FREELAND'S INTERESTS.

the best results, and this is particularly so of the grocery trade, in which there is so much competition that only the man of enterprise can gain and hold a large patronage, by keeping only the finest goods and selling them at prices that defy legitimate competition. The grocery business conducted by Mr. F. P. Malloy has become entitled to the distinction of being ranked as one of the leaders in the grocery line in this section of the state. He has been in business here since 1861, and carries a full and carefully selected stock of choice, fancy and staple groceries, teas, coffees, delicacies, saucers, table delicacies, fresh canned goods, and makes a leading specialty of creamery and dairy butter, fresh eggs, foreign and domestic fruits and vegetables in season. Patrons of this house can rely upon getting the best and freshest goods in the market. It having an established reputation as the place to get just what you want and at the right price. Mr. Malloy gives his entire attention to the details of his flourishing business, and his courteous treatment of patrons, and prompt attention to all orders, has given his house an enviable reputation. Personally he is very popular in the business and social circles of the town.

GEO. SIPPLE,
Merchant Tailor,
Centre Street.

Everybody wears clothes and everyone wants a good fit. For this reason everyone should go to Mr. Geo. Sipple, and wear clothes with which they will be pleased. He carries a full stock of carefully selected goods of the latest designs in foreign and domestic woollens, chevilles, worsteds, broadcloths, meltons, diagonals, etc., for all seasons of the year. These he is prepared to make up in the very latest and best styles, and guarantees a perfect fit in every instance, at prices not easily duplicated, considering the high class of work done. Only the very best journeymen tailors are employed, and Mr. Sipple gives his personal attention to every detail of the business, with a view to the best satisfaction of his many customers, to whom he can always refer as evidence of his reliability and skill. He is held in the highest esteem in the social and business circles of Freeland and has always taken a leading interest in the development of its commercial affairs.

WM. WILLIAMSON,
Builder, Hardware and Wall Paper,
Front and Washington Streets.

This is one of the largest and most complete business establishments in our prosperous town, and it is but just to say that its relations with the public and the trade at large are most excellent. Mr. Williamson carries a large and very complete stock of builders' hardware, oils, paints, glass, putty, etc., and in fact everything in the hardware line used by builders, and he sells at prices that draw custom. He also deals in stoves, ranges, furnaces, etc., of the best makes and latest patterns and conducts a reliable plumbing department, so that householders can have everything pertaining to their kitchens, heating or sanitary arrangements supplied and attended to by this house. A specialty is made of wall paper, a large and complete assortment of which is constantly carried. In every line the best goods and the lowest prices are to be found at Williamson's, a fact evidently well understood by the public, judging by the large patronage bestowed upon the house by the citizens of Freeland and surrounding country. Mr. Williamson is one of our most enterprising and successful business men. He is also one of the most courteous and liberal.

WASHBURN & TURNBACH,
Steam Carriage Works,
Front Street.

Enterprise, business ability and success always command respect. It is therefore with special pleasure that we notice, in this review of our business interests, the popular and well-known establishment of Messrs. Washburn & Turnbach, on Front street. Through their own energy, ability and skill they have built up a flourishing business and placed the vehicles which they manufacture on an equality with the best made anywhere in the United States. Their top and open buggies and two-wheeled surreys are not only light and durable, but also elegant in get up and finish, and are decided favorites with the trade all over this part of the country, while their platform wagons and road carts are unequalled. All the material used in their vehicles is carefully selected by Messrs. Washburn & Turnbach, who give their personal attention to every detail of the manufacture, thus ensuring a perfect piece of work in every instance. All intending purchasers will do well to call at their shops and see their rigs. They not only inspect, but will take pleasure in showing you their stock and they guarantee every vehicle they sell. Their shops are eight feet in dimensions and thoroughly equipped in every way. A repairing and horse-shoeing department is a special feature of this establishment, and in it all work is done thoroughly, neatly and promptly.

DR. H. W. MONROE,
Dentist,
Rooms 1, 2 and 3, Birkbeck Block.

