

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. J. F. Knechtle,
Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Knechtle,
Conway, Ark.

A Woman on Women.
In the "editor's study" in the current issue of Harper's Magazine is given a woman's opinion, couched in somewhat testy terms, of the prevailing tendency of press and public to place particular stress upon the word "woman" in its modern usages. "Cannot woman," she says, "be taken for granted? Why should she assert herself, or permit herself to be treated as a separate class? Why this clamor every time she does anything, as if it were extraordinary that a human being should have genius or exhibit capacity? Why make such a cackling, like a hen every time she lays an egg? A man does not ask consideration or immunity from criticism for anything he does because he is a man. Why should a woman? The whole attitude is undignified, and a confession of inferiority that enrages me. If I were to take a 'double-first,' or write a novel, I should be humiliated if I were praised for it like a freak. I am tired of reading about Woman in all the periodicals and newspapers as if she were a newly discovered species. Every journal must have its Woman's Column, its Woman's Doings, its Chat about Woman, its Woman's World, Woman in Society, Woman in the Ocean, Woman in the Pulpit, Woman in Literature, Woman riding down the newspaper columns on a bicycle. And it is announced that this is the woman's age, that woman is in the saddle, that woman has come to stay. She seems to want to draw the line, as she did rather effectively at Chicago in a Woman's building, and to force an antagonism in every department of life. Even in her own periodicals I do not see any column devoted to Man. That might be refreshing reading. Woman! Why, she has borne the whole race for six thousand years, and she has got to bear it along in all the ages; she is the great conservative and really controlling force. I wish they would let her alone. I am sick of all this petty talk about her."

ADMIRAL GHERARDI.
He Was One of the Ablest Officers in Uncle Sam's Navy.
Rear Admiral Bancroft Gherardi, who retired from service November 10, was the senior officer on the active list of the United States navy, and is credited in the official register with twenty-five years of sea service, while his "shore duty" has comprised almost every variety of employment which can fall to the lot of a naval officer. He is the nephew of the eminent historian, George Bancroft, who was the

REAR ADMIRAL GHERARDI, U. S. N. secretary of the navy to whom the United States naval academy is indebted for its existence more than any other person.
Admiral Gherardi was born in Louisiana, November 10, 1832, but was appointed from Massachusetts in June, 1846. He made a cruise of nearly four years in line of battle the ship Ohio, during the Mexican war, and afterward. He then served in the Saranac of the home squadron, and after a course at the United States naval academy became passed midshipman in 1852. After a cruise in the Mediterranean he was promoted lieutenant commander in 1853. He next served in the Saratoga home squadron, the Boston rendezvous and the steam sloop Lancaster in the Pacific. He was made lieutenant commander in 1862, and attached to the South Atlantic blockading squadron.
In an engagement with Fort Macon in 1862 steam sloop Mohican; on special service in 1863. He was then ordered to the west gulf blockading squadron in which he commanded the Choctaw and the Port Royal; he took part in the battle of Mobile Bay, August 5, 1864, in the latter vessel. He next commanded the Pequot in the North Atlantic squadron, until the close of the war. He was commissioned commander July 25, 1869, and was stationed at Philadelphia, at the naval rendezvous and the navy yard until 1870. He then took command of the Jamestown in the Pacific, and of the receiving ship Independence at Mare Island after leaving the Jamestown.
He was commissioned captain in November, 1874, and commanded the flagship Pensacola.
In 1884 during his leave of absence he was promoted commodore. In 1884-5 he served on the board of examiners for promotion. His promotion as rear admiral dates from August, 1887, when he was ordered to command the navy yard at New York. In 1889 he was ordered to the command of the North Pacific station. He had charge of the grand naval review at Hampton Roads and New York in April, 1893.

PNEUMATIC HANSOM.
Peculiar Vehicle Recently Seen on the Streets of London.
Several weeks ago the cycle hansom made its appearance in London. The occupant of the vehicle had the appearance of being a foreigner, but in his movements he seemed to know the city well. His vehicle was a hansom body on three pneumatic tire wheels, propelled by two laces, one in front and one behind.
The front man, of course, steered, but both helped the propulsion, and they pedaled away the rough pavement at a pace of nearly eight miles an hour.
The gentleman was making business calls, and his lunkeys were therefore in ordinary dress, or what those gentry designate as morning clothes. Possibly

THE NEW HANSOM.
he makes social calls in his hansom with lunkeys in livery.
Others of these vehicles have since been noticed on the street, and it is learned that a large manufactory in the suburbs has been started to rush them on the market.
Some Life-Saving Aromas.
The aroma of red cedar is said to be fatal to house moths. The aroma of black walnut leaves is fatal to fleas.
It is a matter of common observation that persons engaged in the business of making shingles out of odoriferous cedar timber in malarial districts are rarely, if ever, affected by malarial diseases, and that persons engaged in distilling turpentine do not suffer from either malarial diseases or consumption.
It is said that when cholera was epidemic in Memphis persons working in livery stables were entirely exempt from it. It is affirmed that since the destruction of the clove trees on the island of Ternate the colony has suffered from epidemics unknown before, and in times when cholera has prevailed in London and Paris those employed in the perfumery factories have escaped its ravages.
