth, was entirely destroyed by fire on Thursday evening. The loss is $160,000. Six hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment until other arrangements are made to hoist the coal.

The ball of the Young American Social Club on Friday evening was a success in every respect, and the members appreciate the patronage given them by the public. The grand march, led by Master of Ceremonies John Geritz and Miss Lydia Moses, was participated in by a large number.

James Gallagher, a young man of Highland, was taken to Hazleton hospital on Thursday evening. He was employed on the dump on No. 1 breaker, and while dumping a car on Thursday the side-hook broke. It struck him on the right leg, which it fractured, and also injured him about the body.