There is no profession that confers greater blessings upon humanity than the dental, and it might well be contended that the members of this profession do quite as much toward preserving the physical health of the community as do the medicals. The dental profession in Freeland has an able and accomplished exponent in Dr. H. W. Monroe, whose operating rooms and reception parlor are situated in the Birkbeck block. His establishment is finely furnished and thoroughly equipped with all the most modern scientific apparatus for the perfect conduct of dentistry in all its details, and he makes prominent specialties of the preservation of natural teeth and of crown and bridge work, while his artificial plate work is unsurpassed, as is also his recognized skill and ability in every detail of his profession. Dr. Monroe is a cultivated and affable gentleman, whose tact and courtesy are as noticeable as his fine professional attainments, and his dental parlors are deservedly becoming more popular every day. He is a graduate of the Pennsylvania College of Dental Surgery and began practice here in the summer of 1883. By his careful and painstaking work he has gained an enviable reputation in this section of the state.

J. P. McDONALD,
Dry Goods, Footwear, Furniture, Carpet,
South and Centre Streets.

This is one of the most popular and well-conducted mercantile establishments of Freeland and was inaugurated by its proprietor in 1880, since which time the business and prestige of the house has steadily increased. Mr. McDonald carries a complete and carefully selected stock of general merchandises, including all lines of dry goods, furnishings, shoes and boots, etc., and in every department the prices are surprisingly low, considering the excellent quality of the goods. A notable feature of this reputable house is the marked courtesy shown to patrons and customers, so that it is a real pleasure to deal in the store, or to examine the stock, for it is never considered any trouble to show goods. Mr. McDonald is one of Freeland's foremost and enterprising men who has established a high reputation for honorable business methods and square dealing. He has gained the fullest confidence of the entire public, which accounts for the great popularity of his store and of himself personally.

ANDREW HUDOCK,
Meat Market,
Centre Street.

One of the most popular and best patronized among Freeland's mercantile establishments is that of Andrew Hudock on Centre street. This store is a neat and complete establishment, well equipped with cold storage and all modern conveniences and facilities, and within which several polite assistants are employed. Only first-class meats are handled and prepared with the greatest care and attention and honest weight in every instance. The stock embraces fresh, salt and smoked meats, ham, lard, sausage, poultry and game in season. A specialty is made of home-slaughtered beef, pork, etc., and of state fowl. All orders are promptly filled and delivered, and a large and substantial patronage is catered to. Personally, Mr. Hudock is an energetic, reliable and enterprising business man, and one who thoroughly understands every detail of the business which now engages his attention.

THE FREELAND MERCANTILE COMPANY
Limited,
Walnut Street.

Among the leading mercantile (wholesale) establishments of Luzerne county, we mention particularly the Freeland Mercantile Company, Limited, which had its inception as a stock concern in 1884, with a paid up capital of $15,000, succeeding Kline Bros., who had conducted this enterprise prior for about ten years. The Freeland Mercantile Company conducts the Freeland Steam Mill, and has the reputation of turning out an excellent quality of flour, feed, etc., as any upon the market. They are also extensive dealers in all kinds of grain, hay, straw, building and paving brick, lime, hair, plaster, cement and building material, in which they do a very large and increasing trade. The officers of the corporation are: Charles O'Donnell, chairman; Daniel Kline, secretary and treasurer; and John Houtz, general manager. These gentlemen are thoroughly upright and conscientious business men and all doing business with their reputable establishment will find it both pleasant and profitable.

H. C. KOONS,
General Store,
Centre and Front Streets.

Among our most enterprising and best patronized establishments we mention the general store conducted by Mr. H. C. Koons, which has enjoyed a marked degree of popularity since its inception about twenty years ago. Here the people of Freeland find anything desired for either holiday presents or necessary commodities of life. Mr. Koons keeps a full and complete stock of groceries, dry goods, notions, boots and shoes, household articles, and in fact everything useful, ornamental and attractive of every kind, and offers them at prices that are unequalled in this section of the state. Mr. Koons, the proprietor of this establishment, is very popular with his host of customers and the general public, and leaves nothing undone which will in any way increase his trade and please his many patrons. He is strictly upright and honorable in all of his dealings, and most worthily sustains the confidence, respect and esteem of all.

