BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough council will be held this evening. The Hazleton Standard has furnished its subscribers with a useful calendar of 1895. The county officials elected last November will take possession of their offices at Wilkes-Barre today.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The directors of the borough school board met on Friday evening. When the minutes of the last regular meeting were read, Director Ferry questioned their correctness. The minutes stated that each director was to receive $5 for going to Wilkes-Barre to examine the heating systems of the schools in that city.

ALMSHOUSE SCANDALS.

The investigation of the scandals of the Schuylkill almshouse still continues, and the testimony given last week was so very bad against Steward Hartman that the grand jury will be asked today to indict him for his immoral conduct. On Friday the session of the auditors brought to light a new species of corruption, which had been hitherto unsuspected.

David Hughes, who has been conductor on the D. S. & S. passenger since the road began running passenger trains, has resigned. John J. Carr, of Freeland, has been appointed to succeed him, and Mr. Hughes will take Mr. Carr's position as conductor on the Perth Amboy run.

STURCK GAS.

Charles Brothman, a resident of Wilkes-Barre, has struck gas in his back yard. He was suspected for some time gas was there and on Tuesday he drove a pipe down about twelve feet into the soil. To the surprise of his neighbors there has been a constant and plentiful flow of gas and it has been conveyed into his house, where it is used for lighting, cooking and heating.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

It is very seldom that a person is arrested in this vicinity on the charge of manufacturing liquor without the necessary rights, as furnished by the government, but George Hess, a well-known citizen of Butler township, is charged with the crime, and for this offense was placed under arrest on Friday morning by Chief of the Coal and Iron Police J. D. Hampton. The information against him was furnished to United States Commissioner C. F. Hill, by Mrs. Amanda Shive, of Butler. The prisoner was captured over at Hobbie and taken before Commissioner Hill, where he entered bail in the sum of $500 for a further hearing on Tuesday, the 9th inst.

LEHIGH VALLEY WRECK.

Two men lost their lives and a car of sheep were slaughtered in a wreck on the Lehigh Valley Railroad near White Haven early Saturday morning. The western freight had stopped at a siding above the town to shift some cars. In the rear of the train were several cars of stock, considerable Chicago beef and the caboose. The drovers accompanying the stock were Nathan Fuller, of Nebraska, and Charles King, of Muncy, this state. They were asleep in the caboose. The grade at that point is very heavy, and when the crew heard another train coming at a rapid rate of speed they jumped and ran to arouse the drovers, but failed to awaken them before the other train had crashed into the caboose, grinding it to splinters. The two preceding cars were overturned on the Jersey Central track. These cars contained beef and sheep, and the latter were all killed. Fuller's body was mangled beyond recognition. King was still alive when taken from the wreck, but he died a few hours after.

JEDDO.

William Carter died at his home here on Friday after suffering several years from miners' asthma. He leaves a wife and two children. The funeral fell his late residence at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and proceeded to the M. E. church where the final services were conducted by Rev. White of Freeland. The minister paid a glowing tribute to the goodness and usefulness of the deceased while among the earthly. After the services the remains were taken to Hazleton, where interment was made. The deceased was a member of Silver Wade Lodge, No. 242, Knights of Pythias, of Freeland, and that order escorted the remains to the grave.

Non-union men are with the brotherhood men in the movement and have agreed to serve on the committee and bear two-thirds of the necessary expense.