E. E. RICKERT,
Lumber, Doors, Sash, Etc.,
Centre Street.

In that important industry pertaining to the handling of lumber and the manufacture of sash, doors, blinds and kindred products, the house of E. E. Rickert occupies a representative position. He occupies for manufacturing purposes a commodious structure on Centre street, which has a complete equipment, embracing all the latest and most highly improved machinery and appliances for the manufacture of sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, dressed flooring, weather boarding, etc. In addition to dealing in his own productions, he carries a large stock of all kinds and dimensions of pine, hemlock and hardwood lumber, laths, shingles, cedar posts, and in fact rough and dressed lumber of every description, for the storage of which he has immense yards, being the most extensive lumber dealer in this vicinity. Mr. Rickert is also a carpenter and builder of experience, and has done the work on some of the finest buildings in Freeland and surrounding towns. He is a gentleman of high reputation in the community, and his affairs are so conducted as to recommend his house to the favor and confidence of all with whom it has dealings and to steadily increase its prosperity from year to year.

RIFFLE & HORACK,
Bakers and Confectioners,
Centre Street.

This young firm is fast becoming very popular with the public of Freeland and vicinity, because of the excellent products of their ovens and the liberal and attentive business methods. They recently purchased the well-known bakery of Mr. B. F. Davis & Co., and their aim is to continue to be the leader in its line in this part of the county. The premises are admirably adapted to the most successful conduct of the business and they manufacture the finest and best family bread, rolls, cakes, doughnuts, pastry and choice confections.

The materials used in these products are strictly first-class in every respect and the goods are universally regarded as the best to be obtained anywhere. All orders receive careful attention and are promptly delivered, and customers can depend upon getting the most attentive service as well as the finest goods. Both members of the firm are gentlemen of business experience whose names alone are sufficient to establish confidence in their enterprise with the people of Freeland.

NEW ENGINE IN POSITION.

The new engine for the electric light plant arrived on Saturday last and was pushed up on the Water Company's siding at 4 p. m. the same day. On Monday, Superintendent Henry Fisher, of the Water Company, Superintendent Orr, Electrician Bone, of the Light Company, and others, in all about ten men, unloaded the engine and placed it on the foundations prepared for it by Contractor Patrick Meehan. This consists of a cast conglomeration laid on Portland cement topped with red brick. The engine, a Weston horizontal, of about 150 horse power, is a beauty, with pedestal and extension shaft for counter-shafting. It is very substantially built, and when the new low-speed dynamos arrive and are placed in position, there should be no further cause for lack of light.

The engine at present in use, a 150 horse power Westinghouse, vertical, has an indicated speed of 280 revolutions per minute, while the new horizontal will run but 200. The lights, despite the vague statements in a certain paper, recently, have been very steady and satisfactory for some weeks past, and the company proposes to keep up this record by adding the best and most improved machinery in the market.

DISORDERLY HOUSE RAIDED.

On Monday evening Officer Dan Jones swore out a warrant for the arrest of James Andreola, charging him with keeping a disorderly house at South Heberton. The warrant was placed in the hands of Chief of Police James M. Gallagher, who took with him Officers Patrick Welsh, Daniel Gallagher and Louis Reimer. The arrest was made about midnight, and the proprietor, his wife and three of the inmates were taken to the borough lock-up. Half a dozen, or more, of the young men of town escaped through the windows and back doors while the principals were being arrested.

On Tuesday morning the five prisoners were given a hearing by Burgess McLaughlin, who placed them under bail as follows: James Andreola, $500; Kate Andreola, $500; Daisy Isby, $300; May Dutton, $300; Annie Carney, $300. Bail was furnished for all.

STUDENTS HOME.

A large number of the young ladies and gentlemen who constitute Freeland's delegation of students at the various schools and colleges spent Christmas at home and among them were the following:

Bloomsburg normal—Miss Mary Heron.
Stroudsburg—John Houston, Condy McGeehan, Misses Kate Timony and Mary Dougherty, James McDonald.
Allentown—William Schmidt.
Lewisburg—Thomas Evans.
Worcester, Mass.—E. J. Gaffney, Thomas McCole.
West Chester—Misses Laura Koons, Annie Goepfert and Josephine Campbell.
Hoboken, N. J.—John Dushock.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Calvin Schiely and Miss Marie Brelsford were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Birkbeck street, on Christmas Day. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. Cooper, of the P. M. church, and immediately after a dispatch, with a number of names appended, was received from Mr. Scheid's friends in New York city, where he is employed, wishing the groom and bride long life and happiness. A dinner was then partaken of by the invited guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Scheid started for New York city, their future home, taking with them the good wishes of their large circle of friends.

SHOT BY AN OFFICER.

Thomas Brown, of Pittston, was shot through the lungs on Sunday night by policeman Hugh Gallagher, of Wilkes-Barre, while the latter attempted to arrest him for creating a disturbance. He had almost choked the officer into insensibility. James Burke, also of Pittston, was hit over the head by the policeman and was badly cut. Both were sent to the hospital. Brown will recover.

GETTING IN SHAPE AGAIN.

The Tribune is still laboring under many difficulties occasioned by the recent fire in this office. Our new material is arriving much slower than we expected, but we hope in a short while to have a better equipped establishment than ever before. The presses are again in working condition, and in a few weeks the paper will assume its former appearance.

Laubach has fine holiday confectionery.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

Martin Kline, of New York city, and Miss Mattie E. Korn, of Drifton, were married on Monday evening at the residence of the bride's parents by Rev. Glick, of Hazleton.

The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company has closed all of its strippings on the South Side for the winter, and it is estimated that at least 1,500 men are thrown idle by the order.

A special meeting of Division B, A. O. H., will be held tomorrow evening at Yarnes' hall. All members are requested to be present as business of importance will be transacted. Peter D. Gallagher, secretary.

"Kid Brow," Jim Shields, Otto Robinson and Hen Harper, all colored, have been arrested at Frackville on the charge of being implicated in the murder of William Burke, the plasterer who was found dead on a Pottsville street last week.

The Hazleton Standard celebrated the introduction of a new Standard perfecting press by issuing a sixteen-page paper on Monday. The Standard is the nearest thing to a perfect daily that exists in the middle coal fields, and its friends are pleased to see it succeed.

John G. Moore, of Moore & Schley, New York city brokers, will apply for an injunction against the commissioner of internal revenue, to restrain him from collecting the income tax. The suit is brought to test the constitutionality of the income tax law.

Every ball-goer should remember that the fourteenth annual ball of St. Ann's T. A. B. Pioneer Corps will be held at the opera house on Monday evening. The balls of this society are among the best of the season, and the one on New Year's Eve will be up to the usual high standard.

John J. Brislin, clerk in the register's office, has passed a successful preliminary examination and will devote his leisure hours to the study of law. Mr. Brislin has had considerable experience in legal matters, as he has been in the court house a number of years, and also alderman in Sugar Notch, his home.

HIGHLAND.

The father of Thos. J. Boyle, of town, died at Yorktown recently. He was much respected in that locality.

James Gallagher, who had his leg broken here, went to the Hazleton hospital and was discharged from that place a short time ago. He will return to that institution next week again for treatment.

Henry Wackley, of Lattimer, visited relatives here on Tuesday.

Many of our hunters who have waited patiently for the snow to come are now sorry, because it came when the hunting season is almost out.

Two Hungarians fought a desperate battle on the No. 6 road on Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock. They had been here on Railroad street celebrating the day among their friends and quarrelled on the way home to Freeland. Their names could not be learned, but both were badly used up.

PERSONALITIES.

John Corcoran, of Corning, N. Y., visited a number of friends in town yesterday.

Martin Neuberger enjoyed the hospitality of relatives at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday.

Mrs. I. Osho is sojourning among relatives at Philadelphia during the holidays.

Dr. W. W. Woodcock, of Shamokin, was among friends here on Tuesday.

John O'Garra, of Wilburton, is in town spending the holidays.

A LAUDANUM FIEND.

A Jeddoo Hungarian was arrested on Monday evening for being drunk and disorderly. Among the articles taken from him before being placed in the cell was a small bottle containing laudanum. About 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning the prisoner became very ill and Burgess McLaughlin called Dr. McDonald who examined him and found him to be a laudanum fiend. He had been in the habit of drinking it at short intervals, and when the bottle was taken from him he became very weak. The doctor fixed him up and on Tuesday he was discharged.
